Foster One Kickoff

FT. PIERRE, SD - On Tuesday, May 11th, the SD Dept. of Social Services in partnership with South Dakota Kids Belong kicked off its Stronger Families Together campaign. The event was held at Drifter's Convention Center in Ft. Pierre and drew more than 250 attendees, including SD Governor Kristi Noem, and the founder of America's Kids Belong (AKB) Brian Mavis of Colorado. The vision for the campaign was initiated through the work of South Dakota Kids Belong (SDKB). SDKB was formed in 2018 by a Belle Fourche couple, Damen and Kristi Woolsey. The South Dakota chapter was one of the very first state chapters in the AKB program which now has a presence in 20 other states.

"I love people who are in leadership roles that have a passion for what they're doing," Gov. Noem told the Beacon. "I'm so grateful for Kristi and what she's doing, focusing exactly on what the word of God calls us to do. I love the fact that we can partner together to build stronger families."

"We're excited to see people come together to help kids find belonging and safe loving families," Damen Woolsey told the Beacon as the event wrapped up. "And having the Governor's support is pivotal for people to see how important it is for our state. We're super thankful."

In her keynote address Gov. Noem recalled how she had a foster brother growing up and could see the long-term benefits of providing a stable and loving family for young people. Others in her immediate family have also adopted and fostered children. She calls the issue of finding foster and adoptive families for the state's youth as one of the key priorities of her work as Governor. "They need a family, they need to know what that feels like so that they can make sure they have the best opportunity to be successful and to break the cycle," Noem said.

"It's just really nice that she is going to have a broader voice to reach so many more people than we could have done on our own," Kristi Woolsey said. The kickoff event also featured testimonials from foster parents along with Clarissa Davidson. Davidson told her story of how her child had to be placed in foster care. A year later she had gotten her life back on track and established a relationship with the foster parents of her

Women's Ranch Bronc Riding Returns

Belle Fourche, S.D. (May 10, 2021) – It was the 1940s since the last woman, riding a bucking bronc, came out of a chute at the Black Hills Roundup, on a bronc.

And it's going to happen again this year, in Belle Fourche, S.D.

The Women's Ranch Bronc Riding, sanctioned by the Texas Bronc Riders Association, will take place during the July 2 and 3 performances of the rodeo.

It's an event that was common in the early days of the Roundup, said Keith Anderson, chairman. He estimates that the Roundup featured women bronc riders for its first twenty years.

But that event died away, and now it's making a comeback.

The rules are similar to the men's ranch bronc riding, except women can ride with two hands: one on the buck rein and one on either the saddle horn or a rope tied to the saddle. Points are scored the same way as for the cowboy's bronc riding, with more points awarded if the woman rides one handed or fans the horse with her hat as she rides.

"It's an entertainment," said Daryl McElroy, coordinator of the Women's Ranch Bronc Riding. "It's a competition, and they're competing for money, but it's also entertaining."

Eight cowgirls per night will compete, on July 2 and 3, with the Belle Fourche rodeo being one of the stops on the Trail to Cheyenne, a tour designed to end up with a finals at the Cheyenne Frontier Days. The top three cowgirls from each performance at Belle Fourche will be invited to ride in Cheyenne.

The 2019 Cheyenne Frontier Days winner is Pearl Kersey, who will ride in Belle Fourche.

From Pincher Creek, Alberta, she started the ranch bronc riding in 2016 and two years later, bought a camper so she could spend the summer in Texas competing in the women's bronc riding.

She loves it, and considers having "horse sense" and confidence part of the skills she has that make her a good bronc

Starting out, she lacked the experience but it didn't take long to come. "When I started out, I was nervous and scared. But now I'm to the point where I'm nervous but confident." The nerves are a necessary part of bronc riding, she believes. "When you stop getting the

BELLE FOURCHE – Monday, May 10, marked a solemn occasion with the unveiling of a memorial highway sign north of I-90 Exit 10 on Highway 85.
The sign, the efforts of former Newell Valley Irrigator Editor and Reporter Tim Velder, who now lives in Sundance, Wyo., recognized former Butte County Sheriff Dave Malcolm and Spearfish DCI Agent Tom Matthews, who were murdered by then-escaped convict George Sitts

On January 24,1946, the two law enforcement officers responded when a call was made to the sheriff about a person leaving a gas station without paying for fuel. Malcolm arranged a meeting north of Spearfish with Matthews and they sandwiched the escaped convict, who then killed both men. On January 25, lawmen found the car Sitts had driven abandoned on the Crook City cutoff road south of Spearfish. He hid in the attic of an abandoned stone schoolhouse, and even though officers searched the school they did not find him. He later hid in the basement of the former Deadwood Chief of Police, Ross Dunn. He survived a week on canned goods from the Dunn home. On February 4 he left the Dunn house and made his way west of Spearfish where he kidnapped Leonard Ronneberg and forced him to drive to Beulah, Wyo. He released Ronneberg, stealing his 1939 Chrysler. He was later

Pastor's Perspective

This week's Pastor's Perspective is provided by Pastor Paul Howard, Christian Life Center

"Gospel of John 14th Chapter"

I have always found great comfort in the text from John's Gospel, Chapter 14, and I have often used this passage in memorial services and funerals. Recently in a fresh look at this passage, I was impressed with the fact of its application, not so much for a memorial service, but for encouragement for today. Jesus is speaking to His disciples who had just received some troubling news. It is no wonder that the disciples were deeply troubled when we consider the context of this chapter. In the previous chapter (John 13) Jesus identified the man (Judas Iscariot) who would betray Him that same night (13:21). Self-confident Peter (an unofficial leader and spokesman for the disciples) was informed that he would deny Jesus three times before the sun rose the next morning. This announcement came just after Peter had expressed his willingness to die for Jesus. I'm sure the other disciples who looked to Peter for leadership were troubled to think that if Peter could not remain faithful, how could they? Most troubling of all was Jesus' announcement that He would soon leave them and He told them they could not follow Him to where He was going (13:33). These dramatic announcements left the disciples devastated and confused. Where was Jesus going? Could they go with Him? How would they get to where He was going? Most perplexing was the fact that they would be left without the powerful leadership of Jesus. Here in lies the timely application for each of us today. We live in a world that faces these same kinds of concerns. Have we recently heard or witnessed a betrayal by someone who appeared to be supportive to us? Have we recently experienced someone in a leadership role that disappointed us by failure or denial? Every day our newscasts bring to light leadership failures and conduct that is unbecoming for one in a leadership position. Perhaps the most troubling for the disciples and for us is the loss of hope in our future. The disciples were devastated by the fact that if Jesus was leaving them and going somewhere that they could not go, all of the promises He made would now be null and void. The hope that they had for their part in His Kingdom was lost and the abundant life that He had promised was empty. Here again, we see the present day application. How many times have we been disappointed with leadership that fails to keep their promises and abandons us in a crisis? Our reality is not much different than that which the disciples faced. Betrayal, denial, human failures, and loss of hope is a very real issue in all of our lives as it was in theirs. The difference, of course is the fact that Jesus was on a mission that included His death, resurrection and ascension. How did Jesus calm the troubled hearts of His disciples and offer us the same comfort and hope? Our text holds some wonderful assurances to lay hold of in troubled times. Jesus said..."Let not your heart be troubled. You believe in God, believe also in Me". The assurances that Jesus gave them and gives to us are all centered in the presence of God in our lives. He begins with the promise of a secure future with Him in Heaven (John 14:1-6), He reveals and glorifies the Father in whom we are secure, He tells us that He and the Father will make their home in our hearts (John 14:23), He announces the gift of the Holy Spirit to teach and guide us (John 14:25-30), and finally He gives us the gift of His peace (John 14:27). In a world full of tribulation, it is incredibly encouraging to know that He (Jesus) is ever with us.

Notes from the Chamber

By: Chamber Director Miranda Gallagher

So much is happening in Belle Fourche and I love seeing all the new faces and businesses coming to our community. When I started as the Executive Director in August, one of the biggest comments I heard from the business owners, was they never saw the previous director unless they wanted money or donations. I have tried to get out and about and be involved in our community. I feel that if I do not know what your business is about, how am I supposed to promote it. Since August, I have learned a lot about our community and different organizations that we have right here in Belle Fourche. I am truly shocked at what this town has to offer and the potential it has to grow even more. Not only have I been going out and introducing myself and learning what business have here, I have been taking the Belle Fourche Leadership class. Wow! That has really opened my eyes and educated me about our local

Anything Left in the Barrel?

There has been some discussion of late about the use of Robert's Rules of Order for the orderly conduct of meetings

Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised, commonly referred to as Robert's Rules of Order, RONR, or simply Robert's Rules, is a political book written by Henry Martyn Robert. It is the most widely used manual of parliamentary procedure in the United States.

It governs the meetings of a diverse range of organizations, including church groups, county commissions, homeowners associations, nonprofit associations, professional societies, school boards, and trade unions that have adopted it as their parliamentary authority.

The manual was first published in 1876 by U.S. Army officer Henry Martyn Robert, who adapted the rules and practice of Congress to the needs of non-legislative societies.

Eleven subsequent editions have been published, including major revisions in 1915 and 1970.

The copyright to Robert's Rules of Order Newly Revised is owned by the Robert's Rules Association, which selects by contract an authorship team to continue the task of revising and updating the book

The 12th and current edition was released on September 1, 2020.

Generally, Robert's Rules of Order is a guide for conducting meetings and making decisions as a group

The purpose of the book is "to enable assemblies of any size, with due regard for every member's opinion, to arrive at the general will on the maximum number of questions of varying complexity in a minimum amount of time and under all kinds of internal climate ranging from total harmony to hardened or impassioned division of opinion."

The convenience of RONR is the continuing uniformity where ever you are or come from.

The rulebook for conducting the meetings will be the same. (Not unlike Baseball, played all over the world who can be in the game because they know the rules.)

The membership and leadership of groups is constantly changing and evolving, but the working consistency is as individuals come and go the rules of conducting business stay the same.

Our youth, in 4-H and FFA and other organizations employ RONR. It is in part because what they have learned they can continue to use in their adult life.

The FFA Parliamentarian adheres to: As FFA Parliamentarian: "It is my obligation to know and share information about parliamentary law and assist members in proper meeting procedure and etiquette so that we can accomplish the business of the chapter. I assure that every member will be heard and that the majority will prevail."

We would be of the opinion that the rules aren't the problem, it is when they are not used, or not used properly, is when there are problems.

The number one tenet that we have seen abused or ignored is the requirement that you need to have a motion and a second to begin discussion.

Quite honestly if there are not two people who can agree to doing that, "It shouldn't be discussed."

Conventions usually follow RONR. This isn't about the procedure, but on the way back to the hotel: Three guys were at a convention together and were sharing a large suite on the top of a 75-story skyscraper.

- By: Doug Cole

After a long day of meetings, they were shocked to hear that the elevators in their hotel were broken and they would have to climb 75 flights of stairs to get to their room. Bill said to Jim and Scott,

"Let's break the monotony of this unpleasant task by concentrating on something interesting. I'll tell jokes for 25 flights, Jim can sing songs for 25 flights, Scott can tell sad stories the rest of the way." At the 26th floor, Bill stopped telling jokes and Jim began to sing.

At the 51st floor Jim stopped singing and Scott began to tell sad stories. "I will tell my saddest story first," he said. "I left the room key in the car!"

Rome did not create a great empire by having meetings, they did it by killing all those who opposed them.

TEAMWORK: never having to take all the blame yourself.

Stop Redundancy: The Committee for the Reduction of Redundancy and the Anti proliferation of Repetition has decided not to meet until they have their first meeting and thus will not be meeting until the first time. Their Pre-meeting Statement wanted to make this clear before they had their first meeting, so that it would not be un or confusing. So their first meeting will actually be their first meeting and they will not have a meeting before the first meeting. This should avoid having people show up for their first meeting before it is held, since to do so would be confusing to those who did so and this is what they want to avoid by reducing the confusion and lessening the repetition.

The Good Stuff

by Jim Thompson

Jim Thompson takes motivational stories that listeners and readers send him and incorporates them into the program. It has been on the air for more than 10 years.

It was a bit over a year ago that Dean Colburn died. It was a short time after his 90th birthday. I didn't get to meet Dean, but I know his wife Delores. She writes to me and calls me and meets me at the highway south of Valentine so we can visit.

Nature's Church

At Dean's funeral, this poem by Yvonne Hollenbeck was read:

Did you ever see the Sandhills when they're covered with snow, or watch an evening sunset leave its purple afterglow?

Have you ever seen a newborn calf a-wobbling to its feet, and though its only minutes old it knows just where to eat. You can't climb up in a saddle and ride 'cross or see an eagle on the wing and not believe in

A rancher doesn't worship in a building made but worships with his maker out with nature

His church is in the great outdoors, this valley, its mate.

His favorite hymn's a coyote that is calling to

He never does the tithing dropping money in a hand its by being a good caretaker of the creatures of the land.

He makes his own communion while a choir of songbirds sing as he cups his hands and drinks the fresh cold water from a spring.

From the budding of the springtime to the autumn's golden rod there's no better place to worship than to be out there with God. So, when you hear a meadowlark that's singing from his perch

He's inviting you to worship with him there at natures church.

Calving Season

We kind of have calving and branding seasons running together. Most of our neighbors start calving about a month or so ahead of us.. and many are trying to get branded up so they can get them to summer pasture. We aren't hauling any anywhere else for summer this year.. other than some steers hauled to the sale barn, if the dang market would get better. I know, I know, greedy ain't I? I would like to get paid for wintering them!

The last heifer calved awhile back, so calving is getting better. But I am wishing we were leasing bulls instead of owning them.. when I checked cows this morning both the new bulls who were still supposed to be in the corral, had escaped and were out with the drop bunch. I guess if they had to be with one of the bunches, that was the best as none are cycling right now. Either still haven't calved or haven't calved long enough to cycle. There were some heifer yearlings out there, but I don't think they are cycling either. Guess we will find out when we preg this fall!

Then a neighbor stopped in to say we had a bull on the road. Wasn't too big of a deal getting him back, but he and some others were in a pasture they weren't supposed to be in. Me and the dogs got them relocated, found the open gate they had come thru' and shut it. And then noticed some more yearlings and a cow with a fairly new baby calf, in another pasture. I knew the cow was out there but had forgotten about her. Really didn't think she was going to enjoy all the attention from 16 bulls when she started to cycle, so went back with my horse and got her sorted off and where she should be across the road. Man, she was high headed rip! Her poor little calf is in training for the Preakness or something, she must think, because he had to rope to keep up with her trot! Last I saw of them, they had went thru' the gate and were headed north at a high rate of speed. Sure hope they slowed down before they got to the next fence a mile north!

But back to the branding.. we got all done but one more neighbor .. and of course, ours. Sure is nice to see all the neighbors and watch the little kids who are not so little anymore, wrestling calves and roping. Kids. They are the best thing we raise in this part of the

Here is hoping we get a bunch of rainy days!

Mick B. Harrison's Artists License ...and other wonderments.

This painting set me on a fulltime art career. The sale of one-time rights for use on the cover of True West magazine sealed the deal. While the painting was done in 1974, it didn't make its appearance as cover art until 1976. By then the die was cast, I was an artist. The model for this was me. Yes, I had long-ish hair for a short time, until I walked into a department store men's dressing room and a sales clerk yelled, "Ma'am, you can't go in there!" I got a haircut the next day. But...it worked for the painting. It was the 70s.

The horse is a little gant but hey, the time period. There was no reason to pick an Appaloosa other than the color worked for the painting. I'm not sure why I left the saddle blanket on. Details, details.

KAREN ODELL

news@bellefourchebeacon.com A little bit of rain fell on Capitol and Tie Creek this week. We are in need of much more.

Dick and Erma Albert made a shopping trip to Belle Fourche and Spearfish on Wednesday. Dick is getting ready for his fishing trip next week. On Thursday, the Feeding South Dakota truck came to Buffalo, and Erma went to help with that. She and Dick went to Senior Citizen's dinner on Friday. There were only a few people there, but Erma staved to play three games of cards, while Dick went home on his four-wheeler. They both were at church on Sunday and were glad to learn that Father Brian will be staying in Buffalo for a few more years. They had dinner at Saloon Number Three with the Erks. Father Brian and John Helms.

Lynn Gustafson and Linda Matthews made a trip to Bowman, on Thursday, to the beauty parlor. Lynn and Bruce went to church at Little Missouri Church on Sunday...

Doug and Julia Davis had company last week. Jake and Callie and the boys came on Friday to be ready for shearing on Saturday. Travis, Amanda and Rory came on Saturday from Alabama. Amanda's brother Curt, and his family stayed on Saturday night, too. McKenzie and Mattie Buck came out to help. Early on Sunday morning they all went to the Little Missouri Church for Rory's baptism before the regular church service. This week Travis's family went to Billings to visit her family, and maybe they will have time to stop back here next week. Julia had doctor's appointments in Spearfish on Thursday, and in Rapid City on Friday. Julia got some of her seeds planted inside

Donna Lewis had ten inches of rain. Ooops, I guess that was 10 inches between drops. Last week, Donna's daughter, Wanda, came up from Wyoming on Thursday. They went to Kate Frye's birthday party in Ekalaka, and had the Mother's Day Buffet at the Tavern. This week, Donna went to the Ray Mengel funeral in Ekalaka on Wednesday, and went to town to get her mail on Friday.

Last week, Junior, Shirley, Ernie, Rachel and Tommy Melum attended the funeral of Maurice Overn at the Little Missouri Church and the Capitol Cemetery. They all gathered afterward to have supper at Charlie and Karen Odell's. The community is always grateful to Ernie for all the work he does for local funerals, and keeping up the Captiol Cemetery. This week, Ernie, Rachel and Tommy took Junior and Shirley to town to go shopping on Thursday. They had lunch at Perkins, and it was really nice to get out again. Ernie's family went to the Jerry Stenerson funeral. Ernie had stayed at Annie Stenerson's when he was in school, and remembered the good times he had with that family.

Pete (Gordon) Anderson went to Camp Crook on Sunday to the church service at the Methodist Church, and then to have lunch at the Corner Cafe before returning home.

Last Monday, Bryce, Dawn and Dorothy Padden went to the Spring Concert in Buffalo. That Friday, Dawn and Dorothy went to Kelly and Spring Padden's to take Kanyn and Brylen to a 4-H judging school. They learned to judge cows, sheep and goats, with some instruction in judging rabbits and chickens, too. Mother's day was the designated day for branding, and they had help from Buffalo and Ekalaka. Dawn took pictures and put them on her Facebook page, and one of them got censored. It was a picture of two little girls holding a calf and their father beside them. A family working together must be too shocking to see. Dawn and Dorothy went to the track meet in Lemmon and had a great sunny day to watch the events. They went to the Harding County High School Graduation, and branded again on Saturday. Dorothy went to the reception for Richard Long in Camp Crook. On Sunday, Bryce and Dawn had lunch at the Corner Cafe.

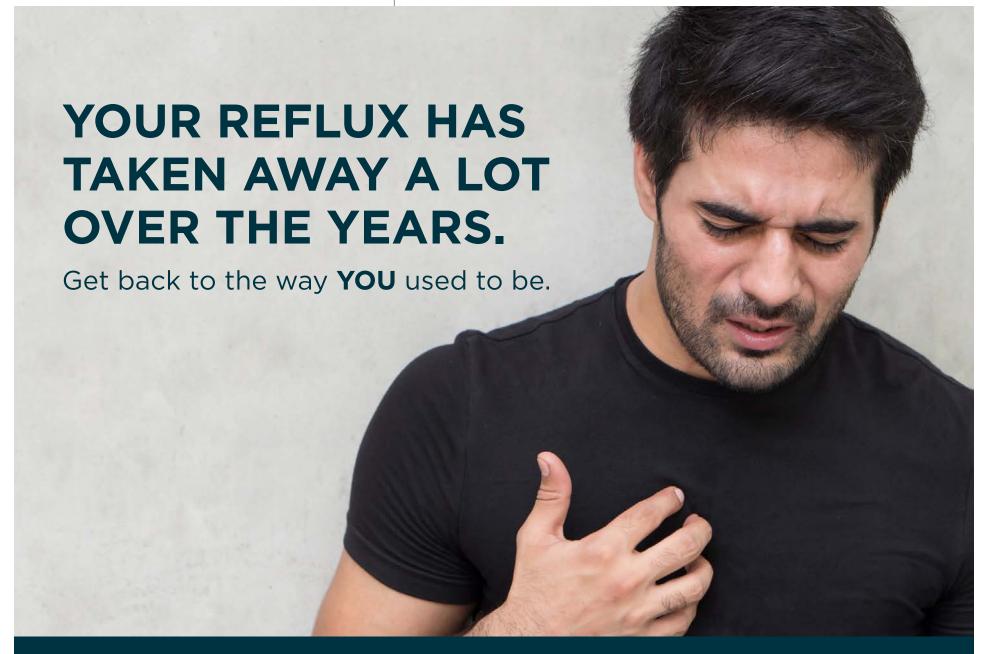

Justin Kerr took Marion and Krista to dinner at the Over The Edge on Mother's Day.

The Humbracht family had Mother's Day dinner at Over The Edge.

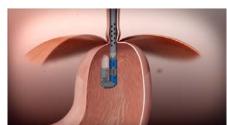

Last Sunday, Micki, Jesse and Murphy Hinds left from Charlie and Karen Odell's to drive back to Billings where they would fly home to Tacoma WA. Cody Odell's family headed back to Mitchell, SD. With everyone gone, Charlie and Karen took flowers from the Maurice Overn funeral to share at the church service at the Methodist Church in Camp Crook. They had dinner at the Over The Edge Mother's Day buffet, and visited with people there. Earlier in the week, Cody had cooked steaks for Karen for Mother's day, and on Saturday night he took everyone out to the Corner Bar for supper. This week, Karen freeze-dried the extra sloppy joes, Welsh cakes, and baked beans from the Maurice Overn funeral. Potato salad is not good for freezing or freeze drying, so she didn't try that.

Last week Jake Reynolds came by for a visit at Ronda Cordell's. Jake spent the night and returned to Tennant's Tuesday morning to continue helping with lambing and shed work. Ronda had lunch at the Wagon Wheel in Ekalaka on Wednesday, before going to an appointment. Ronda had given several cows shots to induce labor on Monday afternoon. She called it 'Controlled Calving'. Afterwards she split the cows into five different areas, to prevent grannying when they calved. She happened to wake up about 1:30, and checked the camera system to see what was going on in the corrals. In the area where three cows had been, she saw that one cow had a new baby. In scanning around to see where the other two cows might be, she saw an odd-looking thing laying not far from the cow with the new calf. She though it could be another calf that had its child. They were able to reunite, and Clarissa was able to be reunited with her children. Foster parents Renee and Brady Bear Stops of Pierre have fostered and adopted more than a dozen children over the years. Renee told the story of their adopted daughter who just graduated from T.F. Riggs High School last year and is studying Human Services at Mitchell Tech. "She wants to be a case worker," Brady said.

"I'm really hoping that this will be a catalytic moment for businesses and the faith community to get involved to say 'we can do this, I can do that' and for foster parents to see this as the whole state of South Dakota wrapping around them and for the kids to feel that support and love," Kristi Woolsey added as the crowd mingled in the convention room following the event.

Woolsey has been a strong advocate for reunifying biological children with their biological parents working through the foster care system. She and Damen are also promoting "wrap around services" where any individual can contact South Dakota Kids Belong and sign up to provide support for foster and adoptive families. The support might come in the form of encouraging letters, phone calls, gift cards, babysitting services, dropping off groceries, cooking meals and providing car maintenance and transportation.

"It really means that everyone can do something when perhaps they never saw it that way before," Woolsey said. In addition SDKB is adding a business component through a new smartphone app created by America's Kids Belong. Businesses can sign up to offer discounts for foster and adoptive families and the apps allows them a "one stop" access point to those services. The Stronger Families Together campaign hopes to recruit 300 new foster and or adoptive families per year. As of the end of April there were 1,738 foster children in South Dakota. Out of that number 995 are currently living with foster families. That leaves 743 children statewide needing a forever family. "I think it's an aggressive goal to have 300 new foster families a year, each year for the next four years," Noem said. "But I think what Brian (Mavis) shared with us as a goal is important. It would be better to have a list of families waiting for children than children waiting for families. And I think that would be a testament to how special South Dakota is. That would be remarkable."

The Stronger Families Together campaign also unveiled their new website, FosterOne.sd.gov where individuals can find information about the program. The website's video page contains several videos created by Northern Hills' based Western Sky Media working with the Woolsey's and SDKB. Two videos were featured during the kickoff event.

The videos on the website profile foster and adoptive parents, case workers and stories of reunification. Over the past three years the partnership has produced more than 40 videos of children needing adoption or foster families. These videos are distributed by the AKB national network in Colorado. Nearly 30 of those children have been placed with families thus far.

Work Rigs Limited Not Limited To Work Rigs

The instore display area is rapidly filing up at Miles Foley's Work Rigs Limited at 67 North 6th Avenue in Belle Fourche. Beacon photo

Former area housing contractor, Miles Foley, has opened a new business, Work Rigs Limited, located at 67 N 6th Ave, Belle Fourche.

They sell and install many items, including, but not limited to, floor mats, mud flaps, tonnaeu covers, ladder racks, tool boxes, LED lights, bumpers, grille guards, hitches, etc. Brands like WeatherTech, Weather Guard, Lund, Access, B&W, Truxedo, Bushwacker, Westin, Magnum, Buyers, AVS, and many more.

Accessories will be available for anything from a Ford Ranger to a Kenworth.

At present the installs on big trucks is somewhat limited right now because the current shop isn't big enough to fit them in, so everything on the big rigs will be done outside.

They will customize job trailers, work vans, plank trailers, skeleton trailers, etc.

The goal is to stock almost everything that anyone would need to set up a work truck, whether it's that little Colorado the estimator drives, the one ton out there bouncing around the jobs carrying the tools, the Peterbilt getting the materials delivered, or anything in between. Miles said, "I am constantly trying to get in with different brands, so if there is a particular brand someone wants, if I can't get it now, I will try to make it happen.'

They have access to many brands, but there are some they are in process of becoming an authorized dealer for.

It doesn't stop at work, they do family rigs too. Miles added, "I also sell and install accessories for SUVs and passenger vans. After all, they still need hitched and wiring to pull a camper, or a roof rack to haul the hunting gear, maybe a hitch rack to carry the kids' toys. Bike racks? You bet I sell them! What I absolutely love doing is improving vehicles, whether it is something small like floor mats, or something big that will transform the entire vehicle. Improvements that are purely cosmetic, or strictly practical, I love them all!"

head under, and was in a predicament. She hurriedly dressed and went to see. It was a calf, but one that was only about five months along. She searched through the corral area for the other two cows; thinking one of them had the preemie calf. One of the three cows had played escape artist and was gone. The other had not calved yet. Ronda looked for two hours for the missing cow. She searched through the hay yard, tree patch, and the barn. At the barn, she found that the chain on the gate had been gotten off the hook. At that point, she gave up the search until daylight. She knew that the missing cow would be out in the west pasture somewhere. At daylight, she began to search again for the missing cow. When she finally found her, she had a new live calf that was up and going. Ronda went back to check on the third cow again, and she was calving when she got to her. It ended up that the three cows put in that corral area all had a live calf. No other cow was in the corral area where those three cows had been during that time. That dead premature calf had to have been born from the first cow she'd seen in that corral with a live calf. When Ronda called the vet clinic to question this situation, they were all busy, so Ronda took pictures and will consult them on this oddity. Denise, Darby and Abby Zolnoski brought an early Mother's Day dinner up to the trailer house. Clint, Gene Secrest and Ronda joined them. Darby and Abby were quite excited and couldn't wait till Sunday for Gramma to see what they had picked out for her Mother's Day gift. Then they had to go pet the twin calves after dinner.

Diane Wear came on Friday to help with chores and housework. Diane and Ronda attended the Larry Licking funeral in Camp Crook on Saturday. Then Diane went on to Buffalo.

Cristen and Jayda Westling came on Saturday evening for Mother's Day. Diane returned to join them for supper. Diane helped Ronda with cows on Sunday. Cristen had dinner ready when they were finished. They all headed home after dinner. After feedin on Sunday, the Zolnoskis went to Spearfish for Mother's Day with Denise's

From A1 Memorial captured by law enforcement officers that he mistook for farmers.

Sitts was convicted of Matthews death and died in the electric chair, the only person ever to do so in South Dakota. The unveiling was held at 11 a.m. at the Golliher arena, hosted by Jerry Golliher. Many local and regional law enforcement members were in attendance including current Butte County Sheriff Fred Lamphere who said, "It is very surreal that this type of crime occurred in such a beautiful area that we live in. A lot of us have been in the job 20-years-plus, and I don't think any of us have worked that long and not known someone that's given the ultimate sacrifice." He mentioned that National Police Week began on May 9, running through Saturday, making the timeliness of the unveiling especially significant.

As far as Velder is concerned, he said the idea of the memorial sign had been sitting in his head since he first read about it 25 years ago. Finally in the summer of 2020, the idea of a sign along the highway where the two men sacrificed their lives, persisted. He contacted the SD DOT and together with their cooperation, the sign became reality.

"Seventy-five years is a long time and it's about time we got one (sign) put up for these two lawmen," he said. "I think now, more than ever, it's important to remember our law enforcement and show them our appreciation." He thanked the DOT for their assistance.

DCI Special Agent Tom Matthews' son, Tom Matthews, was in attendance, the only family member able to do so. "This is a real nice deal," said Matthews. "But our country today is anti-police. And that has to stop."

With the connection to DCI Agent Matthews, that organization turned out in force. Agents included: SD Regional DCI Special Agent Steve Ardiss, DCI Special Agents Zach

Accept Reparation Demands New Government To Be Formed In Germany Will Meet Obligation of Allies

Berlin, May 10 - Acceptance of the allied ultimatum relative to reparations is expected in the Reichstag today by the Centrists and majority socialists as a result of their conferences yesterday. It is believed they have definitely aligned themselves in favor of yielding to the entente demands. It seemed yesterday that there was a competition among the parties for the first place in the assenting columns.

Standards for Postmasters Washington, May 10 – President Wilson's order for the selection of first, second and third class postmasters under civil service was modified today by President Harding to give a wider field from which postmasters may be chosen. Instead of being required to select a candidate standing the highest in a civil service examination, the administration may, under today's order, give the place to any one of three who head the qualified list.

Rail service into Belle Fourche was back to normal Monday morning when local freight service was resumed on its former schedule, after the two-day national strike inaugurated by the locomotive engineers and trainmen. The incoming freight on last Thursday afternoon was the last train into Belle Fourche when the "striking hour" went into effect, and this crew remained in Belle Fourche until Monday morning when it resumed its duty on the outgoing freight to Rapid City that morning. According to a statement from L. W. Hamblin, local Chicago & Northwestern agent, there was no apparent inconvenience to local shippers, except a two-day delay in time. He says that all temporary embargoes were of short duration and that during the striking period the bulk of telegraphic messages were receipts or cancellation of different embargo and other regulatory topics brought up on account of the strike.

National Geographic Officials Are Coming To State For Visit

They plan to visit all sections and study the state's various agriculture, industrial and recreational activities.

"Building Main Street, not Wall Street" -What is a Truly-Local State of Mind?

by John Newby

Going back to basics, what is a Truly-Local state of mind? Let's review one of many elements that comprise the Truly-Local mindset. Truly-Local shopping isn't just a nice thing to do to show local spirit. Truly-Local shopping in the future may be the difference between whether a community grows economically or withers on the economic vine. Shopping Truly-Local isn't the same as just shopping local, all shopping isn't created equal. Truly-Local is described as "locally owned and operated"; this can in rare cases include National chains that are locally owned. With the increase of out-oftown owned businesses and online shopping opportunities, many local governments are finding it increasingly more difficult to make their local fiscal budgets stretch to cover their basic needs. In fact, many are already in severe financial straits. The term 'unintended consequences' could very well have been coined to convey the situation many communities find themselves in today or will find themselves in the near

The courtship of big boxes and chains might be viewed as a necessary evil that communities must attract to appear viable. But might this strategy in reality, be a trojan horse allowed to enter your community, under-cutting the financial fabric of our community? By bringing these big boxes and chains to the community, it can initially create some low-paying service sector jobs. It might help increase the quality of life for some residents and it can provide a greater variety of goods and services we all enjoy. But is the price worth it over the long haul? While the benefits can be great, we must realize this also comes with high risk. The greater the saturation of big boxes and chains, the greater long term economic risk to our communities. One might ask, how can this be?

"Building Main Street, not Wall Street sponsored in part by:

Very simply, the more money each of us spends with these out-of-town owners, the bigger the drain on our local budgets. A greater percentage of those dollars we are spending leave our community, never again to return. Studies show dollars spent at locally owned businesses are 3-7X more valuable as they are re-circulated multiple times throughout the community in lieu of being sent to some faroff corporate headquarters.

Those same dollars spent with non-local businesses leave our community and no longer are able to fund our police, fire departments, city government, water department, road department, parks & recreation, and so forth. Bottom line, fewer locally spent dollars equate to fewer or less than desirable services. How can communities move forward sending their dollars to Wall Street in lieu of growing their own Main Streets?

As is the case with most things in life, it is all about balance. Having these big boxes, chains, Wall Street, and out-of-town owned businesses can initially be beneficial to the overall growth of a community. The bigger issue arises when communities in their haste vigorously court these big boxes, chains, and Wall Street organizations at the expense of organically growing their local business base from within. We must not forget that small businesses, mostly locally owned, employ the majority of all workers across the country. We must attend to that base as well.

Laundry & Dry Cleaning

Communities must find the resolve to expend equal attention and resources on their local business, innovation and entrepreneur base. Nurturing their startups will ultimately create the balance to weather the pending economic storm clouds of retail, along with the rapidly shifting shopping habits that are changing right before our eyes.

With the rapidly shifting retail and consumer habits, it is imperative that communities have these critical conversations. It is also critical they find ways to stimulate local entrepreneurship and innovation. It is imperative they find ways to keep a greater percentage of their consumer spending Truly-Local. Additionally, while we will discuss this in future columns, the younger generations have a whole new mindset. This mindset leans toward a more experiential economy where it isn't about sameness, but about making dining and shopping a unique experience. The fastest way to being unique is to avoid the sea of sameness that comes with National chains and embrace the uniqueness of local. This spells Truly-Local in every sense of the meaning.

These aren't just nice discussions to have; the economic and vital future of every community under 50,000 is in danger of slowly being dismantled by the winds of economic change. While the answers may vary by community, we can be sure of one thing. Wall Street cares little about our communities unless of course, when it can extract more local dollars that boost their bottom lines.

The future of our communities are certainly in our hands, and our hands only. Whether we win or lose tomorrow will be determined by the hard decisions we make today. Hopefully our communities will make those decisions based on long-term growth and not just short-term satisfaction.

School Year Wrapping up; Graduation Saturday

COLLEEN BRUNNER news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL – By the time this paper is circulated, the Newell school district will be ready to wrap things up, with the final day of school slated as an early release on May 20 at 1:30. Graduation is set for 2 p.m. on Saturday, May 22 for the 19 seniors set to walk across the stage and grab that piece of important paper.

In the meantime, the students are participating in activities that will last past that final date.

On Friday, May 14, the golfers had a great day at the Bison tournament. For the ladies, Kassidy Weeldreyer placed 2nd with a 91, Megan Jackson placed 4th with a 106, and Kelsie Clements shot a 114. That was a good enough team score for a second-place finish for the girls' team for the day.

The boys' team grabbed a fourth-place finish. Chase VanDerBoom shot 98, Charlie Clements a 112, James Duncan a 118 and Gavin Tesch a 118.

May 26 and 27 is an important date as it is the Little Gator Basketball Camp for K-5th grade. It runs daily from 9 to 10:30 a.m. and is happening in Austin Auditorium. The cost is $30 per player but includes a free basketball for each athlete attending.

Newell girls' track team headed to Lemmon for the LMC Conference track meet and came home with their 4th Championship victory.

The Army National Guard donated a banner for the graduating class, the 100th to do so for Newell high school.

The Newell freshman and sophomore classes traveled to Faith on Monday for Freshman Impact day, learning many new ways to deal with situations and circumstances that impact their

From C1 COMMISSION

Public Safety, Ambulance Rep-Commissioner Don Adams Public Works-Commissioner Allen Youngberg Utlitilies, Museum & Library-Commissioner Lorrie Olson

Finance & Revenue-Commissioner Tiffany Tennis LEPC-Mayor Wetz Allen Youngberg was elected as Board President.

The Komas family had approached the Belle Fourche Irrigation District to take approximately five acres out of BFID service and wanted to be put on Newell water service. BFID manager Tristan Clements was not available to expound on the inquiry and to answer any questions from the commissioners. The commissioners decided to table the request until next month after more information was gathered.

The commissioners voted to approve Bennett, Main, Gubbrud & Willert attorneys to start paperwork to take property owner Marcella Post, 102 Fisk Ave., to court for a Nuisance Violation. Post had been served papers on April 15, 2021. Post had not taken any action toward remedying the violation.

Liquor Store/Bar Manager Barney Barnes reported that he was putting more off-sale beer in the cooler in readiness for larger sales. According to Barnes, supplies can often be piecemeal and can be difficult to get some product. He requested that Candy Flanagan be moved from part-time to full-time.

"She is really good help," he said.

The commission approved his request and granted full-time to Tanya Kjellsen was also hired to clean the bar two days a week at a rate of $15 per hour. City Foreman Larry Parker reported that city workers are still working on the May cleanup. There are still branches to be picked up. The process is slowly getting done, Parker mentioned that if a resident is not on his list to be picked up, the city will not take anything more. There were 23 dump truck loads taken to the city rubble site.

Special thanks were given to Charlie Harris and the Newell LEO Club for all their hard work to make the cleanup days a success.

Preparations are being made for irrigation water, according to Parker. He reported that there have been several breaks in the system that are being repaired.

"If it's off (the irrigation water) it's because there's a break somewhere," he said.

Although the East Well repair is complete, there is testing that is needed to make the well fully usable. Parker divulged that the West Well was having a 23-28% water loss. He is not positive if the loss is shown because of a faulty meter or if there is another problem. He will do more investigation.

The next regular commission meeting is scheduled for June 14, 2012 at the City Finance

NHS Athletic Banquet

COLLEEN BRUNNER news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL - Newell high school wrapped up their athletic year on Thursday, May 6, with their annual athletic banquet, held in the middle school gym. Although there are some sports like track and golf aren't wrapped up, and rodeo awards have to be celebrated for the previous summer, most sports included awards for such things as most improved and the coveted "Irrigator" career athlete award. Girls' basketball assistant coach Emylee Hencey started the event with a word of prayer for the athletes, families, coaches and a blessing on the food, which was provided in part by Jeremiah Weeldreyer and Miles Burtzlaff. Once the meal was over the accolades began.

Head football coach Tyrel Bonnet, along with assistant Wyatt VanderVorst, presented football awards. They included MVP Offense and MVP Defense-Chase VanDerBoom, and Most Improved-Sam Rounds. All-Conference recognition went to Chase VanDerBoom and Neuly Mahaffy.

"When you play 9-man football and you only have 11 kids out, and someone gets hurt and you play a 9-man game with nine players, that's grit," said Bonnet of his team.

Kyle Sanderson presented Cross Country awards to Lexa Burtzlaff for Girls MVP. Garrett Winkler for Boys MVP and Most Improved to David Morell, who as a senior, participated in his first year on the team.

Tysha McDonald, volleyball coach, handed out awards as follows: Most Valuable Player-Taylor Gaer, MVP Offense-Sydnee Kjellsen, MVP Defense-Kayden Steele. First team All-Conference was Kayden Steel, second team All-Conference was Sydnee Kjellsen and Honorable Mention was Taylor Gaer.

Dylan VanDerBoom, former NHS wrestler and now Head Coach, along with Assistant Andrew Fergen, presented wrestling awards to: Most Improved-Blaise McGregor and Charlie Clements, Most Valuable-Caleb McGregor, and Most Outstanding-Chase VanDerBoom.

LeeAnn Gaer coaches the NHS rodeo team and spoke of those who placed and went to the State High School Rodeo in summer 2020. Kayden Steele-barrels, Taylor Gaer-poles and Colton Burtzlaff-shooting. Kim Johnson and Jaelyn Wendt also attended. The state meet for this year is in early June.

Head Coach Steve Schoenfish and Assistant Jeremiah Weeldreyer presented boys basketball awards.

"It was an interesting year," said Schoenfish. "Not necessarily what was expected, but with the leadership of seniors David Morell and Ryan Hohenberger, we made it work.'

Schoenfish said that he even had one player who never had a jersey assigned to him but ended up playing in two games. That was the versatile Chase VanDerBoom, who one time asked to go along on a game when VanDerBoom didn't have a wrestling meet. It turned out that Newell only had five guys and VanDerBoom ended up playing for two minutes in the game.

"He took more shots in those two minutes than all the other guys did in the whole season," laughed Schoenfish.

Basketball awards went to: MVP Offense-Ryan Hohenberger, MVP Defense and Irrigator

"Looking Forward to our Past" by Linda Velder

May 21, 1911

Dr. Lloyd returned from Belle Fourche Saturday in his Buick in 58 minutes. However, the distance by wagon road is 28 minutes, who can beat it?

A rattlesnake was killed Tuesday evening at the south end of Girard Ave containing 7 rattles. Mothers would do well to look after the little tots more closely. Snakes won't remain here, but we have converted their abode so suddenly into a city that they haven't had time to withdraw to a more secluded or exclusive locality. When the water is turned on it will be goodbye Mr. Rattlesnake.

Alex C. Getty of Newell is one of the pushing progressive substantial farmers of Butte County and he believes in the milk cow. He was in Rapid City last Monday and purchased off Pease Bros 24 head of his grade Holstein cows and heifers and brought them to his farm 10 miles southeast of Newell. Mr. Getty is a practical dairy farmer and believes the only road to success is through the milk pail Miss Selma Rongstad of Brookings gave an interesting demonstration on the making of paper dress forms at the Horse Creek School house Friday afternoon. She also demonstrated the use of the pressure cooker. Quite a number of ladies were present and all were delightful with the demonstration.

John Clay and Frank Conner, both of Chicago, A.B. Marble of Cheyenne and W.B. Penfold of Belle Fourche were in Newell Wednesday attending a meeting of directors of the Reclamation State Bank. Cashier D.J. Hull, Assistant Cashier J. A. Bartlett and C.O. Fogelberg of the Reclamation State Bank of Newell, attended the group meeting of South Dakota Bankers held Monday evening at Belle Fourche.

The Milberg School had a grand picnic last Friday, although the young folks did not get to go to Bear Butte as at first planned. The big event was held along Horse Creek, near the Anderson home. Games, fishing, swimming and roasting "wienies" helped to keep the fun going. The day was warm enough for the water sports. A few of the parents attended. There were many good things to eat and Mrs. Ward, the teacher, had provided some special treats and little gifts.

Mrs. Ida Mae Doud, who has peen teaching the upper grades at the Webb School, has been engaged to teach at the Ingersoll School near Belle Fourche next term, while her sister, Miss Edith Payne, will teach in the Vale Public School.

The weather felt like summer this week, but it's really dry here. We got a whopping .03 hundredths of rain on Wednesday that didn't even leave a puddle for the little people to play in. Please keep praying for rain because those of us in the severe drought sure some moisture.

Casey hauled some dry cows to the sale barn in Faith on Monday. Taz hauled a couple loads of ewes and lambs over to our east place and he also took the new guard dog they got from Bill Erickson over there to help keep the coyotes out of the sheep. We're almost done lambing so we moved all the bum lambs to the other shed so they will be able to clean out the lambing shed soon. I watched the 'Frank Speech Rally' in Mitchell, SD hosted by the My Pillow guy, Mike Lindell on television that evening. It would have been fun to be in Mitchell to see it in person.

We had ladies aid at Slim Buttes Lutheran Tuesday afternoon. Lori Besler was the host and served a delicious lunch after the Bible study. Linda Mohagen wasn't able to attend because she is still substitute teaching in Buffalo. Taz flew to the rodeo in Redding, California that day and Amanda and the kids went to Buffalo.

Celia Welch came to visit me on Wednesday and brought me her recipe for corned beef and the pink salt I'll need to make it. She also brought me some heritage watermelon seeds to plant. She likes to make watermelon pickles and the new kinds of watermelon don't have the thick rind you need to make the pickles, but these watermelons do so I got some of the seeds planted in hopes that I'll get some watermelons for her. I got two more of my raised bed gardens planted that afternoon before we got that little shower. Paige Parmely had Cooper and Knox come down and play with her kids Wednesday afternoon and it sounded like they all had a really fun time. Reub filled four lick barrels full of cow manure and brought them next to my raised bed gardens so I could plant potatoes in them.

I got potatoes planted in the lick barrels on Thursday and planted some of the watermelon seeds that Celia Welch brought me. Casey and Missy went to the track meet in Lemmon that day. Reub went over to see if the cemetery at Glendo needed mowing before Memorial Day and then went to visit with Dennis Nash that afternoon.

Amanda babysat her nephew Keen Jenson on Friday while Kami went back to work at her beauty shop in Buffalo. Keen is a cute little guy and Amanda's kids sure like him.

Saturday was graduation day in Buffalo and Casey and Missy went in for it. Taz got home from the rodeo in California that afternoon and he and Amanda dropped the kids off in Buffalo with Missy and Casey while they went to Belle Fourche to celebrate their wedding anniversary and pick up the horse trailer Taz had taken down there to get fixed. Reub and I went to Ladner for our good friend Jerry Stenerson's funeral on Saturday. A huge crowd of friends and neighbors gathered to say goodbye to Jerry and extend sympathy to his family. Jerry was a Vietnam War veteran and it was fitting that his funeral was on Armed Forces Day.

We didn't make it to graduation in Buffalo on Saturday, but we got to take in Billy Larson's senior graduation recognition at Slim Buttes Lutheran on Sunday with cake and coffee following the service and Billy got to pick out which quilt he wanted that the church gave him. Reub and I went to Prairie City that afternoon for Jonathan Burkhalter's graduation open house at the Burkhalter's home. There will be a bridal shower for Rebekah Burkhalter on Wednesday, May 19 at 7:00pm at the Wesleyan Church in Prairie City.

Friday, May 21 at 5:00 will be cleanup at the Slim Buttes church and cemetery. Thrivent is providing a pizza supper for everyone after the cleanup.

Don't forget to put the Women's Rally in Bison on your calendar. It will be on Saturday, May 22 at 2:00 at the K-T café in Bison. SD legislators and former legislators will share some of their concerns about what is and is not being taught in our public schools. I'll bring a copy of the 1776 Pledge to Save Our Schools that Gov. Kristi Noem signed this week.

Our nation, the economy, and the American people are in danger with all the terrible things coming out of Washington, DC. Peggy Veal sent me this that her son Ben found in the 1960 annual report of the Perkins County Soil Conservation District and it would be great if the federal government would follow Pres. Lincoln's advice: Abraham Lincoln's Ten Can-

Special Memorial Day exercises will be conducted at the Newell Cemetery next Friday, May 30, it was announced this week. The Legion services will start at 10 O'clock and will consist of a short appropriate program, including a salute by the firing squad and blowing the taps. All members will be urged to attend a practice session at the cemetery at 7:00 PM next Monday.

Newell Businesses will be closed all day Wednesday, May 30 in observance of the Memorial Day holiday; it was announced by the retail committee of the Newell Community Club. The Memorial Day program is sponsored by American Legion, other Veterans and civic groups at 10 AM at the City Hall. It is important, at a time when American soldiers are again fighting to preserve freedom in the world that we again give appropriate tribute to those who have lost their lives thus far to preserve it.

Rev & Mrs. John Kline and their small daughters Nita and Carol, missionaries from New Mexico who have been workfrom the Newell Museum ing among the Navajo Indians there, gave a talk and showed colored slides at the Empire Friends Church Monday evening. Mrs. Kline was dressed in the native Navajo costume and they sang songs in the Navajo language. The little girls also sang a Navajo duet.

The Castle Rock community has had a lot of rain. Gene Munroe was stuck in the mud over there Sunday. Joe O'Conner reports that he also was stuck in the gumbo mud in that community; he drives a pick-up and Gene drives a Jeep.

L.R. Chiesman and daughter Allene, left last Tuesday evening for their cabin on Sand Creek, where they spent several days. Mr. Chiesman will now make his home at the Don Pratt Manor in Belle Fourche.

Mrs. Elsie Youngberg received a box of Hawaiian flowers from her son, Lt Jgt Guy Youngberg, for Mothers Day. Mrs. G. Youngberg, Lucille, sent a lovely arrangement to her mother Mrs. Bernice Miles. The flowers were sent by air from Hawaii on Thursday and arrived here Saturday.

Governor Noem Appoints Spencer Hawley to Commission on Gaming

PIERRE, S.D. – This week, Governor Kristi Noem announced that she will appoint Spencer Hawley to serve on the South Dakota Commission on Gaming. Additionally, Governor Noem reappointed Robert Goetz to the Commission.

Hawley is a former Democrat legislator from Brookings, serving from 2011-2018. He served as House minority leader from 2015-2018. He owned his own insurance business in Brookings for many years, but now works for American Trust Insurance as an account executive.

Bush's Landing Boat Ramp Closed; Target Date to Reopen May 28

PIERRE, S.D. – The South Dakota Game, Fish and Parks (GFP) Department is working with a local contractor to complete an access road and extend the low-water boat ramp at Bush's Landing on Lake Oahe, north of Pierre.

"Due to low water conditions, the current high-water ramp is out of service. We have a target date of May 28 to finish the low-water ramp," said Planning and Development Administrator Adam Kulesa. "This ramp is an important and popular launching point for Lake Oahe anglers, and we are doing our best to get it done as quickly as possible."

Kulesa went on to say that low water and siltation issues at Bush's Landing create expensive and difficult circumstances to maintain water access.

'We have not extended the lower level ramp prior to this year because of the extreme financial cost and the higher water levels. This low-water ramp project is over a half-million dollars alone. The access road out to the low-water ramp goes under water when we experience high water levels and creates extremely challenging working conditions to access the low water ramp area to perform

Kulesa expects Sutton Bay and Little Bend access points to transition to low water ramps. These locations are currently

Proposed Antelope Seasons

The proposal for the archery antelope season had no changes from 2020. This season is set with season dates of Aug. 21 -Oct. 31. (The archery antelope season is closed from Oct. 2 -17 for the firearms season.)

Coach Scott Wince, along with assistants Hencey and Lacey Hewitt, presented girls basketball awards.

"We had a good season with a 17-5 record," said Wince. 'We, unfortunately, had some extensive injuries at the end of the year."

Awards in this sport went to: MVP- Offense-Kayden Steele, MVP Defense-Jaelyn Wendt, Irrigator award-Lexa Burtzlaff. First team All-Conference went to Kayden Steele, second team-Lexa Burtzlaff and Honorable Mention-Kassidy Weeldreyer and Jaelyn Wendt.

Track coach Kyle Sanderson, along with assistants Cara Muckridge and Hencey, were not able to present awards as the season is in mid-stride.

"The theme for this year is versatility." said Sanderson. "We have asked kids to step up and try something new, putting together a 4x4 tam from two throwers, a jumper and a runner, for example."

The conference meet will be May 13 in Lemmon, with the Regional meet, which is also to follow on May 20.

"The state meet this year is in Rapid City on the 28th and 29th, so we hope to see a bunch of people there cheering these athletes on."

Golf was another sport that is yet to be written in the history books. Currently, there are no awards given as there's a lot of golf, including the regional meet at Hart Ranch in Rapid City on the 20th and the state meet in Brookings on June 7 and 8. Coach Wince is being assisted this year by Kim Rich-
