Tackling Neighborhood Works Projects

Meg English

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

Adam Nowowiejski, Belle Fourche High School Activities director is a gregarious team leader with a firm handshake. Last week, Adam and a group of student volunteers painted a house on the north side of Belle Fourche. The students (see photos) are participants in various activities at Belle Fourche High School. Despite temperatures in the upper 90s, the kids turned out in impressive numbers as part of a partnership with NeighborWorks in Deadwood. They completed the project in just two days. "The kids rocked." Adam proudly complimented the crew at the completion of the project.

NeighborWorks America is a national non-profit organization. The local South Dakota NeighborWorks, located in Deadwood shares a mission with the larger national organization: to provide housing assistance to those in need and in doing so, improve the quality of life for individuals and their larger communities.

Paul Kuhn has served NeighborWorks in Deadwood since 2015. Among his various roles, he is a community outreach coordinator and grant writer. Paul explained the "Paint the Town" program that the NeighborWorks organization initiated 29 years ago. Altogether 151 houses have been painted in the area, including 8 houses in Belle Fourche.

"We find homes to paint in local communities. Sometimes we drive around and look for houses that need painting. Then we follow up with the owners to see if they qualify." He said.

To qualify for the Paint the Town program, applicants need only to prove that the home is owner-occupied, and that they are financially and physically unable to paint the house themselves.

Paul Kuhn, noted that NeighborWorks in Deadwood is only a small non-profit agency with limited staff and funding. The Paint the Town Program is funded through grants and volunteers. He would like to have more resources available to help the many victims of hailstorm damage resulting from the devastating storm in June. Although those resources are not presently available, he encouraged people to reach out to NeighborWorks. "We can work with anyone."

Paul enjoyed relating the story about how the NeighborWorks Paint the Town program and the High School Activities kids came together. "I love this story." He explained. Last year's Belle Fourche Paint the Town project was a house owned by a retired widow. Through a series of small town connections, it turned out that the home-owner was the widow of the football team bus driver. The Belle Fourche football team was immediately on board. They painted the house for their bus driver's widow and since then, the entire high school activities association has become involved. "They are taking the project over." Paul said.

People in need may reach out to NeighborWorks to apply for assistance through several avenues. They may call NeighborWorks at (605) 578-1401 or access their social media page <https://www.facebook.com/NeighborWorksSD> or their website <https://www.neighborworksdkr.org>

NeighborWorks Plans to Build More Homes in BF

Down payment assistance, gap financing program gets boost from city.

Beacon Staff

BELLE FOURCHE- NeighborWorks Dakota Home Resources plans to build up to five additional homes in Belle Fourche by the spring of 2023. Executive Director Mike Walker told the City Council at its July 18 meeting that the organization hopes to break ground on the first two homes in the next 30-60 days. In addition, NeighborWorks was able to secure a letter of support from the city to bolster its application for additional funding from the South Dakota Housing Opportunity Fund to replenish NeighborWork's depleted Gap Financing pilot program.

NeighborWorks has built five homes in the city over the last two years, three of them completed in 2021 along Aurora Drive on the city's north side. These homes are intended for first time homebuyers or lower income residents who qualify. Due to the ongoing housing shortage in the community they plan to ramp up their efforts as land, labor, and supplies allow.

Walker also reported to the council that his organization has completed two home rehabilitation projects in areas of the city designated by the 2020 community housing study as redevelopment districts.

"Both of those were roughly $40,000 home rehab projects that were in the city's redevelopment district and allowed the homeowners to stay in their homes as life safety issues were taken care of."

One of the biggest programs that NeighborWorks is involved with right now, according to Walker, is the down payment assistance and gap financing program. With the increase in housing costs and, more recently, the increase in interest rates, many families who had

Safety Issues Brought to the County Commission's Attention

BELLE FOURCHE-With more than 15 people in jail for various offenses including drug abuse, domestic abuse and sexual contact according to Deputy State's Attorney Edward Tarbay, problems with drugs of all types and incidents brought forth from law enforcement that encompass shooting responses, Butte County Commissioners are faced with safety issues throughout the county.

Sheriff Fred Lamphere said that the safety of the courthouse needs to be addressed soon. He suggested another metal detector in the courthouse, but there are drawbacks to that situation. The metal detector must be staffed and that is the dilemma.

"How safe is the courthouse?" asked Commissioner Karol Herman

"Security is going to a different level," Lamphere said. "Part of the court security is the vulnerability of it (the courthouse)."

Lamphere brought a proposal for increased equipment he be-

On July 18 the Belle Fourche City Council voted 5-to-3 to allocated $850 to allow City Attorneys to seek the SD Attorney General's office opinion on whether council members should have access to city employee timesheets as long as personal information is redacted. Leet E. Fowler, 87, of Belle Fourche, SD, passed away on July 18, 2022 at the Spearfish Regional Medical Center in Spearfish.

Funeral Services for Leet were held on Friday, July 22, 2022 at the St. James Lutheran Church in Belle Fourche. Pastor Kari Webb officiated the funeral services. Visitation for Leet was held at the church prior to services. Burial was held at the Buffalo Cemetery, Buffalo, SD, with Pastor Jean Helmer officiating the burial.

Leet Ellsworth Fowler was born February 10, 1935 in Camp Crook, South Dakota, to Bertha and Charles Fowler. He was the youngest of their five children, though he never got to know his father, who passed away when Leet was 14 months old.

Leet spent the first years of his life living in Buffalo. When he was five his mother married Ted Matson and the family moved to the ranch. His brother, James Matson, was born in 1941. Leet worked hard at a very young age, and was given responsibilities beyond his years.

He attended a one-room schoolhouse with several neighboring children, including his future wife, Maurine Brengle. He completed high school in Brookings, South Dakota, an agriculture-based school, and attended some college there. He also attended Black Hills College. He won the saddle bronc riding at the Buffalo Labor Day Rodeo in 1954. He served four years in the U.S. Navy. He was stationed on the USS Oriskany and then the USS Lexington in several locations around the Pacific.

A pivotal point in his life came when he married Maurine Brengle on June 18, 1961. They celebrated 61 years together and were excellent partners. Early on, he worked for Lloyd and Helga Gilbert. Later he had a trucking business for several years.

In 1972, the Fowlers moved back to the family ranch. In 1976 they formed Grubbing Hoe Ranch, Inc., with Matsons and Fowlers as shareholders. Ranching was Leet's life work and legacy, and he proved himself an astute businessman. He worked extremely hard, he thought constantly about ways to improve the operation, and strategically grew the ranch.

Due to his brother, Chuck's influence, he was an early adopter of computers. Leet admired Chuck greatly. Beginning in the early 1980s, Leet used the computer for ranch bookkeeping. He embraced technology whenever he could, from weather radars, to live camera feeds monitoring calving heifers, to smart phones and online banking.

In 2006 Leet and Maurine began spending part of their time "semi-retired." They split their time between their home in Belle Fourche and on the ranch.

Leet was a lifelong learner. If he wanted to know how to do something, he learned how. He was naturally ingenuitive. He was a cowboy; he was a carpenter; he was a plumber; he was an electrician; he was a heavy equipment operator; he was a trucker; he was a barber; he was woodworker; he was a pilot; he did much of his own veterinary work. He played cards and cribbage. He was a self-taught musician, playing piano, accordion, and guitar. He collected clocks, and built a grandfather clock. He liked to get all the clocks wound and ticking, creating a cacophony of noise that he enjoyed immensely.

He respected people who knew and did things, and as much as he liked talking about cattle, he was happy to learn about others' area of expertise. He loved to laugh and tell stories; he loved to tease. He loved hitting various coffee stops around Belle, and going to the sale barn on Thursdays. He also enjoyed naps in front of the tv "watching" Gunsmoke and rodeos. He could be a little intense; he wasn't shy about saying what he thought. When the rubber met the road, he had a remarkable ability to tap into a reserve of calm and patience. He could sleep through a calf-killing blizzard so he was rested and ready to work the next day. He had a rough exterior but could also express his love and affection.

He loved Maurine. He loved his family and was proud of them. He loved his friends and continued to make new ones his entire life. He was a 59-year member of the Masonic Lodge, serving as Master of the Cedar Branch Lodge Number 179 in 1985, and was a Naja Shriner. He was a member of St. James Lutheran Church. He was a member of Harding County Stockgrowers and served as a director for the South Dakota Stockgrowers Association.

He is preceded in death by his parents; sisters Marion, Eleanor and Kay; brothers Charles and James; and his dear friend Pat Coffield. He's survived by his wife, Maurine; sons Ty (Melissa) and Aaron (Tricia), and daughter Teddi; four grandchildren, one great-grandchild, several nieces, nephews, and friends.

The funeral service will be held 10 am Saturday, July 23, 2022 at St. James Lutheran Church in Belle Fourche, with Pastor Kari Webb officiating. Visitation will be held one hour prior to the service at the church. Interment will take place 9:30 am Monday at Black Hills National Cemetery, with Military Honors provided by the Belle Fourche Veterans Honor Guard. Arrangements are with Leverington Funeral Home of the Northern Hills in Belle Fourche.

Austin's funeral will be available to view live and after the service as well, on Austin's obituary page located on the funeral home's website: www.LeveringtonFH.com

Austin lived a life devoted to service – to his country, his community and his family. He spent most of his life in Newell where his dedication to the community made him a well-known fixture in his hometown. He put in countless volunteer hours and over the years served in leadership positions for the Newell City Council, the Newell School Board and the First Lutheran church. His hard work also came with a healthy dose of humor that kept everyone around him entertained.

Austin will also be fondly remembered by a generation of youngsters who received Tootsie Rolls from him when they visited the Newell Post Office where he worked for nearly four decades.

Born in Rodman, Iowa in 1931 to Guy and Mabel Post (Sloan), he moved to Newell, South Dakota with his family at a young age. After graduating from Newell High School in 1949, Austin joined the U.S. Navy. He served two tours of duty aboard the destroyer USS Rupertus as a fire control technician during the Korean War. In 1953, Austin returned to Newell and took a job as a postal clerk at the Newell Post office. He was named Postmaster in 1977 and served in that position until his retirement in 1992 at age 61. His 39 years of service was marked by a large community celebration. Oct. 3, 1992 was declared "Austin Post Day" in South Dakota in his honor. Retirement didn't last long for Austin. To keep busy, he worked at Newell's grocery store, at the Newell golf course and finally as a bus driver for the Newell School District for nearly 20 years. Austin married Donna in 1965. The couple spent many years in their beloved Newell, raising a family, enjoying time with friends, serving side-by-side in the community and enjoying many rounds of golf and walks around Newell. The couple moved to Belle Fourche in 2018 and celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary shortly before Austin's passing.

Austin is survived by his wife, Donna of Belle Fourche; daughters, Tina (JayCyn) Ager of Belle Fourche, and their children: Kennedy (and boyfriend Jack), and Brody; daughters, Lori Magelky of Sturgis, Reesa Stahl of Lead; son, Tim (Jen) Post of St. Paul MN and their children: Maddie and Janey; sister, Bobbie (Bill) Clark of Richardson TX; sister-in-law, Geraldine Post of Sioux Falls; 14 grandchildren; 17 great grandchildren; and many nieces and nephews.

He was preceded in death by his parents; an infant brother, and brother Gerald Post.

Art Arp 97

In 1975 he suffered a heart attack and was forced into early retirement due to his health. His doctor gave him only five years to live. But God wasn't done with him yet. For ten years, Art and Esther volunteered at South Park school in Belle Fourche. Many kids called him, "Grandpa Art", and he loved it. Art primarily watched over the 4th graders, while Esther took care of the 3rd graders. Those were precious years to them.

They loved those kids. Art had another talent, and it was working with wood. He enjoyed carving canes out of Diamond Willow wood, and they were amazing. Since 2011, Art and Esther have lived in Spearfish.

Art Arp was the definition of a gentleman. He was kind, caring, and when he spoke you would listen. He was a godly man as well, and his faith was vital to him. Art will be missed by many and forever loved by everyone who knew him.

Art is survived by his wife Esther of Spearfish; daughter-in-law, Kathy Bohn Arp of Spearfish; and several nieces and nephews. He was preceded in death by his parents; sons, Lonnie Ray and Allen; brothers, Elmer, Ed, Roy; and sister, Hazel Hatfield.

70 Years of Happily Ever After

Merle and Viola (Lafee) Royer are celebrating their 70th wedding Anniversary on Aug 3rd. A social gathering is planned on July 30th in Murdo, SD from 3:30 to 5:00 pm. at the Senior Citizens Center south end. Also the family requests a card shower in their honor be sent to 609 Custer St. Belle Fourche, SD 57717 for those who may not be able to attend.

Their Story

Merle was born Oct. 30, 1930 in Philip SD and Viola was born in her family home in Milesville SD July 21, 1933. As children they attended the same annual Young Citizens League meetings. They wed on Aug. 3rd 1952. To this union 6 children were born from 1953 to 1959. To date they have 35 direct descendants.

The early years of their married life were spent on Merles family farm near Hartley SD, then on 2 other farms near Murdo SD. They moved into Murdo when their first born was of school age. Merle worked for the State Hwy Dept. for 10 years then drove truck for 22 years. Viola worked as a cook for 27 years at 3 local restaurants. While raising their family and for some years after they grew gardens and canned goods together. They took their children for Sunday drives, sometimes visiting family, sometimes teaching their 4 boys to hunt. In 1986 they moved to Belle Fourche, SD and bought the Ace Motel which they ran for 19 years before retiring. For 8 of those years they fostered children, earning them the title of Foster Parents of the Year from the State of SD.

Today, their social life consists of family gatherings, an occasional drive to Deadwood (yes they still drive), and they joke..."Regularly scheduled doctors appointments."

They attribute their 70 yrs of marriage to good living, and always listening to one another, and doing what the other says.

Thank you to everyone who attended and sent cards to Dave Penn's 90th Birthday Party & all those who helped make it a fun afternoon.

Especially Deb, Chris, & Penny who decorate and served at the tables; Cindy for her help; and Sandra Nelson who was there from the beginning in the planning and worked to make it such a special day.

Pastor's Perspective

This week's Pastor's Perspective is provided by Jean Helmer, Joy Fisher Ministries.

"Concert Communion"

Theologian Henri Nouwen in "Following Jesus," states "if we know that first love [the love of God], if we dwell in the House of God, then the presence of God in us can recognize the presence of God in [others]." He continues by saying that we are to do concrete acts of forgiveness and service. "Contrary to popular opinion, we are not called to imitate Jesus. We are called to form a community of people who, through different ways, reflect the great love of Jesus." Nouwen reminds us that, "to follow Jesus means that we do the walking. We are the ones doing the talking, living life, getting involved. We are the ones struggling, the ones who need to work hard." He continues with "Following Jesus means to live our life in companionship with the One who understands us fully."

"Companion," comes from the Old French campaign and literally means "one who breaks bread with another." It is based on the Latin com, meaning "together with", and "panis," meaning bread. Following Jesus means living life in communion with others and with Jesus as our guide.

At the Belle Fourche Arts Council's Concert in the Park recently, I observed a concrete act of service and forgiveness. It was truly a moment of living Nouwen's description of "life in communion with others," and it was a form of table communion as Jesus practiced it when he "ate with sinners."

Five unattended youngsters had wandered into Hermann Park. One wore inline skates. Another had a scooter board. They paused on the benches along the west side of the band shell, with the boys on one bench and the girls on the other. The children gave scant consideration to the music. They were clearly outsiders. It was then that I saw a lady put Nouwen's "living life in communion with others" into practice.

I had noticed a lady, a Belle Fourche educator, glance at the children a few times during the concert. She rose, approached the two girls, spoke to them, and then held out her hand. The girls' eyes grew large as they stood. The older girl, perhaps 8, took the younger girl's hand and listened closely as the lady continued speaking softly to them. Then, with a huge grin, the girl gestured to the boys to join them. They were led to a table where the UCC had dishes of ice cream for a donation. The youngest child, a boy of perhaps 4 and clearly a "tag-a-long" to the others, held back. Again, the lady spoke softly to the oldest child whose jaw dropped then whose face lit in a radiant smile. The girl turned and began racing toward the littlest boy while gesturing for him to join them at the ice cream table. The boy said, "Me?" She nodded, and he sprinted gleefully to join the others. Ice cream bowl in hand, the five children returned to the benches to enjoy their treat. The real story, however, is in the transition that took place.

The children settled onto the benches. As they ate their treats, they were also studying the adults in front of them. As the concert continued, the children's actions began mirroring the adults' behavior. They were quiet during the musical numbers. They watched adults applaud and applauded tentatively as they tried on the behaviors they were observing. It was a communion service in its purest form. The children had been welcomed to the table, welcomed to the community of concert goers. They were a part of the community, not apart from the community.

At the next concert, I approached the teacher to thank her for what she had done. My assumption had been that the oldest child had been one of her students. Not so. She explained that it all had been her sister's idea. The children were getting noisy. The noise was disturbing to those seated nearby. Her sister said, "I'll donate for the ice cream if you'll take the kids to get it." The deal was made.

It was simple act, however, it was also a rare act. Generally, in such a situation we respond by growling "You kids quiet down," or "Whose watching you kids? You need to go home." Those phrases definitely do not put into practice Jesus' model of always seeing the Holy present in those whom society would dismiss as unwelcome, unworthy, and unacceptable. The ladies' actions were concrete acts of forgiveness (for the noise) while being acts of service and acceptance. Their actions reflected the love of Jesus. Our community is blessed.

"We love because he first loved us."

More Hot Summer Temperatures Rolling Through the Black Hills – Here's What You Can Do to Conserve Energy, Manage Monthly Electricity Costs

Rapid City, SD, July 20, 2022 – Hot temperatures across the Black Hills and surrounding areas this week mean that homes and businesses are using lots of electricity to stay comfortable. While we don't anticipate issues in delivering the safe, reliable energy our customers need, there are simple steps customers can take to manage energy use and positively impact monthly utility bills.

Black Hills Energy's short, and long-term planning processes have prepared us to deliver reliable electric service, even as temperatures heat up and demand for electricity increases. Black Hills Energy's electricity resources are well-maintained with contingency plans in place to minimize any forced outages.

"We're in a good position to deliver the safe, reliable energy that our customers need, even as we enter into the hottest days of the year," said Mike Pogany, Black Hills Energy's director of South Dakota Electric operations. "We encourage our customers to stay safe but look for opportunities to reduce energy waste at work and in their homes."

Ways to Conserve Energy During a Heat Wave

Black Hills Energy is ready to help customers reduce electricity use while demand is high and manage energy use through simple, small changes via some easy reminders:

Run your big appliances strategically. Minimize indoor heat by running appliances, like your dishwasher or oven, at night. Avoid using any heat-generating appliances between 2 - 8 p.m.; the additional production of heat during the hottest part of the day requires your air conditioning to work even harder to keep your home cool.

Unplug small appliances when not in use. Just finished making a smoothie to cool down after being outside? Unplug the blender and any other small appliances, like your toaster or coffeemaker, when not in use. This prevents phantom energy usage, which increases your electricity usage and bills, without you even using the energy.

Stay ventilated. Keeping cold air in and hot air out is key to keeping your home comfortable while being energy efficient. If your home has an attic fan, try using it before bedtime to pull in the cooler evening air. During the day, keep the windows, blinds, and drapes closed, to prevent heat from entering your home.

Make your ceiling fans do the work. Set ceiling fans to spin counterclockwise in the summer, pulling hot air up and letting the cooler air sink. The fans create air flow, which, in combination with your air conditioning, help keep rooms cool. Just remember to turn off ceiling fans off when no one is in the room, to avoid energy waste.

Program your thermostat: Switch to a programmable thermostat to help manage energy use based on your schedule. If health considerations are not a factor, consider turning the temperature up five degrees. For every degree of adjustment, energy usage can decrease by six to eight percent.

Reichs Butte/Lawrence Fair Honorees

BELLE FOURCHE – More than 65 years have passed since Ree Reich was introduced to the Butte County fair by her nurse mother, Ruth Richards, and Dr. J. H. Davis, as their assistant in judging the baby show. Amy Larson was their role model.

Tim & Ree Reich

Years later, when Tim and Ree returned to the Belle Fourche Community, fair involvement began with their children’s 4-H Club booths and showing livestock and various static exhibits. Then, after kids and before grandkids, they participated in open class cattle exhibits and many home economics—like foods, sewing and flowers. “Entry Day,” was always busy with judging and judges’ assistant jobs in breads, food preservation, sewing and music projects. They introduced several international guests to the fair.

Ree could be found helping with picnic table construction, 4-H Food Booth, flower show and entering her own booth and numerous food and sewing entries. On Thursday of fair week, she organized the Cowboy Band’s performance and sometimes judged the Talent Show.

In recent years, Tim and Ree have helped with the Redwater Youth Leadership group to put on the fund-raising Pitchfork Fondue, with Tim manning the pitchfork making those delicious steaks. The fun is never done.

Four generations of Fair involvement produced a passel of fond memories

Former Broncs Soccer Player on SF Thunder Team

JIM TRIMBLE
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

Josiah Trimble is a former Belle Fourche Broncs soccer standout who competed this summer with the Sioux Falls Thunder which is a member of the NPSL.

The National Premier Soccer League (NPSL) is one of the largest established men’s soccer leagues in the United States with over 90 teams competing across the country.

The NPSL is a successor to the Men’s Premier Soccer League (MPSL), which was formed in 2002. The NPSL has 14 conferences in 4 regions of which the Thunder are part of the North Conference which has 8 teams and are in the Midwest Region.

Sioux Falls finished the season in 5th place with a 3-5-6 record and 14 points in the table, which is the best finish in history for the squad.

Members of the team are generally made up of college soccer players honing their skills for their college season in the fall.

Trimble played a utility role on the pitch playing both midback and forward while starting several games during the season.

He recorded one assist on the year. He follows in the footsteps of his older brother Lucas who competed for the Thunder in the 2019 campaign.

Josiah suited up his freshman season at Iowa Lakes Community College last year but will be transferring to Central Wyoming College this coming year and be putting on the cleats in the Rustlers soccer program.

Show Up

by Belle LaVenue
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

Why hello there fellow residents of our talented town of Belle Fourche! Welcome to the Beacon's Fine Arts column, featuring the events and entertainers of our community.

I can say, after traveling the fine arts world, I have not discovered more artistic ability inhabiting the streets of Paris than here in our beloved Beautiful Fork!

You may ask "how can I locate this talent so nearby?" Well don't worry one bit, darlings – I have done all the eavesdropping, treasure hunting, and, at times, gossiping to give you full access to the finer things. So get out your calendars, take out those fancy heels and newly-pressed shirts, and Show Up with me, Belle LaVenue, at the next social soiree of the season.

What shows are up this week? Local, Musical, and Free - an ideal combination!
Concert in Herrmann Park: Northern Hills Community Band - Wednesday July 27th at 7 PM. The local Arts Council proudly presents free concerts on Wednesdays through July. If the weather interferes - the concert moves indoors at the Belle Fourche Rec Center. I have found these concerts to be a true slice of summer deliciousness: An evening in shady Herrmann Park at the beautifully renovated bandshell - the distant sounds of children at the playground, leaves moving on the breeze, and memorable music shared with friends - such a treat!

The LAST '22 Hometown Thursday - Thursday, July 28th 6:30pm-9:30pm. The Band: Weston Frank Live Come on down to the Center of the Nation and dance to the music of Weston Frank Live, enjoy some favorite foods and games for the kids, and mingle with friends! A little birdy working the beer tent informed me that this week's featured performer, Weston Frank, serves as mayor of small town Mount Vernon, SD - how charming! My source describes his sound as a combo of Jon Pardi and Luke Combs. Will all of you country music aficionados agree?

And here is a special Sunday invitation for you!
John Dale & Friends - a pop-up Jam Session - Sunday, July 31st, 10 AM, Herrmann Park Bandshell . Enjoy all the busy-ness of Crazy Days Friday and Saturday, then get ready to tap your toes on Sunday morning with an absolute treasure - singer-songwriter, Mr. Jon Dale. Jon plans to share our (awesome!) bandshell with singin' and pickin' friends - and you! Come out to Herrmann Park to jam out on stage or to clap along with a country vibe (Americana, folk, country, blues) at this informal, spontaneous event!

Shows coming up.... soon! Get your tickets!
The Opry: Signature Classic Country Style Show - Sunday, August 7th, 3pm-6pm - Belle Fourche Community Hall . Why go to Nashville? According to my sources, we've got the best of the talented musicians and singer-songwriters in the Hills coming here to our town! I am thrilled to introduce you to these talented performers. The Lonesome Duvs - four longtime friends - combine their individual talents and a myriad of musical instruments: Pegie Douglas on stand-up bass; Sherry Ann Taylor and Kimberly Kaye on guitar and banjo; and Katie Lautenschlager on fiddle and mandolin. They share the stage with Brent Morris's powerful baritone voice, and 13-year-old guitar genius, Bodhi Linde (I'll have more to share about this surprising young virtuoso soon!). Emcee "Wild" Bill Palanuk of Dakota Cowboy fame brings the very Voice of the Opry to the show. My sources say tickets are selling fast! I have mine and you can get yours online at <https://bellefourchechamber.org/the-opry/> or call 605-892-2676.

You Can't Take it With You: A theater classic!- August 19th & 20th at 7pm & August 21st at 3pm in the Belle Fourche Rec Center Theater. BFACT - our own Belle Fourche Area Community Theater - brings us a well-known favorite that will have you chuckling from lights up to lights out. Producer Derek Olson says the show is a chaotic collision - "You Can't Take It With You relates the humorous encounter between a conservative family and the crazy household of Grandpa Martin Vanderhof." Director Nathan Schreier says the witty story "encourages the audience to live authentically regardless of societal expectations." And what do I, Belle LaVenue, have to say about the show? I'll tell you more once I sneak into some practices!

Maybe YOU know what SHOW is UP next? Please contact me with your fine arts tidbits and upcoming events at bellelavenue@gmail.com. I especially love the juicy backstage dish and green room gossip! Stay cool out there friends, and don't forget to Show Up!

From A1 Housing Help

qualified for down payment assistance are now priced out of the market.

"Last October were right at about 3% on mortgage rates and now we're closer to 6%," Walker said. "Your average home in the Belle Fourche market with a $200,000 purchase price has now seen that homebuyer's monthly mortgage payment go up by an additional $350 per month."

Walkers says with that $350 increase that one quarter of all homebuyers in their coverage area who had prequalified to purchase a home last fall, no longer qualify. NeighborWorks was able to implement a pilot program, known as Gap Financing to help homeowners who had been priced out to have the ability to access additional capital, up to $30,000 per homeowner. This allowed them to once again qualify for a purchase.

The program does have an income limit but Walker says they were able to extend that limit to 115% of the median income for Belle Fourche. A family of four with a household income of $90,000 in Belle Fourche would probably not qualify for a traditional mortgage but with the Gap Financing it puts homeownership back within reach according to Walker.

"For example, you have a homebuyer who was looking at a $200,000 home, and they only qualified for $170 - $175,000, which was very common last year," Walker said. "This program allowed them to get a 30-year deferred, no interest, no payment loan as a second (mortgage) to cover the gap between what they qualified for and the actual purchase price."

As a Community Development Financial Institution (CDFI), Neighborworks was able to secure a $1.3 million grant from the US Treasury to fund this pilot program. Walkers said their original projections were that the money would last 24 months. That will not be the case.

"If all the loans that have been approved come through and closings occur we will be out of that money by the end of August," Walker said. "That's an eight-month period instead of 24 months."

NeighborWorks is going back to the South Dakota Housing Opportunity Fund and asking for additional CDFI money, up to $2 million, to continue to program. Walker is collecting letters of support for the effort from the mayors of the communities that NeighborWorks serves, including Belle Fourche.

From A1 County

lieves is needed by the Sheriff's Department. There is a need for upgrade to much of the physical equipment used by the department. The total cost could come to $60,000 to $65,000.

Auditor Annie Reich reported that cyber security continues to be an issue. It seems that most cyber threats are generated from China. A recent report handed out by Reich states that People's Republic of China influences operations by manipulating support hidden in PRC agendas. It continues by stating "...with seemingly benign business opportunities or people-to-people exchanges sometimes making PRC political agendas. They can also threaten the integrity of the U.S. policy-making process."

Reich said that it is important to be aware of cyber security issues and to pass on anything that may be suspicious.

The Provisional Budget was

"It is with a great deal of personal pleasure that I once again endorse the work of NeighborWorks Dakota Home Resources. To say that their efforts are important to our communities would be a gross understatement. The services provided are of a great value to all of us here in Belle Fourche," the Mayor's letter read in part. "The city of Belle Fourche supports NeighborWorks application to the SDHDA Housing Opportunity Fund...these funds will be of tremendous help to the residents of Belle Fourche."

The council unanimously approved the submission of the city's letter of support as part of the grant application. Councilman Larry Schmaltz, who also sits on the Belle Fourche Development Corporation's Housing Committee with Walker, complemented the job that NeighborWorks is doing in the community.

Walker also highlighted other programs NeighborWorks is involved with including Homebuyer Education Classes, Paint the Town, financial counseling services and foreclosure prevention services.

Walker says NeighborWorks is also closely involved with the new Modesto Ranch Estates project on the city's south side. Up to 80 lots will be made available for low-priced new homes and Walker says NeighborWorks plans to commit to purchasing five to ten lots per year to build new homes. He says those will be from a smaller 700-square foot, one bedroom, one bath, up to 1,400 square foot homes.

"Up to this point I always thought the 700-square foot home was a crazy idea," Walker said. "But we tried it in Rapid City and found a lot of local teachers, a nurse, a local insurance agent, and young professionals who found they could buy that one-bedroom, one-bath for about what they were paying for rent. So now we kind of changed our mind on that idea."

The SDHDA currently has a $50-million Infrastructure Financing Program that they are putting together to help new housing developments put in streets, sewers, sidewalks and other needed infrastructure. Walker says they are in the midst of a public comment period and expect to have an allocation plan ready by early August. It's not clear if these funds would be available for land purchase but Walker says the Modesto Ranch Estates has expressed interest in the possibility of using this program in lieu of setting up Tax Increment Financing (TIF) to pay for infrastructure.

gone over by the commissioners. The budget must be submitted to the State by July 31. Mandated expenses are listed according to last year's budget, along with potential income. The commissioners approved the budget with an increase in the property tax income. The budget will be further discussed in the future before being finalized by the end of September. A new Veterans' Service Officer has been hired. Jason Saivong will take over the position on August 1.

After hearing from Dannica Percech on her concerns at Gaver Bridge, the commissioners decided to look into her queries and place the item on next month's agenda. Percech named several incidents that allegedly were happening at the bridge including drug use, an escalation of break-ins at the nearby trailer court and suspicious activity. Gaver Bridge has been closed for some time due to safety issues.

Anything Left in the Barrel?

This week is Crazy Days in Belle Fourche. Your chance to find bargains and great shopping opportunities throughout the community.

Shopping can be fun, and often it is something that you can do with a friend or group of friends.

I asked a woman friend of mine if she ever shopped with her husband.

She gave me a cold, hard stare, and said, "Shopping with your husband is like going hunting with the game warden."

Interesting exchange:
 Wife: "Had your lunch?"
 Husband: "Had your lunch?"
 Wife: "I'm asking you."
 Husband: "I'm asking you."
 Wife: "Are you copying me?"
 Husband: "Are you copying me?"
 Wife: "Let's go shopping."
 Husband: "I've had my lunch."

Men go shopping to buy what they want.
 Women go shopping to find out what they want.

They say women live longer because shopping never causes heart attacks, but paying the bill does.

No woman has ever been quoted as saying, "I have enough clothes and shoes, why would I ever need to go shopping?"

I once asked "why the shoes?" and was told, "Well, Cinderella proved that a new pair of shoes can change your life."

Although, I realize as a man I'm not supposed to know, but I wonder if women, in general have thought them selves as somewhat the failure?

 They shop for years and years and still don't have a "thing to wear."

A friend of mine was going to go shopping with his wife and decided to take a "happy pill." However he dropped the bottle of happy pills and his "ticked off pills at the same time."

I asked what happened? He said, "They go all mixed together. I took one of each, so now I'm ticked off, but I'm happy about it."

 All joking aside, plan your week to include shopping everyday in Belle Fourche.

It can be a opportunity for a fun outing and a chance to see the wide variety of shopping opportunities available.

And, if you think there is nothing you can find worth buying, I know of at least 14 places where you wean buy ice cream!

RETIREMENT PARTY FOR DIRK HOFFMAN
FRIDAY, JULY 29 AT 6 P.M.

Lummus Claims Calgary Stampede Win

After 10 days of Calgary Stampede competition, Will Lummus is clambering out of Canada with a lot of cash. And the timing couldn't be much better.

"Shoot, it's already spent. My wife and I are building a house, so it's already gone," Lummus said with a laugh after clearing a whopping $60,000 or so in steer wrestling earnings at the Stampede.

Most of those winnings came in the four-man championship round, in which Lummus turfed his steer in a speedy 3.6 seconds for a first-place check of $50,000.

Granted, only half of that $50K counts toward the PRCA | RAM World Standings, along with 70 percent of Lummus' $10,500 earned in the Calgary Stampede pool rounds ($7,350). Still, that's $32,350 in winnings that go toward qualifying for the 2022 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo.

Lummus got the job done thanks in large part to Clayton Hass' horse. In fact, Dakota Eldridge and Ty Erickson used the same horse, and fattened their wallets, too.

"We had the horse up here we needed. It was a good week for all of us," Lummus said. "You get to ride a horse like that, it makes it really easy. We just gotta do our job."

Erickson also made it to the final four, and in fact set the table for Lummus' effort.

"Ty went 4 flat right before me," Lummus said. "We feed off each other, and I fed off that energy. It was awesome."

With such a solid steed under him, Lummus said he wasn't surprised at the strong result at the NFR Playoff Series presented by Pendleton Whisky stop.

"You prepare for opportunities like that," he said. "With a good horse and good steers, you

The Good Stuff

by Jim Thompson

Radio host Jim Thompson takes motivational stories that listeners and readers send him and incorporates them into the a daily program he calls "The Good Stuff." It has been on the air for more than 10 years. The Beacon is honored to host the written version of some of Jim's classic episodes and we proudly present them here.

You've probably heard as I did, from a parent, pastor or mentor: "Don't get ahead of yourself" or "forget about yesterday just keep moving forward". I believe that today as much as when I first heard it. Someday's it IS easier to practice that others. Here's one that may help with making it practical everyday:

Two Days We Should Not Worry

Author Unknown to the Public

There are two days in every week about which we should not worry, two days which should be kept free from fear and apprehension.

One of these days is Yesterday with all its mistakes and cares, its faults and blunders, its aches and pains.

Yesterday has passed forever beyond our control. All the money in the world cannot bring back Yesterday.

We cannot undo a single act we performed; we cannot erase a single word we said. Yesterday is gone forever.

The other day we should not worry about is Tomorrow with all its possible adversities, its burdens, its large promise and its poor performance; Tomorrow is also beyond our immediate control.

Tomorrow's sun will rise, either in splendor or behind a mask of clouds, but it will rise. Until it does, we have no stake in Tomorrow, for it is yet to be born.

This leaves only one day, Today. Any person can fight the battle of just one

Scott Snedecor Holds on to No. 1 Spot With Sheridan Title

With more than $1.5 million won in his career, it doesn't seem like steer roper Scott Snedecor has endured too many slumps in his career. But Snedecor is riding a hot streak during the 2022 summer run that is welcome to the four-time PRCA World Champion.

"It's been a while since I've been on a winning streak, where things are fun and easy instead of feeling like you're working hard," Snedecor said after winning the Sheridan WYO Rodeo on July 16, for 52.4 seconds of work on four steers.

Snedecor earned $6,296 after placing in all four rounds and taking the average win by half a second over Garrett Hale. He posted runs of 12.2, 14.2, 11.8 and 14.2 seconds.

"It was really good this year," Snedecor said. "My first one was good, and I got seventh in that round. I bobbled my hooey a bit on the second one, that probably cost me placing higher on that one."

Snedecor is now ranked first in the PRCA | RAM World Standings, chasing his fifth world title after two straight years of finishing as the reserve world champ.

At 47 years old, Snedecor admits to having moments where thoughts of retirement creep in.

"My wife just tells me, you still like it and you're having fun so keep doing it," Snedecor says with a chuckle. With his youngest daughter Kallyn headed off to Tarleton State University to compete for the rodeo team, Snedecor says he and wife Kelli are empty nesters and enjoying the chance to head out on the road together.

"She and I can take off and go if we want to," he said. Sheridan is a favorite stop for Snedecor, who thinks he may have split the title there years ago. "I honestly can't remember for sure, but I've had success there in the past.

"I love that rodeo," Snedecor said. "I like rodeos like that where we go and hang out all week, enjoy the rodeo atmosphere."

"We really appreciate commitments like Sheridan that really welcome us all week."

Other winners at the $323,437 rodeo were all-around cowboy Taylor Santos ($9,950, tie-down roping and steer roping); bareback rider Cole Reiner (89.5 points on Sankey Pro Rodeo & Phenom Genetics' Bronc Riding Nation); steer wrestlers Blake

Knowles, Will Lummus, Rowdy Parrott and Dalton Massey (8.4 seconds on two head); team ropers Clay Tryan and Jade Corkill (12.4 seconds on two head); saddle bronc rider Tanner Butner (92.5 points on Sankey Pro Rodeo & Phenom Genetics' Black Tie); tie-down roper Taylor Santos (16.6 seconds on two head); barrel racer Stevi Hillman (17.09 seconds); break-away roper Erin Johnson (7.6 seconds on two head); and bull rider JR Stratford (86 points on Sankey Pro Rodeo & Phenom Genetics' Cash Is King).

KAREN ODELL

This has been a hot week, for the most part. Things are drying out, and the hay is curing.

Erma Albert went to the Senior Center for a few games of cards, on Tuesday. She felt better after her chiropractor appointment, on Wednesday. Dick and Erma made a trip to Belle Fourche and Spearfish, on Thursday. They noticed a beautiful old Buick ‘woody’ car in Spearfish that looked like it was brand new. On Friday, they went to the Senior Citizen dinner. There were fewer people there, and hardly had enough to stay and play cards. They played only a couple of games that day. On Sunday, they went to the Catholic Church, and then had lunch at Saloon Number Three, with the Helms family and Father Brian.

McKenzie and Mattie Buck and their friend, Casey, came out to Doug and Julia Davis’s on Sunday, to help finish branding. Jake, Callie and the boys came out, too, and with the table, they soon had the job done. Keaton and Kellan had been to Motocross races in Gillette, on Saturday, but the races for Sunday had been called off, so they all came to the ranch. The boys are going to spend the week out at the ranch, to help Grandpa, and they will go to Vacation Bible School at Little Missouri Church in the evenings, so they will have a busy week; and so will their grandparents.

Donna Lewis will soon be getting company. The Lewis reunion will be next weekend at the ranch. Donna’s sister, two daughters, and daughter-in-law, will arrive on Tuesday. Wanda will come on Tuesday, too, to help get things ready. From there on, the numbers will build, and campers will arrive. Pam came out again to help with the mowing, but the grass is now turning, and there will be less need to mow so often. Donna saved some of her rhubarb from the grasshoppers, and got enough to make five cakes. Last week, Donna and Pam made a trip to Ten Sleep, Wyoming to attend granddaughter, Sierra Brown’s wedding to Brandon Nyberg. Sierra is Wanda’s daughter. The wedding was at a beautiful little chapel in the mountains, and the reception was at the Ten Sleep park, where they were served the most delicious prime rib. It was cool in the mountains, making it a perfectly lovely day. Ten Sleep is a little place near Worland, and was named because it was ten sleeps (ten days) from the village on the Platte River near Fort Laramie, and ten more sleeps to the village at Bridger, Montana.

Junior and Shirley Melum had a good quiet week. Tommy Melum spent his week at camp at Four Corners, Wyoming. He had been to that camp last year and had a good time. This Sunday, the girls in Rachel’s family got together at Baker, to get flowers together for Esther’s wedding. Esther will be married next weekend. Ernie and Rachel got lots of haystacks piled in the field while Tommy was away at camp. They are perfect stacks and from a distance look like fresh loaves of bread, just waiting to be eaten.

Kevin Olmsted came to Dorothy Padden’s to help with summer work for a few days, and to visit. He visited at Bryce and Dawn Padden’s on Sunday evening and the three went in to Camp Crook to the Corner Bar for supper. Bryce and Dawn have been busy either in the hay field or in the shop fixing equipment. Kevin will take Dorothy to Rapid City next weekend to watch Blake play baseball.

Charlie Odell went to Ft. Meade for an appointment, on Monday. He spent much time in the hay field, this week. Karen spent time staining and varnishing an outdoor bench, freeze drying food, fixing windows and putting sun film on east windows and the storm door, watering cows, trimming and mowing. Once in a while she gets to practice piano and violin. On Thursday, Karen took Charlie to do some brand inspecting for Ian and Jenna Flatgard, and Karen got to visit with her good friend Marla Flatgard. They all enjoyed getting together and visiting. Marla is growing so quickly and filling out into a beautiful little girl, and Jenna has so many interesting projects. It’s good that they are a young couple to be able to keep such a busy work schedule; including time for their daughter. Karen drove to Rapid City, on Friday afternoon. Charlie went along because they finally got a chance to watch their grandson, Kellan Odell, play baseball this year. The Mitchell team was playing a couple of games against Rapid City’s Post 22 Expos, so they went to the Post 22 Fitzgerald Stadium for the game, and stayed overnight for another game on Saturday afternoon. On Saturday morning, Cody, Kylie, Kenna and Carson took Karen and Charlie to Bear Country. It was very interesting to drive through the wildlife, and see so many of the big bears, elk, wolves and other wildlife close up. Then they took the walking tour to view smaller animals. Karen still loves the otters best, because they seem so happy swimming and diving in the water. The whole group went uptown to have lunch at the Firehouse, and the place was packed inside and out. They got back to the baseball stadium in time to get great seats in the shade, and it was a really perfect afternoon, because Kellan had a great game. He had perfect catches in left field and got on base every time at bat. The games were well matched and exciting. Mitchell lost the game, but both teams were in it all the way, to keep Grandma and Grandpa well entertained. Cody coaches Carson’s baseball team, and their season was already over, but Carson spent some time chasing foul balls with the other boys, for a reward at the ticket window. Kenna was used to going along to her brothers’ games, and Karen remembered doing that same thing when her three older brothers were playing basketball and baseball, but back in those days, families didn’t make it to the college games, as people do now.

The hay is stacking up or being baled and it has been a good haying season.

What’s the difference between a high hit baseball and a maggot’s dad? One is a pop fly and the other is a fly’s pop.

Central Meade County News

By Sandy Rhoden

Things have been turning brown fairly quickly with the hot temperatures we had last week. Rain has been spotty for some and downright scarce in Central Meade County as of Sunday evening. The grass-hoppers are becoming a real problem and they are worse this week than they were last week. Folks are spraying them the best they can but there are still plenty around to destroy plants and anything green. They have taken out some lilac bushes at the Rhoden residence and are working on more. We are praying for rain and for the plague of hoppers to go away soon.

Reggie and Jenny Rhoden attended church and spent the afternoon with Larry and Sandy Rhoden. They spent a couple of hours watering their new shelterbelt of trees. They were in need of moisture and hopefully the hoppers don't take them.

Roger Keffeler has had some health issues that have prevented him from doing the farming and other usual tasks on his ranch. So, true to fashion, a group of neighbors and friends joined forces to put his hay up at the Winsel place north of Enning. Doug and Annie Simons were the main organizers of process. They communicated through Facebook with scheduling cutting, raking and baling and who was bringing what equipment. A big thank you goes out to those who showed up to cut, rake or bale and for showing up to serve. Nellie's

Mercantile & Saloon donated ice and pop for the crew for two days. This is another example of how remarkable things happen when we support each other through the tough times in life. Meade County people have proven how strong they are as a community many times over and this is the most recent.

A good report in Rural Meade County is that we have two new EMTs. Tiffany Skavang and Melissa Wilcox have joined the team. This is crucial to our Rural Meade Ambulance service and we thank Tiffany and Melissa for their service. We also want to thank the original crew who has stayed with this service through the years.

The Elm Springs and Wall communities are saddened by the loss of Carolyn Anders who died on Friday, July 22, at Monument Health in Rapid City at the age of 87.

Graveside Services for Carolyn Anders will be held Wednesday, July 27 at the Elm Springs Cemetery at 11:00 am. Fellowship and luncheon will follow at the Elm Springs Hall.

For those who are able they may bring sandwiches, cookies/bars, chips, or finger food that doesn't require plastic ware. Our condolences go out to Carolyn's family.

Beau and Susanne Bendigo and boys arrived in Arizona on Monday where they will be missionaries to the reservation. They have spent the last two years in the church parsonage of the Community Baptist Church in Union Center taking classes and preparing for this new journey. They will begin a six week training on August 1 and will spend the next week settling in. We wish them the best. Beau was able to post a video on the FB page for the church which we hope to get updates from on occasion.

A Lady Who's Life is Grand

Eyes the blue of a robin's egg
That sparkled and danced with pride
A blond bronc rein pony tail
Break a heart when she cried

Enough weathering on her face to show
She has lived a life worth while
A lady living as she should
With zest and dash and some style

Had a Bible setting on the table
It was worn and ratted and rough
Like the callus's on her working hands
Both had witnessed and learned tough

Yes, she'd been there and done it before
You could see by looking at her
Lived the tough times, but loved it
Attitude is firm resolve, yet demure

An enigma in well worn clothing
At home in the kitchen or outside
Make a meal or work cattle all day
She darn sure knew how to ride

Some might say, a cowgirl
She shines, as a good hand
Raising daughters who will follow her foot print
A lady, who's life is grand

Sen. Mike Rounds' Week in Washington

We had another busy week in Washington! I met with South Dakotans from across the state, attended hearings and briefings on topics ranging from the war in Ukraine to combating homelessness and visited with a number of military leaders. There's always a lot to be done in Washington, and no two weeks are ever the same. Here's the Weekly Round[s] Up, a glimpse into my week:

South Dakota groups I visited with: South Dakota's FFA State Officers, Dakota Provisions, Hybrid Turkeys, Hendrix Genetics, South Dakota Poultry Industry Association, as well as students and parents from the Waubay and Webster schools. Additionally, I helped facilitate a briefing between Air Force officials and leaders in western South Dakota about the upcoming of the arrival of the B-21 raider bomber. It's important that we are prepared for the growth that will be experienced in the Ellsworth Air Force Base area. We included language in this year's NDAA to make certain school districts like Douglas, in Box Elder, are able to get the resources they need so that our kids can get a quality education.

Other meetings this week:
Israeli Ambassador to the United States Michael Herzog,

the CEO of Bel Brands (I was disappointed that he didn't bring any Babybel Cheese with him!), Senate Prayer Breakfast (Senator Alex Padilla from California was our speaker) and Senate Bible Study (our verse of the week was Psalm 111:10). Additionally, I had three meetings with nominees whose confirmations are being processed in the Armed Services Committee.

Met with South Dakotans from: Huron, Beresford, Waubay, Webster, Salem, Oral, Hoven, Aberdeen, Sturgis, Rapid City, Spearfish, Box Elder, Pierre and Dell Rapids.

Topics discussed: The B-21 Raider bomber and its impact on western South Dakota, the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO), the hot weather back home in South Dakota and of course, 9.1% inflation.

Votes taken: 11 – Most of these votes were on nominations for positions in the executive branch or on a judicial court. I try to walk back and forth between my office building and the Capitol for each vote, which adds to my step count!

Hearings: Senator Foreign Relations Committee – we advanced the ratification of Sweden and Finland to be part of NATO. This now moves to the Senate floor; Senate Armed Services Committee – we held a hearing for the nominations of LTG Michael E. Langley to be the next commander of U.S. African Command and LTG Bryan Fenton to be the next commander of the U.S. Special Operations Command; Subcommittee on Housing, Transportation and Development – I served as ranking member of a hearing on opportunities and challenges in addressing homelessness. Jamie Kirsch of Rapid City testified. Jamie is a board member at Journey On, a Rapid City based non-profit focused on homeless street outreach.

Classified briefings: I had a classified briefing on the ongoing situation in Ukraine as part of my membership on the Senate Armed Services Committee. I also attended a classified cybersecurity education session.

My staff in South Dakota visited: Aberdeen, Red Owl, Watertown, Vermillion and Elm Springs.

Staff happenings: I took my summer interns in our Washington, D.C. office to breakfast on Thursday morning to thank them for all of their hard work. (No government funds expended!) They each ordered eggs benedict – my personal favorite.

Clay Robinson's Live Stock Report has the following item: R.M. Brief Happenings

A meeting of the county commissioners of Lawrence and Butte counties was held yesterday to take under consideration a plan for the opening of a highway between Spearfish and Belle Fourche which will eliminate some of the objectionable features of the present routes between those two points. The Butte county people, the commercial club of Belle Fourche more particularly have recently been taking an active interest in this proposition and have met with the state highway commission and received the assurance that if the commissioners of the two counties will designate where the highway is wanted the state commission will construct the road without expense to either county. Under the proposed plan it will be necessary to open a part of the road thru the valley in a new location. When constructed it will eliminate many of the steep hills and be considerably shorter in distance as compared with the present highway. A delegation from the Spearfish Commercial club accompanied the commissioners to the valley, to suggest the proposed route and impress on the county dads the imperative necessity for the proposed improvement.

House Allots $200,000 to Start Work on Keyhole Dam

The house of representatives yesterday approved a supplemental measure which carries $200,000 for initiation of construction at the Keyhole dam on the upper reaches of the Belle Fourche river. That information was received here from Congressman Frances Case in a wire to S. G. Mortimer of Belle Fourche. No details were given in the wire. Preliminary work, such as surveying and settlement of water rights between Wyoming and South Dakota, has been completed. Keyhole dam, to be located on the Belle Fourche river near Carlile,

by Mary Buchholz would over about 3000 acres, and store about 260,000 acre feet of water as compared with 177,000 acre feet which Orman dam was designed to hold. As yet, it has not been announced whether the dam is to be classed a flood control project, a supplemental dam for irrigation on the Belle Fourche project, or a combination of both. The status will determine the extent of participation by farmers of the Belle Fourche project, according to S. G. Mortimer, who has been active in reclamation activities in the area and has been a key figure in Keyhole project preparations.

“Building Main Street, not Wall Street”

Small Business Success Equals Community Success!

The great businessman Harvey McKay once said, “People begin to become successful the minute they decide to be.” Another great quote by Albert Einstein, he said “The world as we have created it is a process of our thinking. It cannot be changed without changing our thinking.” Simply put, we need to believe we can change and then we must alter our traditional thinking to enact and facilitate that change within our community.

themselves struggling to survive.

The equation is simple, with fewer regulations, businesses can more accurately predict the future allowing them to hire more employees or expand. Competitive tax rates allow businesses to keep more of their profits providing the ingredients of a strong small-medium business inducing environment. Micro-TIFs provide targeted funds for targeted areas of your community. City commitment instills confidence and support.

Why is this information important? Now is the time every community in America must shine their light inward and determine if their community is doing everything possible to support and build their future through their small business base. Communities must double down on their efforts to assure small business growth. Now is the time to spring into action and create an atmosphere of innovation, change, entrepreneurship, collaboration, and synergies.

There are many reasons why this may not be occurring in your community. It may be regional headwinds not seen in other portions of the country, such as being tied to oil prices. It may be local and state taxes coupled with regulation, such as we see in states like Illinois, New Jersey, or California stifling growth. It may be a soft labor market where jobs are hard to fill. The list of economic reasons is practically endless.

Despite the reasons above and many others, each community must take their future in their own hands. Be the future you wish to see. If taxes are too high, offer tax incentives. If regulations are stifling, reduce regulations making start-ups easy and painless. If you haven’t taken advantage of micro-TIFs, investigate it and see if that fits your community. If you have a tight labor market, provide tax incentives for hiring locals in lieu of out-of-town employees. For every issue, there are also excuses. Don’t dwell on excuses, look for solutions to overcome your issues through creativity, innovative and be willing to invest in LOCAL people.

Many communities invest major dollars in courting national businesses, this isn’t all bad. However, evaluate the long-term impact of those dollars on your community. In most cases, the long-term impact is much worse than we realize. Not to mention, when times get tough, national chains typically have little local loyalty and will leave.

Most importantly, while investing in small business, simultaneously, invest in your current downtown. National statistics indicate those investment dollars bring the highest financial return to your community. When downtowns are left to deteriorate, you can plan on other parts of the community will soon follow. You won’t see it overnight; it will be like a cancer or degenerative process that slowly infects the body until it is too weak to battle back.

I have yet to see a rebuilt and vibrant downtown that hasn’t positively impacted the entire community.

Our downtowns are treasures, the link between the past, present, and future. Downtowns are what drives small business growth throughout the entire community. Downtowns connects the young, middle age and the mature. Your downtown is the future for those communities’ seeking answers to a better tomorrow.

Cleaning Up for the Fair

Colleen Brunner

news@bellefourchebeacon.com
NISLAND - The Butte/Lawrence County Fair is just around the corner—literally. It starts on Monday, August 1 and 2 bright an early at 9 a.m. with entries. Events for the public begin on Wednesday with the opportunity to view exhibits and animal projects. Lots of vendors are planning for the midway and inside the pavilion. But before that can happen, the fairgrounds have been going through the cleaning process, courtesy of all the Butte/Lawrence County 4-H clubs.

Each club is assigned a certain area of the grounds to "clean" and get ready for the fair. Just this past week, several clubs were buzzing like bees around their area, cleaning, repairing and even doing a little painting. The Prairie Pals worked on Saturday, July 23 on their section. Many other clubs scheduled their times for cleanup and the grounds are looking pretty good and ready to go. The River Riders cleaned up the horticulture building.

Now the property is ready and the entries are in, some of the new and unique events should be shared. On August 3 things begin to rock and roll with all the exhibits open and activities galore. New on Wednesday this year is a fishing tournament starting at 8 a.m. It is open to children from age 5-15 without a fishing license. Sixteen and 18-year-olds need a license. There is no entry fee. Fishing poles and bait will be provided or you can bring your own. Call Mark Bachman at 605-210-0174 for more info.

Also on Wednesday is another new activity to participate in. Ron Nenaber will be organizing and leading soap carving under the grandstands. Since this has never been done before it will be a fresh opportunity to learn something new. Check it out at 10 a.m.

Don't forget the chicken roping at 1 p.m. followed by watermelon eating contest and the turtle races.

Fun on Thursday is the parade at 4:30 p.m.

Of course, the free barbecue hosted by Butte Electric and West River Telephone Coop is always a big draw on Thursday at 5 p.m. and don't forget the silent auction and the ever-popular Cowboy Band. Friday has another new event, Create a Cowhide in the Pavilion. Jessica Casteel will be leading this activity. And don't forget the annual Nisland/Arpan Fire Department Auxiliary Pie Sales at 5 p.m. in the picnic area.

There are many activities each day for many people to enjoy. Take in as much of the fair as you can. Fairbooks are available all around Butte and Lawrence Counties in numerous locations.

Some people like to just have fun, wherever they are. Just like this little gal from Prairie Pals 4-H club as she works in one of the barns at the Nisland Fairgrounds this past week.. Brunner Photo

The Prairie Pals 4-H club spent Saturday, July 23, cleaning and repairing at the fairgrounds, doing their part as does each club in Butte and Lawrence Counties. Brunner Photo

Many people are surprised to find out our last name is Eddy, not Sawyer. But, the occupation of a sawyer has been in Lee's family for many, many years. Those of you who know us personally already know that Lee and his dad are loggers. What most of you probably don't know is that Lee's Grandpa Eddy and Grandpa Mack were also loggers! This is how we decided on the name Sawyer Brewing Co. Our logo has four axes one for each generation.

Newell Playday Wraps Up for the Season

Colleen Brunner
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL – “At one of the playdays we had more than 140 kids,” said Marci Dell, a parent of two little rodeo cowkids that have participated in the four weeks of Newell Community Club’s Rodeo Playdays.

More than 80 people gathered at the Newell city hall to celebrate the end of the rodeo playday season to eat and accept awards for their efforts. A potluck dinner was enjoyed first and awards and special items donated by a myriad of generous sponsors. They included: JP Towing, Millar Angus, Grossenburg Implement, Reid & Stacy Stranberg, Hay Creek Properties, Logan & Bethany Schliinz, High Plains Restaurant, Denise Shipke-Smeenk, High Quality Saddles, Tri-State Livestock News, Johnston Quarter Horses, Don & Margo Wishard, Rex & Morgan Wulf, Leber Ag Service, Elite Enterprises, South Dakota Farmers Union, Crowser Gravel Pit, DeLane & Cindy Erickson, Joshua & Megan Franzen, Pairie Hills Pharmacy, Whatever It Takes Coalition, Myron & Carol Weiss, Dana Dental Arts, Dakota Home & Ranch Real Estate, Scoggin Vet Service, Blue Line Diner, Lindskov Implement/Butte County Equipment, Dusty & Micole Braun, Negaard Cattle Co., Scott & Shannon Dirk, Mutchler Ranch, Reder Cattle, Kristy Eastman & Chad McCarty.

Getting Ready for Rally

Pastor Darla Dunn, second from left, welcomes some bikers who attend the Vale Community Country Church's breakfast buffet during rally. They plan to once again greet rally-goers and locals alike for a breakfast buffet from 8 a.m. to noon, each day from August 6-13. - Courtesy photo

NISLAND – The Vale Fire Department was first called to a wildfire that broke out around 11 o'clock on Sunday morning at Almond Road and 194th Street south of Nisland. It was called in by a landowner, who utilized his own firefighting equipment to begin to control the blaze prior to the Vale Department arriving.

Nisland/Arpan was called a few minutes later for mutual aid, although the fire was not threatening any structures according to Butte County Dispatch. A few minutes later the Belle Fourche Fire Department was also called with a request for a brush truck and a tender. At the time of the responses the blaze had covered about 10 acres and it burned through around 76 acres before the various departments and local ranchers were able to resolve the situation.

“Jim (Todd) was in our dozer and (the fire) burned Martin’s (neighbors) ground that Guy Balo rents,” said Teri Todd who lives close to the area. “Mike Anderson’s hayfield (went up) too.”

Vale Church Prepares for Rally

Colleen Brunner
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

VALE – If things go as normal during rally week, it'll be hot. But it will be cool inside as the Vale Community Country Church plans for it's 12th Annual Breakfast Buffet which will run from August 6-13 in Vale. And this event isn't just for the bikers; anyone is welcome to come and eat for a free will offering. The church touts that their sausage gravy and biscuits are the "best of the rally," and that may not be far from wrong as those who have enjoyed their breakfast buffet in the past will support.

The buffet will run from August 6-13, from 8 a.m. to noon. And the building will have air conditioning.

Along with the sausage gravy and biscuits, other items on the menu include pancakes, scrambled eggs, hash browns, sausage links, hot coffee, orange juice and caramel rolls.

The church always has silent auction items, most of which are hand made by patrons of the church. They will also hold the normal Sunday morning service starting at 10 a.m. on August 7. Although this is a way from Sturgis and the main hub of rally action, many bikers have been making the 17-mile trek up Highway 79 and a mile east on Valley Township Road to the church. Locals know this is the place to be each morning if they want a delicious breakfast during rally. And, it's just seven miles north of the Full Throttle campground so the event should get plenty of bikers traveling up for the great food.

"This is our 12th Annual Breakfast Buffet," said Pastor Darla Dunn. "We have many that come back every year (so) it's like a big family reunion anymore. But we keep adding new each year. I find that we not only feed their bodies but also their souls."

From D1 Rally

Dunn said that many who attend their breakfast felt they would never be welcome in a church, but have found a home at Vale Community Country

Church while they are here for rally.

"It's a lot of work, but I love doing it each year," said the pastor. "It's our biggest fundraiser we do for the church each year. We're having Sunday church service (on) August 7 at 10 a.m. with a guest, Dave Rigert. This (buffet) is for everyone, not just the people here for the rally." Dunn encourages local people to come out from 8 a.m. to noon.

Nisland Church Hosts Summer VBS

Colleen Brunner

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL – The Nisland Independent Community Church was a hive of activity all week long, June 6-10, as over 50 children packed out the pews, scurried around the church from basement to sanctuary to outside.

It was the scene of Hay Day VBS, with a staff of over twenty, Church Education Superintendent Anna Crockford led her crew through a week of Bible stories, verses, crafts, games and missionary stories, including daily videos from the missionary they were supporting during the week, Beau Bendigo.

Beau and his wife Suzanne will be heading to the San Carlos Apache Indians to minister to this tribe in Arizona. The offerings during the week will help support the couple in this endeavor. Bendigo actually attended the Friday closing program where parents and family were invited to come and listen to all the children had learned.

Crockford's staff included:

Betty Bruner as Bible Resource teacher, Colleen Brunner as Missionary story teacher, Becky Smith as music leader, and a host of others who led games, prepared snacks, babysat little ones, helped create special crafts and many other things. The kids even enjoyed hearing Farmer Bruce Brunner come and share the Parable of the Seeds from the Bible.

On Wednesday the children were transported down into the town of Nisland where they knocked on doors and handed out a flower in a special pot each had decorated themselves.

The program was centered around a farming theme, with Cowgirl Anna, Moocille (aka Rebecca) and Little Peep (Kila) leading the fun. Missionary stories centered around the Apache Indians and missionaries from Adascheck and Plocher, who first ministered to the Native Americans in 1893 to Jim Elliot, who along with four of his missionary friends, lost their lives while ministering to the Acua natives in Ecuador.

The daily sessions ran from 9 a.m. to 12 noon with a van picking up students in Vale and Newell. The kids were sent home each day with a sack lunch, a Bible verse to memorize and an invitation to the closing program on Friday. Parents and families were invited to a hamburger/hot dog picnic potluck before the program. Hamburgers were grilled by Joe and Anna Crockford and Pastor Chris Nelson.

Nisland Independent Community Church is located at 402 Olin, Nisland, on the top of the hill on Highway 212. Services on Sunday include Sunday school for all ages at 9:30 and worship service at 10:45. Kids Jam is held twice a year for eight weeks, in early January and right after school begins in the fall. You can find more information on the church Facebook page at <https://www.facebook.com/NislandChurch> or on the website at <https://nislandchurch.wixsite.com/nislandchurch>.

The kids decorated pots and planted flowers and then took them to downtown Nisland to gift them to residents of the town. Here Tala and Linda gift a flower to Toni Kidd. - Brunner photo

Grand River Roundup

Betty Olson
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

It was hot and dry this week with just a sprinkle of rain Friday afternoon. When we went down to the church Monday afternoon for Ace Inghram’s burial in the Slim Buttes cemetery it was 101 degrees. It was nice to have air conditioning in the church where we served lunch and got to visit with a lot of friends after the burial.

We lost more friends this week. Ron Sterling Adcock, 47, of Spearfish, died at Monument Health Rapid City on Saturday, July 16. Memorial services were held Saturday, July 23, at Kinkade Funeral Chapel, Sturgis. Burial will take place at a later date.

Leet Fowler, 87, of Belle Fourche, passed away on Monday, July 18, at the Spearfish Regional Medical Center in Spearfish. Funeral Services for Leet were Friday, July 22, at the St. James Lutheran Church in Belle Fourche with burial in the Buffalo Cemetery at Buffalo.

Lorraine (Chapman) Strid, age 94, passed away on Wednesday,

July 20, at her home southwest of Lodgepole. Lorraine’s funeral was Monday, July 25, at the Centennial Chapel of the Evanson-Jensen Funeral Home in Hettinger with burial in the Duck Creek Cemetery southwest of Lodgepole.

We got our house from Lorraine and her husband Glen Strid. Their family lived in this house that was built in 1928, until Glen’s father died and they moved back to the home place where Glen grew up. We got the house from them and had it moved to the ranch so we could move out of the tiny trailer house we were living in with our first three kids. With the addition of three more kids, we built onto the house and now two old folks are the only ones living here.

I’m still having issues with grasshoppers. I talked to Rep. Liz Marty May Wednesday about the issues ranchers are having with the SD Brand Board and I complained about the nasty hoppers. I sprayed the gardens last week and had to spray them again this week because they are eating everything growing in my gardens except the weeds! Liz said she had a lot of trouble with grasshoppers until she sprayed around her lawn and garden with Tempo that completely eliminated the nasty insects so I’m going to try that next.

Trig left for a rodeo in Scobey, Montana Thursday morning while Reub and Casey were haying at our east place. The hay is looking good everywhere around here. Reub spent a lot of time on the phone that day trying to track down a part for the swather and he finally found one in Glen Ullin, North Dakota that they would ship down to West Plains in Hettinger on Friday. Amanda and the kids went up to Grandma Louise Jensen to help her with a project that day and Reub and I went down to John and Corinne Erickson’s place for coffee and a good visit that afternoon.

Reub and I had coffee with the Prairie Pioneers in Reeder Friday afternoon on our way to Hettinger to pick up the part for the swather from West Plains and to get supplies from Runnings. Trig got home from the rodeo in North Dakota that afternoon and Casey was haying at the east place. Amanda and the little people left for Spearfish that afternoon to help Papa Ron Jensen celebrate his birthday down there. Missy left that afternoon to attend her Lemmon high school class reunion near Sioux Falls that was sponsored by a classmate who lives down there.

Casey and Reub had to go to Dickinson on Saturday to get hydraulic oil from Runnings up there because Runnings in Hettinger, where we usually get it, was out of it. I went down to the High Plains Western Heritage Center in Spearfish Saturday afternoon to speak at the Day of the American Cowboy celebration. In 2014, I and Sen. Billie Sutton sponsored a bill to make the fourth Saturday in July an unpaid holiday to celebrate the Day of the American Cowboy. Peggy Ables, who was the executive director of the High Plains Western Heritage Center, gave me the information we needed to bring the bill to make it a law in 2014. We had a lot of South Dakota cowboys of both parties in the legislature sign onto the bill and it passed unanimously. Sen. Ryan Maher was a co-sponsor on the bill and he joined me on stage to tell the audience about how and why the bill became law. Ryan was in Spearfish that day because his grandmother, Violet (Ochsner) Rost, was celebrating her 102nd birthday and he came to the Heritage Center on his way back to Isabel.

The Reva Turtle Races were Sunday afternoon and the Slim Buttes Lutheran choir went to the community Hymn Sing at Grace Bible Fellowship in Bison that evening.

With Taz at rodeos out west and Trig at rodeos in South Dakota in this hot weather, I’ll leave you with this cowboy joke:

The old cowboy came riding into town on a hot, dry, dusty day. The local sheriff watched from his chair in front of the saloon as the cowboy wearily dismounted and tied his horse to the rail a few feet in front of the sheriff.

“Howdy, Sheriff...”

The cowboy then moved slowly to the back of his horse, lifted its tail, and placed a big kiss were the sun don’t shine.

He dropped the horse’s tail, stepped up on the walk, and aimed towards the swinging doors of the saloon.

“Hold on, Mister...” said the sheriff.

“Sheriff?”

“Did I just see what I think I just saw?”

“Reckon you did, Sheriff...I got me some powerful chapped lips...”

“And that cures them?”

“Nope, but it keeps me from lickin’ em.”

Barret & Young have sold their barber shop to Cox & Rogers. Mr. Young goes to Belle Fourche where he will hold a chair in a barber shop. Mr. Barret departed Monday for the harvest fields of North Dakota.

Edward Anderson and family of Tripp were guests of Mr. & Mrs. McClung last week and departed Sunday to tour the Hills. They visited Orman Dam while here. Mr. Anderson is a conductor on the Milwaukee Railroad.

Special school meeting held last Tuesday decided against the bonds, that is, the new Vale school house will not be built at present.

The Zeiger Carnival shows, which are exhibiting in Newell this week, are drawing the crowds and everybody seems to think they are getting their “money’s worth”. There are plenty of different places to spend your dimes and dollars and a merry crowd of people through the midway each evening.

The Fair board met at Nisland Wednesday to open bids for the building of the pavilion, dining room and dancing stand. There was only 1 bid presented to the board and as it was too high, the board worked on the plans several hours trying to make changes in them to reduce the cost. After considerable time spent, they concluded to get more carpenters to figure on the work and the meeting adjourned subject to the call of the president.

The Irrigator is this week printing the official list of the names of owners of dogs in Butte County who neglected to obtain licenses for their pets before July 1st. A state statute requires that the list be published and owners are given until July 30th to show cause why the defaulted license fee, penalty and costs should not be assessed against their property of the delinquent as a tax.

The county AAA office at Belle Fourche announces the Commodity Credit Corporation has completed 26 steel grain bins, with average capacity of 2,300 bushels. To date they have taken in 30,000 bushels of grain. To further relieve the situation they have constructed 50 wooden bins for sale to farmers. Further information as to sale of these bins may be had at the Butte County AAA Office in Belle Fourche.

Birth certificates to prove American citizenship for persons who want jobs in plants where work on secret or confidential government contracts is being done, will no longer be required. A new procedure developed jointly by the Army and Navy, the Manpower Commission and the US Employment Service, calls for merely a simple declaration that the applicant for a job is a citizen, signed by the worker in the presence of an Army or Navy district procurement factory or plant representative. War and Navy contractors and sub contractors have been notified of the new procedure.

Arrangements have been made for a salty string of bucking horses and most cattle for the Annual Labor Day Celebration and Rodeo, it was announced by Everet Munroe, rodeo chairman at the regular noon meeting of the Newell Community Club at the Cove Café Tuesday. Also a watering tank has been purchased for the grounds, a special announcer may be secured and M.O. Alden was requested to serve with Mrs. Pauline Malcolm as rodeo secretary. The Saddle Club and the members are to be congratulated for having won first place for the 3rd successive year in the parade at the annual Belle Fourche Round-up and also for sweeping first place honors at the 3rd annual Play Day of the Black Hills Riding Association in Belle Fourche Sunday.

Shirley Smeenck daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Wm. Shirley is the second Newell girl to appear in the State pageant. She will be judged, together with 12 other lovelies from all parts of the state, in bathing suit, talent appearances and in a personality interview. Her talent at the June convention of the SD Stockgrowers Association in Sturgis included a clever reading and song number.

Say “Cheese” Burger!

Summer Playday at Nisland

NISLAND – Although the turnout wasn’t what they had hoped, the Nisland Lions have decided they’ll continue to reach out to the community. The next time will probably be this fall when they promote a similar event. This time there were games galore and lots of food and fun.
Sunday afternoon, July 17, saw kids gather to enjoy an afternoon of fun. With support from the Mt. Rushmore Lions club who donated a case of rubber band guns for the Nisland group to give away, the local Lions set up a fishing game, prize walk, photo booth, face painting booth, mini-golf, giant Connect 4 game, ladder toss, Kerplunk ball drop, and lawn Yahtzee.

Home baked breads, cookies and bars and drink refreshments were also provided for the children and their families.
Around seven Lions club members, some who come to the group from as far away as Sturgis, helped set up the event. Martin Ennis’s granddaughter and two of her friends from Rapid City and Box Elder also came to volunteer their time.
The Lions plan a fall carnival-type event where they will attempt to give away the remainder of the items they have been gifted.

(Left) More than 30 kids turned up to celebrate the fun they had at the rodeo playdays this summer by donning a red shirt from the community club, eating some delicious food and receiving awards for their efforts. (Right) Clancy and Mariah Todd, siblings who live south of Nisland, enjoyed learning more in the series of Playday events this summer, and are beginning to hone their rodeo skills. They also loved the red shirts that each playday participant received. - Brunner photos
