Providing Boots for Hollywood

If you would have asked Cowboys Too!' owner, George Wilson if his small western clothing store would be a part of Hollywood he would have said you were crazy. But this is exactly what happened! Right after Christmas in 2020 Jacqui West with Apple Studios LLC was in Belle Fourche and walked into Cowboys Too!

George was working and she walked up and asked "Could you supply a little over 30 pairs of boots for a movie"? George who loves a challenge said "Sure".

Jacqui and George's conversation was interrupted by a phone call to Jacqui and she left but not before saying "I will be back to discuss this with you" George wondered if she would return.

She did return a few days later with more information about what she was looking for and questions.

She was in need of 30 pairs of black boots for background actors in a movie set to start filming in April of 2021 and released in theaters on Friday, October 20, 2023.

She also needed two pairs of custom boots for the lead actor.

news@bellefourchebeacon.com Even though several Butte County citizens had strong opinions against the renewal of GLP Custer Manufacturing and Cultivation, the Butte County Commissioners approved operations for another year at the October 3 meeting.

During the September 19 meeting, Sue Broadhurst had found that Rod Woodruff, a principle member of GLP Custer and listed on the Board, had requested his name be removed by the Assessor's Office as Occupied Status.

During the October 3 meeting, she pointed out that the application for renewal of the Permit to Operate must be done within 30 days of the anniversary date the permit to operate was issued. Since the application had not been approved within that time frame, the commissioners should deny renewal. She noted that GLP Custer should begin the application process again. Mike Green, a dispensary owner in Rapid City and Deadwood, explained that although he was not part of GLP Custer, he is associated with two of the owners and wanted to clear up some of the information in the document presented to the commission. GLP Custer does have an officer that is a Butte County resident. Lisa Waverly is the secretary of the business is on the Board of GLP Custer. He also pointed out that eight out of ten employees are Butte County residents. On October 3, Travis Ismay had several items concerning the renewal of GLP Custer licenses. He showed that Rod Woodruff was in violation of County Ordinance 2021-02, Section 4(2) by falsely verifying his residence on his application. He added that any person "who knowingly submits false records or documentation required by the department to certify a medical cannabis establishment under this chapter is guilty of Class 6 felony. Consisting of up to two years imprisonment and $4000 in fines or up to one year in county jail.' "At the very least," he said, "Mr. Woodruff should be stripped of his license, and made to reapply under the new ordinance regulations." There had been the decision made at the September 5 regular commission meeting to deny the application and there was no decision made during the September 19 meeting. This was a $200 million dollar budget movie. A movie directed by Martin Scorsese starring Leonardo DiCaprio, Robert DeNiro, Lily Gladstone, and Brendan Fraser.

The Osage Indian murders and the Birth of the FBI, David Grann (author) tells the riveting true story of the murders of the world's richest people per capita in the 1920s. Apple Studios LLC and Martin Scorsese were about to bring Grann's book to life through film.

Cowboys Too! was under a huge deadline to get the boots. George started researching where to get boots in mass quantity. He came into contact with Alberta Boot Company, located in Canada. With COVID-19 in force and many lockdowns in the USA, Alberta Boot Company was able to slip this into production. They have made boots for dozens of movies and shows including Dances with Wolves, and Hell On Wheels, and also supply boots for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Jacqui and her team sent George a copy of Leo's foot. They stopped him in his tracks at a New York hotel to get the her hair was pulled out and she suffered many other injuries. When her attacker eventually fell asleep, Shirley managed to crawl to a phone and called 911.

A few months later, In November 2021, Shirley died as the result of injuries inflicted by her domestic abuser, Mike her husband of 40 years. You might argue that Shirley was murdered. According to Danielle, a history of abuse permeated the marriage. At one point, Shirley and Mike were separated for two years. "We were so happy and hoped the separation would last." Danielle noted, speaking for herself and her siblings.

Altogether, Shirley and Mike were married and divorced four times. Mike worked as a chef for a living and was very controlling. He suffered from alcohol and drug abuse. Shirley was 79 when she died. Mike was 13 years younger.

National 4-H Shooting Sports

In June, Lydia Main and Carter McKenna traveled to Grand Island, Nebraska, to participate at the National 4-H Shooting Sports Competition in the Hunting Skills category, which lasted June 25-30. Main and McKenna joined the team in February and had been studying diligently and preparing for the competition with the help of Chuck Berdan. Berdan met with the shooting competitors weekly and provided his upland game birds, pelt, skull, and animal call collections, as well as walked them through the NRA and Game and Fish Handbooks, for both South Dakota and Nebraska, all of which was needed in their competition. Once in Nebraska, Lydia and Carter met with their other two Hunting Skills teammates from South Dakota, Jaxen Docter and Grady Hemmingson, as well as their coach, Bryce Heinje.

The Hunting Skills competition has many more parts to it than any of the other National events. On Day 1, the shootcourse. Lydia placed 2nd individual, Carter 19th individual, and the team 1st overall for that day. Overall, Carter placed 6th individual, Lydia 10th individual, and the team 3rd.

McKenna commented that the biggest thing he learned from the experience was the importance of studying the material and was very thankful for the time Chuck put in to help him prepare for the book work portion. Main commented that her biggest struggle was the archery and shotgun portions because she hasn't shot them competitively since she was a beginner in 4-H but was glad to get out of her comfort zone and try something new. They are both very grateful to the Center of the Nation Sportsman's Club who sponsored a big part of their travel costs for the trip. They will be presenting their trip to the club at their October meeting.

Before she married Mike, Shirley had had other relationships and several children. Perhaps one reason that Shirley stayed with Mike is that he often threatened to kill one of her kids. Shirley believed him.

Unfortunately, as in so many domestic abuse cases, the separation did not last. Although the idea that anyone would participate in an abusive relationship seems incongruous, the scenario is common. It's a real thing. Danielle noted that the average victim returns to an abusive relationship seven times. The reasons are com-

"Stop and Go" Printing

If a newspaper could ever be accused of trying the patience of its readership the Beacon would have to plead guilty.

Our "stop and go" printing schedule has been necessary to build the components that will insure the Beacon's publication far into the future.

The community nonprofit has been established; an online version that is available via website (www.bellefourchebeacon.

com) is constructed and more easily readable news will soon be available there and easier to read on your cell phones.

The Beacon will soon be accepting applications for additional staffing for the paper's news, sales, distribution, construction, and operation.

We are looking for those individuals that believe in maintaining the Beacon and have skill sets they would like to add to the cause. (See employment opportunities Page A7).

This issue follows the September 13 publication and created the longest void in printing we have incurred since beginning the Beacon in June 2018.

After this October 11th printing we are planning an every other week schedule for this month and November.

If all goes according to plans we may be back on weekly schedule starting in December.

The every other week schedule, like when the Beacon first began, is necessary to proceed with the steps to proceed long into the future.

When we are putting out a paper it is a task that only takes place on days that end in "y" and others are free. Basically no time left to do anything else.

For those of you who have paid subscriptions you will be credited forward for the gaps that have taken place these last couple months.

So basically a "year's subscription will carry 14 months forward.

We will, as we know, continue to provide publication status updates in each printing of the Beacon.

Subscriptions continue to come in and never too late.

The price to follow single issue pricing will go up from $40 to $52 starting January 2024.

Thank you for your patience, and above all, thank you for your support of the Beacon.

Dennis Fritz 78

Dennis L. Fritz, age 78 of Belle Fourche, died Saturday, September 9, 2023, at St. Martin Village of the Good Samaritan Society in Rapid City, surrounded lovingly by his family. Mass of Christian Burial took place on Thursday, September 14, 2023, at St. Paul Catholic Church in Belle Fourche. A wake service was held at the church Wednesday, September 13, 2023. There was no visitation. Arrangements were with Leverington Funeral Home of the Northern Hills in Belle Fourche. Friends can leave written condolences and view a video tribute at www.LeveringtonFH.com. Interment took place in Pine Slope Cemetery. Dennis Lyle Fritz was born February 24, 1945, in Mobridge, SD, son of Alvin and Elizabeth (Holzer) Fritz. A difficult childhood, he lost his mother at a young age. As a result, Dennis loved the simple things in life, home cooked meals, spending time with family, and being home. His father served in the military. During that time, Dennis, his mother and two siblings lived with Grandma and Grandpa Fritz west of Trail City. After the unexpected death of their mother, Dennis and his two siblings went to live with relatives. Following that they moved to Timber Lake, Walker, and finally McIntosh. Dennis attended school in McIntosh where one of his greatest memories was helping his team advance to the 1962 Boy's State High School Basketball tournament, a historical first for the school.

In November of 1964, Dennis was united in marriage to Karren Sanow. To this union a daughter, Karmon Kaythrne and son, James Lyle, were born. Following their marriage, they lived in McIntosh where Dennis worked at the grain elevator. Karren and infant daughter died suddenly, just four years after their marriage, in 1968. On September 18, 1970, Dennis married Gwen Erz at St. Michael Catholic Church in Watauga, SD, and they became an instant family. A lifetime of working in the grain elevator business in Watauga, SD, Haynes, ND, Chadron, NE, eventually led him to managing the elevator in Belle Fourche before retiring from there after 34 years.

At the beginning of 2023, Dennis faced serious health challenges. Through it all he lived with faith, courage, never complaining. He was a member of St. Paul Catholic Church and Knights of Columbus, where one of his favorite things to do was flipping pancakes for the biker breakfasts each year. He also volunteered at the Compassion Cupboard.

Dennis loved his family. They were always his first priority. An avid fisherman and lover of all sports, one of his passions was to watch his kids and grandkids compete in their activities. He also loved to cook on his grill, and made a mean stuffed baked potato. He was a strong and compassionate man who endured many difficult events in life, but always maintained his positive attitude. This most likely was due to his deep Catholic faith. Second to his family, he loved his boat, camper and tinkering in the garage.

Dennis is survived by his loving wife of 52 years, Gwen of Belle Fourche; daughter Karmon (Darin) Brickman of Overland Park, KS; son, James (Pam) Fritz of Winner, SD; five grandchildren, Tanner (Payton), Sydney, Nicholas, Brady and Sophie; sister Peggy (Skip) TenBroek of Bismarck, ND, and numerous nieces and nephews. He is also survived by his extended family Annetta Sutton, Mary Engle, CeCe Soucy and their families; Gwen's nine siblings and their families.

Dennis was preceded in death by his parents; his first wife, Karren, and infant child; brother, Gary; as well as extended family Harry and LaVerna Kittleson, Joe, Wally, and LaVonne.

Donna Greger, age 72 of Belle Fourche, died peacefully on Tuesday, October 3, 2023 at the Belle Estate in Belle Fourche, SD as a result of Lewy Body Dementia.

The funeral service was held Tuesday, October 10, 2023 at the Christian Life Center in Belle Fourche, with Pastor Paul Howard officiating. Visitation took place one hour prior to the service. Interment was held at ZCBJ Cemetery, in Wagner, SD. Funeral arrangements are with Leverington Funeral Home of the Northern Hills in Belle Fourche. Donna Rae Greger (Sheldon), daughter of Willis and Gloria (Slagle) Sheldon, was born October 16, 1950 in Yankton, SD. Donna attended school in Yankton, SD. She married Duane Haberman in 1969, living near Fordyce, NE. To this union was born two daughters: Jolene and Lisa. After 13 years of marriage they divorced. Donna was married to Jack "Honeyboy" Greger on January 11, 1985. They shared their life together in Wagner, SD, and had a successful bee business. Together they enjoyed traveling, fishing, hunting, cooking, gardening, and enjoying family and friends. Donna also enjoyed sewing, long walks with her dog, and flower gardening.

Jack died in 2013 and Donna moved to Belle Fourche, SD in 2017 to live closer to her daughter Lisa because she needed the help after her glaucoma got worse. There she lived in her home with her little dog Crickett. The last two years Donna couldn't live alone because her health deteriorated. She loved visits from her great grandsons Luke and Josiah. It gave her much happiness watching them grow and talking about them.

Donna lost almost all her sight, and couldn't walk.

The dementia stripped her of most everything else, and she held onto Jesus. I'm glad God chose her to be my mom. It was hard, but an honor to care for her at the end of her life. Donna was a mom, grandma, and friend. Most importantly she repented and believed on Jesus, loving Jesus. Even when she could barely speak, she would say Jesus is with me. She now has her new body and resides with Jesus, and I take great comfort in that and all the Lord did. Praise God He made a way, a gift of eternal life through His one and only Son, Jesus. I'm proud of my mom, she fought the good fight, kept the faith and finished the race. She has no more pain; He has wiped the tears from my mom eyes and brought her Home. What a glorious day!

Elizabeth Colgrove 93

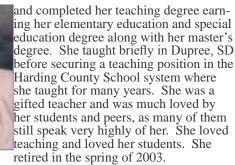

Elizabeth Colgrove, age 93 of Buffalo SD, died Wednesday, September 13, 2023 at Belle Estate in Belle Fourche.

Her Life Celebration was held Friday, September 22, 2023 at the new gymnasium in the Harding County High School in Buffalo. Visitation held one hour prior to the service. Interment was at Buffalo Cemetery. Funeral arrangements are with Leverington Funeral Home of the Northern Hills in Belle Fourche. Friends make leave written condolences online at: www. LeveringtonFH.com.

Elizabeth "Liz" Schauer Colgrove was born November 21, 1929 to Jacob and Louisa Schauer at her home near Regent, ND. The family grew to 13 children with Liz being the third oldest. Liz went to heaven to spend eternity on September 13, 2023. She is joyfully reunited with those loved ones that went before her and into the presence of Jesus her Savior. Heaven gained a beautiful soul, and although we will miss her, we are thankful she is now at peace.

Liz attended her grade school years at the Alden country grade school near her home. After 8th grade she stayed home to work and did not attend high school until two years later. She dreamed of going to school and eventually was allowed to go and graduated from Regent, ND high school in 1949 as Valedictorian. She then attended Wartburg College in Waverly, Iowa for two years earning her teaching certificate. There was a country school near Hettinger, ND in need of a teacher at that time and she accepted that position. She lived with a local family while teaching and there is where she met Henry "Hank" Colgrove as he was their hired man. They dated a short time and married in August 1952. Hank and Liz lived in various places such as Spokane, WA, Newell, SD, Missoula, MT and then settled in Buffalo, SD in 1963. They ran the Sioux Oil service station on the south edge of town for a few years before deciding to farm and ranch. They leased farm land from John Niemi and Nilo Tilus for many years. They purchased the old Harold Sharp place in the late 1960's now owned by Dennis and Becky Brengle. Liz put in a big garden every year, liked to cook/bake and stayed very busy on the ranch/farm.

Liz and Hank had 5 children: Rebecca Kay, Sherilyn Sue, Steven James, Robin Louise and Todd Michael. In the late 1950's they welcomed Hank's brothers and sister, Roger, Allen, Les Page and Midge Colgrove Sparlin into their home, since their parents had passed away. They continued to raise them along with their own children and were honored to do so. Heartache happened in 1978 when Hank passed away at the young age of 49 from cancer, leaving Liz with three children still at home to raise. She stayed on the ranch until the youngest (Todd) graduated high school in 1984. She then enrolled in college at Black Hills State University

In November of 2003 Liz suffered a massive stroke which left her with very limited speech and difficulty with writing and weakness on her right side, which was challenging for her. In October of 2020 she sold her home and moved into Peaceful Prairie Estates in Buffalo and resided there until February 2023 when she moved to Edgewood Vista in Spearfish, SD where she resided for about 5 months and then moved to Belle Estate where she lived until her death. She always had a strong faith in Christ Jesus who sustained her throughout the heartbreak and difficulties life dealt, and the wonderful times as well. We now know that she is resting peacefully in the arms of her Lord and Savior. She lived life well and left a legacy behind through her family and students that will live on.

Grandchildren are Lane Brengle (Erica), Stephanie Brengle, Christopher Blankenbaker (Cecelia), Wade Blankenbaker (Christel), Jesse Blankenbaker (Bailey), Hannah Colgrove Keating (Josh), Rachel Colgrove Marler (Juston), Grant Colgrove, Issiah Colgrove, Harmony Colgrove, Zoe Colgrove, Izaak Colgrove and Kelsee Colgrove. She is survived by her 5 children and their spouses. Rebecca and Dennis Brengle, Sherilyn and Larry Blankenbaker, Steven and Karla Colgrove, Robin Colgrove, Todd and Barbara Colgrove, all her grandchildren and great grandchildren listed above. Her brothers and sisters surviving her are Carl (Velma) Schauer, Jake (Arlene) Schauer, Sam (Linda) Schauer, Linda (Kenneth) Kouba, and Russell (Sharon) Schauer. Other surviving family members are Roger (Larine), Allen (Dee Dee), Les (Rhonda) Page and sister in law Midge Sparlin along with numerous nieces and nephews. Loved ones that have gone on before her are her husband Henry Colgrove, siblings Edwin Schauer, Emma Schaible, Karolina Nible, Otto Schauer, David Schauer, Ronald Schauer and an infant sister and her parents Jacob and Louisa Schauer.

Obituaries contd. Jimmy Schlosser

Jimmy Dale Schlosser was born to Jim C. and Katherine (Kari) Schlosser on August 30, 1959, in Belle Fourche, South Dakota. His father was so excited to have a son that Jimmy's sister, Treva, who was only 28 months old at the time, remembers her dad running in, smiling and yelling, "Mama had a great big boy!" He was delighted he had a son.

Jim grew up in Belle Fourche and learned invaluable lessons about life while working with his dad building the family trucking business. As a boy, still too young to drive, he could change a tire faster than any grown man. He tirelessly worked late nights mechanicing to keep the fleet running at his father's shop. Jim was determined to help the business succeed, and in order to make the payments, he always made sure to get one more load than everyone else. He learned what a person could accomplish through hard work and determination by watching his parents and a special neighbor friend, John Roth. Jim was very proud of his parents and how much they achieved in their lifetime. On June 11, 1983, Jimmy and Beverly Cochrun were united in marriage. Jim often referred to Beverly as "the complete package," and appreciated her drive and determination. They made a great team. He would often joke about taking his wife on a romantic motorcycle ride to irrigate the fields or A.I. the cows. She was a great partner to run the family ranch. They were blessed with four children, and enjoyed their 40th anniversary this summer.

Jim was a talented rancher, with an inquisitive mind and a natural ability to manage the herd efficiently. As a young rancher in a rural area, he challenged himself to be as self-sufficient as possible, even learning to do c-sections on his cows. His oldest son, Otto, jokes that Jim managed the herd with alchemy and intuition. He would often do things he could not explain, but it always seemed to work. Concurrent with running the ranch, Jim dedicated over 40 years of his life to securing and developing the bentonite reserves on the family ranch. He overcame countless obstacles and impossible odds to secure one of the last mineral patents issued in the United States. He was deeply appreciative of his neighbor, Jim Mauer, and his brilliant lawyer, Bill Marsh, for helping him. Jim's whole family is grateful beyond measure for the gift he gave us through his dedication and never giving up on his impossible dream. Jim always said he could learn something from everybody and loved to find ways to use people's talents. He had a knack for finding a job, or several, for anybody who came within eyesight. First his daughter, Savanna, and then his daughter-inlaw, Demarest, served as Jim's secretary and typist. He enjoyed composing lengthy emails with them and marveling at the "catchy" letters they wrote. He often commented about how very lucky he was to have such good office help. Jim did not have any conventional hobbies, preferring to leave a legacy by improving anything he could, whether it be a building, road, fence, corral, or even a creek crossing. He said that the secret to success was, "Every day do everything you have to do and then do a little more." Of his many skill sets and abilities, he considered himself foremost to be an equipment operator. He often said that if someone else was capable of thinking of something and building it, he could at least make it go and keep it running. Jim enjoyed building roads with his son Jed and valued Jed's attention to detail in finishing and his skill operating the scraper. Jim was happiest when he had multiple projects going on, which usually included at least one road construction, a concrete job, and a building side-by-side where they mostly civilly planned for future projects and discussed how to solve issues. Few men have, or ever will, possess such a wide range of skills, talents, and the level of determination to accomplish as much as Jim did in his endeavors. His family will be spending the next several years finishing up the projects Jim had initiated, and the next few generations completing the projects he had dreamed up.

A skill much appreciated by his family was his exceptional ability to make his grandchildren smile and laugh. He made the most mundane tasks seem extra special for the grandkids. From taking out the garbage to feeding cows, everything was exciting with Grandpa. He was often seen riding his dirt bike with 1 to 3 grandchildren on board. He liked to tell the kids, "Let me fix your cheeks!" as he playfully squeezed their cheeks together. He would say, "Lift your hands like you're being robbed!" and then tickle them under their arms. We will all miss his made-up version of "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas," which was a yearround hit with the grandkids. During his later years, as Jim became very interested in natural remedies, he repeatedly encouraged his grandkids to eat sauerkraut. One day Heidi (9) saw him coming and exclaimed, "Oh no, here comes Grandpa! He's probably coming to make us eat sauerkraut!" The day before he passed away a treasured picture was taken of him playfully covering his young grandsons, Fulton (4) and Anselm (1) in the loader bucket of sand.

Jim died suddenly of a heart attack on Thursday, September 28, 2023, at about 6:30 a.m. At the time, he was working with members of family on the hill upon which he was building his dream house, on one of his favorite days - concrete day which is how he would have wanted to go. He would have been so proud of his grandson, Conrad (15), for making the decision to finish the pour, and working with his sister, Lillian (13), while Beverly, Chet, and Otto drove Jim to meet the ambulance. Jim D. was preceded in death by his parents, Jim C. and Katherine M. Schlosser. Grateful for sharing his life is his loving wife Beverly; his son Otto (wife Demarest Thompson) whose children are Conrad, Lillian, Heidi, Sterling, Clark, Hazel, Fulton, Anselm, and a new baby due April 2024; his daughter Savanna (husband Samuel Barcus) whose children are Thayne, Reagan, Wesley, Claire, and Cordelia; his son Jed (wife Hannah Frerking) whose child is Valerie; his son Chester (wife Mollie Rose-Fish) whose children are Liam, and Noah; his sister Treva Pino (spouse Eric) and their daughter Joan; and his sister Rachel (formerly Jodi Leigh) Johnson (husband Stephen) and their children Tayler and Haven. A Vigil was held at 7 p.m. on Thursday, October 5th, at Saint Paul's Catholic Church in Belle Fourche, SD. The funeral Mass was held October 6th at 10:00 a.m. at Saint Paul's Catholic Church in Belle Fourche, SD. Marion Potter 89

Marion Joyce (Foss) Potter age 89 of Belle Fourche, died Wednesday, September 27, 2023 at Belle Estate in Belle Fourche. A celebration of Marion's life took place Monday, October 2, 2023 at the Belle Fourche Global Methodist Church. Interment took place Tuesday at Oakridge Cemetery in Seneca SD, followed by a time of fellowship at the Seneca Community Center.

The funeral was live-streamed from Marion's obituary page, located on the funeral home's website: www.LeveringtonFH.com

Marion was born September 2, 1934, the second daughter of Dave and Sylvia (Brozik) Foss. Marion grew up on the family farm near Hamill, SD. She attended country schools in her elementary years and then Winner High School where she graduated in 1952. She later attended Black Hills State Teachers College and graduated in 1954 with her teaching certificate. After college, she worked in Denver and Albuquerque as a secretary, and then she taught in rural schools in Tripp County and in Iona, SD.

From 1979 to 2010, they lived near Warner, and following his retirement, Willard and Marion moved to their home on Walworth Street in Belle Fourche where Marion resided until this September.

Marion grew up through the Depression and WWII years, and these experiences instilled in her the importance of thrift and creativity, including a love of the finer things in life such as homegrown and home-canned fruits and vegetables; homemade fashion; family gatherings with music and card games; traveling between the pages of countless good books; play, crafts, and songs with children; nurturing lifelong friendships; and providing a listening, caring ear to others.

She was a hardworking daughter and her father's helper on the farm, a quiet, kind older cousin, a devoted niece, a true partner in marriage, and a mother and grandmother who was forever the teacher and a champion for children.

The leadership opportunities I have had, including being a member of junior leaders, attending various youth leadership days, and being president of my club for many years have taught me many skills that will benefit my life going forward. Additionally, the skills I have learned through youthin-action activities are things I will carry with me forever. I have participated in hippology, shooting sports, showing horses and sheep, consumer-decision making judging, horticulture judging, and rodeo. Through these various activities I have been able to experience a little bit of a lot of things, allowing me to be well-rounded while finding my interests at the same time. All in all, 4H has a multitude of opportunities and no matter what you are interested in, it has something for you!

Badlands cowboys, cowgirls enter Circuit Finals Rodeo in first place in respective events

Ruth Nicolaus

Special to the Beacon Minot, N.D. (September 25, 2023) – The best cowboys and cowgirls in the Dakotas will be in Minot next month for the Badlands Circuit Finals Rodeo.

And these number ones lead the charge, in their respective events.

North Dakota cowboy Chase Lako leads the tie-down roping. The Mandan man has won more than $17,000, with this the fifth time he has qualified for the Badlands Circuit Finals. A financial advisor by day, rodeo is more of a "hobby" for he and his wife Kennedi, a barrel racer.

"It's a hobby but a serious one," he said. "My wife and I go to the barn every night and we're riding five or six horses." He will ride his nine-year-old gelding named Dunnie, who he trained.

South Dakota cowboy Mason Moody is on top of the pile of bull riders. The 20-year-old is in his rookie year of PRCA action, and went straight from high school to rodeo. He competed in the PBR last year but decided to switch to professional rodeo this spring, and has done well, having won money at rodeos in Newtown, N.D., Mobridge, S.D., and Hamel, Minn.

"I felt like I could make a pretty good living rodeoing so I decided to pro rodeo and it's worked out for me," he said. "I'm definitely paying my bills, and this is definitely something you'll always remember, when you look back at your rodeo career."

Moody has more than $31,000 in winnings, ahead of the number two man, Chance Schott, who has won nearly $20,000.

Moody's first trip to the Badlands Circuit Finals was two years ago, when he was a high school senior. He also qualified last year. He is ranked 36th in the world standings.

In the barrel racing, a fan favorite, Jessica Routier, leads her event.

The South Dakota cowgirl has won more than $20,000 this year, having done well at Mandan and Killdeer, N.D., and Mobridge and Deadwood, S.D.

She also won the NFR Open (previously known as the National Circuit Finals Rodeo), which gave her a big boost in the world standings. Champs from each circuit finals qualify for the NFR Open, held in Colorado Springs in July.

It was "super exciting," she said, "and a result of winning the circuit finals, and all the more motivation to try to get back there this year."

For most of the year, she rode Missy, her twelve-year-old mare who is a multiple Badlands Circuit Barrel Horse of the Year winner.

She also rode Nicki, a daughter of the mare she won her first Badlands Circuit title on.

Routier, Buffalo, S.D., has won six year-end titles in the Badlands Circuit (2010, 2017, 2019-2022).

Another North Dakota cowboy, Joe Nelson, comes into the circuit finals in first place, in the steer wrestling.

The Watford City resident had planned to rodeo across the nation, but a horse injury forced him to come home and ride a borrowed horse.

He rode River Voigt's horse, Woody, and on Woody, won money in Mobridge and Belle Fourche, S.D., Ashley and Killdeer, N.D. and Gordon, Neb.

Nelson rodeoed in the circuit and worked as a horse shoer and electrician.

As a kid, his sport of choice was baseball, not rodeo.

One day, he participated in a youth rodeo, winning the dummy roping, "and it was game on from there," he said. "I told my parents I was done playing baseball."

Nelson, who is 28 years old, won the average at the 2019 Badlands Circuit Finals. This is his fourth trip to the finals. Other leaders coming into the circuit finals include bareback rider Ben Kramer, Max, N.D.; saddle bronc rider Shorty Garrett, Eagle Butte, S.D.; team ropers Bodie Mattson, Sturgis, S.D. (header) and Cash Hetzel, Lemmon, S.D. (heeler); and breakaway roper Tanegai Zilverberg, Holabird, S.D.

The top twelve contestants in each of eight events, after the pro rodeo season, compete at the Badlands Circuit Finals Rodeo.

The rodeo is Oct. 13-15, with shows starting at 7 pm on Oct. 13-14 and at 1 pm on Oct. 15.

Tickets are $25 for adult general admission and $10 for kids ages 3-10. Gold buckle seats, the five rows closest to the arena floor, are $35 for all ages. The October 15 performance is Family Day with all general admission tickets at $10.

They are available online at RodeoMinot.com, at North Country Mercantile in Minot (2000 20thAvenue SE) and at the gate.

"Stop and Go" printing has probably been as frustrating for you, the readers, as it has been for the Beacon.

It doesn't seem that long ago, but five years ago, when the Beacon began, the first six months we only printed every other week.

We would print a paper one week and do the work to build the paper in the off week, and repeat again.

The reason for that is when you are building, printing, and distibuting the 8,925 copies of the Beacon, you really don't have time for anything else.

You, the readers subscription support is making it possible to move forward, but much has to be done to insure that the Beacon can continue publishing long after I quit looking in the "Barrel".

Also, the number of you that have subscribed has created a safety net that has allowed us to proceed but the rebuilding is a work in progress.

We are in process of setting up a community non profit that will own and operate the for profit Beacon.

A non profit can own a for profit business and use profits to support the Foundations goals.

We have received many notes of thanks along with your subscriptions with words of encouragement to keep the Beacon going.

Those kind words and contributions have been appreciated more than we can ever express in words.

Who really deserves the

"Thank You" are the scads of lo-their advertsing support.

Another stone in the foundation of "Shopping Local".

The other part of the rebirth of the Beacon is the hiring, training, and compensating other employees to keep our local journalism alive and well.

As we move forward, I ask you all, to be patient with the "stop and go" schedule (we will try to do a better job of informing you of print schedule); continue to subscribe and encourage all to do so; shop local and thank those businesses who advertise in the Beacon.

After the September 13th, issue the next will be, October 11th (TODAY'S DATE!)

We plan to get back on a consistant schedule at that time. The subscriptions you are paying are not being eaten up in "off" weeks. Subscriber's annual renewals will not be based on the weeks of the calendar, but by the number of weeks papers are printed.

We wish to encourage those of you who have not yet subscribed, but wish to see the Beacon continue to do so. Take advantage now of the $40 subscription price that will increase to $52 starting January 2024.

normal life available.

We attended a 50 year class renuion the final weekend in September.

The Class of '73 was the largest ever (67) at Platte High School and 37 of that group attended the reunion.

9 members have passed away and several had good reasons for not being there.

Was impressed with the homecoming parade. Lasted over 45 minutes and had 9 marching bands in attendance.

Ran down the main street (a north/ south state highway intesected with an east/west state state highway).

Old town looked great, but was glad to get back home,to the great potential of Belle Fourche!

From A1 Cowboys Too!

this took time and time was running out. There were many discrepancies with the main boot for Leo. They were to be a Western movie star, Tom Mix, replica. Tom's custom-made, decoratively stitched two-tone boots measuring 15" tall, with 2" Cuban heels needed a little change. Leonardo DiCaprio is over 6' tall and the Cuban heel is not for a stout man. George explained this to Jacqui and Jacqui explained it to the wardrobe department. All of this took precious time. After all the changes, boots finally went into production at the end of January. The boots had to be in Oklahoma in the middle of March for the costume designers to do their magic and fit correctly to the actors. The 30 pairs of black boots were easier. No decoration, just an easy slip-on cowboy boot. Once the boots were in production George and George's manager, Michelle Evans, spoke with other departments to ensure delivery of the boots. Once all the boots were made and ready to be shipped, George called to tell Jacqui. Jacqui insisted that the boots be shipped to COWBOYS TOO! so that George and Michelle could see them. With border customs, this meant the boots would be delivered to the film set in Oklahoma late. George was ready for a road trip. The boots were delivered through the front door in a 4x3x2 box and George and Michelle looked over each pair. George and Michelle also tried on the two pairs of boots for Leo and quickly knew they would be too small for Leo. After everything was looked over, tried on, and re-boxed George got in his truck with an Oklahoma address in his GPS. George arrived at the gated film set and was approached by a very happy Jacqui. After just a few minutes upon arrival, George made a U-turn and returned to South Dakota. After a roundtrip adventure of 1800 miles, George's job was complete and on time.

Alberta Boot Company had to quickly make another pair of boots for Leo because the first pair were indeed too small. Then the wait was on. George and Michelle were told not to tell anyone about their involvement or write any articles for any newspapers until the movie had been released at the Cannes Festival in May 2023. COW-BOYS TOO! may have just been the middleman but their part is forever written in history With raving reviews at Cannes, the movie release date was set. Friday, October 20th, 2023 the movie will be for all to watch.

sioner James Ager brought out that although the principle officers were not Butte County residents, the secretary is listed in the body of the application. He admonished the owners of GLP Custer to "tidy up" the application to make it clear that there is a board member from the county. He also said that he was not able to go into all the contents of the application because it is protected by the State.

A roll call vote was taken with Commissioner Chad Erk with the only "Nay" vote.

State's Attorney LeEllen Mc-Cartney gave the commissioners a summary of offenses that occurred during the last quarter. A rising trend was seen in several areas, including Simple Assault, Disorderly Conduct, Violation of Protective Order or Bond Condition, Possession of Controlled Substance, Driving While Intoxicated (which includes alcohol or drugs), Zero Tolerance DUI (underage), Possession of Paraphernalia, Ingestion of Marijuana, Possession of Marijuana, Underage Use of Tobacco, and Assault of Law Enforcement. Auditor Annie Capp reported on the findings of a study done on county government funding and services. Several items will be sent to the state for legislation. Some of the highlights include allowing counties to vice fee for collecting and distributing property taxes, Veteran Service Offices will be state funded, there will be an upper limit on public defender costs of $10,000. Also, the counties will receive 50% of alcohol beverage taxes instead of 25%. The counties will not be held liable for road maintenance if the road district fails to maintain roads and several other items.

Capp also reported that she has been part of a meeting with the State Board of Elections and is gearing up for the upcoming elections.

Sheriff Lamphere reported on the latest discussions of the Building Committee. The old Shopko building has another interested party in purchasing the building. At this time, he said, the County is not in the position to purchase the building and so it is important to address the present building. He said that the first thing to speak to is the HVAC system, then proceed to other areas that need repairs. The commission authorized a letter of support of RCALF and the sheep industry. Michelle May, Butte County Extension, handed in her resignation at the September 19 meeting that will be effective October 31.

Albert's family will be going to Hawaii, next week, for their granddaughter's wedding, but Dick and Erma are not venturing that far. Their new grandson-in-law is from Hawaii, so it will be a great place for a wedding. Erma went to physical therapy in Buffalo, on Tuesday. Then, that afternoon, she and Fern went to visit at Greta Turbiville's, where they enjoyed the afternoon playing a few card games. On Wednesday, Erma had a dentist appointment in Belle Fourche. Dick and Erma went to the Senior Citizen chicken dinner, on Friday, and Erma stayed to play cards afterward. On Sunday, they went to the Catholic Church, and then treat of cubes. They drove into the Gap, where they startled a cow and calf elk that were grazing in the open. They detoured into the Long Pines to see if the trees had turned colors up there. The aspen hadn't changed colors, so their yellow and golds will extend the Fall colors when they do turn. Ronda made another trip to Ekalaka, on Thursday, stopping by Marion Kerr's to leave a picture. She was glad they'd toured the day before, because the ash trees were shedding their leaves with the chilly wind a-blowing.

On Saturday, Ronda stopped by Lisa Koranda's. Lisa had come to Camp Crook for the went to Buffalo for the high school volleyball game against Faith. All the games were quite close and exciting. On Friday the three went to Bison, where the football team played Wall. It was Bison's homecoming celebration this week. Dawn got some of the sports pictures processed and on Facebook. Bryce, Dawn and Dorothy were at the Camp Crook Firemen's supper, on Saturday night, too. They had not come together, this time, but all three enjoyed the evening of visiting with friends.

Karen Odell did some artwork this week. She visited with two of her high school Danielle referred to such organizations as the National Coalition of Domestic Violence https://ncadv.org and Safe Horizons http://safehorizons.org as helpful resources to better understand victim's perspective.

A few days following Shirley's horrific attack, Danielle experienced an epiphany. Something had to be done. She went to work to organize a charity foundation called Shirley Speaks to help victims of domestic abuse.

The Shirley Speaks Foundation has a board of directors all of whom are business professionals with interests in domestic abuse. Danielle serves as the facilitator. The foundation offers victims mental health, healing, and emotional services at no cost to victims.

Setting up a viable charity foundation is challenging, so is keeping it alive and thriving.

Shirley Speaks celebrated a banner first year of success with a Day of Wellness on Saturday September 30th in Sturgis. The event was an informational The next regular commission meeting will be October 17 at 1 p.m. in the Butte County Courthouse.

fundraiser that featured 37 vendors each of whom represented mental or emotional health.

Danielle describes herself as "well organized". She has certainly earned this legacy. Setting up a viable charity foundation is challenging. As a professional alternative healing therapist, she is familiar with domestic abuse. She is also a successful business owner, published author, and public speaker. Danielle's first books is Guided Directed and Protected. Her second title is Illuminate the Dark. Both titles are about Daniel's life journey that includes domestic violence. They are available on Amazon.

Danielle is aware that some of the resources for domestic abuse victims are discreet and the average person who is a victim may not be able to locate help in time. She is working on a master list of resources available for the victims of abuse in the community. Meanwhile, Shirley Speaks Facebook Page can be found at https://www. facebook.com/shirleyspeaksfoundation There is also a telephone number 605.801.0528 had lunch at Saloon Number Three with the Helms and Erk families, and Father Brian.

Bruce and Lynn Gustafson went to the Hills for eye appointments, this week. On Thursday, they went to a church council meeting at the Little Missouri Church. They got about a quarter of an inch of rain, and one day, they had a big lot of wind. On Sunday, they went to church at Little Missouri Church.

Doug Davis and Morgan Buck hauled sheep to St. Onge on Thursday. Julia took her car down to be serviced at Wareing Motors in Belle Fourche. Then, Doug and Julia had fun this weekend with their grand-kids. The Alabama kids came on Friday, and Doug and Julia met them in Deadwood. The grownups went to a wedding, so Doug and Julia got to have an evening with the kids. Seeing each other on Facetime is a good interaction, letting the kids feel at home with Grandma and Grandpa. Not sure which age group got more worn out, but it was lots of fun.

Shirley and Junior Melum will soon be great-grandparents. Bertha's daughter, who is studying to be a police dispatcher, will soon have a baby, so she will be quite busy. John Ovitz came, on Tuesday, to visit and bring Shirley some of his home-grown apples. Shirley is known for her apple pies, and keeps her freezer in supply with lots of frozen pies just ready for eating.

On Monday, Ronda Cordell made a trip to Fruit's Service for new rear tires on the car. She had lunch at the Wagon Wheel before getting the tires mounted. Jack and Kay Ovitz came for a tour to view the Fall colors on Tuesday. They couldn't have asked for a more beautiful day. They Can-Am'ed to the Buck Ranch to take mineral to cows in the School Section. The cows were not to be seen, but a little weekend. She and Ronda went over to the Fireman's Barbecue at the Camp Crook Community Center. Chad, Debby and Roudy Zolnoski had come from Gillette, and Clint, Denise, Gabby and Abby Zolnoski were there also. Ronda was at Clint and Denise's early, on Sunday. Clint and Ronda rode with Chad's family to Bowman, to watch Carsen Zolnoski, Curt and Krista's son, ride in the cycle racing being held there. They drove in dense fog from east of Camp Crook, all the way to Bowman. The fog hung in at the races until mid-afternoon. It was so thick at times it was nearly mist. Neither fog, nor the watered-down, muddy track discouraged any of those bikers. They all enjoyed dinner in town between heats. Carsen ran two heats and won both of them, so he was a mighty happy guy as they headed back to Rapid City. Denise yelled, "supper's ready", as they pulled into their drive, but Ronda declined because her two doggies were needing out. Denise and the girls had spent the afternoon at a birthday party in Buffalo.

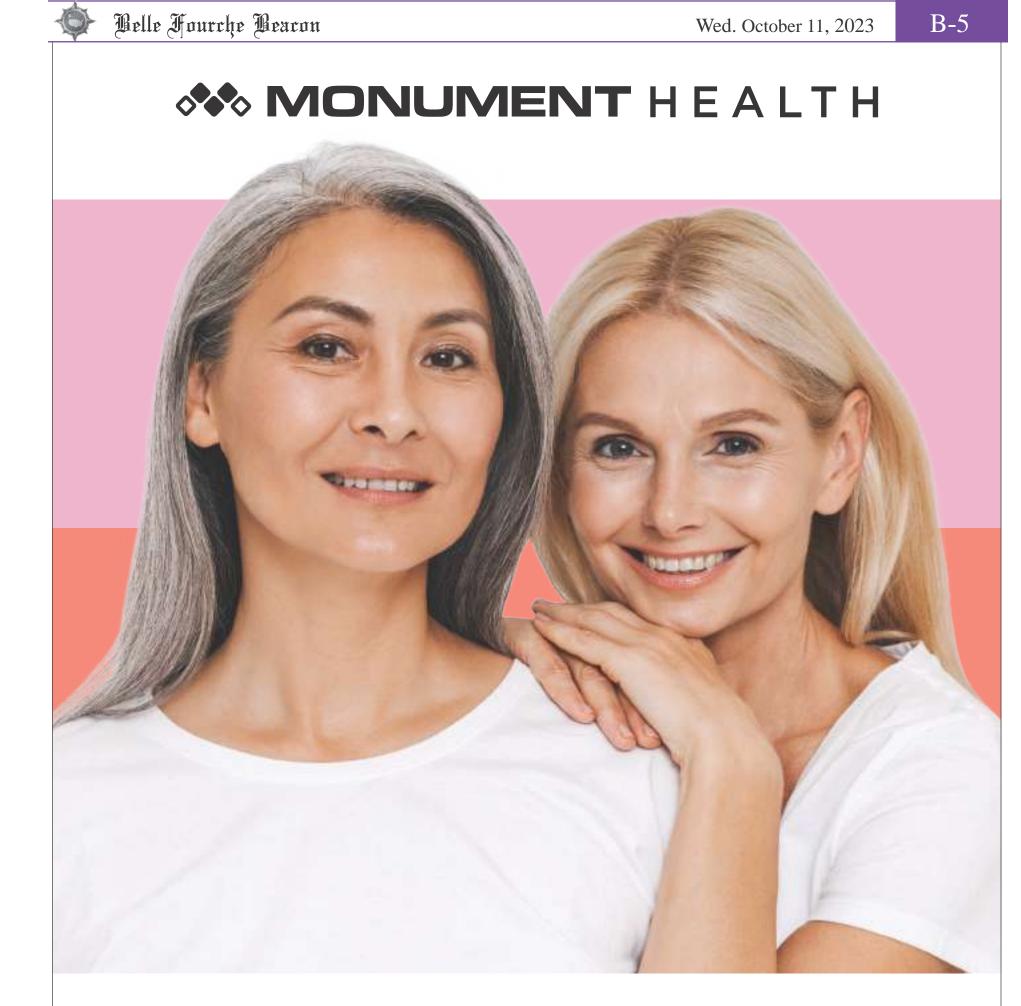

Helen Stevens and Dawn Padden decided to make another trip to the Charles M Russell Reserve, where there was an Elk View Area at Slippery Ann. The Reserve is north of Lewistown, so they left early on Tuesday morning. They saw some elk that afternoon, and more again the next day. There were many visitors viewing the elk, and some with expensive, professional looking camera lenses. They had lunch at Malta, and decided to spend some more of the afternoon looking for elk. That caused them to get back home at two in the morning, so it had been a very long day. There were a couple of days of preg testing in there somewhere, and a trip to Rapid City to get new glasses. On Thursday, Bryce, Dawn and Dorothy Padden classmates, this week, too. Bill Foulkes and Mary Ann Balser, each called her from Ohio. They are always interesting, kindred spirits. She also talked to her cousin, and good friend, Ralph Anderson, in Indiana, and got the home news from her eldest brother, Ron Evans. Karen got some mowing done on Thursday. While she was mowing, she heard her dog barking, but paid little attention, until she saw him spitting and galloping down the hill. It had been a skunk, so he stayed on the porch that night. She got a good rain early on Friday. That evening, she got to watch her grandson, Kellan Odell, play football for Mitchell. The game was on YouTube, and it was a great game against Spearfish. Mitchell's smart defense kept Spearfish at bay, and their offense stepped-up their action to win the game. On Saturday, she got to see granddaughter, Kyia Smith, sing the national anthem for the soccer game at her school at St Paul, Minnesota. Kyia is a musical fourth grader, and Kellan is an athletic junior. Karen joined the people who had a great meal at the Camp Crook Firemen's supper, on Saturday evening, and she had a good visit with neighbors and friends, who were enjoying the evening together. Karen discovered that others had had skunk trouble, too. She was warned that a freeze was predicted soon, so things will have to be battened down for the winter. On Sunday, Karen went to church at the First Presbyterian Church in Marietta, Georgia, and then, she wrote some music in the afternoon.

We wish a happy birthday to Madlon Brence this week. Thank you Madlon for the many years that you wrote the Mill Iron News, and hope you have a great special day.

The Taxpayers of Butte County You will please take notice that during the month of September the delinquent tax list will be made out, and that at the annual sale held on the first Monday in November, all lands upon which taxes are still unpaid will be sold to the county, if there are no bidders. D. R Evans, County Treasurer. Going South With Horses Jack Hale, of Tilford, is arranging to start south with his horses about the middle of this month. He will take about two carloads and will ship them to New Orleans. He expects to spend almost the entire winter in the southern country, unless he is successful beyond his anticipations in disposing of them. He ahs on hand about 30 head of fine horses that he had left over from the bunches that he purchases last spring for the cavalry. He bought a large number to sell to the government, and some of them he failed to get off his hands before the government stopped buying. He will fill out the two carloads with horses of his own raising, and says he will then have as fine a bunch as he ever started out with. Three years ago he took a bunch of horses down into Mississippi and disposed of them with good success. He expects to have better success this trip than at that time, as horses are bringing in better prices now than for several years. 100 years ago – Belle Fourche Bee October 11, 1923 FRUITDALE BANK

Dr. Maupin, who said he was a member of the Klan at the time, resigned from the organization when he learned it was responsible for the outrage, according to testimony. That decision was made Tuesday night by the Belle Fourche Board of Education at its regular meeting. Board members voted 4-2 in favor of the South Park site, Fred Carlson, Lorraine Collins, Walt Crago and Ann Kapsa voted for the site; Jacqueline Marousek and Ron Elison voted no. Cal Geis was called to Minneapolis on an emergency trip and was unable to attend. Prior to the vote, Mrs. Marousek had proposed that the motion contain provision for bussing fifth and sixth grade students from the Gay Park area. This proposal failed lack of a second. The action was taken after Gary Galyardt of the firm of Bell, Galyardt and Wells, architects, reviewed the possible courses which the school might take – to rebuild in the Washington area, to build a new junior high school near the high school and use the Roosevelt School to replace the fifth and sixth grades, or to simply abandon the buildings in the Roosevelt School area and start fresh. In the course of discussion it was pointed out that a fifth and sixth grade building in the South Park area offered advantages because provision had been made for expansion of the present building - electricity, water, sewer and heating (depending on the extent of construction). It was also pointed out that this would be a move toward consolidation of school sites. It would enhance the elementary program and would provide a structure in the direction in which the residential areas seem to be moving. Following the vote it was decided that Galyardt would meet with local officials to determine specific education goals to be met by the building and would then meet with the board to talk about plans and costs. Local Businesses Can Compete in the Digital Age

I am often asked how a small business can compete against their larger competitors in the digital age. Make no mistake, small locally owned businesses face both unique challenges and opportunities when it comes to competing against bigbox retailers and online giants. While these large corporations have vast resources and established online presences, small businesses can leverage their agility, local connections, and a few strategic approaches to not only survive but thrive in the digital marketplace. Here are a few suggestions to start competing.

I am oftentimes amazed at the number of small businesses without an online presence. Small businesses must establish a robust online presence to compete digitally. Creating a 4-8-page user-friendly website showcasing their products or services, provides essential information, and facilitates online transactions. A well-designed, mobile-responsive website is crucial as most consumers now browse and shop on their smartphones and tablets.

While you must know social media platforms aren't your friend and simply data gathering companies, they do offer small businesses no-cost ways to connect with their target audience. Regularly posting engaging (SEO) local search by using relevant keywords and phrases, creating Google My Business listings, and ensuring your business information is consistent across online directories. This helps your business appear in local search results, making it easier for nearby customers to find you.

Small businesses can stand out by offering unique or specialized products or services that big-box retailers may not carry. Highlighting what makes your offerings special can attract a niche customer base that values quality and individuality. Additionally, small businesses can excel in providing personalized customer service that online giants often struggle to match. Get to know your customers, remember their preferences, and go the extra mile to make their shopping experience memoragrams, or providing discounts for residents.

While not always easy, allocate a portion of your budget to digital advertising campaigns, such as pay-per-click (PPC) advertising on Google and social media ads. Target your ads to reach your ideal audience based on demographics, interests, and location.

If feasible, consider expanding your reach by selling products through online marketplaces like Amazon, eBay, or Etsy. These platforms can expose your products to a broader audience.

Craft a compelling brand story that resonates with customers. People connect with businesses that have a meaningful narrative, so share your journey, values, and vision. Actively participate in and support local community events, charities, and causes. Engaging with the community fosters goodwill and builds a loyal customer base that appreciates your commitment to the local area.

While it may seem daunting for small locally owned businesses to compete in the digital age against big-box retailers and online giants, they have unique advantages, such as personalized service and a connection to the local community, that can set them apart. By leveraging these strengths and embracing digital tools and strategies, small businesses can not only survive but thrive in the ever-evolving digital marketplace.

Building a strong online presence, providing exceptional customer service, and continuously adapting to meet customer needs are key elements in the journey to digital competitiveness. Resolutions and Ordinances news@bellefourchebeacon.com NEWELL-Several resolutions and ordinances were discussed and passed at the regular Newell Town meeting held September 11.

The first ordinance discussed and passed was Ordinance 02-2023 which establishes a change in the month schedule for the introduction and adoption of the annual municipal budget. The annual budget will now be submitted to the city council for the first reading on the first meeting in November, with the second reading held five days later. The annual budget will be published prior to December 31 following the adoption. The reasoning behind the change in the ordinance is that more information is needed from the county auditor to make appropriate budget numbers.

An ordinance prohibiting keeping or feeding of exotic/ wild animals or waterfowl was passed and put into place. Since there have several complaints especially about the wild turkeys found wandering the streets of Newell and South Dakota Game, Fish, and Parks will not address the problem unless an ordinance in put in place, the council members passed the ordinance unanimously. The ordinance gives authority to anyone who has been contracted by the city, which would include the Butte County Sheriff, Public Works Superintendent Larry Parker, and the SDGFP.

A resolution was passed to establish a capital outlay account to purchase certain pieces of fire equipment necessary for the proper repair, maintenance and upkeep of the Fire Department. The accumulation of funds will not exceed more than 60 months and have a starting balance of $105,953.80 from the end of 2022 and will have a missioners that at least two water meters needed to be replaced soon. He said that it would cost approximately $1200 to $1400 per meter to change the register/ batteries in each meter and it may take several months to get them. Purchasing new meters would be faster with a cost of $1800 to $2400 each.

Mayor Ken Wetz suggested that several be purchased so that there are some on hand. Parker also discussed getting a new bed for the truck used to spread salt in winter conditions. He had several quotes, but the commissioners recommended more research and more options to be brought to October's meeting.

Questions arose concerning pet licensing fees as the commissioners dealt with issues of whether a late fee should be charged per animal or per household. As discussion

City The commissioners decided that the late fee for registering a pet should be charged to a household, not individual pets. Finance Officer Sheila Smith mentioned an issue with late water fees and residents moving without paying the last month's water bill. She explained that water bills are from the previous month, so that when some-

A Great Opportunity

My name is Christian Hagen and I am the Executive Director for South Dakota Youth Hunting Adventures (SDYHA). We are a youth mentoring non-profit based in Rapid City and serving the entirety of the Black Hills area from Belle Fourche to Edgemont and everywhere in students surely get the between.

Our program is all about getting kids outdoors. There are many barriers and obstacles for kids when it comes to hunting and fishing: primarily the cost, access, and having someone knowledgeable to go with. That is where our program steps in; we take kids who want to hunt and fish, but do not have the opportunity to do so, and we get them matched with an experienced and qualified mentor. We also outfit every kid from head to toe each year, we provide firearms and ammo, we provide land access, and we pay for meat processing.

It costs the youth and families $0 to be in our program! We also have over a dozen fun events throughout the year that teach kids necessary and fun outdoor skills.

If you have any questions or would like to know more about what we do, I would love to visit with you or jump on a phone call!

Grand River Roundup

Betty Olson

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

It got really chilly here this week. The freezing temperatures on Thursday and Friday reminded us that this is fall.

The guys spent all day last Monday cleaning corrals and hauling manure while Reub and I worked on repairing the big wooden cross that rotted off and tipped over down on the south side of the yard. Reub and Lanie's sister Bryce built the cross and placed it in the yard for our granddaughter Lanie Olson's wedding when Lanie and Matt Klug got married in August of 2015. They got married right below the cross in our yard on a warm, sunny afternoon and Pastor Henry Mohagen performed the wedding. Reub put a new wooden bottom on the cross that is held together with two iron beams while I untangled all the little lighting fixtures that were tangled around it that no longer worked. When we got the cross all ready to put back up, Reub dug the new hole to set it in and Taz raised the cross up and set it in the hole while the guys tamped the dirt around the base of the cross to hold it up. It sure looks nice standing up straight again.

The little showers of rain we got on Sunday, Monday and Tuesday added up to just under a half inch of much needed moisture, but that didn't stop the guys from still cleaning corrals and sheds and hauling manure again on Tuesday.

Reub and I went to Hettinger Wednesday afternoon to get his eye drops that he is supposed to put in his eyes four times a day before his eye appointment with Dr. Leidenix in Hettinger next Wednesday. We stopped in Reeder on the way home to have coffee and a good visit with the Prairie Pioneers. Leroy Olson gave me a couple sacks of apples that came off the apple tree in his yard and they are delicious.

The guys went up to the Hackamore Thursday morning to help Doug and Clint Doll gather the cows so Dr. Lynn Stadheim could preg test them and then helped work the calves. Reub helped me cover up what is left of my garden because the temperature dropped to 27 degrees that night.

Taz helped Reub load the snow blower that goes with my mother's garden tractor in the back of our pickup and we hauled it up to Reeder

Friday morning to sell to Matt Seaberg, who had also bought Mom's garden tractor. We took the pickup out to NAPA to have them check the check engine light that came on again. They told us it wasn't a problem and got it shut off again. We uncovered my garden after we got home that afternoon so it could get some sunlight, but had to cover it up again because the temperature dropped to 23 degrees that evening! Lanie brought their kids down after school on Friday to stay with Casey and Missy while she and Matt were insulating their basement at South Heart. Amanda had a ZIYA conference in Spearfish this weekend so she and Taz took their kids up to Grandma Starla and Grandpa Ron Jenson on Friday.

With a high of 48 degrees on Friday I decided to knit me a stocking cap after seeing what stocking caps cost in town. I hadn't knitted anything for so long that it took me forever to find my knitting basket and the wool yarn I wanted to use. Years ago we used to have a neighborhood knitting club that met once a week to knit together but hardly anyone knits any more. When we first started out there were probably 15 of us that would gather together and that increased to about 30 before we quit knitting together. I called Louise Jenson to visit with her about our old knitting club that she was also involved in. Our dear friend, the late Nubby Larson was also one of the original knitting club members and so was Reub's late mother, Amy Olson. A lot of the original members are no longer with us and very few of us knit anymore.

Ron and Starla Jenson brought Taz and Amanda's kids down to Casey and Missy's house on Saturday so they could play with Matt and Lanie's kids. Casey was hauling the last of the manure that afternoon so he took several of the kids with him and all nine of the cute little buggers stayed at Grandma Missy and Grandpa Casey's house that night. Taz and Amanda got home Sunday morning in time to pick their kids up and then Taz took the oldest ones to Sunday School and church. Grandma Missy took Matt and Lanie's oldest kids to Sunday School and Grandpa Casey and Amanda brought the rest of the kids that were too young for Sunday School to church. Matt and Lanie came down after church to take their kids back up to South Heart with them and we got to visit with them a little while before they went north.

I'll leave you with these I found in my last Range Magazine:

"All jobs rely on one of two industries - mining and agriculture. Every tangible thing our society needs is either pulled from the ground or grown from the ground. Without these fundamental industries there would be no jobs of any kind. There would be no economy. Civilization begins with miners and farmers, and polite society is only possible when skilled workers transform those raw materials into something useful or edible." - Mike Rowe (b. 1962), host of Discovery Channel's "Dirty Jobs" and "How America Works" on FOX Business

The Lowery Organ is a combination organ and piano. It involves only putting on a switch to make it operate as an organ. Members of the congregation are urged to attend and decide so that they can be in on the voting Sunday, October 4th. Crow Peak Brewing Company started in the spring of 2007 as a modest 5-barrel brewery with on-premise sales in the form of pints and off-premise sales in the form of 64-ounce growlers. The brewery was extremely successful, and in order to provide a quality local beer to other parts of the State and beyond, a brewery expansion was in order. The beautiful new brewery building opened for business in December of 2009.

However, our beers were still being brewed on our 5-barrel system while we were waiting for our new 30-barrel brew house – three 60-barrel fermentation vessels and 60-barrel bright beer tank to arrive and be installed. Installation of the new equipment, plumbing, wiring and boiler system was completed in June of 2010. In addition to the larger brewing system, a Cask automated canning line was brought online in the fall of 2010, allowing us to distribute our product in both draft and packaged form.

By the end of 2015, Crow Peak Brewing Company was producing 2,000 barrels of beer annually and was distributing its products in South Dakota, North Dakota, Nebraska, Wyoming and Minnesota. We were finding it hard to keep up with demand, especially in the summer months so we underwent a second expansion in 2018. With two additional fermentation vessels and one additional bright beer tank, we are now able to produce approximately 5,000 barrels annually.
