City Waterline Emergency Repair to Begin After Rally

BEACON STAFF news@bellefourchebeacon.com

BELLE FOURCHE – The city of Belle Fourche will begin emergency repairs to a half-mile section of one of the city's main water supply lines on or about August 17th. The repairs are expected to take about 2 weeks and there may be a temporary disruption in water supply in parts of the city on the day the tie-in's take place.

"We'll probably do a code red when we do the actual water tie-in," said Interim City Engineer Steve Nafus. "We're going to try to keep the old line alive up until the last day, after we've pressure tested the new line and disinfected it."

The tie-in date is estimated to be around August 31st although that could change based on construction conditions and complications that may arise from working closely to a water line that is nearly 100 years old.

"We took out some of that old cast iron pipe and from what we can tell it dates to about 1921," Nafus said.

The $190,000 emergency repair was approved during a special City Council meeting last month. The bid for the repair was awarded to Eaton Construction of Belle Fourche who had done repair work on

BF Schools Set to Reopen August 31

Reopening to come in phases during first week.

BEACON STAFF

BELLE FOURCHE – At a special school board meeting on Monday, July 27th, the Belle Fourche School Board unanimously approved a plan to reopen schools on Monday, August 31st. This is a week-and-ahalf later than the original start date of August 19th, in order to weigh the effects (if any) of the Rally and the Central States Fair. The last day of school will be May 27, 2021, barring any further complications related to COVID-19.

The reopening of the district will come gradually the first week according to High School Principal Matthew Raba. The student body will be divided into two halves with the first half attending on Monday and Wednesday (Aug 31 – Sept 2) and the other half attending Tuesday and Thursday (Sept 1 and Sept 3). This will give teachers and staff the opportunity to educate students on the new COVID protocols which will involve physical distancing in the classroom as well as other precautions. All students would then return on Sept. 8th after Labor Day.

The approved school reopening plan contained extensive virus-related safety guidelines which covered everything from regular cleaning of the schools, to transportation, positive test protocols, mitigation measures, cafeteria guidelines and extra-curricular activity measures. According to Elementary Principal Julie Hatling the guidelines incorporated feedback from the community-wide parents' survey and staff survey conducted earlier in July.

The plan outlines three possible phases of school operation which include: Phase 1 – traditional face-to-face learning; Phase 2- Blended Learning with both face-to-face and virtual learning styles; and Phase 3 – Virtual Learning in the event of a substantial spread of the virus.

There is also a provision that families may choose a virtual learning option even if school is in session. According to the plan document, an application process will be followed, and parents can elect this option during the online registration process. However, if parents choose the distance-learning option a full term (either semester or trimester, depending on grade level) must be completed within a virtual learning environment before the student is allowed to resume face-to-face learning.

As a sign of the uncertainty surrounding the reopening of schools the district says changes to the plan are anticipated as guidelines from national, state and local health officials are updated. The School Board approved giving Dr. Steven Willard, Superintendent of Schools, the opportunity to change things if needed.

"We will have the ability to modify COVID related issues if the pandemic warrants such action," Dr. Willard told the Beacon. "My office would then review the modifications with the Board at the next Board meeting."

The school opening plan approved by the board also included approval of a modified school calendar. The school year would begin on Monday, August 1st, and conclude on May 27th. In all there will be 149.5 teaching days in the modified calendar.

Face masks will be highly encouraged for staff and students, although not mandatory. Students and staff will be expected to at least carry a mask with them for use in situations where physical distancing is not possible. Visitors to campus buildings are asked to enter only if there is a need. They are encouraging most interactions to take place in the front lobbies of the buildings.

BELLE FOURCHE - BFSD Activities Director Adam Nowowiejski assumed his post one year ago but certainly did not know the challenges that today's unique circumstances would bring him. With coronavirus concerns permeating throughout public institutions the fall sports and activities calendar has certainly been impacted. But those concerns had to be weighed against the need to provide the positive social aspects that school activities bring to the students, staff and school board for carrying on with school activities this fall, including football, volleyball, cross country, soccer, competitive cheer and golf as well as considerations for All-state chorus and Oral Interpretation. The Belle Fourche School Board approved the plan and for fans there will be some noticeable changes.

The top guiding principal of the plan will be safety for all concerned.

"A return to sports and activities for regular season contests and state championships must be safe for athletes, coaches, officials, and fans," Nowowiejski states. "The goal of the Belle Fourche School District in 2020 should be to incorporate school-based sports and fine arts activities when practical and safe."

Miranda Gallagher New Chamber Ex. Director

The Belle Fourche Chamber of Commerce has hired Miranda Gallagher as the new Executive Director. She will begin those duties on August 17.

Miranda was born and raised in Ogallala Nebraska, where her family her family owned and operated a family restaurant and catering business. She was involved in many activities growing up such as Job's Daughters, OP-TIMISM Puppet Team, band, and much more. In 2005 Miranda graduated from Ogallala Public Schools and from there continued her education and earned her Associates Degree in Early Childhood Education.

Miranda is married to Josh Gallagher, a Sergeant at the Belle Fourche Police Department. They are blessed with a daughter and two dogs. In 2017 Miranda and Josh moved to Belle Fourche to be closer to Josh's family. They love to spend time with family and friends, working on projects, going on motorcycle rides, and taking adventures through the Black Hills.

Her parents

Her parents were active members of the Ogallala Chamber of Commerce and Miranda helped with many chamber events, including the Chambers largest event, the annual Indian Summer Rendezvous.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Miranda looks forward to getting to know and work with all the local businesses. She said her first action will be to plan visits with the businesses in town and her goals are to build on what events we currently have going and incorporate new and fun things to bring more people to our town.

An Open House will be held on August 17th from 4:30-6:30 at the Chamber office. Come by and welcome Miranda. The Chamber office is located at 509 Grant Street. Miranda's email is director@bellefourchechamber.org. The Chamber's phone number is (605) 892-2676.

Pastor's Perspective

This week's Pastor's Perspective is provided by Tim Smith of First Baptist Church Belle Fourche

Difficult Times and Trials Are A Part Of Life

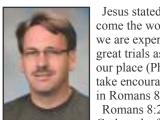

Have you been going through a difficult time? Or, perhaps you know of someone who seems to be going through a difficult trial? Trials may enter our lives due to choices that we make or things that we do, or seemingly regardless of what we have done or not done. Regardless of where these trials come from, we are often prone to ask 'WHY?' One thing is certain, difficult times and trials are a part of life.

Many of us are prone to believe that when we choose to follow the Lord, things from there on out are going to be smooth sailing. We may think that the greatest challenge we will face will be which local church to attend. Unfortunately, this is not the case.

Jesus is recorded to have said in John 16:33 "I have told you these things, so that in me you may have peace. In this world you will have trouble. But take heart! I have overcome the world." NIV

The Son of God promised His followers that, 'in this world you will have trouble.' So, how are we supposed to respond when we encounter a great trial? We may throw up our hands in resignation or frustration, or we can choose to learn from each trial.

The challenge is to put the trials in perspective. Some have rightly noted that there are always going to be people who have things worse than we do. But, that seems to minimize the pains and struggles that we are going through. And, it shouldn't. So, how should we respond?

Jesus stated, 'But take heart! I have overcome the world.' Regardless of the trials that we are experiencing Jesus has experienced great trials as well, and He willingly died in our place (Philippians 2:5-11). We also can take encouragement from the promise given in Romans 8:28

Romans 8:28 And we know that in all things God works for the good of those who love Him, who have been called according to His purpose.

We will have troubles in this life. But, the troubles that we go through make us stronger.

James 1:2-4 Consider it pure joy, my brothers, whenever you face trials of many kinds, because you know that the testing of your faith develops perseverance. Perseverance must finish its work so that you may be mature and complete, not lacking anything.

Personally, I don't enjoy going through difficult times. However, in faith, we choose to trust that the Lord is walking through those trials with us, and He is using those trials to mature us and to teach us character.

Dear Lord, Thank You for the trials that we are experiencing. Thank You, that we are not alone. Help us see the lessons that You are teaching us. And, in Your mercies cause us to see Your hand at work in the circumstances of our lives. In Jesus' Name, Amen Pastor Tim Smith

Why You Need a Physical Therapist on Your Healthcare Team

With health in sharp focus as a result of the pandemic, now may be a good time to look at the team of experts you have in place and see if there are any improvements you could make. You probably have a family doctor, dentist, and optometrist. Maybe you have some specialists, physicians, a trainer, or a massage therapist. If a physical therapist isn't a part of your healthcare team, you're missing out on taking care of a big part of your health. To understand why you need a physical therapist, you need to understand what they do.

PHYSICAL THERAPISTS HELP YOU DO THINGS

The American Physical Therapy Association defines PTs as "health care professionals who diagnose and treat individuals who have medical problems or other health-related conditions that limit their abilities to move and perform functional activities in their daily lives." So physical therapists help you do things that you have trouble with. That could be going for a hike, playing with your kids, or getting through a day of work without pain.

PHYSICAL THERAPISTS REDUCE PAIN

Chronic pain is a huge problem worldwide. A big part of that is low back pain. Statistically, around 80% of people will have low back pain in their lifetimes. Physical therapists are trained to treat pain without surgery or medications. If you have back pain, an arthritic knee, neck pain, or an old injury that won't go away, a PT may be able to help.

PHYSICAL THERAPISTS
KEEP YOU HEALTHY

KEEP YOU HEALTHY
The APTA goes on to say that "PTs work with individuals to prevent the loss of mobility before it occurs by developing fitness- and wellness-oriented programs for healthier and more active lifestyles." That means that a physical therapist can help you determine your risk for injury, choose the right fitness program, and improve the quality of your life by improving your health and ability to move.
PHYSICAL THERAPISTS

PHYSICAL THERAPISTS CAN HELP YOU LIVE LON-GER

It's well known that the risk of many of the leading causes of death can be reduced by exercise. Some of these conditions would include heart disease, cancer, lung disease, diabetes, and stroke. By helping you move better with less pain, finding the right exercise program, and helping you to make healthy lifestyle choices, a PT could help you live longer.

Physical therapists have a unique set of skills and expertise that can do a lot to improve your health and quality of life. If you don't have one, consider adding one to your healthcare

Roundup Café to Open August 11

The sign won't say Patty's place for long, as Dave and Mindy Homola plan to re-open on August 11 under the name Round-up Cafe. Wi-fi and coffee will still be available along with a whole host of other items.-Brunner photo news@bellefourchebeacon.com BELLE FOURCHE – After getting her feet wet for a year working at the Aladdin Café in Aladdin, Wyo., Mindy Homola and her husband Steve, plan to open at the old Patty's location at the intersection of Highway 85 and National Street in Belle Fourche.

The opening date is August 11. Hours of operation will be Tuesday's and Thursday's from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. and Friday and Saturday from 7 a.m. to possibly 8 p.m. or later if it works out.

"I've always wanted to own a little coffee shop or café," said Mindy, and after working in Wyoming they found the perfect place courtesy of a nod from their accountant, they made the deal.

Mindy is originally from the west coast and she and her husband have lived in the local area for the past 13 years. Prior to working at the Aladdin Café, she was a stay-at-home mom to seven children.

"My baby is 11 and the kids are old enough to take care of themselves," she said. "We were on the lookout for another spot and this is perfect." They are currently in the process of selling their portion of the Aladdin Café to their former partners.

Food will be what Homola calls traditional breakfast stuff, like egg bake, oatmeal bake and homecooked items. There will be burgers and some sandwiches as well as daily specials including casseroles, roasts or

They also plan to have a variety of desserts, but want to see what people want and like.

"We will have a few more kid items on our menu," said Mindy. "We have a Facebook page at Roundup Café." The phone number is 605-723-1639 if people would like to check them out in advance. Wi-fi will still be available as well as a good cup of joe, so people can still plan to come in and sit a spell while working or browsing on the internet.

"We have big shoes to fill and we're gonna do our best," said the new entrepreneur.

SCHOOL OPENING

Rural routes and in-town busses and shuttles will run as usual. According to the plan, busses will be sanitized daily and students are encouraged to follow safety measures such as avoiding unnecessary touching and washing hands regularly. Individual building principals will communicate about drop-off and pickup procedures. Busses will be loaded from back to front and family members are encouraged to sit together. Students will be highly encouraged to wear a mask while on the bus and will use hand sanitizer when entering and exiting the bus.

When distance learning is required each building level will utilize an online learning management system that will allow teachers to deliver instruction, house important materials, assess student learning and communicate regularly with parents. Students in grades 9-12 will utilize Schoology and Acellus while students in grades K-8 will utilize Canvas. Students will have access to a district device that can be used at home in the event of school closure. Parents will receive information on how to support their students from home using both Schoology and Canvas.

Cafeteria staff will be required to wear masks when serving food to students, and adequate time will be provided for students to wash and sanitize hands before and after meals. A touchless cashier system will be utilized for meal check-out for all students. Disinfecting of tables and chairs or other contact surfaces will occur before, during (as needed), and after meal services.

The Bronc Breakfast (Breakfast in the Classroom Program) will be offered for K-8 students the same as before to help promote social distancing. All previously self-serve food items will be served prepackaged OR served by food service staff. The district says all meal service options and operating procedures will be continuously monitored to determine where modifications may be needed.

If students or staff are ill or displaying symptoms, they are encouraged to stay home. If a student becomes ill during the school day, parents will need to make arrangements to pick up their students from school as soon as possible.

Special Education and ELL services will be modified depending on the needs of the student and the content delivery method. Case managers will communicate with students and families individually.

Parent can access more information by visiting the district's new website portal at bellefourche.k12.sd.us the same section of pipeline earlier in the summer.

The pipeline in question supplies what the city calls its "high town" system, roughly from Summit Street south to Hat Ranch. Around 2,400 feet of that pipeline will be replaced which runs along the west side of Old Belle Road at the foot of Redwater Hill to the Redwater River. That section has been especially troublesome since late June when there were several leaks that needed emergency repair.

"We've ordered the parts and pieces and Eaton (Construction) said the piping is here but some of the fittings haven't arrived yet," Nafu said. "So Eaton thought we should probably wait to start working on it until after Rally.'

The new pipeline will laid into a trench that will be dug alongside the old pipe, about 10 feet away. Once the new line is in place it will be pressure tested and then a water sample will be sent to a lab in Rapid City for testing. If the water is bacteria free crews will begin tying in the new line on each end. That procedure is expected to be completed within a day but there may be a reduction or disruption in water supply.

"We'll fill our water tanks before we tie it in and then ask people to conserve and hopefully we'll get the work done before the water is depleted," Nafus said.

A red alert will be sent to citizen's mobile devices and computers prior to the tie-in day with a detailed map of what areas of the city will be affected.

The pipeline in question brings the city's main source of drinking water from underground springs near Camp Comfort Road, north of Spearfish. The source, called a gallery (a collection of underground pipes for gathering the water), was developed in 1912 and has been supplying the city with potable water ever since.

The water travels from the gallery, up Redwater Hill, and into the Redwater storage tank on the west side of Highway 85. Since the gallery is actually at an elevation higher than the Redwater tank, the water flows by gravity at a rate of 700 gallons per minute. A pump station installed at the base of Redwater Hill about 20 years ago has the capability to increase the water flow to 2,000 gallons per minute.

Nafus says the waterline from the Redwater tank to the city has been updated since 2000. However the line from the Redwater tank back to the gallery at Camp Crook Road, about 4.5 miles, is a patchwork of pipe that has over the years been upgraded, the last major upgrade coming in the 1950's.

"We plan on replacing the entire section within the next 4-5 years," Nafus said. "We will make it all 18" diameter pipe which will increase water flow to the city by about 20% for future needs."

From A1 FALL SPORTS

Along with safety, the activities proposal outlines screening procedures and protocol for confirmed cases. It covers South Dakota High School Activities Association policies relating to rescheduling or cancellation of contests and how post-season schedules might be affected. Fall sports are classified into low risk, moderate and highrisk categories. As one would expect activities such as golf and cross country are low risk while football and competitive dance/ cheer is high risk. Volleyball is a moderate risk.

Also in consideration are the fans. Nowowiejski has requested the city remove the bleachers from the soccer fields and parents and fans are asked to bring their own lawn or camping chairs so as to encourage physical distancing. Attendance at home football games will be limited to 246 fans.

"The total number of fans allowed into (Lou Graslie Field) will be the total capacity of the stadium divided by 6 to allow enough room within the facility to follow social distancing guidelines," Nowowiejski's report states. "Therefore, the total number of fans will be limited to 246."

Likewise at volleyball games attendance will be limited to 200 fans in the high school gym. And there will be no fan attendance at volleyball tournaments, in order to allow team members to social distance in the stands. Instead fans are encouraged to view the events through the use of the district's new NFHS live-event streaming service. For information on the live streaming service visit NFHSnetwork.com and search Belle Fourche.

As for parents and fans who wish to attend road games Nowowiejski says the district will observe the local conditions at the visiting school in determining restrictions on crowd sizes.

"If fan attendance is allowed at a contest, fans from both or all teams involved should be allowed to attend in the same capacity deemed safe for home teams to attend," the report

Other changes this fall include:

•No fans at competitive cheer and dance events to home football games •Masks are highly encouraged for press box workers at Lou

•No tailgating festivities prior

Graslie Field •Concession stand workers are required to wear masks

•Plexiglass will be installed at concession stands

 Concessions will be pre-packaged food, candy and drinks

•Cross country will limit the number of teams competing •Cross Country teams may bring only 4 varsity and 4 JV athletes per meet

•No out of state schools in cross country meets

•No awards ceremonies in either golf or cross country (per state requirements)

There is one aspect of athletic competition where masks will not be allowed. Football players are not allowed to use face masks or cloth coverings as it affects the ability of the helmet chin strap to snap properly. Players will be allowed to integrate visors into their helmets as long as they are 100% clear.

THE STRANGE POLAR BEAR: I went to a zoo one day. I liked seeing all the animals, but my favorites were the bears. There were different kinds of bears, including black bears, brown bears, grizzlies, and polar bears. I went to the polar bear exhibit, and one of them said "Bye!" when it saw me, which was strange. It said "Bye!" to anyone who walked up to the exhibit. And it said "Bye!" When we walked away. Then I realized it was bye-polar bear.

"Building Main Street, not Wall Street" Addition by Subtraction

Albert Einstein said, "Stay away from negative people. They have a problem for every solution". We all know people who have a problem for every solution. This is what can oftentimes kill a community's efforts to move forward. Just as perfect can be the enemy of great, at times it is wise to settle for good if it moves you in the direction of great.

For a community to achieve greater success and become what it is capable of becoming, they don't need to always add new initiatives. They may need to remove a few projects. Here are a few things a community might consider removing in order to be more successful and capable of achieving new heights. Many of these can be kicked to the curb immediately, others take much more effort. Eliminate short-term thinking - The most successful communities have ultimate long-term goals and strategies that set their direction. All their short-term thinking then feeds into those long-term goals and strategies. They understand their long-term thinking or goals will determine their shortterm thinking and habits. The wrong set of habits are destructive to achieving their goals and objectives. Your thinking and habits shouldn't be something you just do, they must be

Give up thinking small -Your community must think BIG! Far too many communities don't have the courage to think big. Historically, the only large successes ever experienced are those derived from big ideas. Too many communities have experienced defeat for so long, they no longer believe in themselves. They create something you embrace in your community DNA.

"Building Hain Street, not Wall Sive

small-minded goals easy to reach and deemed safe, so they aren't viewed as failing. This reflects the small mindedness of the community. If you don't believe in your downtown, your 'defeated attitude' is the community's problem. Successful communities all over the country are proving the 'defeated attitude' is simply a narrow-minded albatross holding communities from gaining greater heights. It has been said, you never make a shot you don't take. Dare to dream and dare to achieve.

Give up your excuses -Randy Pausch expressed it best when he said, "It's not about the cards you're dealt, but how you play the hand." Successful communities understand they are responsible for their success, their failures, their strengths and their weaknesses. While certainly helpful, they learned long ago not to solely rely on the government and other entities to achieve success. They have charted their own course making no excuses, dealing with the economics and winds of change as they arrive. They understand every day is a gift and they make the most of it.

Give up a fixed mindset -Communities with fixed mindsets might think their futures are pre-determined and cannot be changed. Successful communities know they must invest an immense amount of time, effort and resources in changing traditional mindsets, educating themselves and the pubic with new mindsets, outlooks and skills.

Give up on the silver bullet - While we all want silver bullets, they are hard to find when it comes to building communities. Revitalizing a downtown, or community for that matter takes years of painstaking effort. Successful communities understand making small and continuous improvements on a daily, weekly and yearly basis gives them consistent results over time. Don't however confuse this slower evolution with the need for an occasional rapid revolution. Every community needs a revitalization revolution now and again to kick start

Give up your perfectionism − As stated above, perfect is the enemy of great! Great is the enemy of good! Understand change and transformation are never clean and clear, it can be very hard and even ugly. Take action knowing that it won't be perfect. Don't fret, keep moving forward and correct along the way. Beware of those naysayers always focused on the negative and the less than perfect initiatives that will pop up – they are a cancer to the community. Nothing is ever perfect, no matter how much you try.

Most critical, give up on toxic people - As the quote used at the outset of this column reads, toxic people must be ignored and marginalized. You know who they are. They literally have problems for every solution. They create problems, they start or perpetuate rumors, they drag others into the fray and are just plain destructive to communities. They are a cancer to any forward-thinking community. If you can't convert them to your positive-thinking team, they must be moved to the category of irrelevant. Instead, spend your time with positive people, motivating people, change agents and forward-thinking individuals. Your community will reap the rewards in short order. John A. Newby, author of the "Building Main Street, Not Wall Street " column dedicated to helping communities and local media companies combine synergies that allow them to not just survive, but thrive in a world where truly-local is lost to Amazon, Wall Street chains and others. The Good Stuff

by Jim Thompson

This story may be too simple...yet I don't think and explanation is needed. If it applies to you as a manager, you'll know it. Enjoy

Fable of the Ant

by Anonymous

"Every day, a small Ant arrived at work early and started work immediately, she produced a lot and she was happy. The boss, a lion, was surprised to see that the ant was without supervision. He thought if the ant can produce so much without supervision, wouldn't she produce more if she had a supervisor!

So the lion recruited a cockroach who had extensive experience as a supervisor and who was famous for writing excellent reports. The cockroach's first decision was to set up a clocking-in attendance system. He also needed a secretary to help him write and type his reports. He recruited a spider who managed the archives and monitored all phone calls.

The Lion was delighted with the cockroach's report and asked him to produce graphs to describe production rates and analyze trends so that he could use them for presentations at board meetings, so the cockroach had to buy a new computer and a laser printer and recruit a fly to manage the IT department. The Ant, who had been once so productive and relaxed. hated this new plethora of paperwork and meetings which used up most of her time.

The lion came to the conclusion that it was high time to nominate a person in charge of the department where the ant worked. The position was given to the Cicada whose first decision was to buy a carpet and an ergonomic chair for his office. The new person in charge, the cicada, also needed a computer and a personal assistant, who he had brought from his previous department, to help him prepare a work and budget control strategic optimization plan.

The department where the ant works is now a sad place, where nobody laughs anymore and everybody has become upset. It was at that time the cicada convinced the boss, The Lion to start a climatic study of the environment. Having reviewed the charges of running the ant's department, the lion found out that the production was much less than before - so he recruited the Owl, a prestigious and renowned consultant, to carry out an audit and suggest solutions. The owl spent 3 months in the department and came out with an enormous report, in several volumes, that concluded that "The Department is overstaffed."

Guess who the lion fired

The Ant of course "Because she showed lack of motivation and had a negative attitude. So the lesson is obvious. And we see examples every day. We build our companies with layers of management in the natural course of growth, often quoting that a manager should have no more than six direct reports, or that managers should be freed to do the important, high value work. We often ignore the ants in our work lives, thinking perhaps subconsciously that value equates to salary level, or lowest level workers can be replaced. Or best of all, management generates creative output and pushes that creativity down to the worker ants in the organization whose job is to work, not think.

So in this story, was the lion guilty of just that form of managerial thinking? Why not see the obvious? Just add more ants, hopefully as resourceful as the first? Or is it more complex? We learn from our experience and education that growth comes from "top-grading" at all levels of the organization. And that the bottom ten percent of the workforce must be replaced, as we hire "A" players.

The story is meant to illustrate one folly of common management. I'd take it as a beautiful warning to all of us that some things are obvious in business, and that we should focus on what works and reinforce that whenever

WIT Coalition Gathering Brings County Status on Crime Issues

NEWELL - Interested individuals from throughout Butte County met at the Newell Golf Course to glean information from several sources, including law enforcement, court services, teachers, and legislators. WIT Coalition sponsored the annual meeting in order for residents to learn what is being done in the county concerning juvenile tobacco and drug use, student involvement, and school issues. Also addressed were topics regarding youth mental health and events sponsored by WIT.

Butte County Sheriff Fred Lamphere gave a report on the Sheriff's Department activities so far in 2020. There are four deputies in Butte County handling law enforcement.

Lamphere highlighted a myriad of issues in the county. He said that an estimated 87% of crimes that people are jailed for are drug related in the county. Many of the mental health related calls are also tied to drug use. Over 90% of the methamphetamine used in the United States is illegally transported into the US through Mexico, including the meth in South Dakota.

BCSO is working on a trial study with Avera Mental Health to use mobile tablets remotely for mental health assessments and officer guidance in the field. Lamphere said that this has aided officers and cut down the time to get help for those who need it. He believes that Tele-Mental Health will be used even more in the future.

Lamphere stated that many things have changed and will continue to change with the advent of the COVID-19 pandemic. He believes that the changes that have taken place in BCSO and other county office protocols will continue as they move forward.

Belle Fourche Police Chief Marlyn Pomrenke spoke to the crowd on behalf of law enforcement in Belle Fourche. He pointed out that marijuana is causing new mental health problems that are different than earlier decades. Butte County State's Attorney Cassie Wendt added that the marijuana used today contains 75-99% THC (that component that gives the "high" in marijuana) compared to 1-3% THC in the 1960s. Pomrenke confirmed that the Tele-Mental Health has cut down on the handling of many mental health issues. But at the moment, there are other matters that concern the BF Police Department even more, including a lack of PPE supplies. At this time the department is using PPE from 2001. The supply of masks is all right, but gloves are hard to find he said.

Wendt said that misdemeanors are on the increase with juvenile cases up 17% and more sex crimes in the county. However, criminal cases are down with magistrate cases doubled. The Butte County court system has not shut down during COVID-19, but safety protocols are in place.

Along with the more potent marijuana now available, Wendt indicated that vaping is more dangerous that cigarette smoking as it may contain the equivalent of 20 cigarettes'

A member of the audience asked Wendt what to look for in juveniles as the school year begins. Wendt explained to watch for severe agitation, lack of follow through, and to look for new devices to deliver drugs or alcohol. Hoodies can be used to deliver alcohol through the strings on the hood for example, she said.

COLLEEN BRUNNER news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL - Nearly every Monday night starting June 22, the 2020 Newell Family Summer

Playday Series commenced. There were some bumps in the road and a cancellation of the Monday, July 13 event due to a Covid 19 case being identified, but the group held their awards ceremony with a wrap-up potluck dinner on Sunday, July 26 at the rodeo grounds. "All who participated in the 0-4 events will receive prizes and everyone that participated will also receive a Newell Play day T-Shirt," said organizer Shannon Dirk.

The July 6 event was cancelled part-way through due to a thunderstorm that came through. They restarted the next week from where they left off. Then just before the Monday, July 13 date, the group was informed that someone attending the previous week before had tested positive for Covid.

"We are putting this notice out to make everyone aware of the situation and not to incite panic," said Dirk at the time. The agreed upon decision was that the July 13 should be cancelled following a 14-day period. That gave the group only three nights to register contestants for the awards night. They changed the requirements for year-end prizes for contestants to attend two of three events.

At the July 6 playday, they only completed the third round of stick horse events and ground roping before the storm hit.

Sponsors for the 2020 Playday Series included: Sturgis Veterinary Hospital and Equine Center, Tri-State Livestock News, WIT Coalition, Crago Outfitters, Butte County Equipment, Randy Curtis Memorial, Scoggins Veterinary Services, Cross 5 Cattle Coolers, Belle Fourche Livestock, Millar Angus, Blue Line Diner, SD Farmers Union, St. Onge Livestock, Carl's

Superintendent Andrew Fergen and School Board member LeeAnn Gaer represented the Newell School. Fergen informed the group that NHS staff is fine-tuning the school to be a positive influence on students and the community. NHS Principal Steve Schoenfish assured the community members that school would start as planned.

Representatives from the city of Newell, Newell Community Club, and Butte County Commission added information on what their organizations have planned for the near future. District 29 Representative Kirk Chafee thanked Sabrina Harmon, WIT Director, for gathering the conclave together.

WIT Coalition is a group of Butte County citizens united together to do "Whatever It Takes" to help form cohesive partnerships. The organization desires to raise awareness and provide prevention for the education and development of citi-

The first serious infestation of Army worms occurring in this County for a number of years is reported in the Arpan vicinity according to A.L. Ford, State Extension Entomologist. Butte County Agent was called to Arpan last week to investigate the reported outbreak and found the pest in great numbers and doing considerable damage to oats. An instructive demonstration was on one of the infested farms where 15 farmers were anxious to learn of control methods. Poisoned bran bait was used and showed satisfactory results as a method to control these pests. The bypass roads are being constructed with large concrete culverts which will bypass the main water flow under the bridge and will not be capable of handling the wider loads. Beware and check before you try to take something over Highway 212 toward Belle Fourche.

NVN Roundup

NEWELL - Work continues on the North Park Splashpad, in the hope that there will soon be children joyfully splashing the rest of the summer away. However, there are more costs related to wrapping up the project than the Newell Improvement Corporation expected so they are hoping to have individuals and businesses support them with donations to see them through the end of the project.

"We are going to businesses in the local area in the hope that they will see the vision of what we want to do for the community," said Colleen Brunner, the treasurer of the group. "Donations can be given to any NIC member or made at the First National Bank in Newell.

With the summer rodeo playday series a wrap, those who are just "horse people" are being invited to participate in a 50-flags event during the Newell Labor Day rodeo. Organizer Sabrina Harmon is looking for 50 riders who will carry state flags during the parade in September. If you are interested please contact her at 381-9136 or via email at sabrina.harmon@k12.sd.us.

Recently the Nisland/Arpan Fire Department and Nisland Independent Community Church teamed up to show a free movie at the firehall. They now plan to do another, a more kid-friendly movie, on August 21. They will show The Prince of Egypt, an animated film. It will be the same format as before, bring your own lawnchairs and bug spray. Popcorn and water will be supplied for free. The movie will be projected on the center door of the new firehall and chairs will be set up on the cement pad in front. The movie will begin at dusk.

Lots of other events beginning around the local area. The fall parents sports meeting was held Tuesday night, August 4 and there will be more information in an article about that in next week's paper. If you have any questions concerning fall sports please call the school.

The Nisland Arpan Volunteer Search and Rescue will be holding their annual brisket feed on August 8 at the firehall. This is their big fundraiser for the year so they hope people turn out for it to support them. It runs from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. There are big red signs with information on them on either side of the town of Nisland. Brandon Freed of Runnings recently donated 20 cases of water for the feed. These type of donations are really appreciated.

The Feeding South Dakota truck was once more in Newell, on August 4 from 12:30 to 1:30. There were non-perishables, frozen goods, and produce available to all who were interested. There were no requirements for receiving a box of goods and Feeding SD will continue this as long as there is a need, usually once a month. People are encouraged to watch the Facebook page of Terri Dutton Blanchett, who is the local contact. Or watch the STEW Newell page for the posts.

Cox Sweet Corn is now available at Howdy's Newmart.

The Country Cookie (Madison Lyndsey) is now taking orders for October on her website. This is the only way she will take orders now as the orders coming through Facebook and Instagram are too confusing to keep track of. Check it out-she has a brand new commercial kitchen for her business.

Officials of the Newell Golf Club have received many protests from members of the club as to the condition of the putting greens at the local course. They point out that some of the greens have been completely ruined by women who persist in playing while wearing highheeled shoes. Only players wearing flat shoes are permitted on any of the golf courses in other towns and while officials of the local club have posted regulations, yet some women players persistently ignore the warning. Since women are permitted to play free of charges, certainly they should be willing to do their part.

Wisdom from Out West!

The Opinions of Robert Dennis; Self employed, rancher, saddle maker, poet, and picker. rdennis@qwtc.net

It is hot this morning and going to get hotter... why is it that hotter is so hot, until you eventually get used to it, start doing your outside work earlier, taking a siesta until it cools off towards evening and then hoping for a nice cool breeze. As the old cowboy said one time on a hot day, while looking up towards the sun, "Where in hell were you last winter?"

We had a family as guests for the past few days. Nice couple and good kids. But they wear me out. No experience around horses so you are constantly on the alert to keep them safe and try and teach them that even tho' these horses are gentle and wouldn't hurt them for the world, there are others out there who will and it is best to always be on the alert as you never know when you will meet the spookier ones. Who will hurt you, even tho' they don't mean to.

But all went well and no one was injured and all seemed to have a great time while here. Hope they come back.

We have grasshoppers and they are pretty thick. We have caught a few rains and the grass has been pretty good, but will run short now with all the hoppers and cattle grazing it. I used to be able to get some bran with the biological control in it that only effects the hopper, and none of the other small, good bugs, but can't get it anymore. I hate to spray as then you kill all the little bugs and many are good for the plants. Oh well, I guess God knows what he is doing.

124 years ago Aug 1, 1896 Northwest Times Gist Of The Question "Coin" Makes Some Clear Statements the Leading Topic of the Day It is a common statement that free coinage of silver will run gold out of circulation. Bimetalism contemplates that from time to time one or the other of the metals will be hard to get and will go out of circulation. It is the right to use either metal and the fact that the other metal is accessible and may be used that constitute the principal merit of bimetallism. There is a calamity when one metal goes out of circulation if it is the only metal the law has provided for use as primary money. Gold is now out of circulation among the people. It is leaving us to go to Europe to apply $250,000,000 annually as interest on our gold debts authorized by the act of 1878. Under the gold standard it is only a question of time when all our gold will leave us.

100 years ago Aug. 5, 1920 BF Northwest Times Boy Drowned In Belle Fourche

Charles McCamish, Twelve Years of Age, Loses His Life While Bathing in the River The Belle Fourche river at this point claimed its first victim for several years last Thursday, when Charles V. McCamish, aged twelve years and six months, was drowned while bathing in the stream. Shortly after dinner on Thursday the McCamish boy and Gene Dyer another lad about the same age, went in bathing in the river, a short distance below the railroad bridge. The McCamish boy was attempting to swim accross the river when he disappeared from sight.

Here and There A civil service examination for the Belle Fourche post office will be held in this city on August 14, conducted by R. B. Townsend, secretary of the civil service board. Since July 1, 1920 clerks and carriers are divided into five grades, the salaries of which are $1,400, $1,500, $1,600, $1,700, and $1,800 per year.

A Ford touring car, 1918 model, belonging to Chris Helmer, was stolen Saturday evening and no trace of the machine has yet been discovered. The car was parked on the street on the east side of the Smiley-Gay hardware store, while Chris and his family attended the picture show, the theft not being discovered until after the show. Drilling Resumed at Seven Mile The Frantz Oil company has resumed work at Seven Mile, the drilling being personally done by Superintendent Olney. Mr. Olney, who was ordered by the company to suspend the drilling and report to the Denver office, returned from that city the last of the week, and his instructions are to complete the well as soon as possible. The water encountered in the Dakota sand, at a depth of 1,670 feet, is causing considerable delay, but after this is taken care of, the work of drilling down to the Lakota sand will be speedily pushed. If there is oil in the Seven Mile district it will be found in this sand. Whether this is a real oil well or a "duster" ought to be known within the next week or so.

That is a question which has cropped up following the discovery that the assessed counts only 1,903 people in Belle Fourche this year – that in spite of the fact that every packing box and trailer house that sheds water is being used as a home in a town which, according to the last census, recorded 2,496 persons. Convinced that something is amiss, that somewhere along the line 600 or 700 people have been missed, the Commercial club has decided to make a check of its own. The club has voted to obtain the necessary help and count noses in Belle Fourche

Some German War Prisoners

Being Moved Out of Area As the demand for sugar beet labor in the area hits the low point of the summer, imported labor is being moved out of the Belle Fourche region. Latest to go are 119 German prisoners of war who had been employed here thru the sugar beet thinning season. Officials announced this week that 109 prisoners of war remain here, possibly thru October, to be employed at farm work until the sugar beet harvest season. The rest of the prisoners have been returned to Ft. Robinson, Neb., from which they came to Belle Fourche.

It's believed the windup is near, but a spokesman says the big three session was ended with today's meeting.

Belle Fourche Daily Post Bentonite - Old Story, But Updated by BLM

The Bentonite story has been told many times thru the years but this week it was retold by the Bureau of Land Management at their annual meeting with the advisory council. The discovery of bentonite dates back to the 1920's when a local rancher discovered the use of the "magic clay." The establishment of the pilot plant in Belle Fourche gave bentonite hopes a lift. The mill was the F. E. Schundler with first commercial bentonite starting about 1934. From there the industry has grown to the present status as revived in the following article prepared by the Bureau of Land Management: The bentonite clay in this region is of the high swelling variety. Its major uses are as a drilling mud additive and as a bonding agent for foundry sand and taconite from ore pellets. The first plant to process bentonite in northern Black Hills was built in 1934 at Belle Fourche, South Dakota. Other plants followed

Grand River Roundup

It was hot without much rain this week, so I watered the gardens every day. I planted the gardens planted kind of late, but now I'm harvesting peas, beans, beets, lettuce, tomatoes, turnips and radishes. I'll have to start canning and freezing the produce pretty soon.

Taz went to Reeder Monday morning to help Sage with a carpenter job while Reub swathed 2nd cutting alfalfa at the east place and Casey swathed the oats down to combine on Tuesday. Casey got the oats combined and put in the grain bin after he and Taz pulled most of the bulls out Tuesday morning. Taz left for rodeos in Iowa and Kansas that evening.

I took my pickup up to RZ Motors in Hettinger on Wednesday to get the tail light fixed and the oil changed. I stopped at Sage and Alaina's house to see the table that Acalia was making for the Adams County Fair and she gave me a book that Mary Jean Jensen gifted to me. It's Volume 19 of the South Dakota Department of History Collections printed in 1938 and it contains two stories that are very interesting. The first story was "First Journey to North America in the Years 1822 to 1824" by Paul Wilhelm, the Duke of Wuerttemberg and translated into English from German. The second story was "Dakota – An Autobiography of a Cowman" by W.H. Hamilton who ranched near Table Mountain in Harding County that he later sold to Albert Clarkson. Thanks so much Mary Jean!!

Amanda and the kids went to Ralph Wednesday afternoon to visit grandma Louise Jenson and Jace and Kami Jenson. Copper and Knox stayed at Aunt Kami's that night for what Copper called a "seep-over". River came home with Amanda and they went back to pick up the other kids on Thursday.

There were at least two fires over by Camp Crook on Thursday. We heard the firemen on the fire radio, but didn't hear how much was burned. The Perkins County Fair was in Bison Thursday through Sunday. Reub and I went down for the supper and talent show Friday evening. It started raining just as we left home and it rained heavily all the way to Bison, although we only got a sprinkle here. They got a lot of rain down there so the supper was served in the Bentley building and the talent show was moved inside because the bleachers in the grand

stands were soaking wet. As usual, the talent show was very entertaining. Les and Shayley Lensegrav hosted it and were joined by Wade Hofer, Phil Hahn, Eliza Blue, Arlen Hatle, and Keith and Roxi Gaaskjolen's two little grandkids. Phil Hahn sang a song he'd written about the old town of Usta. Greg Veal and I gave Phil some history of Usta, the post office established in 1931 and named Usta, which was the Lakota name for broken hip. It was first located on the south side of the Moreau River, but was later moved to the present location beside Highway 73 north of Faith.

We went back to Bison Sunday morning to watch our grandson Trig in the rodeo slack and then attended the Christian Cowboy Church service. Cole Elshere was going to be the speaker, but he had to cancel when he wound up in the finals in the saddle bronc in Dodge City, Kansas. He got Kelsey Norvold from Ft. Pierre to fill in for him and Kelsey did a wonderful job! Kelsey and Cole put on a Christian rodeo camp called "Bares, Broncs, Bulls and Bibles" and this year they had 42 young cowboys come.

Are you as sick of the rioting and mayhem going on in our nation as I am? On the news this week showed rioters in Portland, Oregon, burning American flags and Bibles and destroying private property. Watching the news infuriates and reminds me of the second verse of the song "One Day at a Time" as I try to cool down: Do you remember when you walked among men,

Well, Jesus, You know if You're looking below that it's worse now than then;

Pushin' and shovin', crowding my mind, so for my sake, Lord, teach me to take one day

One day at a time, Sweet Jesus, that's all I'm asking from

Just give me the strength to do every day what I have to do; Yesterday's gone, Sweet Jesus, and tomorrow may never be

Lord help me today, show me the way one day at a time. On that note, I'll leave you with these riot jokes:

Capitol and Tie Creek have gotten some rain this week. Things have greened up again, but the grasshoppers are still thick. Dick and Erma Albert made a trip to town on Friday for supplies. They came back for the Senior Citizen dinner. It was Bobbie's fried chicken day, and that is always a great thing. She provided 17 meals that day. They stayed to play some cards after the dinner. On Sunday, they went to the Catholic Church and then had lunch with their new priest, Father Bryan Sorensen, at Saloon Number Three. Father Bryan goes to Reva at 5 on Saturday evening; to Bison at 8:30 on Sunday; and then to Buffalo for the 11 o'clock service.

Doug and Julia Davis got to see Kellan play T-ball in Belle Fourche last week; and this week they got to see Keaton play his last game of baseball in Belle Fourche. On Thursday evening, they visited friends at Ekalaka. It was good to get out and see a few people. Still some of us could make good hermits.

Donna Lewis went to Baker on Wednesday morning; in just a drizzle of rain, as she was leaving Tie Creek. When she got home that night she found she had gotten an inch and a half of rain. She had heard that Alzada had gotten 7 inches. If that is correct, the Little Missouri should be rising soon. On Friday, Donna made a trip to Ekalaka, and saw that Boxelder Creek was up and running. On Sunday, Gary and Frank came out to put out salt and mineral for the cows. They checked cows, and did some fencing.

Rachel Melum took potatoes over to Shirley on Sunday, and they had some of them for supper. One year some that she raised were yellow and some were purple. This year she has

Bob replied, "I've lived in Baltimore all my life. It's not as bad as the media says. Find a nice home, go to work, mind your own business, and enroll your kids in a nice private school. It's as safe a place as you want to make it.'

The guy relaxed and stopped shaking. He said, "Oh, thank you! I've been worried to death. But if you live there, and say

Dorothy Padden has been canning and freezing vegetables from her garden this week. She has a good crop. She went to Ladner for the ice cream social on Sunday afternoon. Bryce and Dawn spent the weekend with their camper vacationing. On Monday, Ronda Cordell made a trip to Buffalo for a faucet, that ended up not being the right one. Luckily Diane Wear and Arlie Basler were in Buffalo, and they brought one that would work. The installation was a bit of a job, because nothing new seems to ever quite fit back into the spot of the old. Ronda has been busy with visitors and grandchildren, this week. It takes about four people to keep up with a two-year old that can open any door in the house. Luke, Jamie and the kids went into the Long Pines to check a well, and to see the sights in the beautiful weather. Ronda had gotten six-tenths of an inch of rain by Friday. Clint Zolnoski had gone to Spearfish to bring Denise home, so he picked up pipe needed to make the plumbing fit. Thanks to Luke Basler and Clint, the water was running later in the evening. Arlie was an overnight guest at Diane's. She came to help for a few hours on Tuesday. Oren Basler went with her to Gardner Lake in the afternoon. Luke, Arlie, Konnor, Jamie and Ronda drove over to the lake later, and the kids enjoyed a 'cool-down' in the water. Oren and Arlie rode with Diane back to her place, and ate pizza before coming home. Clint drove to near Gillette, on Thursday, to bring a hay trailer home. Chad and Roudy Zolnoski came out to Ronda's that day. and Curt, Caden and Carsen Zolnoski came to Clint's. On Friday, Chad and Curt took the boys and Arlie to the prairie dog town for shooting practice. Curt went back to Rapid City on Friday. Ronda and the others went to the ball field in Camp Crook that night, where Luke joined with the local team in a game of softball, and a barbecue. The evening was picture perfect with not a mosquito around. Debby Zolnoski came to spent the weekend.

On Saturday evening Justin, Kyra and Marion Kerr joined them all for supper and visiting. Chad drove the Baslers back to Rapid City for their flight back to Missouri, on Sunday. Debby and Roudy left later to take Caden and Carsen back to Rapid City. Chad came back to help Clint built an extension on the hay hauling trailer, and then headed home in the afternoon. Denise Zolnoski went to Bowman, ND for allergy tests on Tuesday. She called Ronda on Sunday morning, to say their dogs were barking like crazy. When they looked out, there were two rattlers in front of the house. Clint went out to take care of the situation, and he found a third one. People best beware. Joey Douglas headed back to North Dakota after spending a couple of months

Karen Odell is still working away on her next novel. Each novel seems to get longer. Charlie has not been keeping up with his editing, but he will have plenty of time. Karen seems to have a lot of story left to write. Charlie has finished his haying. Karen added another bit of art on the Evans Odell Publishing Facebook page, for people to try. She has now put on 72 art projects for people to try during the quarantine. People in other areas of the country are still staying home, and some like to keep busy with the projects. Charlie inspected cows for Justin Kerr on Thursday. He made a trip to Buffalo, that day, and later, Hywel helped him worked on the baler. They only got a forth of an inch of rain while Donna Lewis got three inches. On Sunday, Charlie and Karen went to church at Columbus Grove Congregational Church on YouTube, and then took a tour of the Lima Ohio river bike path and trail on the Internet. Charlie got carry-out from the Over The Edge for dinner, and in the afternoon, they talked to Mollie, Micki and Murphy. Minnesota and Washington have lots of new cases of the virus. Micki and Jesse will be teaching online again when school starts, and Kyia will be going to school online in Minnesota. The South Dakota schools will open as usual.

and in 1946 a plant was built in northeast Wyoming. The location of the plant resulted in the utilization of clay in the Alzada, Mont. area. Four plants are presently processing clay from the area. About 2 ½ million tons of bentonite are produced in the United States annually. The majority of the tonnage is mined in Wyoming. Deposits in South Dakota are nearly depleted, but the area near Alzada, still has substantial reserves. Bentonite on the public lands is mined by locating placer claims under the mining laws of the United States. There are some problems with bentonite mining activity. One of the most obvious is the surface disturbance resulting from open pit mining. This also endangers surface improvements where they are on or in the near vicinity of minable bentonite deposits. In certain areas there

Nitrate QuikTest for Forages Available

BROOKINGS, S.D. - The Nitrate QuikTest for forages is available at various SDSU Extension locations across South Dakota. This qualitative test is designed to be used with standing forages prior to being harvested for hay. By utilizing the test, producers are better equipped to make decisions based on the presence or absence of nitrates and appropriate timing for cutting. Potential nitrate concerns can be best identified by obtaining a representative sample of the forage. In order to be properly tested and evaluated, these samples need to be taken from at least 10 different areas across the field to reflect topography and soil differences, as these factors can affect nitrate levels. Plants should be cut at either the ground level or pulled out of the ground so that the lowest growth nodes can be used for the test.

If the forage tests positive, it is recommended to wait a few days before bringing in an additional sample for testing. Negative test results mean the hay can be cut without the risk of nitrates. If the hay has already been cut and tests positive, producers are urged to take a representative core sample and send it to a commercial laboratory for quantitative analysis prior to feeding the forage to livestock.

Due to the current situation with COVID-19, please call ahead if bringing samples to any of the listed testing locations to ensure samples can be tested in a timely manner. Upon arrival, producers should fill out an intake form and place samples in the drop box located outside of the office in each location. The intake form will contain important information regarding the sample and the best way producers can be con-

be tested as quickly as possible. Contact your nearest location to have a Nitrate QuikTest completed.
