Stronger Families Initiative Sets State Record

Belle Fourche couple recognized for founding work to make it possible.

Beacon Staff news@bellefourchebeacon.com

PIERRE – The office of Gov. Kristi Noem recognized a Belle Fourche couple last week for the work they did in helping organize and lead the success of the first year of the state's Stronger Families Together (SFT) program.

At a one-year celebration event held at the Ramkota Convention Center in Pierre, Damen and Kristi Woolsey were acknowledged for establishing South Dakota Kids Belong which led to Gov. Noem's initiative

"Last year I worked with South Dakota Kids Belong and the Dept. of Social Services to launch a transformational recruitment effort to get more families involved in foster care," Gov. Noem told the crowd. "We called that effort Stronger Families Together. And it had the ambitious goal to recruit 300 foster families a year for four years. Well, one-year later we've met that goal. We have successfully recruited those 300 foster families."

It's the first time in state history that South Dakota has added more than 300 licensed foster families in a single year.

"When we first set the goal, I was split. There was the 'Doubting Thomas' in my mind that wondered if we could. But in my heart I believed it would happen," Pastor Damen Woolsey told the Beacon.

Woolsey is the Ex. Director of South Dakota Kids Belong and maintains an office at the Connection Church in Belle Fourche.

"For me it's all about seeing what God did working through his people," he said. "The more we work together the more the kids win."

The Woolsey's began their work with SD Kids

Belong in 2018 out of their Belle Fourche home. During their first big fundraising gala in 2019 they invited Lt. Gov. Larry Rhoden who attended with his wife Sandy. The Lt. Governor then relayed the story of what the Woolsey's were doing to newly elected Gov. Kristi Noem.

"When I first talked to the governor about it, I knew it was something that was close to her heart," Lt. Gov. Rhoden told the Beacon. "She could see the vision for what it could lead to. I knew this public-private partnership would be a match made in heaven."

At the time, in mid-2019, Gov. Noem had just appointed Laurie Gill as Secretary of the SD Dept. of Social Services (DSS). Gill says that the Lt. Governor had asked her to begin talking with a few people about forming a partnership. According to Gill the Governor was already working on an initiative related to foster care and adoption. It was about that time, she says, when the two worlds just came together.

"We met and we sat down with the Woolsey's, and we began moving towards creating a new initiative," Sec. Gill told the Beacon. "Our staff put their heads together and started the layout and the structure that included a partnership and we realized that South Dakota Kids Belong was part of America's Kids Belong which actually had a structure that was being used in other states. So we started to become familiar with it and the rest is history."

Brian Mavis, co-founder of America's Kids Belong (AKB), flew into the Pierre from Colorado to take part in the event and express his appreciation to state leaders for their cooperation. Mavis says that in each state where AKB operates they take an approach that tries to bring together groups that will have the biggest impact.

"We use this idea of having a convening authority, which is somebody who can bring everybody together," Mavis told the Beacon. "We have that here in South Dakota with Gov. Noem and Sec. Gill. By having their stamp of approval, it really gives us a chance to make a lot more progress than we normally would. It's like the geese flying in formation analogy. They can get everybody to come together and go further faster."

Mavis says that the SFT was extremely committed to their goals and kept their eye on the numbers, which he called "very meaningful goals."

"And that's why I'm here to say thank you," Mavis said. Mavis called the first-year results of the campaign "amazing" considering the nation-wide COVID pandemic in 2020 and 2021. This type of success was unique to AKB during that time and Mavis credits the determination of the SFT team and the Woolsey's.

"Damen and Kristi are just amazing people," he said.
"They are people of deep character. I think their two gifts are grit and grace. They just go in with love and when they hit an obstacle they figure out another way to get around it. I love them."

"The Woolsey's are very

New School Resource Officer: Stephen Schmeltzer

news@bellefourchebeacon.com BELLE FOURCHE - Belle Fourche Schools will begin the 2022-2023 school year with a new school resource officer (SRO). Officer Stephen Schmeltzer is looking forward to his new role. Schmeltzer smiled broadly as he explained why he applied for the job. "I'm a kid at heart." He said. Then on a more serious note, he explained how an SRO officer at his high school in Sturgis had a positive and profound influence on him as a teenager. "He's probably the reason I became a police officer."

Officer Schmeltzer has a friendly smile, a kind demeanor, but he is not without a serious side. He looks forward to getting to know the students and becoming a familiar presence in their daily lives. He wants all students to know that he is there to help them, as well as to ensure their safety.

As a school resource officer he will have an office at the high school but will divide his time equally among the elementary, middle and high schools.

Officer Schmeltzer has been with the Belle Fourche Police Department since 2019. Born in Rapid City, he has lived throughout South Dakota. He does not like to talk about himself, but shared that his original goal was to become a lawyer.

Rather than studying law, Schmetzer gravitated toward police work. He began as a reserve officer and has completed reserve officer training and the Basic Law Academy, a 13-week course required of all law enforcement officers in South Dakota. Additionally, all police officers must complete a minimum of 40 hours of training every two years. Eventually, he plans to finish his BS degree in criminal justice.

These days, most school districts rely on SROs. Of course, SRO officers are expected to understand legal protocol specific to schools. In fact, SRO work requires many additional skills and knowledge.

Recently, he completed the basic level training course through the National Association of School Resource Officers (NASRO). The course involves 40 hours of intensive training in building positive relationships with students, parents and staff. The training includes counseling instruction, considerable information on ever changing school law,

Leo Giacometto, Jr. 65

Leo Anthony "Tony" Giacometto passed away in the Kingdom of Bahrain on August 8th, 2022 – a fitting location for this sheepherder from Alzada turned international entrepreneur.

Leo was born in Belle Fourche, South Dakota on May 14th, 1962 to Leo Eugene Giacometto and Sondra Floyd. He was raised on the six-generation family ranch outside of Alzada, Montana where he developed a strong work ethic and a deep appreciation for family, land and livestock, eventually purchasing the ranch and extending the Giacometto legacy in South-

Leo began his life of military service at the age of 17 when he enlisted in the United States Army. His first deployment took him to Panama as a military police officer. It was in Panama that he met his first wife, Mildred "Chomba" Echeverria. As with everything in his life, Leo's military career was characterized by hard work and an adventurous spirit. He was a graduate of the United States Army Military Police Academy, Airborne School, Jungle Warfare School, U.S. Army Command and General Staff College – to name a few – and an honor graduate of the Montana Military Academy. He served his country honorably for 23 years, spending the last eight years as a U.S. Army Reservist assigned to the US State Department's Counterterrorism Taskforce, a post which would see him deployed around the world, and retiring as a Lieutenant Colonel.

After Leo's initial enlistment in the U.S. Army was complete, he purchased the family ranch and became a full-time rancher. While on the ranch, he served as the Carter County Magistrate which was his first foray into politics. From then, Leo's passion for the ranch and people further expanded his political interest and began a career that took him from Carter County, to the legislative chambers of the Montana State Capitol, and eventually the halls of the U.S. Capitol.

After serving as the Carter County Magistrate, he was twice elected and served two terms as Montana State Representative (1987-1990). In 1990, he was nominated by President George H. W. Bush and confirmed by the US Senate to serve as the U.S. Marshal for District of Montana, one of the youngest U.S. Marshals in the history of the Marshal Service. Leo went on to hold Cabinet level positions for two Montana Governors serving as the Director of Agriculture for Gov. Marc Racicot and as a member of the Northwest Power Planning Council for Gov. Judy Martz. In 1995, Leo relocated to Washington, D.C. to serve as Chief of Staff for U.S. Senator Conrad Burns of Montana, a man he deeply respected and admired.

Following his career in politics, Leo took all he had learned from his military and public service and applied it to assist both domestic and international companies navigate the political and bureaucratic red tape that is Washington, DC. Serving as an advisor for clients ranging from Fortune 500 companies to tech startups, Leo never saw a challenge that he did not believe could be overcome. He was known for his creative approach to problem solving. As he expanded his consulting business, Leo began to focus on international business development, a decision that would again take him to the far reaches of the globe. From Africa to the Middle East and Eurasia to Mongolia and Bahrain and Azerbaijan Leo found himself involved in everything from telecommunications and oil and gas exploration to aviation and block-chain management. He traveled to over 100 countries in his life. He was as comfortable in any foreign country as he was at home on the ranch in Alzada. He made friends all along the way of his journeys and was always the life of the party.

After a 10-year courtship, he married Aurelia Skipwith in New Orleans on September 25th, 2021. The final chapter, and all too short, between them really began when they first met in 2003. Sharing Leo's zest for life and adventure, Aurelia brought out the best in Leo, and Leo in turn brought out the best in Aurelia.

Leo was truly larger than life. He worked hard, played hard, and loved deeply. He will be missed by everyone that had the pleasure of knowing him.

Leo is survived by his wife, Aurelia Skipwith Giacometto; two children, Leo Cassidy Giacometto and Tasha Giacometto; his parents, Leo Eugene Giacometto and Sondra Courtney; his sister, Sabrina Schroeder; his two brothers, Joseph Floyd Giacometto and John Giacometto; his two grandchildren who he adored, Caitlin and Vincenzo, and several nieces and nephews.

Visitation will be from 10 am till the time of services Saturday at the Belle Fourche Rec Center Auditorium.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, August 27 at 11:00 am at the Belle Fourche Rec Center Auditorium. Following there will be fellowship at the Branding Iron Steakhouse and Social Club.

Pastor's Perspective

He also said to the crowds, "When you see a cloud rising in the west, you immediately say, 'It is going to rain'; and so it happens. And when you see the south wind blowing, you say,

'There will be scorching heat'; and it happens. You hypocrites! You know how to interpret the appearance of earth and sky, but why do you not know how to interpret the present time?"

See the signs of the times...and prepare; you know it is coming

To receive reports of baseball-sized on the radio and not do anything to prepare leads to a total loss. We didn't have much time, still my wife and I at least got some things under cover before the June hail storm. It could have been worse. Then we heard that more hail might show up the next day, so we boarded up windows in preparation. That hail never came, but again, we were ready.

Today I read a headline which said, "Rural Emergency Responders Facing Overwhelming Financial Toll Due to Impending Federal Regs." Wow, I thought, the federal government gave us less than a year to prepare for improved communications for emergencies. Oh no. But after very few keystrokes, I saw that this impeding P25 standard had been in the works since 1989. It has gone through two phases. A Homeland Security fact sheet on P25 Compliance was issued in 2020. So, this has been talked about for over 30 years and yet our communities were caught totally unaware? Are Federal Regulations ruining us or are we more like the kid who wakes up Monday morning realizing that their book report on Moby Dick is due?

See the signs of the times...and prepare; you know it

See the signs of the times...and prepare; you know it is coming.

Jesus issued this call to his contemporaries. It is found right next to a call to reconcile with our enemies and right before a call to repentance. And all of this is to set up his forceful parable of the fig tree (Luke 13:6-9). These things—reconciliation, repentance, bearing good fruit—are what Christians are to be about. Don't wait until it is a crisis—until you die. If we can't talk to one another about emergency communications or immanent hailstorms, how will we talk about living together in the Kingdom of God. This is about building community and learning to live in harmony with everyone before it is too late.

See the signs of the times...and prepare; you know it is coming.

Now is the time to build or repair relationships with one another. Now is the time to say, "I'll do better in caring for others." Now is the time to bear good fruit the Kingdom of God.

Kathy Wainman 75

Kathleen Mae Wainman, 75, of Belle Fourche, passed away peacefully in her home with her husband by her side on the morning of August 18, 2022. Kathy was born March 18, 1947, in Malta, MT, to Earl and Dorothy Harden. She was the second of three children, with two brothers.

Kathy grew up in Fairview, MT, and graduated Fairview High School in 1965. While in high school, Kathy was active in the band, choir, Drama Club, German Club, Pep Club and head reporter for the Press Club. She also worked at the Fairview News and always talked about this time fondly; her father owned and was the editor of this weekly newspapers. She and John frequently traveled back to Fairview in the summers to be a part of the "annual" Class of '65 reunion. Following high school, she attended the National College of Business in Rapid City.

Kathy enjoyed driving through the Black Hills with her husband, fishing at Strawberry Pond, playing the piano, painting, and crafting. Additionally, she was a great cook, and all her granddaughters were sure to request the special recipes that were 'in grandma's head'.

Kathy also truly enjoyed spending time with the large family she and John built. She loved going to the beach with her family, spending time with her grandchildren by the pool in her backyard and sitting at the kitchen table visiting with her granddaughters.

Also, over the past 15 years, she and John rarely missed a Taco Tuesday in Lead with their son John

She and John spent most of their time doing things together; she especially loved playing daily games of Yahtzee and cribbage. They kept an ongoing tally—10,660 games of Yahtzee and 4,769 games of cribbage (Kathy was a bit of a competitor and the big winner at Yahtzee).

Kathy is survived by her loving and devoted husband of 56 years, John; her three children and their spouses: Trish (Brad) Mitchell of Canon City, CO, John (Gidget) Wainman, of Lead, SD, Bill (Estelle) Wainman of Newell, SD; ten

Tri-State Museum and Visitor Center to Hold Event to Honor Memory of Carla Dailey

NehlDental.com

The Tri-State Museum and Visitor Center will hold an event to honor the memory of long-time museum supporter, Carla Dailey on August 27 at 1 p.m.

Dailey died unexpectedly on July 27 in Belle Fourche. She was a long-time supporter of the museum and served in many capacities. She was a greeter in the Visitor Center and the Johnny Spaulding Cabin; baked, cooked, and helped serve food for the First Saturday Brunches; often attended Family Fun Days; worked the admission table at Tri-State Performer Plays; helped with holiday décor and festivals and assisted with the cleaning of gardens and planting of summer flowers.

Dailey had also served as president of the Tri-State Museum and Visitor Center board since 2018. Additionally, she served as the liaison to the Tri-State Museum Foundation board.

'My first day as director was November 3, 2014, and within 30 minutes of my arrival, Carla came to my office with a vase of flowers, to welcome me," recalled Tri-State director Kristi Thielen. "In the years since then, she always brought flowers to any staffer who was celebrating a birthday. We are stunned at her sudden death, especially as she was looking forward to the museum addition and that project is now moving forward. We will feel her loss for some time."

The August 27 event will include beverages and hors d'oeuvres. There will also be a table with photos of Carla and some of the many items she donated to the museum over the years, as well as a program in which those who attend will be invited to share memories of Carla.

The community and those who wish to honor Carla are invited to attend. For further information, please call 605-723-1200. The Tri-State Museum and Visitor Center is located at 415 Fifth Avenue in Belle Fourche.

Museum Requests Artifact Loans for "In the Desert" Exhibit

The Tri-State Museum and Visitor Center will mount a new temporary exhibit to open Saturday, September 10th entitled "In the Desert."

It will include storyboards and photos about deserts, focusing on seven key deserts including the Red Desert of Wyoming and also about the desert climates found in parts of South Dakota.

Collections Archivist Jada Udager will create some desert scenarios for the exhibit but would also like to solicit loans of desert-related items from the community. "She is looking for items that tourists to the desert or desert areas might have acquired in their travels,' said Museum Director Kristi Thielen. "The perception of the desert has changed since the days when it was considered a dangerous, unattractive place or one that could not safely be traveled. Especially with cities that have sprung up along deserts, it is now an ecosystem that people are really interested in."

Items loaned for temporary exhibits always go back to their owners once the exhibit closes. "In the Desert" will remain in place through 2022. To offer an item for use in the exhibit, please contact Jada Udager at 723-1200.

The Tri-State Museum and Visitor Center is located at 415 Fifth Avenue in Belle Fourche.

opportunities for advanced training. With a confident smile, he acknowledged that there is "a lot" to know.

Many states and even some educational entities also offer training for SROs. The goal of these agencies is a collaborative effort among law enforcement officers, educators, student and parents to provide safe learning environments for all students. At the same time, SROs are trained to foster positive relationships with students and to develop strategies to resolve problems.

Belle Fourche Police Chief Ryan Cherveny, who sat in on the interview, summarized the department's position on the ultimate purpose of the SRO. "It's better to work with a child to help change the behavior, rather than to punish the child without changing the behavior."

ROUTE

Officer Schmeltzer seems well prepared and eager to take on the additional training.

He has attended Black Hills State University and the University of Wyoming where he has earned credits toward a degree in criminal justice. Meanwhile, Officer Schmeltzer balances his job with family life. He and his wife are the parents of four small children. As a police officer who is willing to take on the challenges of SRO work, and who likes kids, Officer Schmeltzer appears to be an excellent fit for the job.

Blue Jackets Program Seeking the 3,000th Jacket

In its 15th year, the SD FFA Foundation's Blue Jackets program, is carrying forward that long-standing tradition of pride, dignity and honor, by providing FFA jackets for members to earn. Help the Blue Jackets program welcome students into the FFA family, giving the 3,000th jacket to a SD FFA member in 15 years!

The FFA corduroy jacket is more than part of Official Dress. To its owner, the FFA jacket is a physical reminder of the personal accomplishments achieved through the organization - a symbol of hope and belonging for all who wear the corduroy. An FFA jacket has the power to fill members with confidence, a sense of hope for their future and provide them with a physical piece of belonging to a community they love, FFA. It unifies members in a long-standing tradition. Let's give every member the chance to be part of the tradition.

"Putting on that blue corduroy jacket with your name on for the first time is something you never forget," says Sandy Osterday, SD FFA Foundation president. "Whether it's zipping up your jacket for the first time, seeing a mob of 60,000 blue jackets wandering the streets at National FFA Convention, or proudly hanging your jacket in the closet after an event, each FFA jacket holds a lifetime of memories and accomplishments. We want every SD FFA member to have that experience, if your FFA jacket still holds fond memories for you, we invite you to sponsor a jacket."

This school year South Dakota will have 108 FFA chapters, more chapters than ever before. When students join the FFA, they typically purchase or borrow jackets to compete in the many Leadership and Career Development Events offered through FFA. The jacket is their team "uniform" to be worn at all official FFA events. In 2021 more than 400 members applied for a jacket through the Blue Jackets program. With the continued growth of agriculture education and FFA programs, we expect the need to continue to

The Good Stuff — by Jim Thompson

Radio host Jim Thompson takes motivational stories that listeners and readers send him and incorporates them into the a daily program he calls "The Good Stuff." It has been on the air for more than 10 years. The Beacon is honored to host the written version of some of Jim's classic episodes and we proudly present them here.

You think that we learn to despise the people we elect just in our lifetime? I beg to differ! they, all parties, have been disappointing us since the beginning of time. I won't preach on term limits today. this ditty from 1899 should let us know that even 123 years ago we should known better!

by Jim Thompson (May 13, 1994)

I've got a letter, parson, from my son away out West, An' my ol' heart is heavy as an anvil in my breast, To think the boy whose future I had once so proudly planned Should wander from the path of right an' come to such an end!

I told him when he left his home, not three short years ago, He'd find himself a plowin' in a mighty crooked row— He'd miss his father's counsel, an' his mother's prayers, too; But he said the farm was hateful, an' he guessed he'd have to go.

I know thar's big temptation for a youngster in the West, But I believed our Billy had the courage to resist, An' when he left I warned him o' the ever waitin' snares That lie like hidden sarpints in life's pathway everywheres.

But Bill he promised faithful to be keerful, an' allowed He'd build a reputation that'd make us mighty proud; But it seems as how my counsel sort o' faded from his mind, An' now the boy's in trouble o' the very wustest kind!

His letters came so seldom that I somehow sort o' knowed That Billy was a trampling on a mighty rocky road, But never once imagined he would bow my head in shame, An' in the dust'd waller his ol' daddy's honored name.

He writes from out in Denver, an' the story's mighty short; I just can't tell his mother, it'll crush her poor ol' heart! An' so I reckoned, parson, you might break the news to her—Bill's in the legislatur', but he doesn't say what fer.

Mayfield, Routier, Garrett Take Titles in Lawton

The rodeo season is a long one and it finishes with a flurry of competition in the final months of the summer.

The sheer number of rodeos and miles will wear a competitor out, no matter their age or experience, but 2020 PRCA World Champion Tie-Down Roper Shad Mayfield is just getting stronger as the season winds to its Sept. 30 cutoff.

"Money" Mayfield continued his torrid summer pace with his fifth NFR Playoff Series presented by Pendleton Whisky win, this one coming at the Lawton (Okla.) Rangers Rodeo, Aug. 9. The rodeo concluded Saturday night.

"I'm riding through to the end, rodeoing like I'm fifteenth," Mayfield said with a laugh after blowing through two calves in 15.3 seconds to top the field by four tenths of a second. He left town after earning $4.756.

But Mayfield actually sits comfortably on the opposite side of the PRCA | RAM World Standings, ranked first as he plans for his fourth straight trip to the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo with season earnings better than $150,000. "It's winding down to the fourth quarter," Mayfield said.

"To be sitting first, that takes a lot of pressure off for sure and wins like Lawton help even more."

Mayfield is clearly eyeing a second gold buckle and has to stay on top of his game to keep ahead of the stacked field behind him, which includes reigning world champ Caleb Smidt, who was just six tenths behind him in Lawton.

One key to his world standings position is success on the NFR Playoff Series.

"It's huge to end the season at Puyallup and with the payoff this year, it will be even more so," Mayfield said. "Those (playoff rodeos) are the richest rodeos, and they get the best ropers in the world so they're always really tough."

In another note from Lawton, saddle bronc rider Shorty Garrett set an arena record on the final night of the rodeo with his winning 90.5-point trip aboard Beutler & Son Rodeo's Nutrena's Killer Bee.

It was a dream draw for the Eagle Butte cowboy who said he did a double take with the PROCOM assistant told him which horse he had drawn.

The win has propelled Garrett to the edge of the top 20 as he hopes to close the season strong and qualify for another NFR.

PRORODEO

Buffalo, SD barrel racer Jessica Routier continues to gain momentum as the summer draws to a close. She picked up the win in Lawton after a 17.24 second run and now stands solidly in the top 16 of the standings. Routier was 12th in the official results as of Aug. 16th with $68,499.88 in 2022 winnings.

Other winners at the $153,305 rodeo were allaround cowboy Wyatt Muggli ($1,426, tie-down roping and team roping); bareback rider Ty Breuer (84 points on Beutler & Son Rodeo's Nutrena's Anything Goes); steer wrestler Stockton Graves (8.3 seconds on two head); team ropers Jake Orman/Brye Crites and Kreece Thompson/Chad Williams (11.0 seconds on two head); barrel racer Jessica Routier (17.24 seconds); and bull rider Logan Hunter (85 points on Beutler & Son Rodeo's Moody Muley).

Capitol News By KAREN ODELL

The local county fairs are over, and already many schools will begin this week for another year. It was very hot for both the Ekalaka and the Camp Crook fairs, but the turn-out was great.

Erma Albert played cards at the Senior Center, and had a chiropractor appointment, on Tuesday. She and Dick had dentist appointments in Belle Fourche, on Wednesday, so they did some shopping while they were in town. Then things became more exciting when their son and daughter's families came. Their son, Dick, came from Texas, and their daughter, Heather, came from Nebraska, and their dogs, Piper and Toby, came with them. They went to the Old Timers' Picnic, in Camp Crook, on Friday. On Sunday, they all went to church, and then had lunch with the Erk

Doug Davis is still haying, and hopes to cut hay until the supply is gone, because any hay is good. That is keeping him busy. Julia is staying home and keeping healthy.

Donna Lewis went to Camp Crook, on Friday, for the Old Timers' Picnic. There were many people there to visit with. She brought Karen Odell some rhubarb for her freezer. Karen's had been completely eaten up by the grasshoppers.

Junior and Shirley Melum had company, one day this week. Pete, and their daughter, Bertha, came from Kansas City to spend a day visiting. The next day, they went on west into Montana, to visit other relatives. Shirley is still busy working on her applique quilt that she will donate. It is beautiful. Ernie and Rachel Melum spent last weekend camping in Eka-laka, for the fair. Tommy had entered projects in the fair, and got many blue ribbons on his

Dorothy Padden went to Camp Crook for the Old Timers' Picnic, the silent auction and the cake walk, on Friday.

She enjoyed the bronc ride, and came back for each day of the fair. Kevin and Lisa Olmsted came with their camper, and stayed in Camp Crook. Dorothy's daughter, Lorraine Chin, had come earlier to spend a couple of weeks working on the exhibits at the Theater Museum. Lorraine's daughters from Texas and Iowa came to help out, too. Last week, Dorothy's high school class was celebrating their 70th anniversary in Ekalaka, and she had enjoyed visiting there.

Last week, Dawn Padden went to Ekalaka to help her mother, Helen Stevens, who took pictures of events at the fair. This week Dawn took pictures for the Camp Crook fair. Both fairs were hot, dry, and with little wind. This week, she and Bryce took their camper to Camp Crook for the fair. They had company who especially came for the Bronc Ride. Nathan and Marietta Lakness, and their friend, Tracy Johnson, and Jason and Amber Vetter came from eastern South Dakota, south of Watertown. They brought along their trailer, and hauled back some dry heifers from the Padden ranch to grazing land in East River. Ronda Padden had an eye exam in Spearfish, last Thursday. She went to Ekalaka on Friday, for icing mix and to look at the fair exhibits. She met Jake Reynolds, and Oren and Arlie Basler for ice cream at the Wagon Wheel. Arlie went with Ronda to the Fireman's Barbecue at the high school. The next day, Jake would head to Sioux City, Iowa, to meet Luke Basler, so the kids could be home when school started in Missouri. They had spent the summer with their mom in Montana. Ronda watched the parade in Ekalaka on a very hot Sunday; then she headed to the Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary for Jack and Kay Ovitz. It was held at a beautifully tree-covered area neat the Bullock Hall. This Monday, Ronda had an eye appointment in Spearfish. Then she stayed home a few days to get exhibits ready for the fair in Camp Crook. She went to town every day of the fair, but didn't go to the bronc ride, or the rodeo. Over 200 people were served at the Old Timers' Picnic. She looked over the many exhibits in the Fair Building, and attended the barbecue before the dance. She stayed long enough to hear the band play a few songs, before heading home. She went to the parade and enjoyed taking pictures, until time for the exhibits to be released, and the street races were over. Then she took her exhibits home, unloaded them, and locked up her chickens.

Ernie Melum stopped by for a short visit at Charlie Odell's on Monday. On Wednesday, Charlie went to Sturgis to get baler parts. He inspected cows for Charlie Brence, and hauled some cows to Capitol, on Thursday. On Friday, he inspected cattle for Tim Schell and the Paddens. Then, he and Karen Odell went to the Old Timers' Picnic at the Camp Crook Area Community Center. They stayed for the silent auction and cake walk. The food was great, and so was the chance to visit with people from all around the area, and some from farther away. Hiram and Joleen Philo had come from Iowa to visit, and Karen bought one of Joleen's new novels. On Saturday, they went back to the Hall for the community barbecue, and the style show. They stayed for a while to hear the band at the dance that evening. On Sunday, they went in to Wolffy's for their delicious breakfast, served for patrons and visitors. They enjoyed the parade next, and always especially like seeing the horses. They went to the Theater Museum which improves every year. It was so nice and cool inside, that they stayed to watch the movie about Lewis and Clark. It was so realistic that it was almost like being there. Lorraine Chin has acquired some really great historical movies to show at the museum. They went on to the Fair Building to see the exhibits, that were very neat and creative. The 4-H leaders, must be great teachers, and must be very proud of their students. It was a close call, when Charlie nearly backed into the fangs of a most vicious looking wolf, that Eric Loken had preserved with his taxidermy. He was very big and dangerous. Next they went out to the horseshoe tournament, and it was good to visit with friends there. Karen

Central Meade County News

By Sandy Rhoden

Many folks were able to enjoy the Central States Fair this past week attending 4-H exhibits, booths, carnival rides, demolition Derby, and more. However, for a good time in the afternoons they still had to deal with the heat. Temps look warm but not hot like we've experienced for the last 3 weeks or so. We are in need of rain as some small fires have been fought because of it being so dry. Extra caution still needs to be taken this week until we get some much needed rain.

Cooler temperatures are welcome also because of some schools being in session already. Faith Schools started last week. While Meade 46-1 is holding registration on Thursday and will begin classes on Monday. Football games have been played and homecoming festivities are very near. Many have asked where the summer went

It was a lovely night on Friday for the fundraising supper and dance at the Opal Hall. They had a nice crowd who enjoyed getting together to visit and the kids kept very busy in the sandbox and whatever they found to do. There are currently 3 pool table in the basement. The new floor plan was displayed and a good meal was served by the ladies.

After attending the Opal Hall fundraiser on Friday Larry and Sandy Rhoden attended the Saturday supper and drawings for horses and riders for the Bronc Match on Sunday night. Rory Lemmel does a great job organizing this event and many others. It is a family affair as his wife and daughters help with needed duties as well. The drawings were shown on The Cowboy Channel. Kalen Lemmel provided background music for the Saturday event and helped with other preparations on Sunday. The Bronc Match on Sunday was a great match featuring some outstanding rides.

Ode to August

August, supposedly named for Agustin Caesar if I remember right. Not sure why, I suppose he had a fiery hot temper?

August always makes me think of county fairs and hot weather. And we seem to be having both.

We went over the Faith to their bronc match and it was a doozy. Good horses and riders. There are more coming up. One of my favorites is at Hulett, Wy. Ride a Horse Feed a Cowboy event. A big fund raiser that is used to help out ranch folks who have had some tough luck. I like its as you can set right at the edge of the arena and see it all. Of course, you can set in the bleachers, or over on a side hill with your friends and a comfortable lawn chair, if you bring one. I am always amazed that more people don't go. Saddle Broncs, some Barebacks, if anyone enters, Ranch Bronc Riding and some bulls if anyone enters. Always good stock and a great time. I am late as usual to passing the word about it, but put it on your calendars for next year.

I see there's a Ranch Bronc match at Newell on the 4th and then Saddle bronc Match at New Underwood on the 5th. If I can convince Gramma we will be going to both. Few things I like to watch as well as a bronc rider trying to stay on a good bronc. Either saddle broncs or ranch broncs. I always wished I would have had there ability and talent to do that. Only ones I ever got on were on the ranch where I didn't appreciate their ability or my lack there-of! Few things as pretty as a bucking horse Ballet.

I watch quite a bunch of these ranch bronc riders, where they use an ordinary working saddle as opposed to the saddle bronc saddle that has been set up so all riders are using the same equipment. The Ranch bronc riders can use two hands, but if they don't they get a higher score. If you have time, get on U Tube and look up the Cowboys reunion at Williams Arizona and watch their ranch bronc rides. They can not use two hands and they get a lot bucked off, but it is no disgrace to the rider as they bring in some really tough horses to rode. And when they do get them rode it is good watching. Some people don't realize there are still ranches with working cowboys on them who get on snorty horses every day and go and do a days work on them. Oh, to be young and bullet proof again!

Better lead your horse around a few times before you step in the middle of him. Might save you some skin! See you next week!

Larry and Sandy's sons, Cody, Reg, and Tristen and families were in attendance on Sunday as well.

Franice Brink helped judge cards at the Central States Fair this year so she was awarded tickets to the Bronc Match on Sunday. They bumped in to Larry and Sandy while at the Fair and spent some time together. Francie and Sandy took in some performances there at the big quanset building while Larry and Casey spent time in the PCR booth. Later, they also attended the Bronc Match and enjoyed it very much.

Many State Fair qualifiers will head to the SD State Fair which takes place from Sept.3-7. Last week Larry and Sandy attended the Turner County Fair and enjoyed viewing many great exhibits and checked out the livestock as well.

Friends and neighbors of Arden Maude attended the funeral services for him on Friday at the Central Meade County Community Center. It was a very nice time of sharing about Arden and the type of guy he was from the audience. Some may not have known that he joined the army at the end of his junior year in high school in 1946. He was assigned to HQ Battery, 339

Field Artillery Battalion in Italy as part of the Army of Occupation, moving men and material and guarding prisoners of war, and separated from the Army in December of 1947. He did complete high school after that in Rapid City. He was a great teacher and mentor, a good volunteer fire fighter, and was very smart and able to figure things out without spending a lot of money. He had a unique talent and was a man with a sense of humor and enjoyed the life he led. He will be remembered as a man of strong faith and service to many people in the community.

passionate about running South Dakota Kids Belong," Sec. Gill said. "And without a passionate champion from the private sector that is out there meeting with the faith-based communities and businesses in ways that maybe government can't do, we could not fill that side of the need."

Gill said the goal of 300 families was a stretch, but they wanted to be challenged. She said the state felt it had just enough resources to accommodate that many new foster families. And while the state has the resources for the licensing, process and reimbursement parts, it's only one piece of a bigger picture in making SFT a success.

"Because this whole initiative is a three-legged stool," she said. "It's bringing together government, faith-based organizations and businesses. And so the Woolsey's have a very important role in bringing together the churches and faith-based organizations and getting out there and meeting with the businesses as well."

In the first year SD Kids Belong signed up 71 businesses state-wide to the AKB-engineered app Foster Friendly. Business that sign up to be a part of the program offer discounts on good and services to foster families. program offer discounts on good and services to foster families.

There were 31 churches statewide that have become a part of the SFT network and in those churches 13 wrap-around teams have been established. Wraparound teams are made up of volunteers who donate food, baby supplies and household goods along with their time. Wrap team members often serve through babysitting, providing foster parents with a night out, mowing lawns, changing vehicle oil, and generally using their skills and abilities to support the needs of foster families.

Stronger Families Together placed special emphasis on the Native American community. In the past year, working with SD Dept. of Tribal Relations Sec. David Flute, they set a goal to increase the number of native foster families. In the past 12 months that number increased by a record 25%.

"We are very pleased about that," Sec. Gill said. "We do believe that it is best, if possible, that we keep a Native American foster child as close to its home, family, culture and traditions as possible and that is why it is such an important initiative."

Not only has the campaign created recruiting records of new foster families it has also had a positive impact on the retention of current foster families. And when it comes to the Rapid City area, which has been an area of focus, for the first time in decades there are more than 100 foster families in the city. The Woolsey's have added a dedicated employee to work in the Rapid City area.

"And we hope to grow a lot from there," Mavis said. "In its first year it has made a net positive impact."

As year two begins Woolsey knows the challenge will be to keep the momentum going. And SDKB plans to do that beginning close to home.

"If you're a Belle Fourche business owner go to StrongerFamiliesTogether.com and look for how to get involved as a business. If you're a church leader look for what you can do as a congregation to help existing foster and adoptive parents," Woolsey said. "Even if you're a mayor, raise some awareness about what's going on at a local level. If you know foster or adoptive parents do something tangible with them to show them that you love them and care for them."

"To see how they've built this from the ground up into the public-private partnership that it is today is pretty exciting," Lt. Gov. Rhoden said. "I can't wait to see where we go from here."

Looking Back in Belle-

These articles come from newspaper microfilm from the Belle Fourche Public library, using a new microfilm reader and printer. The photographs are from the Tri-State Museum.

Looking Back in Belle articles from Butte County History published in 1988 and The Western Cattle Trail 1874-1897 Its Rise, Collapse, and Revival by Gary and Margaret Kraisinger published in 2014.

The Dakota Territory was at the northernmost edge of the Western Trail, the greatest cowboy cattle trail in the West between 1877 and 1885. Cattle were herded from Texas north by the 99th meridian to Ogallala, Nebraska, and through that gateway to the northern plains of Montana, Wyoming, and Dakota territories. The number of beasts brought north during the two-decade long drive era following the Civil War reached at least five million. It is a wonder carnivores from the East could accommodate that much beef on their tables. Apparently, they liked Texas beef: "huge demand needs huge supply," according to an 1884 report, and by then 2.5 million head had been shipped by rail from western cow towns to Chicago for processing. Kansas City and others at the eastern edge of the plains also became important meatpacking headquarters for cattlemen.

Great fortunes fed those great enterprises in the western plains. The cattle barons, as some frontier editors called the livestock financiers (sometimes a compliment, sometimes an epithet), came almost exclusively from the East and Europe to establish operations in western towns along the long-drive trails. Some Dakota Territory cattle owners came from Britain or Scotland, for the flamboyantly famous Marquis de Morès, from France. The big operators behind the cattle drives needed many herders to do the tough, logistically difficult job of moving thousands of beeves through enormous stretches to prairie, the short grass country. To make the long trips from Texas to the Canadian border between 1867 and 1886, they hired an estimated 35,000 wranglers, cooks and cowboys.

The investments spread 1,500 miles of established cattle towns throughout the western plains. A general business rule estimated the cost of a long drive at 60 cents a head, and 80 percent of that money was spent in the cow towns along the way. In fact, the cattle industry at its acme dominated economy and culture of plains states after the Civil War. Observed noted western historian Robert Athearn, "They directed the social, economic and political scene for about 40 years."

Inevitably the towns directly catering to the cowboys grew economically, but at a price: cow town leaders catered to some of the less genteel of young men engaged in one of the West's most dangerous occupations. For those men, a night in town might be an opportunity to spend a lot, in both money and trouble making. Cowboys took in about $35-$40 a month, perhaps $60 a month for top hands, but often squandered it at a dusty cow town, drinking, gambling, shooting and procuring prostitutes. "They invariably get drunk and become a terror to the inhabitants who, on the other hand, get as much profit out of them as they can," observed a French traveler in 1884 after visiting Deadwood, Dakota Territory. Cow towns balanced tolerance of cowboy behavior against economic threat of exerting too much control. In the cow towns of the Old West, festive cowboys still meant prosperity.

The Dakota Territory's actual cattle centers were Belle Fourche in what is now South Dakota, and Medora in what is now North Dakota. While not as famous today as Kansas cow centers such as Abilene and Dodge City, these Dakota Territory towns were particularly important to the cattle industry during the long drive era. Belle Fourche, fifteen miles north of Deadwood, became the world's largest primary cattle shipping center by 1890 when the Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri Valley railroad arrived. There were beef cattle pasturing in the tri-state territories of Montana, Wyoming and South Dakota; nearly 700,000-800,000 head by 1884. Medora, some 200 miles north, site of North Dakota's only round-ups, became a nationally famous cow town thanks to two most distinctive cattlemen who ranched there: the French aristocrat Marquis de Morès, and eastern politician Theodore Roosevelt. The Fremont, Elkhorn and Missouri eventually became part of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad. The Medora project was short lived; his plan to butcher the beef in the west and send the meat by refrigerated railcar met with serious opposition from the Chicago meat trade. By 1885 it became obvious that de Morès' business was failing. He was losing a business war against the beef trust, and the enterprise collapsed. He would later sell the ranch and other assets in the Badlands.

by Mary Buchholz

Ranchers and investors in cattle ranching had no access to a study of tree rings published in 1943 which might have given them pause. By tracing the annual growth-ring of trees in western Nebraska, a scientist was able to show the cycle of five-year droughts between 1539 and 1939. During this 154-year period, there were 13 instances of at least five-year droughts. The average duration of the drought period was 12.85 years, with examples ranging from five to 26 years. Between 1565 and 1930, the periods between droughts averaged 20.58 years. Extended drought was inevitable if its timing was not entirely predictable. This country began being called the "next year country." However, our livestock sector continues to be very strong. In 2017 both cattle inventory and sales ranked among the top 10 states in the nation. The Census counted almost 4 million head of cattle and calves in South Dakota, which generated over $3 billion dollars in sales, the largest industry in the state.

How The Story of the Old West Inspired the Movie

The story of the Old West and the cattle trail fascinated the people both in America and Europe. Literature of the American West is a genre of fiction and non-fiction that primarily dealt with the 'Old West' of the 19th century, usually 1860-1900. This has broadened in recent years to cover any time period, but still focused on the natural and human context in what we defined as the American West of North America. The fiction in the form of short stories and novels emphasizes conquest and subordination of nature and/or Native Americans that reflected ideas of Manifest Destiny. Also, this literature demonstrates a necessity of having to have an unwritten code of honor in the lawless 'wild west'. Later writers produced Westerns that are moralistically ambiguous and come into the 20th and 21st century. Many of these works were used for TV and film Westerns. In 1972, the movie Cowboys starring John Wayne was based on a book by the same name written by William Dale Jennings. The story is based on a Montana rancher Will Anderson preparing to trail his cattle herd to Belle Fourche to be loaded on the railroad to go to market. However, his herders have all deserted him to join the Montana gold rush. He interviews school boys and they become his crew to deliver the herd to Belle Fourche. John Wayne stars as Will Anderson. The boys starring in the movie are Alfred Barker, Jr. as Clyde "Fats" Potter; Nicolas Beauvy as Dan; Steve Benedict as Steve; Norman Howell, Jr. as Weedy; Stephen Hudis as Charlie Schwartz; Sean Kelly as "Stuttering" Bob Wilson; A Martinez as Cimarron; Clay O'Brien as Hardy Fimps; Sam O'Brien as Jimmy Phillips; Mike Pyeatt as Homer Weems; and Robert Carradine as Slim Honeycutt. This was Carradine's feature film debut. The movie featured Mark Rydell as director and producer. He learned his skills directing the TV show Gunsmoke. August 19 & 20th is your chance to meet members of the cast from the movie: Slim (Bobby Carradine), Clyde "Singing Fats" Potter (Al Barker Jr), Homer (Mike Pyeatt), Charlie (Stephen Hudis), Steve (Steve Benedict), Dan "Four Eyes" (Nicolas Beauvy) and Stuttering Bob (Sean Kelly). The movie is available on DVD at the Belle Fourche Public Library and on most streaming services.

"Building Main Street, not Wall Street".

Think Big – Embrace Visionary Thinking!

said, "You cannot expect people with small ideas to understand, accept, or appreciate your big visions". Always remember, you will meet those unable to fathom visionary thinking as their minds aren't wired that way. I will add another quote by Emmanuel Apetsi. He said, "To be a visionary leader, the future must be your home". Creating and building the future requires leaving the present and living outside of the common

Germany Kent once

I had recent conversations with folks throughout several communities having difficulty thinking beyond what they are used to thinking. They have been stuck in neutral for so long, they find it very hard to shift into overdrive.

thought and ordinary mindset.

Those conversations are common in many local communities. It begs the question of which is more important, vision or critical thinking? I would respond this way. Without vision and big thinking, there isn't much need for critical thinking. It takes no critical thinking to continue doing the same things in the same way, in fact that might better be described as mindless meandering.

The human brain is programmed to take the path of least resistance. We do this even when we suspect that path doesn't end well. In the stock market and business world, that would be referred to as the "herd" mentality. I would also add that the herd is rarely correct and has a very poor track record in financial and business environments. Let's also add community transformation and revitalization to the category of bad endings with a herd mentality.

Why would we add community transformation and revitalization to the mix? Very simple, the system is stacked against local communities in today's world. Let's break it down. Government by nature and design are built to move slowly. That is a great strength during normal and routine times. After all, it keeps communities from making hasty decisions. On the other hand, when unsettling economic times rear their ugly head, the ability to think and move rapidly might be the only difference between ultimate success and failure. Additionally, the entire National economic system is stacked against local communities and redevelopment as well. The entire economic system in this country is geared to slowly drain resources from local communities and redistribute those resources to larger cities and Wall Street. While some of it is by design, much is unintentional. When we spend money at any non-local business, those dollars are sent to wherever that corporate headquarters might be, leaving your community forever. I should note, this isn't always bad, many services and products can only be acquired this way. However, when the dollars leaving the community through big boxes, chains, and out-of-town owned businesses exceed those staying in the community, the outlook is predictably not very bright.

How does vision play into all of this? As we mentioned above, thinking small coupled with lack of vision will be the final nail in any local community coffin. To battle the impact of the government, economic realities, and any other roadblocks, communities need a healthy dose of forward-thinking and vision. Thinking small and having vision is an oxymoron. Many traditional leaders tend to focus on issues that do nothing to solve the real problem facing communities which is the need for rapid change led by vision.

Focusing on new events, courting new local businesses, growing your revitalization efforts, developing sales tax enhancing strategies, enhancing your shop-local education, creating tourism strategies and common-sense economic development are a must. Rapid change is the only way out for communities stuck in a financial or revenue rut to effectively overcome small minds, complacency, and tradition. Traditional foundations run deep. Rapid change rocks the foundation, overwhelming the old guard quickly.

Let's be clear, rapid change is rarely perfect at first. Things will go wrong. Don't allow small or mediocre minds to make mountains out of molehills. Point out things that deviate from the plan, correct them quickly, but always focus on the end vision. Don't get swayed by small minds dwelling on what amounts to small things in the grand picture. That mentality has destroyed and continues to destroy local communities.

Remember and understand that perfect will always be the enemy of great!

Always remember the progression of nearly any transformational task. First you work hard and become good. Then you refine and make that great. Next, you continue to strive for perfection. Don't get obsessed with perfection, as we just stated, perfect is the enemy of great and is rarely achieved. Settle for greatness any day.

Water Quandaries a Possibility in the Future of Butte County

Betty Bruner

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

BELLE FOURCHE-The Butte County Commissioners were confronted by questions and comments on the availability of water in Butte County. There are more housing units in the future of the county with subdivisions needing water and water resources needed to fight potential fires.

Aaron Thramer, Belle Fourche Fire Chief, spoke his concerns during public comments portion of the regular meeting. According to Thramer, it is difficult to supply efficient fire-fighting efforts in areas such as at homes located around Highway 34 and Gray Road. He said that the nearest hydrant is at Big D on the south end of Belle Fourche.

"It's far enough away that it's difficult to save a structure," he Duane Wilen, on behalf of the business that operates the well that supplies this area along Highway 34, said that several issues have been addressed. The business, owned by James Emery, is in probate and has not maintained the well properly. A leak was found in July and has been corrected. South Dakota Rural Water Association has been called in to find more leaks at this time. Thus, said Wilen, many of the complaints have been put to rest.

According to Wilen, there is enough water at this well to maintain the subdivision. Distribution and storage are another matter, he pointed out. The waters have never provided fire suppression water. As he continued to say, the water lines are not always able to have water of that volume pumped out since it would collapse the line.

Also, he pointed out most subdivisions have a clause in the contract that says there will not necessarily be water available

"I would ask that the county commission not go into any limiting of the progress of subdivisions in the area," he said.

Commission Chair Kim Richards asked Commissioner Stan Harms what the process was on the Planning Committee to decide the outcome for subdivisions. Harms explained that the water company supplying the subdivision must show that there is enough water.

County Auditor Annie Capp said that she was in contact with DANR to find more information and would keep the commissioners up to date.

Rick McCartney also presented information and his concerns for water in the county, saying that the county is falling short of water. It is past understanding the water companies and what they have to say, he said.

'What steps are going to be taken," he continued as he drew attention to his idea that the planning board is not taking the correct view.

McCartney also expounded on marijuana growing facilities that are too close to housing. The availability of water cannot handle the infrastructure and is getting out of hand, according to McCartney.

"Plan accordingly," said McCartney.

Richards thanked him and said that the commission is becoming more aware and will continue to be educated on water usage in the county.

The Vale Fire Department needs help upgrading their radios to meet federal mandates issue is that South Dakota rural to be P25 compliant by March 2023. Mike Grubl, spokesperson for VFD, said the radios are not cheap and although the department has gotten grants, there is still need for more.

The eight portable units and eight mobile units will cost more than $25,000 to upgrade. "It's going to be a serious issue," he said. Sheriff Fred Lamphere added that it will be important to prioritize what each department needs and see where that assessment leads. Since Butte County has been declared a disaster area, finding grants for the fire radios should be easier.

Mark Hespe from the Butte County Fire Protection Association addressed the commissioners to let them know that the formation of a new fire department in Butte County is in the beginning discussion stages. It will be north of Belle Fourche. There are several steps that need to be processed first before the organization comes to the commission and then the state for approval.

Two cannabis growing facilities were granted a license to operate by the commissioners, Rushmore Cannabis Care, LLC and Butte Valley Farms.

The owner of Rushmore Cannabis Care, LLC was in attendance and explained the projected water usage by the facility. It is estimated that the facility will use an average of 20,000 gallons per week with a high end of 25,000 gallons per week. The growers will use rural water from Butte-Meade Sanitary Water District. This growing facility is located on Owl Creek Road near Orman Dam area.

The operators of High Plains Cannabis would like to change the location of the grow facilities from the north side of Highway 34 to the south side of Highway 34. Ken Barker, Barker Law Firm, was present

Belle Fourche Walking History painted State Street with stories of its history, August 19th and 20th.

"A Sip of History" is a walking tour stretching from the 8th Ave gazebo to 5th Ave.

While 'tourists' sipped on their beverage of choice from either the Wild Magnolia Coffee Bar or the Hitching Post Tap House, Dawn Newland and Bill Hennessey were their guides on the sidewalks of State Street. 6 stations were awaiting them with Belle Fourche stories like one of Teddy Roosevelt's best friends, Seth Bullock (played by Jack Scholl), a "Lady of the Night" (played by Peedee Hansen and Ashley Christine), James Craig (Bill Hennessey), Lucy Thornhill (Dawn Newland), Kid Curry (Chance

There were two tours nightly and approximately 140 experienced downtown in a new way Friday & Saturday.

Reviews have been pouring in with statements including "highly recommend", "I am so glad we went"!

A Sip of History attracted people from Rapid City to Wyoming and they came to downtown Belle Fourche to hear its amazing history, which the residents of Belle Fourche is happy to hear and share.

A portion of the proceeds will be given to the Belle Fourche Rec Center's theater for its new sound system.

For those who filled the audience for the Belle Fourche Community Theater's production of You Can't Take It with You, I grabbed a couple photos of some of the favorite kookie characters - up close and personal! These actors helped to keep the laughter rolling. Director Nathan Schreier was visibly proud of his cast and crew - and audiences! - after each performance: "I am so grateful for the strong tu

I hope we have some new faces join our casts for our upcoming shows!" On that note, you may want to Show Up for Auditions for the next shows, The Alfred Hitchcock Radio Play and A Christmas Carol - all actors and volunteers are welcome and needed in these productions! Belle Fourche FAB (FINE ARTS BOOSTERS): Monthly meeting - AUGUST 30th, 5:30 PM, at GRAP's Wine Room. This group supports fine arts events by and for our community's young people. Both middle school and high school band, theater, speech, and choir activities benefit from the group's fundraising work. You are invited to join them for meetings, or perform in their Community Christmas Belle and Variety Show programs.

September 17th 12pm - 2pm at the BELLE FOURCHE PUBLIC LIBRARY - support our local authors: I have done some investigation into where, how, and why writers might gather! These Writers have been meeting since 2011 and published an anthology, Roots Grow Deep and Strong, in 2013. They began as a small group of local residents interested in preserving personal and cultural heritage. The group meets on the third Saturday of each month to write, read, edit and encourage one another, and on the first Monday of the month for collaborative editing.

Their mission? According to group leader Dr. Meg English, "We write for the fun of it, write to improve our work. We write to preserve memories, share experiences, to get the words out of our heads and on paper. We meet to reflect and respond to the writings of others."

The group welcomes visitors or anyone interested in writing. Meg started the group after teaching a Community Education class on Memoir Writing. Jean Helmer and Joan Gerkin attended and were interested in meeting regularly. Other founding members include Linda Rothermel, Dawn Newland, Morgan Callan Rogers, Tammi Martin, Ginger Johnston-Held, Reva Potter, Louise Reade and various others who have attended periodically. The group holds two or three public presentations annually. Their facebook page is https://facebook.com/bellefourchewriters/info.

Maybe YOU know what SHOW is UP next? Share your fine arts tidbits and upcoming events at belle-lavenue@gmail.com. I especially love the juicy backstage dish and green room gossip! Stay cool out there friends, and don't forget to Show Up!.

Labor Day Preparations Continue - Queen Contestants Announced

Colleen Brunner news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL – Labor Day is right around the corner and the Newell Community Club has been hurrying and scurrying for weeks, preparing for the myriad of events that begin on Saturday, September 3, through Monday, September 5. They recently named the contestants for the 63rd Annual Newell Labor Day Rodeo Queen Pageant, which will be held on August 27, prior to the weekend of activities.

The pageant was started in 1959 with girls competing for one title, that of Labor Day queen. The princess title was added in 1995 and in 1996 a Jr. Miss was added. Seven past title winners advanced to the title of Miss Rodeo South Dakota and five as Junior Miss Rodeo South Dakota.

In the contest this year, all ages will create and present a short speech on the topic: "A Historical Character that has Shaped Rodeo History" (person or animal) Other categories include horsemanship, modeling, impromptu questions and personal interview. There are great prizes donated by many great sponsors from the community and surrounding area businesses and individuals.

The public is invited to watch the Personal Introductions/ Speech/Modeling at the Newell Christian Fellowship, 405 Elmira Ave beginning at 9:00 am and the Horsemanship at 12:30 at the Newell Arena.

2021 Royalty that will be passing on their crowns include: Miss Newell Labor Day—Cassity Nan Goetz. "It is bittersweet saying goodbye to something that has contributed so much to my growth. I have been honored to represent the town of Newell and your Labor Day Celebration over the last 365 days. I have had the amazing opportunity to take this title to literally every corner of our beautiful state enjoying all that rodeo has to offer. I will never forget having the opportunity to carry the American Flag into my first PRCA performance at the Burke Stampede Rodeo.

None of these experiences would have been possible without the help of so many people. First, I would like to thank my parents for their continued support and putting a roof over my head to make attending all these queen events possible. And next, I would like to thank Cheyenne Winkler, Raye Brown, and the rest of the Newell Community Club for their consistent mentorship and

The 2022 Jr Miss Newell Labor Day Rodeo Contestant is Victoria Ginsbach who is the 10-year-old daughter of Todd and Gail Ginsbach of Newell, SD. Victoria will be a fifth grader at Newell Elementary this fall. A fun fact about Victoria, is that she showed three types of goats this year at the county fair; meat, dairy, and fiber. NISLAND – At the Nisland/ Arpan Fire Department Brisket Feed, former Butte County Game, Fish and Parks Officer Bill Eastman made two presentations.

"These two guys have meant a lot to the Hunter Safety program here in Butte County," said Eastman. He first requested that Fred Wells of the NAVFR come forward.

amazing customers," said Jean Smeenk, the owner of the Sinclair station. "We were able to raise $3153 to help the school backpack program. All (our) customers are amazing."

The backpack program was created several years ago to help provide food for kids during the weekends when they don't have access to the school breakfast and lunches. Anna Erk is the teacher at the school that helps facilitate the program, making sure those who have a need have that met.

212/79 is no stranger to charitable support in the community. Along with the dunk tank fundraiser, which gave the opportunity for at least three children of one of the staff members the chance to get dunked for themselves.

Each Labor day Jean and her daughter Sara host the annual mud volleyball tournament which takes place behind the baseball field on the northeast side. This year the event will begin at 3 p.m. on Sunday, September 4. The time change is in hopes that the past years conflicts will be removed.

"Please come a little early to sign forms," said Smeenk. "Children under 18 need to have their parents sign for them as there can be accidents. We have Degree-less Dr. Jean and Nurse Sara to patch up your wounds, but their stitching isn't the best." The event is lots of fun but they bear no responsibility for injuries. You can call Jean at 605-890-0537 or Sara at 605-890-1796 for more information on that event.

In the meantime the owners of 212/79 will keep on putting their best effort into the Newell community.

There was a lightening started fire south of Buffalo near Tyler Hett's place Thursday afternoon. The fire departments got there fast and got it out pretty quick so it only burned about 14 acres. Trig was up in the rodeo in Baker, Montana that evening and Casey and Missy drove out there to watch

There was another fire northwest of Buffalo on Friday that was started by haying machinery. It burned around 50 acres and burned up the baler! Casey was baling the millet over at Glendo when something broke down on the baler. Thankfully, it didn't start any fires and Casey went up to Laufer Vermeer to get the part he needed to fix it so he could start baling again. We're very thankful to have the Laufer's to keep our machinery running! Reub went spraying weeds that morning until the wind came up and he had to quit. He is getting rid of a lot of Canadian thistle and cockleburs around here.

The Harding County Fair started this weekend. Amanda took the kids to stay with 'Nana' Starla Jenson on Friday while she went to Camp Crook to watch the Match Bronc Riding rodeo that afternoon. Amanda's uncle, Bronc Hight, was the entertainment for the Old Timer's Picnic at noon that day. Her uncle, Troy Hight and his band, the SonDogs, played for the Fair Dance Saturday night.

Ron and Jace Jenson and Casey went up to help Bill Holt work his calves Saturday morning. Cassie and Molly Holt were there to help too. Bill might work his other calves down at the Grinde place this coming week.

Trig was up in the rodeo on Sunday and Casey, Missy, Amanda and the little people went over to the Fair to watch him. Reub and I went to church at Slim Buttes Lutheran that morning to enjoy all the wonderful goodies that June and Jill Hotchkiss served for coffee after church.

There are more fun things going on around here next week. The Lodgepole Ice Cream Social will be Wednesday evening in Lodgepole about 5:30pm. Dennis Nash is having the Big Nasty Fly-In breakfast at his place Saturday, September 3rd from 7:00 to 10:00am. We plan to attend both of these really fun events!

The motorcycle rally ended last Sunday in Sturgis and we're enjoying the quiet now. Ron Traver sent me this several years ago:

My name is Bob, and tonight I was sitting at the bar staring at my drink which I had just been served, when a large bearded long haired trouble-making biker fellow steps up next to me, grabs my drink, and gulps it down in one swig.

"Well, whatcha' gonna do about it?" he says, menacingly... at which I immediately burst into tears.

"Come on, man," the biker says, "I didn't think you'd cry... I can't stand to see a man crying."

"This is the worst day of my life," I say to the biker!! "I'm a complete failure. I was late to a meeting and my boss fired me. When I went to the parking lot, I found my car had been stolen, and I don't have any insurance. I left my wallet in the cab I had to take home. At home, I found my wife with another man... And then, on top of that, my dog bit me."

"So I came to this bar to work up the courage to put an end to it all..... I buy a drink..... I drop a capsule in.... and I was sitting here just watching the poison dissolve.....and then you show up and drink the whole darn thing! But, enough about me, how are you doing?"

When Mr. Spencer built the State Bank building at Cottonwood, most thought he was far ahead of the times. If Newell has many more men like E. J. August 18, 1932 Petitions are now circulated throughout Butte County to place the question of appropriating for County Agriculture Extension work on the ballot this fall and let the people decide whether they want to continue the office of County Agent and Home Extension Agent or not. The petitions are being freely signed and farmers generally are in favor of dispensing with the work, especially in these times of economic stress. Other counties which will vote on the matter this fall include: Meade; Brown; Codington, Perkins and several others, it's reported. Lighting struck the home of

Mr. & Mrs. Chris Simonsen on Monday night and both were rendered unconscious for a short time. No great damage was done to the house. The Simonsen's are spending some time at Mike Thaler home since Tuesday. Carson and Phil Schroeder visited at the Simonsen home to review the damage.

Mrs. Ernest Holst and twin sons Alvin and Allen have returned to their home near Vale from Sturgis. Miss Helen Trohkimoinen will assist with the house work at the Holst home for a time.

Prairie fires, there combat and control are demanding considerable attention for Butte County farmers these days as the hazards of conflagrations increase with the maturing of crops and grasses. At a well attended meeting in the Newell City Hall Saturday evening it was decided to raise a fund of at least $2,500 for the purpose of fire fighting equipment to be used in this end of the county. Bernie Richards was named chairman of the soliciting committee and has already obtained nearly half the sum. Time is pressing, as the range is rapidly drying and equipment must be supplied at the earliest possible time in order to be prepared for the emergencies. Ranchers, farmers and businesses are making liberal contributions to the fund. The Newell Fire Department has offered to store and care for fire fighting equipment which ranchers are gathering together.

encouragement. I am honored that you have chosen to sponsor my run for Miss Rodeo South Dakota and hope I can make you proud. I truly feel without the experiences that I have had as Miss Newell Labor Day Rodeo 2021; I would not be prepared for this next step in my career as a rodeo queen. As I pass on this crown, I hope that it continues to provide other young women with similar enrichment experiences and that I can be around to give back to this amazing community.

Jr Miss Newell Labor Day— Samantha Owens is the 14-yearold daughter of Stephanie and Scott Owens of Rapid City. She is a freshman at Central High School. Throughout the year, Sami had many new experiences with representing Newell and she has grown in her service work and horsemanship. She loved meeting new people and especially adored talking to girls to get involved with horses and queening. Another favorite event for Sami was riding in the parades, she loved to see all the smiling faces and showing off her best friend, Sonny. Sami was able to help with several events in Newell including the Ram show, Santa Claus Day and the Easter Egg hunt. She also attended other events including the Black Hills Stock Show, Wild West Wednesdays at Hart Ranch, and other pageants to represent the Jr. Miss Newell Labor Day title.

She loves to share her excitement about the western way of life to potential future queens. Sami has gained new life-long friends with her sister queens and would like to say "Thank you" to Cassity and Addison for sharing this year while representing the Newell Labor Day Queen Pageant. She also wants to wish all the contestants the best luck and have a great year!

Little Miss Newell Labor

Day-Addison Brownell. "I can't believe the year is already over. I had an incredible time this past year representing the community of Newell and the sport of rodeo. Throughout my reign I attended many autograph signings, riding in parades around the area and helped with some community events like the Newell ram show, Santa Claus days and the Easter egg hunt. I got to meet so many great people during my adventures including my rodeo idol Hailey Kinsel.

I want to send a special thanks to the Newell rodeo queen committee for everything they have done. And we can't forget our sponsors for the Newell Labor Day queen pageant and rodeo because without them we wouldn't be able to put on this wonderful event. I wish all of the royalty contestants the best of luck and hope they have the best time just like I did.
