County Commissioners Take Road Tour

Betty Bruner

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

BELLE FOURCHE-Three of the Butte County commissioners, along with county highway employees, took a tour of several of the county's rural roads and bridges Monday. The tour's first stop was on 3V Road west of Belle Fourche and ended at Palo Road bridge near Newell. 3V Road is now fully graveled and maintained as the last four miles to the Budmayr ranch. Also, along the route on Rehhorst Road, the road shoulders were graded and the road spot graveled.

The Helmer Road Bridge has been completed with the county paying 10% of the cost. A grant paid for the 80% of the bridge cost. Lawrence County paid the remaining 10% since the bridge is shared by the two counties. It took approximately two months to build.

The Cowboys Ride Again

Commemorating 50th Anniversary of the release of the John Wayne movie.

Meg English

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

The Cowboys is the story of a cattle drive. When the regular cowboys quit unexpectedly, Cattle boss John Wayne (Wil Anderson) has to settle for a replacement crew. He hires a collection of inexperienced boys to drive cattle across the rugged west to Belle Fourche, a dangerous undertaking for all.

Watching the movie, The Cowboys under the stars in the soft summer air at the Tri-State Museum with friends and neighbors is timeless entertainment. It's even better when the original cowboy cast members are sitting next to us.

Last week through the initiative of The Center of the Nation Business Association (CONBA) and E.T. Sports, five of the actors travelled to Belle Fourche for the 50th anniversary of the film.

Bobby Carradine (Slim), Al Barker Jr. (Clyde "Singing Fats" Potter), Stephen Hudis (Charlie), Steve Benedict (Steve), and Sean Kelly (Stuttering Bob) were well received by steady streams of fans at each venue during their two-day visit to Belle Fourche. As a group, "the cowboys" clearly enjoyed meeting with the public and "catching up" with fans who know them well.

Now seasoned adults, the cowboy actors have followed various life paths. Bobby Carradine (Slim) a member of the Carradine acting family is professional actor. Although he has appeared in over 100 films, Carradine recalled that his work on the The Cowboys "remains a career highlight."

Sean Kelly (Stuttering Bob) describes his occupational title as "Spiritual Consultant". It means "connecting head to heart". He explained. He has a successful Utube channel called Visionary Guidance. Sean Kelly was appreciative of the opportunity to attend the 50th anniversary. "I have gratitude for the people who have participated to make this experience possible." Kelly added with emphasis on the word gratitude. Kelly works from his home in Arizona.

After the success of The Cowboys Stephen Hudis (Charlie) continued to work as an actor for a few years. The end of his child-acting career came as a "shock." He recalled. However, his interest in stunt work and driving expertise turned into 30 years of directing stunts. Now retired, Hudis lives in Bakersfield, California with his wife Lindy who is a novelist.

Al Baker Jr. (Clyde "Singing Fats" Potter) now does customer service work for a fishing equipment manufacturer. Following a 35-year career in law enforcement with the Riverside County Sheriff's Department in Riverside, California, Al enjoys fishing and "fishing stuff."

Steve Benedict (Steve) originally wanted to be an

Out of the Darkness

Special to the Beacon

September is suicide prevention month and what better way to take a stand on prevention and awareness. The second annual Belle Fourche Out of the Darkness Walk will happen on Saturday, September 24 with tables opening up at 7am for registration at the Belle Fourche United Methodist Church.

Hopefully for some sunshine to light the way! Last year's walk brought our communities together, and it was such an incredible experience. We hope we can reach even more people this year. Everyone can be a part of this movement to bring awareness to mental health and suicide prevention.

This is about taking the time to check in with your friends, your family, and self-care. These events help give people the courage to open up about their own connection to suicide. We want everyone to be able to have that hard conversation if needed. It can save a life.

The event will have a few stations, one is the hope and healing wall where there is a place to display a loved ones front door as a reminder that your mind matters.

The bead station, which I hope everyone can stop by. Losing someone to suicide or struggling with mental illness can feel like no one understands what you are going through, un-

Opry's "Old Country Music" Delights Audience

Kimberly Kaye

Special to the Beacon

To gather up the best of the best of the talented musicians, singer-songwriter's in the hills who have very busy schedules and solidify a show date, it's nearly impossible.

But they did just that on August 7th when we brought THE OPRY to Belle Fourche to a first time crowd of 200 people.

Collectively the musicians have a great passion for the "old country" music and when together they strike the first note, the energy in the room explodes! It is then you knew the collaboration of these musicians was perhaps divinely inspired!

You've got the Lonesome Duvs. Longtime friends and admirers of one another, these four incredibly talented ladies collaborate for a dynamic classic country sound sure to keep you on the edge of your seat the entire show.

Individually each have award winning musical careers boasting stage performances with top names you know and love! They are singer/songwriting multi instrumental musicians, who will keep your toes tapping, hands clapping and shouting for more!" (Pegie Douglas on stand up bass, Sherry Ann Taylor on guitar, Kimberly Kaye on guitar and banjo, and Katie Lautenschlager on fiddle and mandolin. )

Pair in: Brent Morris - You've seen him many times at the Black Hills Cowboy Christmas, High Country Guest Ranch, Hill City events and much more. He's a Black Hills favorite with his baritone voice keeping the spirit of classic country music alive.

Pastor's Perspective

This week's Pastor's Perspective is provided by: Pastor Dan Carlson Belle Fourche Christian Life Center

"Invisible Attributes"

For the wrath of God is revealed from heaven against all ungodliness and unrighteousness of people who suppress the truth by their unrighteousness, because what can be known about God is plain to them, because God has made it plain to them. For since the creation of the world his invisible attributes – his eternal power and divine nature – have been clearly seen, because they are understood through what has been made. So people are without excuse. (Roman 1:18-20) NET

The apostle Paul stated in the scripture passage above that invisible attributes of God are evident in His creation. He is correct, and we're blessed to live where access to the wonder and beauty of nature is only minutes away. Sadly, the hectic schedules and busyness of our lives often prevents us from taking time to enjoy the handiwork of our Creator and the chance to marvel at its diversity and excellence.

A couple weeks ago I was invited to go fishing at a private pond near Belle Fourche by a fellow generous enough to share his secret fishing hole with me. I sat on the bank looking across the glass-like surface of the water reflecting blue sky being pushed westward by the purples of dusk advancing from the east. A thunderstorm towered over the distant Black Hills. A hawk circled silently overhead. Minnows darted about the shallows near my feet. The scene contained every color of the rainbow. I took in a deep breath, as if to absorb it all into myself, and exhaled a quiet prayer. "Thank you, God, for calling me to serve here and letting me enjoy the beauty of your creation."

The Bible tells us that Jesus often withdrew from his disciples and the crowds following him to go into nearby remote areas and pray. King David comments on the majesty of the heavens several times in the Psalms, and we can envision him standing on a palace balcony marveling at the same stars he saw as a shepherd boy lying in a field on a still night. When is the last time you did such a thing?

Are you stressed? Worried? Fearful? Depressed? In my sermon last Sunday I shared studies from CNN Health and Psychology Today providing overwhelming evidence that regular time in prayer dramatically reduces all of these. And prayer alone before God in a quiet place where the evidence of His creative genius is everywhere is a remarkable, low-cost medicine that nourishes the soul and recharges the spirit.

My challenge to you today is to schedule a time right now when you will do as Jesus did – withdraw into nature and pray. Do not pray to nature, which is idolatry, but let God's divine attributes minister to your heart through what He has made at a time you set aside for just you and Him. Not everyone has the quick access to nature that we do here in Belle Fourche, so let us avail ourselves of the blessed gift God has graciously given us.

Broncs Boys Soccer Go 1-2 in Weeks Contests

JIM TRIMBLE
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

The Belle Fourche Broncs Boys varsity soccer team had three tough games in the past week. The Broncs stretched their record to 2-0 by defeating AA Douglas 6-2 before falling to Sioux Falls Christian 8-0 and AA Sturgis 6-2.

Against Douglas Drake Sutter, Anthony Staley, and Isaac Voyles found the net in the first half and the Broncs nursed a 3-2 lead at the break. Freshman Keagan Walker dropped in two scores and Sutter added another as the Broncs broke out to claim the victory. "I thought we clicked well and our boys played with a lot of drive and passion. We moved the ball well especially after Douglas scored the first goal," commented head coach Lucas Trimble after the win.

Belle had their home opener against top seeded Sioux Falls Christian and fell to the Chargers 8-0. "We played pretty well against a very good team, but our depth just couldn't keep up with them. But I was proud of the way we hung with them," Trimble said about the contest. Christian scored four goals in each half to secure the win. Broncs goalkeeper Josh Brill recorded 14 saves in the box.

The Broncs hosted the Scoopers on Tuesday evening. Sturgis opened the scoring by finding the net at the 16 minute mark, but Bronc Sophomore Drake Sutter answered about two minutes later with a goal of his own and it was 1-1. Sturgis snuck another goal in with three minutes in the first half to lead 2-1 at intermission.

Sturgis got on the board again with 10 minutes gone in the second half to make it 3-1. Six minutes later the Broncs narrowed the gap when Issac Voyles assisted a header by Anthony Staley in front of the Sturgis goal and it was 3-2. Sturgis managed to wear down the Broncs in the remaining 20 minutes of play to notch the 6-2 win.

The Broncs were scheduled to host James Valley Christian on Friday night in an important game for both teams, but the lightning and thunderstorm caused the match to be cancelled.

Broncs Girls Soccer Facing Tough Competition to Start the Year

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

The Belle Fourche Broncs Girls Soccer team is off to a very busy start against a very tough schedule of teams. The Class A Girls Soccer teams are deep and experienced and the young Broncs have had their hands full in their contests so far.

The Ladies opened their season with a match in Box Elder against the Lady Patriots. The Broncs and Patriots battled to a 2-2 draw in a hard fought game. The Broncs had 21 shots in the game and Ava Walker and Jazlyn Olson found the net for the Ladies' two scores. Belle keeper Aleyah Carbajal had ten saves.

The Broncs home opener was played against the Groton Lady Tigers. The Tigers broke open a tight game, and came away with a 5-2 win over the Ladies. Senior Bronc forward Victoria Brill ripped the cords for both Belle scores and Carbajal wrapped up a dozen saves. Sioux Falls Christian came to town the next day for the week-end doubleheader.

The Lady Chargers controlled the game throughout and posted a 10-1 victory over the Broncs. Belle midfielder Jazlyn Olson had the Broncs only goal, and Carbajal was busy garnering 29 saves for the Lady Broncs.

The Broncs then hosted Sturgis on Tuesday where the Lady Scoopers scored five goals in each half to defeat Belle by a score of 10-2. Brill and Olson each had a goal to lead Belle on offense.

The Broncs made the long road trip east to play Class A powers West Central and Dakota Valley this past weekend. On Friday in Hartford West Central prevailed 9-0 and on Saturday in North Sioux City the Ladies fell to the Lady Panthers 7-0.

Belle traveled to Rapid City to take on winless St. Thomas More on Tuesday evening.

Broncs Open Football Season with Road Win

Victory comes in new head coach Justin Walker's first game

Beacon Staff
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

BOX ELDER – The Belle Fourche Broncos overcame a 90-minute lightning delay and a third quarter deficit to finish strong last Friday night in a 27-16 win over the Douglas Patriots at Patriots Stadium in Box Elder. The win gave brand new head coach Justin Walker a victory in his debut game with the Broncos.

“I tell you it’s fantastic,” Walker said. “I really believed in these kids and we had some things we didn’t do well defensively but they stepped up and stuck it out through the lightning delay and all.”

The Broncos showed improvement over last year in a couple of areas. They did a decent job of controlling the line of scrimmage and kept penalties to a minimum. Also, the team finished strong in the later stages of the game scoring two touchdowns in the game’s final 12 minutes while holding the Patriots scoreless to secure the win.

Junior quarterback Nathan Wahlfeldt ran for two touchdowns and finished the night with 192 yards passing, completing 10 of 19 attempts. Leading the ground game was Junior running back Kyren Nulle who was the workhorse on the ground, pounding out 60 yards rushing on 23 carries. In all the Broncos recorded 305 yards of total offense and held Douglas to 199 yards.

Belle Fourche struck first in the opening quarter. After a short Douglas punt the Broncos set up at the Patriot 35-yard line. Six plays later, including a 4th down conversion, quarterback Nolan Wahlfeldt rolled left to throw, but instead headed for the open field and scored on a nice 22-yard run. Anthony Staley’s extra point made it 7-0 Broncos.

The Belle Fourche defense stepped up by stopping the Patriots at the 12-yard line on 4th down. Jayden Sechser halted Douglas’ Morgan Sandal in his tracks to give the Broncos the ball deep in Patriot territory.

On the ensuing drive Wahlfeldt made perhaps his only major mistake of the night. Dropping back to throw, rolling to his right, he held on for a bit too long and was sacked in the endzone for a Douglas safety.

Douglas added a touchdown at the end of the quarter on an Aiden Russell to Marcus Woods 23-yard touchdown pass to the left corner of the end zone. The extra point failed and Douglas led 8-7 after one.

But Belle Fourche took back the lead in the second quarter. From his own 42-yard line, Wahlfeldt found Tatin Yackley at the Patriot 32-yard line. Yackley then broke a tackle and outmaneuvered two Douglas defenders on his way to completing a 59-yard touchdown pass, the longest of Wahlfeldt’s career to date. The PAT made it 14-8 with around six minutes left before halftime.

But before halftime, bad weather moved in north of the stadium. With lighting in the area the game was delayed for more than an hour.

When play resumed, the two teams played the remainder of the half to a draw with Belle Fourche taking a 14-8 lead into the shortened halftime break.

Douglas came out strong in the third. The Patriots’ Tyler Dumdel scored on a 12-yard touchdown run with 7:26 to go in the period and combined with the two-point conversion, gave Douglas a 16-14 lead. But it would be their last lead.

A few minutes later, after the Broncos stopped the Patriots on 4th down, Belle Fourche put together it’s most impressive drive of the night. They started on their own 20 and eight plays later Wahlfeldt rolled out to his left and cut inside to score from 3-yards out. The drive was highlighted by a third-down conversion pass from Wahl-

Anything Left in the Barrel? — By: Doug Cole

 We have been fortunate to know and call artist Jim Maher as a friend. We are always amazed at his talents in sculpting. The following is from his Facebook page:

“I could fill a gallery with pieces that I have made as proposals for projects that didn’t happen or where my work wasn’t ultimately chosen.

Sometimes I find another place to use them and sometimes they are just waiting for the right time and place. This is one of the latter.

I made this piece as a memorial sculpture for a town which started a rodeo in 1918 as a way to raise money for the Great War effort, much the way that the Black Hills Roundup got going in Belle Fourche.

The organizers wanted to show a cowboy taking off his hat and putting on a Doughboy helmet and heading off to war.

It was a California town, so I gave him the accoutrements fitting that time and place.

Also, I learned that the recruits in WWI were a bit older than in later wars, and I wanted that to come through in his features.”

Had a meeting with what I’d consider a working man. As we were talking he pulled a can of Copenhagen snuff out of his pocket. It was a gesture seldom seen in public these days.

I politely asked if I could have a smell. He looked at me a bit puzzled and obliged.

I took the round container and breathed in deeply its pleasing aroma.

You see I am one of those people who in there past have enjoyed the habit. My father and my grandfather both indulged, and I at a quite young age embarked and continued the habit for close to 30 years.

An old veterinarian freind (who also chewed) told me when you get ready to quit, don’t hide from it, just open a container up, and take a deep smell of the pleasing aroma. It does smell better than it actually tastes and that will get you through the cravings.

Upon taking a smell, my mouth just waters and you feel like you could start right again, but decided years ago it was an example of life I didn’t want to pass on to the next generation so have refrained from rejoining the cult of cattlemen, truckers, and salebarn owners who find pleasure in the product.

Advice to others: The deep smell of a fresh can, either Copenhagen or Skoal does alleviate the cravings, but total withdrawal takes a couple weeks where you need to totally change your eating and drinking habits until the things you enjoy it with change.

To this day I can watch the movie in the US Tobacco trailer at the National Finals Rodeo and my mouth will water.

If you pull a can out in front of me I won’t bum a chew, but I may need a smell!

The Good Stuff

—by Jim Thompson

Radio host Jim Thompson takes motivational stories that listeners and readers send him and incorporates them into the a daily program he calls "The Good Stuff." It has been on the air for more than 10 years. The Beacon is honored to host the written version of some of Jim's classic episodes and we proudly present them here.

If there's a disappointment in all the good material that listeners and readers have sent me through the years it's that many times they don't include the author, or perhaps don't know the author. Id love to give credit to the mom who wrote this.

Everybody Else's Mom....

Author Anonymous

It seems my 11-year-old daughter has a new friend. Although I haven't met her, I've heard a lot about her. Apparently she's the same age, height, and build as my daughter, but with bright blue hair, multiple body piercings, and a henna snake tattoo. She wears things like sliced-up jeans and suede halter-tops to school. On top of that, she's allowed to stay up as late as she wants to, play inappropriate video games, and watch B horror movies. She never has to clean her room and keeps all 50 pairs of her trendy low cut jeans in a pile stuffed underneath her bed.

Now I know what you're thinking. You're probably thinking that I must be some kind of negligent parent to let my daughter associate with such a bad influence. And, well, you're right.

But, you see, her name is Everybody Else. And, chances are, if you're a parent of a middle schooler, your child hangs around with her, too. Oh, at first, she seems quite harmless. You'll be sitting around the kitchen table giving the family high fives because of the great deal you found on a, say, purple rolling backpack, and your eleven-year-old will suddenly say, "But Everybody Else has a blue one."

You absent-mindedly nod in a "That's nice, Honey" sort of a way and go on about your business.

But then later you'll say something like, "It's 9 o'clock so you'd better get ready for bed." And your eleven-year-old will say, "But Everybody Else gets to stay up until 10 o'clock."

And so it goes until, sooner or later, you find out that Everybody Else is also allowed to ride on motorcycles with 16-year-old boys, wear cut off fish net stockings, paint her toe nails purple, and listen to Marilyn Manson CDs.

In short, you really start to hate Everybody Else.

But, as infuriating as Everybody Else is, let me just say her mother is even worse.

Take, for instance, the other day when I asked my daughter to turn off the television. She said, "Everybody Else's mom lets them watch television before doing homework." When I said she couldn't have a slumber party until she's sixteen, she informed me that, "Everybody Else's mom invites whole Girl Scout troops over to sleep." And when I served store bought cake for my daughter's 11th birthday, she said, you guessed it, "Everybody Else's Mom makes cakes from scratch."

Face it, Everybody Else's mom makes the rest of us look, well, bad.

Now, a wiser person would've recognized this for what it is and risen above it. But me, I am not this wise. So you can't really blame me when, last night, during a 15 minute diatribe on what kind of deprived life my daughter leads because she doesn't have her own cell phone, I heard myself say, "I don't care if Everybody's Else's mom likes loud rap music, or makes bologna casserole for Thanksgiving dinner or approves of multiple body piercing, if I ever catch her alone in an aisle at the grocery store I'm going to grab her by the nose ring and give her a piece of my mind!"

You have to just marvel that a rational human being can say something like this and mean it. But I'm not that worried, really. Lately my daughter's starting to hang out with a better crowd. In fact, last night, when I asked her to go to bed, she replied, "Nobody Else goes to bed before nine o'clock." And when I asked her about her C on her history test, she said, "Nobody Else got an A on last week's history test." You know, I'm starting to really like this Nobody Else kid.

And I can't wait to meet her mother. Something tells me we're going to get along great. tells me we're going to get along great.

Boy howdy! - jim t

Stetson Wright Breaks Regular Season All-around Earnings Mark Again

In just his fifth season of Pro-Rodeo, Stetson Wright continues to rewrite the record books. After earning $17,927 over the weekend at three NFR Play-off Series presented by Pendleton Whisky rodeos, the Milford, Utah, cowboy has now broken the PRCA record for the most money won in the all-around in a single season again with $332,023 in saddle bronc riding and bull riding.

Last season, Wright broke the record that was previously set by Trevor Brazile in 2015, when he ended the 2021 regular season with $320,482. He would then go on to set the all-time single season earning record after the NFR with $686,513.

At 23 years old, Wright is showing no signs of slowing down anytime soon. In 2020, he was the PRCA World Champion in the all-around and bull riding. Last season, he added his fourth and fifth gold buckles by winning the all-around yet again and capturing his first saddle bronc riding world title.

He currently sits No.1 in the PRCA | RAM World Standings in bull riding and second in saddle bronc riding. His 2022 season has been spurred by 21 all-around, 11 saddle bronc riding, and 11 bull riding wins so far this season.

Wright will have a golden opportunity to add to his regular season earnings total with still five weeks remaining in the Pro-Rodeo regular season, which concludes on Sept. 30.

The Cinch Playoffs at the Puyallup Rodeo at the Washington State Fair, Sept. 8-11 will play a key role in catapulting athletes into the 2022 Wrangler National Finals Rodeo presented by Teton Ridge with a $1 million payout.

Brody Cress Wins Xtreme Broncs Finals in Rapid City

The standard exists for Brody Cress. His resume remains bloated with accomplishments. At 26, he has won the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo saddle bronc average title three times, including last season, and qualified for the sport's top event five times.

He defines consistency. So, the performance he delivered on Sunday night at the Xtreme Broncs Finals in Rapid City, S.D., should come as no surprise.

Against a loaded field, Cress posted a 93.5-point ride on Sutton Rodeo's South Point, besting a group that included three other scores in the 90s at the Central State Fair Grandstand Arena.

By finishing with a flourish, Cress captured the two-head average with 180 points, netting $14,382 for the average and $23,059 for the event. Back in 2019, Cress split the win at the inaugural Xtreme Broncs Finals with Wade Sundell.

"It was definitely a good night. Those events are amazing with the competition, and I knew it was going to take something good," Cress said. "I couldn't have gotten a better horse. He gives you a chance every time. He had been hurt and we didn't know if he would compete. But he healed up. So, to ride a horse of that caliber, it was really hard to lose. I was pumped up after that ride."

It represented a dramatic rally for the star. Cress had an 86.5-point ride on Bailey Pro Rodeo's Capone in his first ride, placing him last among the eight cowboys to make the short round. That left him going first. He set the tone.

It unfolded like this. With the big crowd ready to roar, Cress left the chute on standout horse South Point, who was ornery. The horse kicked its back legs violently into the air 11 times as he made his way forward. The public address announcer bellowed, "You've got to be kidding! Oh, my goodness!" as Cress stayed in rhythm, hopped off onto his feet and into the prize money.

That's how you set a new arena record and top the likes of Ryder Wright, Lefty Holman, Sage Newman, and Dawson Hay, who won this event last year on South Point.

Cress has said in the past that when he draws a good horse, then "it's up to me to do my job, to stay positive." He learns and moves forward from his runs, which prevents slumps. He also credits his support group for keeping him focused with the right mindset. He's always ready to compete. And triumph.

Cress winning has become a tradition across the country this season – well, really every season since he bought his PRCA card in 2014.

The Rapid City effort represented his 10th victory of the season, joining a list that features; The Daily Record Xtreme Bares and Broncos in Ellensburg, Wash., and La Fiesta De Los Vaqueros in Tucson, Ariz., over the winter.

Cress is defined by his consistency and this season has only reinforced that image.

Watching Cress throw his right arm triumphantly into the air on Sunday in Rapid City, it's not hard to see that scene repeated at this year's NFR.

Capitol News

This week:
By CHARLIE ODELL

Since Karen is gone it is my news or no news. Karen is still working on getting the Vaughnsville School History updated. We have not done a whole lot this week. I went to town on Tuesday to get new tires on the Expedition before Karen left for Kansas City on Thursday. I did do a little swathing and baling, but mainly spent the week getting flat tires fixed. I don't know the reason, but I had 5 flat tires this week. Maybe it was because they were all used tires.

On Friday Bruce and Lynn Gustafson toured the Black Hills. On Saturday they had coffee and cake with Pete and Dixie and Karen and Austin. They went to church at Little Missouri on Sunday. They are resting up from last weeks Camp Crook fair.

Dick and Erna Albert son and his girl friend came from Texas for a visit on Thursday. They left on Saturday. Their daughter and her husband also came from Nebraska on Tuesday and left on Saturday. They went to church on Sunday and then ate dinner at the Number 3 with the Helms and Erks. Father Gary did mass.

Doug Davis made a quick trip to Belle Fourche to the dentist and to get parts on Tuesday. Jake came out on Thursday for the Bret Jones funeral. and stopped for a visit on the way home. They got .5 inches of rain on Thursday.

Donna Lewis went to the Camp Crook and Baker Fairs on the weekend. Her Granddaughter Ryanna Gorder took first place in the Herbie Derby. Her other Granddaughter, Jayda Harbaugh did not fair so well as her vehicle broke down.

Dorothy, Dawn and Bryce Padden went to Bison for the junior varsity football game against Timber Lake on Monday. On Thursday they did the annual Ft. Peck fishing trip. They met up with Brett and Stacy Padden, Don and Lynn Brewer, Russ Brewer and his sister Lorie Shitt and Tim Padden. They had a blast. Dorothy went home with Brett and Stacy to do some canning and visiting.

Curt Zolnoski came to Ronda Cordells from Rapid City Monday morning to help put brisket tags in the yearling heifers. Clint Zolnoski and Gene Sescet had hauled the chute to Clint's to set up there to do the job. Denise Zolnoski had dinner lined out before she and the girls went to Buffalo for Darby's 'Kindergarten Round-up', so it was easy for Clint to put it on the table when they finished tagging. Curt stopped by Ronda's to load a cooler up with meat before heading home. On Tuesday after the caking was finished, Angel, her three youngsters and Ronda headed to Belle Fourche Vet Clinic where Angel had her annual blood work. Ronda went on to the chiropractor in Spearfish and stocked up on branding groceries at Walmart. On Monday afternoon Ronda went to Ekalaka to meet with Wayne Yost to go over some mapping. On Tuesday morning Gene Sescet, Clint Zolnoski and Ronda went to the Desert to get the yearling heifers in for Dr. Scoggins to ultra-sound. Terry Cordell came to help. It started out as a very nice morning after the early morning sprinkle of rain, but the sun appeared before they were finished, so the job ended with hot and dusty conditions. Clint hauled the dries to Belle Fourche Livestock Exchange after they were finished. Gene hauled the bulls home, where he and Ronda doctored a couple for foot rot. They were loaded back in the trailer, except for one, and hauled to the deeded piece in the hills.

Cristen Westling and Lori Aston came from Rapid City to the Bergstrom place late Wednesday night to attend the Brit Jones funeral service Thursday afternoon at the CCACC. They came down for breakfast. They all attended the funeral on a somewhat showery day. They headed home after the service. Ronda had to set the live catch trap as the coons have been coming and about ruined her sweet corn. The first varmint caught was a skunk; then three coon so far. The corn isn't near ready, but they have kept looking for an ear that might be. The grasshoppers have moved in to lay their eggs on the sandy south-facing slope of the hill here. She has sprayed around the garden several times. She has found that the SEVIN dry bait works very well in the garden. There are quite a few birds around but she wonders if they can even swallow one of those huge hoppers. The lightning storm that past through Saturday night ignited a couple of fires nearby; one up on the Bergstrom place. Justin Kerr and Jason Donahey had gotten it out by the time Clint found where it was. There was a shower of about .20" again. Ronda visited with Alfreda Davis Sunday morning. She said she'd gotten a call to go to the basement, as a tornado had been spotted near Belle Fourche. We need rain badly but surely don't need a tornado or lightning. Cristen called this morning saying there was 2" at her house on the east edge of Rapid City and up to 3" in other areas.

Alvin and Marlee Cordell had some archery antelope hunter during the week. They went to

Looking Back in Belle

These articles come from newspaper microfilm from the Belle Fourche Public library, using a new microfilm reader and printer. The photographs are from the Tri-State Museum.

Belle TIMES

Talk of the Town
F. P. Stearns was in from Sno-ma Monday. I.R. Macy paid Belle Fourche a visit Tuesday. Forty different kinds of stoves to pick from at the Brick store. Home grown watermelons on ice at the P.O. store. Try one. C. T. Martin left Tuesday on a business trip through the country.

The location of the hose house and tower has been changed and it is now being built on 2nd street between the WideAwake and J. M. Silk's place.

Marking the Highway
The highway committee of the Commercial club of Belle Fourche have been placing markers on the "Short-Cut-West" highway during the past week, and now have it marked through the city. In the next few days they will have completed a sufficient numbers of markers to place on the trail from Belle Fourche to Nisland. The marker is a board with yellow background on which appears the letters S C, one above the other. At turns a letter R appears for the right turn and a letter L for the left turns.

Jas. McCumsey
One of the old-time residents of this part of the country was an arrival last week from Portland, Ore., where he is now making his home. His son, Johnnie, who is employed on the Eagle at Ekalaka, Mont., came in Saturday to spend a week with his father, who expects to remain in the area a month or longer.

New Assistant Cashier
DeWitt Malvin came in last

Thursday from Camp Crook to accept the position as assistant cashier of the Butte County bank. DeWitt was formerly employed in this bank, going to Camp Crook two or three years ago to take a position in the Little Missouri bank. His work there has been very satisfactory, and the promotion to assistant cashier of the Butte County bank comes as a well-earned reward for faithful and conscientious service. He is a young man of excellent habits, courteous attends strictly to business, and the progress he is making is very pleasing to his many friends.

Vital Statistics

Clerk of Courts S. W. P. Sellers reports the following vital statistics for the month of August: Thirteen births, five deaths, and four marriage licenses.

Sterling Clark was elected first vice-president; Ford Scaley, second vice-president; C. L. Carter, reelected treasurer. Mr. Edmondson's elevation to the presidency leaves a vacancy on the board to be filled by the directors at a later meeting. R. F. Voyles, retiring president, will serve one year as a member of the board. Other members are Floyd F. Collins, G. A. Domnick, K. L. Arthur, F. B. Roberts, DeWitt Malvin and Sterling Clark.

Shows Decrease of 22 First Enrollment Check
Belle Fourche recorded a drop of 22 students in early registration figures announced yesterday through the office of Superintendent Joe Keegan. Last year's total registration was 1457 in grades kindergarten thru twelfth grade, and this year's total in 145 - 22 drop. However, an official enrollment count will be made about Sept. 10 and it is expected this figure will grow after Labor Day registration. This does not include registration of nine pupils in the only rural school - Owl Creek. Owl Creek has one first grader, no second graders, two in third, one in fourth, two in fifth, one in sixth and two in seventh grade.

Book on Minnesela
"Minnesela, The City That Never Happened," is the title of a small booklet which is now on the newsstands in the area. The book is written by Marjorie Benedict Richards, long-time Newell area resident and a pioneer of the region. The book reveals some background on Minnesela about which few residents are aware. The story tells about the Azby Chouteau family, one of the founders of the Minnesela which at one was billed as "the Future metropolis of the Black Hills."

“Building Main Street, not Wall Street”

Finding the Road to Better Roads

Germany Kent once said, “We are all on the road to success. Some people just act like they want it more than others.” It is rare that I visit a community where “roads” are not a hot topic. Every community believes they have the worst roads in their State, or even country. When someone makes a “roads or potholes” post on social media, it is sure to contain one of the longest string of comments that week. Suffice it to say, roads are usually a topic that brings out the passion in everyone.

come out of the sales taxes generated in those communities, counties, and state. As go the sales tax revenues, so goes the road upkeep. Nothing more, nothing less. Yes, the allocation of road funds is subject to debate within local governments, balancing the need for police, fire, and so forth is never easy. But it is still very basic, spend local, improve your roads. Spend out of town, pave the roads of where you are spending your money.

for not spending enough locally. The blame lies with the community leaders in that they are failing to educate the community about this critical component needed to have a successful community. City leaders, Chambers, Main Streets, Media, and others should be constantly educating 24/7, year-round. Studies indicate a person must hear a marketing message at least seven times before it really begins to resonate internally. Most convey this message once or twice and believe the job is complete. Nothing is further from the truth – the job has only just begun.

Every community must begin communicating more effectively. Every community must begin to market the various messages that are needed to change the mindset of each resident. Every community must start thinking how they can encourage business growth, after all that is the foundation of your sales tax dollars. Communities that communicate a strong local message, are business friendly, and work to grow their business base have a chance to survive. Those unwilling or unable to do those simple things are simply bidding their time on the road to oblivion.

Let me close with a quote by Oscar Bimpong, he said “Where you are coming from doesn’t matter but where you are going does. Hence look forward and not backwards. Your eyes are placed in front of you for a reason. Your eyes only look backwards for special references. Keep your eyes on the road.” May each of us choose to keep our eyes on the path of success as we build better communities, and roads.

Want better roads, find ways to spend more dollars locally. When we factor in the 3X compounding impact of locally spent dollars, the impact is huge. If each resident in a community of 20,000 people spent just $25 additional dollars locally each month, that would equate to an additional $18,000,000 circulating through the community each year. With a 10% local sales tax, that is $1,800,000 additional dollars for police, fire, AND roads. Not to mention how many jobs that will help to save or create. Certainly, there is a little more to it than this simple example, but the point remains – want better roads, spend more locally!

There is a catch. Most of us aren’t wired in such a way to be constantly thinking about spending locally or building our internal local DNA. With that being the case, we really can’t place the blame on the residents

Adventures with Youth

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

BELLE FOURCHE-Satur-day morning saw more than 30 young people gathered at the Center of the Nation Sportsman Club west of Belle Fourche. The youth were eager to begin an adventure honing their shooting skills as part of South Dakota Youth Hunting Ad-ventures. SDYHA consists of youth ages 11-17 years who are mentored by adults who desire to share their love for hunting and fishing.

The group, made up of boys and girls, was divided into smaller units and sent to various areas at the shooting range. The distinct areas were rifle and shotguns, an area of identify-ing pelts and bird wings, and a written test. From beginners to more adept hunters, the young people sharpened each skill. The morning was topped off with quesadillas made by Specialty Quesadillas from Spearfish. The quesadillas were prepared on an outside grill by owner Scott Leite and co-work-er Brett Harrowa.

Jim Scull

The Black Hills chapter of South Dakota Youth Hunting Adventures is the brain child of Jim Scull, Rapid City busi-nessman. The organization was started in 2007 in Rapid City with the Big Brothers/Big Sis-ters. The goal was to give kids an opportunity to do something outdoors.

Through organizations like Big Brothers/Big Sisters, Youth and Family Services, and Girls/ Boys Club, SDYHA gained it's 501c3 and began to operate in the Rapid City area. It soon expanded to the Northern Hills and now includes a chapter east river.

The organization furnishes mentored youth with guns, clothing, and hunting and fish-ing equipment.

Landowners work with SDY-HA, helping to provide places to hunt and fish. According to Scull, this imparts a high-qual-ity experience for kids who would not have that hunting or fishing experience.

Scull's enthusiasm overflowed as he explained matching kids and mentors. A Match Special-ist matches each young person with a mentor after visiting the child, the family, and prospec-tive mentor. Once paired, the Match Specialist checks on them at least once a month. The family of the youth must also be engaged in the process. The young person must be between 11 and 17 years old, usually with a single parent, who wants to enjoy learning about the outdoors.

Mentoring is the key to the success of SDYHA. Mentors are experienced hunters and fishermen with knowledge, pas-sion, and have something they want to share. They desire to help mentees to develop a love for the outdoors and all that can be found. Above all, mentors aspire to aid in fulfilling a young person's potential and future endeavors.

According to the SDYHA website, www.sdyouthhunting.com, mentors must be at least 21 years old, serve as a positive role model to the child, submit to a background check, and commit to spending quality time with a child as they learn the process of becoming a responsible, safe hunter. They must also be free of drug and alcohol abuse or treatment for three years. There is no require-ment for how much time should be spent with each individual.

The point is, according to Scull, to enjoy being with them. South Dakota Game, Fish, and Parks has been highly support-ive to the group and has given grants for projects. Scull added that statistically, it also benefits SDGFP because 26% of the mentored youth go on to buy licenses and promote the sport. Not only do the youth learn to hunt and fish, the game that is bagged is processed and given to the family or to another fam-ily in need. Many of the partic-ipants learn to take care of the game themselves and taste the “fruit” of their adventures.

There are two main events during the year help to finance the efforts of the organization, adding to any donations and grants received. The Black Hills Sports Show and Black Hills Wildlife Banquet benefit the young people and their endeav-ors.

How remarkable would it be for every young person to reach their full potential? The Black Hills Chapter of SDYHA wants to extend outdoor learning opportunities to all youth in this area. It begins with the desire to mentor and make a difference. Check out the website at www.sdyouthhunt.com.

The facilities at the Center of the Nation Sportsman Club were well used by the SDYHA group.

“The Opry” Signature Classic Country Show

From A1 Opry

Then Mr. Bodhi Linde: AT 13 years old he is hailed as a guitar master, guitar virtuoso, let me just say this child of 13 is sensational. He has quickly left his mark on the Black Hills. He was our RISING STAR guest performer.

He’s the driver of the show and co-producer, Bill Palanuk, emcee, who keeps the show a well oiled machine. Bill is the media director for the North Dakota Cowboy Hall of Fame and has his own show on Dish Network called Dakota Cowboy. He is the “VOICE of The OPRY” and you won’t soon forget him. Known as WILD BILL, he will have you anticipating every moment of the show!

The show begins with the greatest of honors when THE OPRY honors our Vets. VFW Center of the Nation POST 3312 presented the flags as we paid all due respect and honor to our nation.

Lastly and perhaps most importantly we had the top sound man who has been with us for years, Mr. Steve Foudray with Perfect Wave Productions out of Rapid City. The best in the region because if you don’t have great sound, you don’t have a show.

Behind the scenes, you have Kimberly Kaye performer, producer, and founder of The Opry, working on details months and even up to a year in advance. It’s important to her that classic country music survive and thrive. She grew up on it and can seriously, on demand, break into any song you name from the 60’s and 70’s and tell you the artist then sing every last word. Her passion is to take people on that nostalgic journey to simpler times. “You can see it in people’s faces when you’re singing a song that moves them. I want to find them after the show and find out why it moved them so. Where did that song take you? Tell me your story.” The show is also weaved with stories and quirky jokes; joy and laughter is another passion of Kimberly Kaye.

When you walk through the door, you immediately feel the ambiance. Laughter ensues as five enthusiastic ladies dressed as country music legends greet and took photos with you! Classic country music is playing in the background as you find your seat anticipating the start of the show. Refreshments were available while clapping and toe tappin’ were pert near required.

The stage was set with three foot by three foot portraits of the Country Greats, Loretta Lynn, Kitty Wells, Charlie Pride, Johnny and June, Merle Haggard and more.

The Chamber of Commerce worked tirelessly on tickets sales and promotions. We are deeply grateful for their invite to bring THE OPRY to town and their support in making it happen.

“A Sip Of History” A Walking/Talking Success

Walking History Committee
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

A Sip of History brought approximately 140 visitors to downtown Belle Fourche. Walking History was able to contribute $700.00 to the Belle Fourche Area Community Theater.

The funds came from a portion of the proceeds from ticket sales from “A Sip of History”. The $700.00 will go towards the finishing touches of the new sound system.

Belle Fourche Walking History was created to showcase Belle Fourche’s history and downtown businesses. The event showcased two businesses - the Hitching Post Tap House and Wild Magnolia Coffee Bar as the choice of beverage during the tour. Here is what these businesses had to say about their experience.

Hitching Post Tap House - “A Sip of History was a success! George Wilson and Michelle Evans teamed up with Dawn Newland and Bill Hennessey, to bring history to life in a way Belle Fourche has never seen before.”

140 people attended this event and were able to soak in the untold history of our community. As owners of Hitching Post Tap House, we were thrilled to see so many people back on State Street engaging with the history of old businesses and enjoying the new. This event brought so many new faces and friends into our business and we were delighted to have been able to be a part of something so truly special for our community.

We can’t wait to be a part of next year and team up with Wild Magnolia once again to wet your whistles for an evening of history”. Wild Magnolia Coffee Bar - “We are very happy to have been part of the Belle Fourche Walking history. It was our pleasure to serve customers while they enjoyed the tour. We very much appreciate the opportunity and wish to be included in the future”.

Their goal is to create an experience for our tourists, visitors, and our community and also to introduce or reintroduce businesses on State Street. Our lovely State Street has been given a facelift with many storefronts and also new businesses.

Visitors walked past each store and either got to walk in and shop or window shop. Walking History’s hope is for them to come back and spend more time in the shops downtown; create regular visits to businesses that have excellent customer service.

By using different avenues of media, giving an extra exposure through pictures like our very own, Jack Scholl who played Seth Bullock and owner of Weather Hat Co., Jack got to display his craft of custom-made hats. By acknowledging businesses by either featuring them on social media or placing a character vignette in front of the businesses they hope to showcase their extended strives to provide an excellent variety of goods and hard work in a small but full town. The weekend was a win/ win/win... A win for our downtown guests, businesses, and the Belle Fourche Area Community Theater.

Many ticket holders came away with questions about next year and also great ideas to make it better. The weekend could not have been any better, with great actors, great helpers, great props, perfect weather, and 4 wonderful tours. Next year is already being planned. *You can see more and stay connected on Facebook. Look up “Belle Fourche Walking History”.

From A1 Road Tour

Highway 85 to Highway 34, the county workers cut down trees, cleaned ditches, and widened the road in spots.

Along Snoma Road a box culvert is in the process of being constructed on Maloney Creek. Corr Construction has been slowly working on the project with no completion date set as this time.

On the day of the tour, there were no construction workers on site.

A BIG grant was granted to complete the nearly half million-dollar project on White-wood Road resurfacing. The grant is from the South Dakota Bridge Improvement Grant program. The project was done in June of this year.

Box culverts had been placed at Riley Road to replace a “rickety old” bridge.

The culverts were free from Main Line, however the cost of transporting them from Rapid City to the area and the cost of a crane to place them was covered by the county for less than $100,000.

County highway workers did the labor.

Late September may be the finish date for the second bridge on Orman Road. A Federal Grant has covering the construction costs done by Heavy Construction.

A worker at the bridge informed the commissioners that due to worker shortages at the bridge construction and other areas in South and North Dakota, the construction has taken longer than what had been planned. He believes that the bridge should be done in a matter of several weeks.

Finally, the commissioners viewed the box culverts put in at Palo Road by Newell.

The road had been closed for several years and is a welcome addition to transportation in the area. The process was the same as the Riley Road bridge.

Butte County commissioners, Karrol Herman, Frank Walton, and Kim Richards viewed the Helmer Bridge during a tour early last week. Also, along with the commissioners were Lori Johnston, Highway Admin Assistant, Superintendent Dwayne Heidrich, and highway employee Kordell Stuen. Bruner Photo

The concrete work at Maloney Creek Bridge on Snoma Road is taking longer than the commissioners had thought. Corr Construction is in charge of the construction. Bruner Photo

This is the second bridge to be built on Orman Road near Newell. Construction could possibly be done by the end of September. Bruner Photo

The box culverts at Palo Road have opened the road after several years. Highway worker Kordell Stuen found a stray piece of wire along the road. The culverts were free, but the transportation and use of a crane to place them were paid by the county. County workers placed the culverts and did the road work. Bruner Photo airline pilot. His career has been riven by a variety of passionate interests and the energy to learn new things. Benedict loves horses. As a teenager he loved rodeo. He used his income from the movie to buy horses, a truck and trailer, and to pay for professional rodeo schools. He has been a stockbroker, building contractor, and a loan officer. He still loves horses.

From A1 The Cowboys

The cowboys recalled the experience of working with John Wayne and being on the set as a wonderful experience. Stephen Hudis described John Wayne with great respect. “He was marvelous” He was grounded and treated us like people. He didn’t have a huge ego like so many actors.”

Bobby Carradine noted that filming of The Cowboys took over 15 weeks, a long time for making a film, he noted. The actors were paid $500 per week and $60 a day for food. “They already fed us really well, so that was extra money to spend on cowboy gear.” Steve Benedict explained.

The cowboy actors were required to attend school while on the set for three hours a day and to have a parent present on the set. Few of the cowboys remembered what they learned from school on the set, but they do recall the positive life lessons camaraderie and being treated with respect they gained from the experience.

The Cowboys is a rites of passage story for the real life actors as well as one for the characters. The characters in the film face many challenges that help them grow into healthy adults who value integrity, hard work, the ability to follow through with a task and other qualities that we wish more kids would learn. The challenges in the movie are clear, attainable, appropriate, although not always fair, but of course life is not always fair.

The Cowboys reflects our western regional values. To a significant extent, people in this region are cowboys by birth, experience or inheritance. Cowboy culture is lived experience, familiar and to some extent glorified.

Perhaps we belong to a society where challenges of becoming an adult are more uncertain, less attainable, and even more dangerous then they were

4-H Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,

As a recent 2022 Spearfish High School graduate, I have spent this past year thinking about my future, college majors, and careers.

During this reflection, I realized how 4-H had played a significant role in my development as a student, citizen, teammate, and employee. 4-H has given me the experiences and life lessons that have prepared me for the next chapter of my life beyond high school.

I have learned much about myself through my 4-H experience, including personal strengths and weaknesses. I have organization and management skills. I have become perseverant when working on a project for months to achieve results. Most importantly, 4-H improved my public speaking skills.

4-H provides opportunities to meet new friends and to work together as a community. When I volunteer, I practice gratitude. Gratitude is defined as the readiness to show appreciation.

Volunteering reminds me I am part of a more extensive community. I have completed many hours of community service through my local club. When I volunteer, I take the focus off myself and place it on another.

I am very thankful to be part of the South Dakota 4-H program as I am moving away from home and starting college. This program has positively impacted my life and prepared me for the next ten years of my life. 4-H has taught me to never settle for less than my best and to keep working towards that goal even when it seems unreachable.

I am part of the local Crow Peak Valley Rangers 4-H club. Leadership, Citizenship, and Community Service are the pillars of 4-H development. My experiences in 4-H have directly impacted the young adult I am today.

Most importantly, 4-H has made me leave my comfort zone to learn and have unique experiences.

I recently had the opportunity to attend the 2022 Citizenship Washington Focus (CWF) trip with a scholarship provided by Redwater Youth Leadership Foundation.

I met and interacted with other 4-H youth from our great state and other neighboring states. This opportunity connected me to other young leaders to gain skills and experiences to become proactive community residents.

I also took in some of the historical sites around DC, including Capitol Hill, where South Dakota Senator John Thune met and encouraged us to be more active citizens.

My delegation discussed an initiative to recognize and support Farmer and Rancher’s Mental Health. Stresses from multiple years of drought and low cattle prices can take the toll on a rancher’s or farmer’s mental health.

I shared information how to get help and services at the Butte Lawrence County Fair. This experience from 4H and others has encouraged me to pursue a healthcare professional career after my high school graduation this coming year.

Katherine Heine

in the past. Perhaps that’s only a perception. However, it would be nice if all kids could learn to ride, and succeed at mastering real life challenges.

Fortunately, the cowboy lifestyle in this region is not and never has been gender specific. In other words is belongs to women too. Here, women have ridden horses and participated in “men’s” work for generations. Ask a cowgirl.

In any case, we will likely always value the movie and look forward to visits from the actors anytime.

Another Fun Neighborhood Gathering

Colleen Brunner
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL – The Dave and Holly Ollila family hosted their annual late summer neighborhood gathering on August 20 at the home south of Newell. Invitations are not sent out, it's strictly word-of-mouth, but somehow word filtered out into the countryside and just prior to 6:30 people started rolling in. Around 80 folks gathered for a pot-luck meal with a picnic-style atmosphere. Dave introduced himself and his family, including son Finn, his parents, Art and Judy and adopted family members Bruce and Colleen Brunner. Bruce led a prayer after all gathered had introduced themselves and their family members. The Ollila's provide most of the meat dishes, but others do as well and the food was plentiful with many side dishes, salads, and a number of desserts. The kids played on the various yard playground, with the older folks visited till dusk settled. The Ollila's have been hosting this event for many years now with a wider range of people coming each year. Finn Ollila, son of Dave and Holly created a fun scavenger hunt for the young people. A prize at the end after they had found all the answers to the clues was a sucker.

Friday evening in the Newell, Vale, and Nisland area changed from a pleasant late summer evening into a time of wind, hail, and rain as a cluster of storm cells hit the area. Tornado warnings were heard and many folks headed for shelter as winds gusted and the sky grew darker. Reports from the area revealed that rainfall was anywhere from one inch to over two inches, with some hail in spots.

Learning About the Flag at Newell School

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL – The last couple weeks on the Newell campus have been busy ones. Gregg Todd and of the Newell VFW visited the Newell fifth-grade classroom on Monday, September 20, to teach flag etiquette to the students. Sabrina Harmon, Director of the Whatever It Takes Coalition had brochures and small flags to give each student. The students heard a lesson about the flag, the importance of it and even how to fold it and dispose of it properly. Fifth-grade teacher Paul McLaughlin was the host for this event where Todd explained through his service in the Air Force that his college education was paid for. He also shared about some of the things he did while serving this country. The fifth grade oversees raising and lowering the flag each day on the south side of the school by the elementary/

Another Fun Ollila Gathering

The kids had a fun scavenger hunt, created by Finn Ollila.

Grand River Roundup

Betty Olson
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

Reub and I made a trip to Hettinger last Monday to get stuff from Runnings and White Drug. While we were eating lunch at Carla’s Corner Café, Chuck and Dan Anderson came in to eat too. They had been visiting their mother in the hospital and, sadly, they told us that their father, James Anderson had passed away on Saturday, August 20, at the Five Counties Nursing Home in Lemmon. We don’t know when his funeral will be yet. We stopped in Reeder on the way home that afternoon to have coffee and some good visits with the Prairie Pioneers.

Louise Jensen had a bunch of grandkids and great grandkids at her house Monday afternoon, so Amanda and the little people went up to Grandma Louise’s to visit with their relatives. Copper said it was a lot of fun! Trig was up in the rodeo in Rapid City that day and came home late that night.

Casey and Trig went over to the Grinde place Tuesday morning to help Bill Holt work his calves. Clint Doll and Ron and Jace Jensen came to help too. Reub was spraying weeds up west that morning and swathed some more of Olson Creek that afternoon. Mary Jacobi called me that morning and we had a good visit. Ruth Wiechmann was giving piano lessons in Prairie City and stopped to visit with me on her way home. Since Ruth had never driven up Highway 79 before, she thought it would be fun to drive up to Reeder and over to Hettinger to get home. When she saw where our place is she drove in and we had a good visit over a glass of ice tea.

School started this Wednesday in Harding County and Amanda took little Copper to Buffalo to start kindergarten that morning while Taz kept Knox and River Lu here. Casey, Taz and Trig set up panels up by the lamb-ing shed to work the sheep on Thursday. Amanda got home before noon. That afternoon Taz, Amanda, Knox and River went to pick up Copper after school and then drove down to take Taz to the rodeo in Rapid City where he joined his rodeo buddies to head for rodeos out west after the rodeo in Rapid City. Casey and Trig brought the sheep in that afternoon before Casey and Missy left for the rodeo in Rapid City.

Amanda and the kids stayed at the town house in Buffalo that night to get Copper to school in the morning.

We have a new neighbor! Jamie and Ty Thybo had a baby girl in Spearfish born Thursday, August 24, weighing 6lb & 8oz and 20 inches long. Her name is Taycee Estelle and she joins a big brother Tregg. Congratulations!

Thursday morning Clint Doll and Jeremy Stadheim came to help Casey and Trig sort off the Keen and Copper to church Sunday morning and stayed for the delicious lunch and coffee after church provided by Linda Mohagen and Lori Besler.

With school starting, I’ll leave you with these that my late cousin, Pat John, who was a teacher, sent me years ago:

*A little girl was talking to her teacher about whales.

The teacher said it was physically impossible for a whale to swallow a human because even though it was a very large mammal its throat was very small.

The little girl stated that Jonah was swallowed by a whale.

Irritated, the teacher reiterated that a whale could not swallow a human; it was physically impossible.

The little girl said, ‘When I get to heaven I will ask Jonah’.

The teacher asked, ‘What if Jonah went to hell?’

The little girl replied, ‘Then you ask him’.

*A Kindergarten teacher was observing her classroom of children while they were drawing. She would occasionally walk around to see each child’s work.

As she got to one little girl who was working diligently, she asked what the drawing was.

The girl replied, ‘I’m drawing God.’

The teacher paused and said, ‘But no one knows what God looks like.’

Without missing a beat, or looking up from her drawing, the girl replied, ‘They will in a minute.’

Then and Now in Newell

“Looking Forward to our Past”

by Linda Velder

August 29, 1912

The joists for the new school house at Nisland have arrived Wednesday and the carpenters have them in place. The brick layers started laying brick Thursday afternoon. We understand all the material for the building is now on the ground and work will be pushed until it is completed.

Several weeks ago the Peter Mintener Lumber Company moved up from near the depot his warehouse and placed it on their lots in the Fire District. Also this week N. M. Bratton Mercantile Company has started the erection of a large warehouse on the company’s ground on Black 31 in violation of the Fire Ordinance. The Fire Ordinance was passed last March. If the Fire Ordinance is not to be enforced, it should be at once repealed.

August 24, 1922

Wm. Wise of Castle Rock was arrested last week by Sheriff Lefores and Deputy T. F. Stevenson of Newell, for operating an illicit distillery at his ranch home. The still and a quantity of “hooch” was confiscated. Wise was arraigned before a Belle Fourche Justice and bound over to Circuit Court for trial. He furnished bonds in the sum of $1,000.

The first floor of the Richard’s House is rapidly being transformed from a large single room to a series of bedrooms and a lobby for the accommodation of the traveling public. Ten good sized bedrooms are provided, which still leaves about 30 feet of the front end for the hotel office. An open stairway will lead from the lobby to the upper floor.

Mr. & Mrs. H. J. Christian of Newell, Mr. & Mrs. C.E. Brown, and family and the Getty Brothers were visitors at the W. L. Burk home on Lower Horse Creek Sunday. On Wednesday evening, the W.L. Burk’s were callers at the Henry R. Johnson home.

August 25, 1932

A meeting of rural teachers of the county was held in the Newell High School building Wednesday for the purpose of acquainting teachers with the new course of study. County Superintendent Lillian Schaffer arranged the meeting and consulted a similar one in Belle Fourche. The rural schools are expected to open on Monday, September 5 and she listed the teacher’s by name and the school at which she will teach.

In addition to the agricultural exhibits at the Butte County Fair, there will also be a racing program on the track for the 3 days, sponsored by the various towns of the county, according to fair officials. The quality of entertainment will compare favorably with former years in spite of the fact that no admission will be charged this year.

Mr. & Mrs. Lon Ayres of Fairburn visited over the week end with Mr. & Mrs. Ole Tysdal on Horse Creek. Mr. Ayres is an old cowboy friend of Mr. Tysdal and they had not seen one another for over 20 years. They attended the picnic at Bixby last Saturday. Others from the Horse Creek area and a number of Hooverites attended the picnic and evening dance and all report a wonderful time.

August 27, 1942

Wm. Stolnack and Earl Mullinex, Newell truckers, went to North Dakota with 10 tons of honey from the Dr. Clark bee farm. An additional 25 tons has been contracted for the same firm. Dr. Clark reports honey in demand this year; however, like many other industries, the labor situation right now is quite a problem for the honey farm.

Clarence Lewis and Clarence Wattawa drove to Rapid City last Thursday and brought Mrs. Wattawa and her baby daughter home. Miss Jean Lewis, who is taking nurses’ training at Rapid City, is home for a week’s visit with her parents and assist her sister Mrs. Wattawa with the new baby.

Negotiations were concluded this week whereby Alex Getty becomes owner of the Olive Longpre residence property, at present occupied by Chas. Sanders and family. He also purchased the adjoining residence property. C. C. Briggs has sold the 2-story residence, recently vacated by Eric Onberg and family, to Alex Felde of Vale. The new owner plans to move his family to Newell. David Richards this week sold 8 1-acre lots in northern Newell to Joe McCage of Faith. The ground is unimproved and is situated north of the Arthur Hough home. Alex Meyer this week purchased from Mrs. Oscar Reppen what is known as the Isto homestead, north of town. The deal includes 280 acres. Mr. Meyer plans to occupy the place next spring.

Entries in the Annual Western South Dakota Stud Ram Show & Sale, to be held at Newell, September 19 -20, have exceeded all expectations, Show Secretary Harry E. Weakly reported this week and the event now promises to be one of the biggest sales of this class of livestock ever held in the Midwest. Ninety-two stud rams, 277 range rams and 37 registered ewes were the totals announced consigned by outstanding sheep breeding from 6 states. The sale of the show animals will start at 1:00 September 20 with R. J. Bush & Son of Belle Fourche as auctioneers, followed by auction of the registered range rams. The pre-sale supper, at which all consignors will be guests of the sponsoring Community Club, will be Friday evening at the Newell High School gymnasium speakers will be Harry Devereaux of Rapid City and Senator Francis Case the Keynote Speaker.

state Fellowship Chairman of Pilgrim Fellowship last week while attending Leadership Camp at Placerville, according to word received this week. Others attending the week long camp were Judy Milberg, President of the local Pilgrim Fellowship organization and Barbara Ericson, Jr. Past President of Newell Pilgrim Fellowship.

Pam Dahlberg entertained a group of friends at a farewell slumber party in honor of Ruthe Reitmeier at her home Monday evening. Attending were Becky Farber, Charlotte Wilson, Judy Winkler, Kay Lyons and Linda Fields. The evening was spent in playing records and at breakfast, the girls presented Ruthe with a Black Hills gold necklace as a farewell gift. Rev. Reitmeier and family will leave soon to accept a pastorate at Blencoe, Iowa.

All persons interested in learning to fly an airplane or in joining a flying club are asked to meet at Newell City Hall next Monday evening August 27. The meeting will be held at 8:00 PM and is being called by Dick Dutton, Vale, who is establishing a flying service in Newell and will also give flight training if there is sufficient demand.

Successful Beginning for Irrigator Volleyball Season

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL/CUSTER – The Newell Lady Irrigators are on a roll and notching win after win. They started their successful season on Tuesday, August 23 hosting the Lead Goldiggers. And they took them down in three matches. The first match they had a decisive win, 25-10 as they tied it up at two each then five and then pushed ahead and never looked back. Rarely did they miss a serve and volleyed with heart.

The second match was also a large margin, 25-14. Kim Johnson was running a streak at the service line, and Hailey McCann and Stacy Mahaffy also scored several points with a couple ace serves each.

The third match saw the Irrigators remain strong as they took it 25-15. Jaelyn Wendt, Taylor Gaer, and Kaira Stomprud worked hard at the service line while Gaer also had some nice kills when she worked her way to the front of the floor.

The Newell girls traveled to Custer on Saturday, August 27, to win five games, and the top trophy. A nice piece of hardware for the trophy case.

“They had a great day winning all five of their games, four games which were against Class A schools,” said head coach Tysha McDonald.

Word has trickled out that McDonald is planning to move at the end of the season. Many are disappointed as they feel that the coach has really got the team schooled into a fun-to-watch, successful group. But, meanwhile, the Lady Irrigators will give it all they’ve got in the time they have left with McDonald at the helm.

move to Pierre, where they plan to retire closer to their son Ryan and family.

“It was a nice event,” said Aileen Brunner. The church had regular morning services and then held the picnic immediately following at about 1 p.m. The church provided hamburgers and hot dogs, grilled outside by Bruce Brunner and Joe Crockford. The picnic carry-in dinner was hosted inside, with games and activities on the church property.

Most of the adults spent time visiting while the kids played a variety of games in the church yard including horseshoes, ladder ball, kerplunk and mini golf.

Though the Brunners have already made the move to Pierre they still have a few loose ends to tie up and made the trek back to be wished the best from their church family.

Gary and Aileen Brunner, lifetime residents of Nisland, have moved to Pierre to be closer to family. They were recognized with a send-off from their church family at the church's annual picnic, held this year at the church. - Brunner photo
