City Moves to Virtual Meetings

BEACON STAFF

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

BELLE FOURCHE - With a recent surge in corona virus positive cases in western South Dakota the city has decided to convene city council meetings online, beginning with the next scheduled meeting on November 2nd.

"We are not operating out of fear we are operating out of being proactive with things," said Mayo Gloria Landphere. "We want to make sure that no matter where we are in any of this, if the council is affected by this virus, we can continue to do business. We'll do business the best way that we can, I think it will work well."

No criteria has been set for when face-to-face meetings can resume.

"That'll probably happen after the election," said Vern Hinz to quiet laughter in the room.

Details will be worked out with regard to committee reports, executive sessions and public forums. Information can be found on the city web site with meeting agendas and minutes at www.bellefourche.org/agendas\_minutes.

For the time being committee meetings will remain in person

How to Spend A Million Dollars

BELLE FOURCHE - The Belle Fourche School District has a good problem; how to spend nearly one million dollars that landed on their books from coronavirus relief funds.

The district received about $344,000 from the Elementary and Secondary School Emergency Relief (ESSER) fund as part of the federal government's CARES Act passed last spring. South Dakota Governor Kristi Noem released the second piece of funding, which could add up to $689,000, depending on enrollment, earlier this month as part of the Coronavirus Relief Fund (CRF) money. Districts have until June 30, 2021 to decide how that money will be spent and until September 2021 to account for the ESSER funds.

"There's no big rush but we want to be able to cover expenses we've incurred so far," said Dr. Steve Willard, School Superintendent.

The CARES Act funding has restrictions that prohibit it from being used for employee or faculty stipends, while the CRF money has no such restrictions and school districts are already allocating those funds.

"Some districts are thinking of giving their employees a stipend for all the extra work with the COVID stuff and one east river school put in a whole new air purification system in their school district," Willard told the Beacon. "So there are a lot different ways school districts are looking at spending that money."

The Belle Fourche district has already been spending some of the CARES Act funding. According to Willard they have been sending in vouchers to get reimbursed for things such as extra cleaning supplies and HEPA (high efficiency particulate air) filters for the HVAC systems at the various campuses.

The district has followed in the steps of many others in the state in spending CARES funds to improve technology. Grades K-8 are now a part of the Canvas Learning Management System (LMS) a $40,000 investment that serves as an online learning platform in addition to tending to the administratively focused needs of education. Canvas accommodates document management, including assignment creation, distribution and grading. Willard says a similar system has also been purchased for the high school.

In related technology purchases the district has ordered 300 Chromebook laptop computers for K-4 students. Willard says this will allow 1:1 use from K-12. The new Chromebooks are on order and have not arrived yet.

As for the more than $600,000 in CRF funds they have yet to be spoken for.

"The (school) board is still thinking about that," Willard said. "That will come up in our November meeting. As far as any major purchases, nothing has been put out there yet."

The CRF funds have no restrictions on spending.

City Urges Residents to Call Dispatch

BELLE FOURCHE - The City of Belle Fourche is reminding residents than when reporting emergency outages, such as water or power, they should call the city dispatch number at 892-2737 and not use email or texting.

The issue came up during the Monday, October 18th city council meeting when Dirk Hoffman, Public Works Director, urged Belle Fourche city residents to get back into the habit of calling the city dispatch number when reporting emergency situations.

"We just need to get it back out there (to the public) that when there's a water outage or an emergency situation or something going on people in the community are sending out emails or texts," Hoffman said. "They need to call dispatch in emergency situations."

Chili Contest Winners Announced

The cold snowy weather last Thursday seemed to cry out, "chili for supper!"

That is just what a large group of area citizens had as they did their part as partakers and judges of the Chamber of Commerce's Moonlight Madness Chili Cooking Contest.

The group of collectively refined palates searching for perfection voted the chili at Graps Burgers & Brews into 1st Place out of the twenty plus competitors.

Graps' selection of beans coupled with the flavor of the smoked meats used; and the secret blend of chili peppers used; combined with the sweetness of Keil Sweet Corn; and a hint of honey made the Graps' Chili the voter's favorite.

Chef Jim Grapentine and his able assistant Dr. Matt "Pepper" Nehl held nothing back in working their way to the victory.

The Southwestern appeal of the Pete's Clothing and Hodge Bootery white chicken chili, with genuine Hatch chili peppers, was delectable enough to garner the 2nd Place prize and Highmark Credit Union's able crew put on the feast to finish 3rd.

Chamber Director Miranda Gallagher said following the tabulation of results, "We would like to thank all the businesses that participated in this event this year and can't wait for next year. We truly had a great turn out and I loved seeing all the people out and about even through the weather was not the greatest."

Diners enjoyed a healthy variety of Chilis at the other following businesses as well: Belle Flowers Design & Decor; Design's by Daphne; Office Emporium; Relic Diggers Unique Antiques; Olive Branch; Cowboys Too!; Duke Boston's State Farm; Prairie Hills Pharmacy; Jackson Dental; Red Onion Market;

Mason's 5th Avenue; Lynn's Dakotamart; the Branding Iron Steakhouse; Sandcreek Printing (Mona Mia's); Belle City Liquor Store; Belle Fourche Police Department; and Runnings. A percentage of the earnings from the event will go to the Belle Fourche Police Department for their annual "Shop with a Cop" event in December. A door prize for participating chili eating entrants, of a beautiful flower arrangement, donated by Highmark Federal Credit Union, was won by Kay Cooper.

Pastor's Perspective

Having Faith Through the Storm

The disciples had just witnessed the miraculous event of Jesus multiplying five loaves of bread and two fish for the purpose of feeding 5,000 men plus women and children. It was a scene that should have caused the fatigued disciples to fall on their knees before the Messiah in awe and worship! However, Mark 6:52 records these astonishing words, "The disciples had not gained any insight from the incident of the loaves, but their hearts were hardened." The disciples were tired. They wanted to be alone with Jesus. They didn't want the crowds disturbing their rest. So, rather than serving this crowd joyfully and looking with wonder on the miracle Jesus performed, they allowed their hearts to be hardened. What the disciples should have learned was to trust Jesus more deeply and to love people more selflessly.

Since they didn't get the message, Jesus gave them another opportunity to learn. After feeding of the 5,000, Jesus sent His disciples away in a boat to cross the Sea of Galilee. As they were in the middle of the Sea at the darkest time of the night in the midst of a horrendous storm, the disciples became terrified! They thought they were going to die. In that moment another miraculous event occurred...Jesus walked to the disciples on the water! Once He got in the boat, the waves stopped crashing, the rain stopped, the wind stopped, and all was calm! The disciples were astonished and worshipped Him saying, "You are certainly God's Son!"

There are several things we can learn from this story. First, Jesus deliberately sent His disciples into a storm that He had ordered. Why? He did so in order that they would learn to trust Him more as they saw His power over the storm. Are you in a storm in life? If so, perhaps God is trying to teach you to trust Him more deeply. Second, it is often at our darkest point that we see Jesus most clearly. It was the darkest part of the night when the disciples saw Jesus walking on the water. Are you in a dark place in life? Look to Jesus! Finally, we learn from this story that when Jesus shows up, things change! When Jesus got into the boat, everything was calm. The disciples no longer feared the storm because the Master of the Sea was with them. If you are going through a hard time in life, rest in Jesus. With Jesus there is peace!

Remember what God says in Isaiah 55:8-9, "For My thoughts are not your thoughts, nor are your ways My ways. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are My ways higher than yours and My thoughts than your thoughts." We don't know the beginning from the end. He does. He is the alpha and the omega, the beginning and the end. And He is in control of everything in between! Trust Him, seek Him, and grow in your love for Him. Are you going through difficult times? Seek God and see what He is wanting to teach you. Take your eyes off of your circumstance and put them on Jesus, the Master of the sea!

Northern Hills Diaper Drive

The Northern Hills Diaper Bank team would like to sincerely thank everyone that participated and made donations during the Diaper Drive in September!

A special thank you to Lynn's Dakotamart, Lueder's Food Centers and Walmart for allowing us to set up at their locations and for the diaper donations and to Quik Signs for donating the printed materials! The donations and support shown during the drive were overwhelmingly positive. Over 8,600 diapers were collected throughout the Northern Hills and nearly $750 was collected! The cash donations will be used to purchase diapers in specific sizes that are needed throughout the coming year as well as baby wipes. Currently, diapers are distributed to those in need through cooperating partners by referral only. Some of our partners include Artemis House, Saint Vincent DePaul, Northern Hills Sources of Support, Bella Pregnancy Resource Center, Monument Health, Youth and Family Services, and the WIC program. The NH Diaper Bank team will meet quarterly to continue building the program and refining the way that diapers can be donated and then distributed to those in need. To find out more information or to get involved, call Northern Hills Sources of Support at 605-920-1975 or send an email to: northernhillsSOS@gmail.com. Thank you again for your support!

Prayers for this Election (from the Episcopal Book of Common Prayer)

For an Election

Almighty God, to whom we must account for all our powers and privileges: Guide the people of the United States in the election of officials and representatives; that, by faithful administration and wise laws, the rights of all may be protected and our nation be enabled to fulfill your purposes; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For Those Who Influence Public Opinion

Almighty God, you proclaim your truth in every age by many voices: Direct, in our time, we pray, those who speak where many listen and write what many read: that they may do their part in making the heart of this people wise, its mind sound, and its will righteous; to honor of Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

For Guidance

O God, by whom the meek are guided in judgment, and light riseth up in darkness for the godly; Grant us, in all our doubts and uncertainties, the grace to ask what thou wouldest have us to do, that the Spirit of wisdom may save us from all false choices, and that in thy light we may see light, and in thy straight path may not stumble; through Jesus Christ our Lord, Amen.

Walk-off Game Winning Field Goal Ends Broncs 2020 Season

CUSTER - A walk-off game-winning field goal by sophomore kicker Anthony Staley powered the Belle Fourche Broncs to a 17-14 victory over the Custer Wildcats on a snowy, blustery night in Custer. The kick capped a hard-fought drive and helped the Broncs end the season on the highest possible note as they closed out 2020 with a 3-and-5 record.

The Wildcats struck first with 8:00 to go in the first quarter when junior safety Gage Tennyson intercepted an Anthony Budmayr pass intended for Aiden Giffen. Tennyson grabbed the underthrown ball and raced 60 yards down the home team's sideline for six. It was 7-0 Custer.

Custer was coming off two straight shutout wins, over Benet County and last week over Lead-Deadwood. That streak came to an end when senior Brextin Garza would carry the ball across the goal line from a yard out. It was Garza's final touchdown as a Bronc and capped a phenomenal high school career. The extra point tied it at 7-7 which is how the half ended. Garza, an all-conference candidate, finished with yet another 100-yard performance. He tallied 109 yards on 29 bruising carries.

Custer made one last stand in the third quarter scoring on a 43-yard touchdown run to make it 14-7.

The Broncs had the answer shortly after. Sophomore Thomas McCoy took the kickoff and raced 90-yards for a score to tie the game at 14-all. It was the Broncs third kickoff return for a touchdown this season.

It came down to the closing seconds when the Broncs had the ball on their own 11 yard line with :04 left in the game. Going for the win the field goal unit came on the field. Holder Brayden Carbajal took the snap on the snowy field and placed the ball perfectly on the 18-yard. Anthony Staley put the boot to it and the ball sailed perfectly through the uprights for a 28-yard field goal as the clock expired.

The Broncs win the game 17-14 to complete their season at 3-and-5.

Anything Left in the Barrel?

By: Doug Cole

The large group of businesses who served up chili and the goodly number of folks who braved the start of this past weekend’s cold, snowy weather have all voiced similar opinions on the success of the event.

It is widely held among those who participated that it was a very enjoyable evening. Great fun, great friends, and great food.

We did the best we could and made it to eight of the businesses and sampled their chili concoctions. After eight, we were so full of chili we couldn’t go on.

Legend has it that some on the night out, made it to twelve. Having experienced the event, that is like swimming the English Channel. I love to swim, but no I’d never make that far.

We don’t know if it is possible, but we may have woke up the next day with a “chili hangover”. Consulted several of the chefs from the night before and they suggested “another bowl of chili” as the remedy.

From our experience with eight and from talking with people who were at the various chili stops they were all excellent in their own way.

Having grown up on Mid-western meat & potatoes, salt & pepper cuisine, although we thoroughly crave several ethnic cuisines, tend to like chili on the flavorful, but not spicy side.

We saw a picture of one chef who had a fire extinguisher on the table. We couldn’t have eaten there.

When I was a sophomore in high school I traveled to Vermillion to the USD Dakota Days homecoming celebration and football game.

I camped out with Dan Pranger in his dorm room on campus. He was a member of the Sigma Nu fraternity. I was witness to some of their homecoming eve hijinks, and long about midnight decided I need to find something to eat.

Well at that time of night nothing was open but a small food trailer just off the main drag. It looked like an old Air-stream Trailer that had been fitted with a grill, a counter, and about eight stools.

Sitting down we ordered a coke and learned that there specialty was chili. To a hungry boy that sounded pretty good.

At that point in life my chili experience had not gone beyond my mothers or what Ila Vae served at Bob’s Cafe.

At the time, I thought it odd when he asked me, “If I wanted it hot?” I said, “Yes, please,” thinking to myself who would ever want to eat cold chili?

It was an educational lesson in food my tonsils have never forgotten.

Hot has another meaning besides your Mother’s, “Eat your food before it gets cold.”

We heard that some of last Thursday’s chilis may have needed a “Hot” disclaimer.

Speaking of a disclaimer, someone asked me this past week if we had a disclaimer stating the comments made by the columnists who submit there writings to the Beacon do not necessarily reflect the opinion of the paper.

We have not ever stated anything to that effect. Maybe a bit naive, but have always somewhat felt that if want to say it and put their name to it they, not the paper, need to defend it.

Their personal beliefs may not align with those of others (ever see anything like this in recent politics?) but it’s not like someone running into a crowd theater and shouting, “Fire!”

A remember back in the 70’s

“Building Main Street, not Wall Street” Case for Downtown Revitalization

Andy Warhol rightfully said years ago, “When people are ready to, they change. They never do it before then, and sometimes they die before they get around to it. You can’t make them change if they don’t want to, just like when they want to, you can’t stop them.” In today’s challenging COVID economic environment, the case for a robust downtown revitalization effort has never been greater. The value of this robust revitalization has never been higher. The stakes for a methodical and strategic downtown revitalization effort might possibly never be more important than now.

Many communities across the country focus and spend massive resources on courting corporately owned, big box and chain establishments and businesses. However, smarter forward thinking community leaders are beginning to look inward at their own downtown or Main Street infrastructure seeking internal methods and strategies of bringing back the heart, soul, vibrancy and individuality of their communities.

Studies have shown tax and private dollars invested in a community’s downtown have an approximately 30% greater return than those dollars invested elsewhere throughout the community. With the need for every tax dollar spent to return the absolute maximum value, the return on this investment should not be overlooked.

To be more specific, in a study by the National Main Street organization, it was shown each dollar invested in various Main Street districts throughout the country returned from between $3.00 in additional tax revenue in Massachusetts, up to a whopping $12.73 in additional tax revenue in Washington. Each state’s tax structure certainly weighs into this number. Nonetheless, the returns are outstanding across the country and would be in your community as well.

Just as important as the tangible financial return on a community’s investment might be the intangible return on your investment. This may dwarf the tangible benefits. Courting corporately owned businesses, while a sometimes necessary and tangible, they should only be looked upon as such and as the least important building block to enter the tourism or consumer attraction game. Most notable communities already have plenty of, or access to many big boxes and chains. Strategic leaders understand the corporately owned businesses only continue to create a sea of sameness. This does nothing to set your community apart from the thousands like them across the country.

What are the intangible benefits? That will be the process of returning the heart, soul, vibrancy and individuality to your community. What truly sets you apart from other mundane and predictable communities is the ability to innovate and create those unique experiences and ambiances not found elsewhere. Each community must find their niche and their own identity. What is right for one community may not play well in another community.

Creating intangible experiences and the atmosphere it brings will draw new tourists and consumers willing to spend money. Of course, by bringing those willing to spend money on unique experiences also leads to more tangible and measurable financial returns. Additionally, as an added benefit, these changes will excite those residents from within your community as well. They will embrace and show pride in their community and as this occurs, they will then invest more of their time and resources in the community.

Revitalization of your downtown, while not an easy task, will set you on the path of uniqueness. Revitalization of your downtown allows you to create that sense of heart, soul, vibrancy and individuality that is found lacking in so many communities around the country. Most are flooded with the big box and chains that create nothing unique and are found in every town USA. Revitalization of your downtown builds a robust sense of community pride not found with the national boxes and chains. With this newfound pride, the effort then will spread beyond the boundaries of downtown to other areas throughout the community.

Lastly, many smaller communities are losing their younger generations to the urban lifestyles. Revitalizing your downtown is a magnet for the younger generations. They crave uniqueness and experiences. They are also showing signs of being supportive and attracted to their local community as long as the community offers that uniqueness and experiences. Revitalization of your downtown creates those experiences and gathering spaces enjoyed and attractive to all demographic groups. Revitalization of your downtown isn’t only a nice thing to do; it is a task that we must undertake to be relevant in the new world that is approaching much faster than many of us might realize.

John A. Newby, author of the “Building Main Street, Not Wall Street” column assists communities and their local media companies combine synergies allowing them to not just survive, but thrive in a world where truly-local is lost to Amazon, Wall Street chains and others. ### The Good Stuff — by Jim Thompson

Jim Thompson takes motivational stories that listeners and readers send him and incorporates them into the program. It has been on the air for more than 10 years.

I suppose that a lot of the material I gather is linked to things I ask about myself. This is one of them, written by a man I admire; Charles Osgood.

No sermon needed here it is simply... A Poem About Responsibility

by Charles Osgood

There was a most important job that needed to be done,
And no reason not to do it, there was absolutely none.
But in vital matters such as this, the thing
you have to ask,
Is who exactly will it be who'll carry out the task?

Anybody could have told you that Everybody knew
That this was something, Somebody would surely have to do.
Nobody was unwilling; Anybody had the ability.
But Nobody believed that it was their responsibility.

It seemed to be a job that Anybody could have done,
If Anybody thought he was supposed to be the one.
But since Everybody recognized that Anybody could,

Everybody took for granted that Somebody would.
But Nobody told Anybody that we are aware of,
That he would be in charge, of seeing it was taken care of.
And Nobody took it on himself to follow through,
And do what Everybody thought that Somebody would do.

When what Everybody needed, did not get done at all,
Everybody was complaining, that Somebody dropped the ball.
Anybody then could see it was an awful
crying shame,
And Everybody looked around for Somebody to blame.

Somebody should have done the job, And Everybody should have,
But in the end Nobody did What Anybody could have.

Have a great week!

And the winner is... is Rodeo!

ProRodeo will honor greatest contributors to the sport for 2020

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (October 20, 2020) – Western finery will be on full display at Dickies Arena for the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA) Awards Banquet on December 2, 2020, at 6 p.m., the night before the Wrangler National Finals Rodeo opens at Globe Life Field in Arlington, Texas. Cowboys and cowgirls will be decked out as they gather for the annual event to recognize best-of-the-best contributions to the sport that have made ProRodeo great in 2020.

"Undoubtedly, the highlights of any rodeo are those short, few seconds of performance in the arena, but it takes a whole lot to get to that point," said George Taylor, chief executive officer of the PRCA. "We will honor the individuals and committees that make rodeo as a sport, and rodeos as events, such a great American pastime."

Dickies Arena is the perfect venue for this celebration. Located in the cultural heart of Fort Worth next to the Will Rogers Memorial Center, the arena will be converted to honor the many contributors to a uniquely Western sport. PRCA members and fans will gather for the event to award prizes in the following 16 categories:

Donita Barnes Lifetime Achievement Award; Stock Contractor of the Year; Announcer of the Year; Secretary of the Year; Bullfighter of the Year; Pickup Man of the Year; Clown of the Year; Timer of the Year; Music Director of the Year; Photographer of the Year; Comedy Act of the Year; Dress

Act of the Year
Small Rodeo of the Year; Medium Rodeo of the Year; Large Outdoor Rodeo of the Year; Large Indoor Rodeo of the Year
For the third year in a row the Black Hills Roundup in Belle Fourche, SD has been nominated by rodeo contestants and workers in the medium rodeo of the year category. In 2018 the Roundup won the Rodeo of the Year for the first time during its 100th anniversary celebration and in 2019 it won the award again.

The Roundup enjoyed great support from the state and the 101st event saw unprecedented participation with more than 1,000 contestants and record prize money awarded.

The other four rodeo finalists for this award are Burwell, NE., Cave Creek, AZ., Coleman, TX., and Guymon, OK.

Tickets for the 2020 PRCA Awards Banquet will sell for $100 each or $1,000 for a table of 10. PRCA members may purchase tickets to the banquet at www.prcaconvention.com, starting November 1.

Capitol News

KAREN ODELL
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

Monday, a gray cool day, was the start of many days that gradually got worse as the week continued. Ronda Cordell finished chores, and then stayed in to get caught up on inside work. Sam Cordell dropped by in the afternoon to bring Pup (Lowell Cordell's border collie), who will be staying at Ronda's. He has lots of friendly companions and a couple of cats to eyeball, so maybe he has decided he wants to stay. He is free to roam outdoors when he barks to go out, and he gets to come back on command, which is not too bad for a twelve-year old dog. His favorite thing is to go in the Can-Am every day to do chores and look for stray cows. Toney Hannah had supper at Ronda's on Monday evening after returning from errands in Rapid City. He has been back-filling dirt around the foundation of the new house at the house site. He flew from Rapid City back to Anchorage, Alaska on Friday. From Tuesday through Saturday, Ronda prepared for this weekend's forecasted La Nina storm. The snow fell each day, and actually brought the cows and calves out of the Long Pines. Some came up over the divide north in Justin Kerr's from Buck's School Section. Those were a little lost when they ended up there, so Ronda and Clint Zolnoski had to trail them to corrals, and haul them home. The elk must have knocked down the fence in one of their trails from Tie Creek back to Buck's. Bobby and Sam Cordell dropped by at Ronda Cordell's on Sunday, to bring Pup's bed, and some pint canning jars.

Clint Zolnoski has gone to full feeding of the cattle due the snow and cold. On Friday, Denise, Darby and Abby rode to the Desert to help feed, and to have an outing on Abby's second birthday. There appears to be about a foot of snow on the lower edge of the Long Pines, and six to eight inches on the flats.

Erma Albert went to physical therapy on Monday and Wednesday. Dick went on Tuesday. Then he went to Integrity Meats to pick up his antelope, and get some supplies in town. They have been staying close to home the rest of the time, since there are new cases of Covid virus.

Denin Cheguis and Ryan Cordell moved cattle from the Loken summer pasture to the home place, on Wednesday. Alvin Cordell moved the cows into the hills at the Horton place. There were six inches of snow on the hills up there. They have been going up to feed every day this week. Alvin has had a hunter from Colorado this week. He got his deer and will head back home on Monday. On a couple of days this week, Alvin has seen a heard of about forty elk west of his mailbox. Bruce and Lynn Gustafson have been staying warm and keeping close to home. There was no church at Little Missouri this week.

Doug Davis helped Clark Blake ship calves on Tuesday. He helped his brother, Dan, ship calves on Thursday. He has fed cows since the snows started. He is hoping for better weather when he ships his own calves.

He will have to ship lambs even later.

Justin Kerr has been feeding all week, too. Kyra came out to the ranch for the weekend. She and her dad made a chocolate cake with chocolate frosting for her birthday. It was so good that they even ate it for breakfast, and it was gone by the time Justin took her back to town on Sunday afternoon. He had heard of more cases of the Covid virus in town.

Shirley Melum has noticed that the deer are always close to the house in the mornings. They even like being in her yard. The early snow must be bringing them in. They have stayed home all week.

Billy Roadifer had snow up on the mountain, too. He learned that his helper, Gary, had the Covid virus, so he is on his own for awhile. His aunt Nellie Davis, had been staying in Broadus for therapy to help her hip recover. They tested her for Covid there, and the test came back positive, however, she had no symptoms. It seems that many have gotten false positives, so Nadine thinks the test may have been wrong.

Charlie Odell went to Ft Meade on Monday, for a doctor's appointment, and to have his knee drained. He has been working on yard fences this week. On Wednesday, he inspected cows for Murray Rolph. It had snowed a few inches that day, then added more snow on Thursday and Friday. Charlie inspected for Brandon Padden on Saturday. Karen finished using all of her log siding after the snow started. She will have to order some more if the weather warms up a little. The football team from Karen's home town in Ohio won again in the championship rounds of high school football, and Karen got to see the game on Facebook. They are now in the state semi-finals, which is an exceptional accomplishment in a state with so many towns and teams. Facebook is allowed to have live video this year because of the Covid virus, otherwise she would have had to wait two weeks to see the video of the exciting game. Her great-niece, Paige Mason was married this weekend in Ohio, at an outdoor wedding. It was good that the weather was warm and dry back there, and she hopes to see pictures or video from that soon. Cody and Carson Odell are out of quarantine, and the rest of the family are doing OK, now too, since getting the Covid virus. Kenna seemed to have very few symptoms, but Kylie, who has MS, had to contend with terrible headaches. All seem to be improving. There was no church at the Camp Crook Methodist Church this week, because of the blizzard in the Black Hills. Plowing in Rapid City was hindered by the deep snow, and the pastor could not get out on Sunday. Charlie and Karen did their Bible reading, and then went to church at the Gomer Ohio Congregational Church on YouTube. It was a very good service, and they appreciated that they still are having live video church along with those that attend in person. Karen knew all the songs and enjoyed singing with the huge pipe organ that she remembers from the Gymanfa Ganu hymn singings of her childhood.

Please remember that if you are at home alone, let someone know how you are each day; even if you are OK. Most people would enjoy the call, anyway, and it is good to know how people are feeling if you are sick, and a relief to know if you are alright.

Just a Rambling On

It's gotten a bit chilly, we got snow and wind. Yeah, these things happen. Hopefully it will warm back up and get nice again. Melt the snow and help Ag folks out.

We had our, When the Works All Done This Fall, in Belle on Friday night the 23rd. Nice crowd, tho' we could have handled more. Great food by the newest Mexican Restaurant in the Hills. Everyone I talked to afterwards seemed to have enjoyed it. There was dancing afterwards and good times had by all. Sure wish more could have made it but Covid and the upcoming weather that was coming in kept some away. I did talk to one couple who had driven up from 100 miles away. I saw some of my neighbors there and that is 85 miles. I hope we can keep it up. Good times for a good cause! Thanks to all those who helped make it work, the sponsors and of course, the very lovely lady of Cowboys Too, Michelle *(hope I spelled that right or she is going to give me a hard time!) And thank you George for letting her spend so much time on it. She even took a photo of George and I, together. You would think she valued her camera more than that!!! It's a wonder we didn't break it!

I saw Doug, the editor of this paper, or maybe he's the publisher.. the head cheese, for sure. He was having a good time. Thanks Doug for all the advertising. By the way, Chet seems to think his bass fiddle was fine with out the little gift you were going to give him! (Inside joke, folks)

Halloween is coming up and the time change. I am not sure why our legislators didn't let us just stay with one time and not make us change it twice a year. But then, I seldom am smart enough to understand why they pass and do not pass most of the legislation. Might be something to remember when you go to the polls on the 3rd. If you think they are doing a good job, vote them back in, if your unhappy, vote them out. Of course, by the time you folks read this it will probably all be over. Amen!

Anyone else tired of election year and all the hoopla! It sometimes makes me think maybe we could improve on how we elect officials, but then again, maybe the way we do it is the best. I know it is sure better than many other countries where the little guy really has no voice. For all our problems, I think the US is still the best there is. If it isn't, how come so many want to come here? And if it is really so bad and those crying for a change, why don't they go live in one of those countries that run their country under the system they think is better?

Oh well, you all have a fun and safe Halloween!

PS... it was fun to hear from those of you who are reading this stuff I put in here.. always happy to hear comments or criticism.

Officer of the Year, Valor Awards Presented at GFP Commission Meeting

PIERRE, S.D. – Several honors were handed out at the October meeting of the Game, Fish and Parks Commission. District Conservation Officer Supervisor Tim McCurdy was recognized by Shikar-Safari Club International as the South Dakota Wildlife Officer of the Year and Valor Awards were presented to four individuals for their part in a water rescue this spring.

McCurdy started as a Wildlife Conservation Officer (WCO) in 2007. Since that time, he has served primarily in northeast South Dakota and in many roles, including Law Enforcement Training Supervisor and his current role as District Conservation Officer Supervisor (DCOS). Throughout his career he has also balanced a military career with his WCO duties and, this summer, retired from the South Dakota National Guard.

"The greatest assets Tim brings to the Region Four Team are his dependability and his strong work ethic," said Kraig Haase, Regional Conservation Officer Supervisor. "Tim is a natural leader in our region and throughout the state. There are many accomplishments that are direct products of Tim's leadership."

As the Law Enforcement Training Supervisor, McCurdy was instrumental in advancing several programs, including the Wildlife Conservation Officer Training Program, an Emergency Vehicle Operation Course (EVOC) and the Boat Safety Instructor program. Most notably, McCurdy played a key role in the development of the recently formed GFP Honor Guard. From policy development and implementation to selecting members, organizing training and securing uniforms, McCurdy helped the special group find success every step of the way.

"I'm really proud of Tim's efforts to get the Honor Guard going for our agency," said Kelly Hepler, Secretary of Game, Fish and Parks. "Without Tim's dedication to this program, it would not have advanced. Our department is better for his work in so many areas."

The Shikar-Safari Award is given annually in all 50 states and in 10 Canadian provinces by the worldwide conservation organization. It has been presented to a South Dakota officer each year since 1968. The award honors wildlife officers for their performances in wildlife protection, wildlife law enforcement, and in the implementation of wildlife conservation program

In addition to McCurdy's recognition, four individuals received Valor Awards from GFP along with Awards of Commendation from the National Association of State Boating Law Administrators (NASBLA). GFP Regional Park Manager Pat Thompson and Maintenance Technician Pat Redden, along with South Dakota State Trooper Sargent Austin Schmitz and Pierre resident Mark Schaeffer were recognized for their role in a water rescue last spring.

In April, a 66-year-old man was rescued after falling out of his kayak at the Fort George Boat Ramp on Lake Sharpe.

Governor Noem Announces $10 Million in CARES Act Housing Assistance

PIERRE, S.D. - Today, Governor Kristi Noem announced that $10 million in Coronavirus Relief Funds (CRF) has been awarded to the South Dakota Housing Development Authority (SDHDA) to assist South Dakotans who have been financially impacted by COVID-19 and need help paying their housing expenses.

“South Dakota is in a good spot as we bounce back from COVID-19, but there is still work to be done,” said Governor Noem. “If folks need a lifeline right now, this program can help be that bridge.”

The assistance, funded by the State of South Dakota from the Federal Coronavirus Aid, Relief and Economic Security (CARES) Act, can provide South Dakotans with up to $1500 a month. Eligible applicants can earn up to 115 percent AMI but must have a demonstrated financial need and at risk of losing their housing. Assistance can be provided for past due rent, mortgage and/or utilities and may be used for future housing payments, for the time period of March 1 through Dec. 30, 2020.

Assistance provided is not a loan and does not have to be paid back. Payment is made directly to the landlord, mortgage servicer or utility provider on the applicant’s behalf. Households who may have current protections in place such as an eviction moratorium, should inquire about this financial assistance.

Election Day and the Consent of the Governed

Gov. KRISTI NOEM

When Thomas Jefferson laid out America’s founding ideal in the Declaration of Independence, he made clear that government derives its just powers from the consent of the governed. Put differently, government only has the powers that it does because we the people have consented to it. And we provide that consent every year on Election Day.

November 3rd is just a few days away. On election day, the people of South Dakota will vote to elect the government that they want to represent them. They’ll voice their consent to that government. In fact, many South Dakotans have already cast their ballots. This year, all 105 seats in the state legislature will be up for election. We’ll elect our at-large member of Congress and one of our senators. And we’ll vote for who will be our president.

On election days past, South Dakotans honored me with the tremendous privilege of serving them first as a state representative from Hamlin County, then in the United States House of Representatives, and now as your Governor. I am thankful each and every day for the trust and confidence that you’ve shown in me by putting me in these positions to serve you. The fact of the matter is that I work for you, not the other way around. It’s an important point, and one that all too many politicians forget.

We are truly blessed to live in this country. America respects the freedoms of its citizens and has a government that exists to protect their rights, not infringe on them. It is my sincere hope that that our kids and grandkids grow up in an America that continues to cherish freedom, equality, and opportunity.

Every election is important, but this particular election carries extra weight because of the crossroads that we are at in American politics. There are widely differing visions for where our state and country will go. It used to be that we had similar goals, just a difference in ideas for how to get there. Sadly, that may no longer be the case. Tensions are high in the run-up to this election. Regardless of the results, I hope that our country can come together in the following days and remember that we are stronger when we are united, not divided.

I hope that this election day, every citizen engages in their constitutionally guaranteed right to vote. We may not all agree on what direction we hope the country will take depending on the results of the election, but I am hopeful that we all agree in our love for this great country. God bless you all, and may God continue to bless the great state of South Dakota and the United States of America.

From B3 GFP Awards

He was fishing approximately 200 yards from shore and was not wearing a lifejacket. The man dropped his rod and reel in the water and, in an attempt to retrieve it, fell out of the kayak. Holding onto the side of the kayak, he was unable to either get back in or swim to shore. The water was approximately 39 degrees at the time.

Working on a nearby boat ramp and realizing the man was in trouble, Thompson and Redden took action immediately by calling 911. Knowing a response would take some time, they also began efforts to flag down a boat to get to the man.

Soon after the 911 call, South Dakota State Trooper Sergeant Austin Schmitz arrived at the boat ramp. Meanwhile, Redden had made his way to Highway 34 and flagged down Mark Schaeffer, who was passing by with a boat in tow.

Working together, the group unloaded the boat into Lake Sharpe and rescued the man from the 39-degree water. The man was taken by ambulance to the Pierre hospital, where he was treated for exposure and released.

since they involve few in number and physical distancing is not as much an issue. As of the beginning of this week there 304 individuals this year whose tests came back positive in Butte County with 177 recoveries. There have been three COVID-associated deaths. The survival rate in the county currently stands at 99.01% according to the South Dakota Department of Health and the Centers for Disease Control (CDC). That figure, according to health officials, represents the average for all age categories. The statewide survival rate for those 60 and under is 99.83% while for those 60 years and above the statewide survival rate stands at 96%. All told 375 COVID-associated deaths have been reported in the state this year. By comparison, according to the South Dakota Department of Health there were 9,555 lab-tested confirmed cases of influenza (in all age categories) and 43 influenza-associated deaths for a survival rate of 99.5%. State health officials note that anecdotally there are far more probable cases of the flu that never get tested and the same could be said for COVID. Last Wednesday city department heads got together with the mayor to review the city's emergency building evacuation report in light of the virus situation. According to the document the purpose of the report is to identify potential hazards that threaten individuals who are employed in city buildings as well as individuals who utilize these buildings for business purposes. The report is intended to be used by building supervisors to ensure their subordinates are trained and prepared to react to an emergency and ensure the safety of any individuals who are in that building at the time of the emergency. The report also offers additional resources to first responders when an emergency occurs. The document covers the Belle Fourche Area Community Center, the airport's Fixed Base Operator (FBO), the police station, the public works building, the library, Bowman Memorial Hall, Community Hall, City Hall, Belle Fourche package Liquor and the Tri-State Museum.

Council Approves Bid for Jones Park Splash Pad

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

BELLE FOURCHE - The Belle Fourche City Council awarded the bid for the construction of the Jones Park splash pad to be built this summer on the city's south side. The bid was awarded to Ainsworth-Benning Construction of Spearfish in the amount of $96,406.60. There was one other bid received from Firefly Builders in the amount of $133,400. The motion to accept the Ainsworth-Benning was made by James Ager and seconded by Robert Somervold. The vote was unanimous. For now at least the bid came as good news to the council as it was under the city's budgeted amount. According to Steve Nafus, Interim City Engineer, the city had set aside $100,000 for the project. "I do want to extend my thanks to everyone that was involved," said Gloria Landphere, Belle Fourche Mayor as she addressed the meeting. "We had engineers, we had Dirk (Hoffman, Public Works Dir.), we had Kristi Weed who was engineering assistant that processed this, and also the Council of Local Governments helped us the process." The project had originally been scheduled for construction this summer but as has been the case with many projects the virus disruption and brief government shutdown late last year caused a delay. All of the parts for the splash pad were delivered last September. The delivered parts include the tubing, structures and aquatic play features. Last September the council approved a payment of $49,575.05 to Vortex Aquatic Structures of Canada. The city received a $75,000 grant from the Game Fish & Parks in 2019 for the project. It is a 50/50 grant, which means the city is responsible for half of the project's cost. In 2019 the capital improvement budget allocated $100,000 for the splash pad construction meaning that it is fully funded. If all goes well the new splash pad at Jones Park, off 11th Avenue, should be ready for use during the summer of 2021. A splash pad is a recreation area, often in a public park, for water play that has little or no standing water. This is said to eliminate the need for life-guards or other supervision, as there is little risk of drowning. A splash pad features sprinklers, fountains and nozzles that spray water.

DSS Helping to Keep Families, Communities Safe

PIERRE – Keeping South Dakota families safe is the goal of new services being provided by the Department of Social Services (DSS). In addition to ongoing opioid prevention and treatment services, a recently awarded grant will allow DSS to provide intensive case management support for pregnant and postpartum women impacted by opioid and/or methamphetamine use; assist recovery homes in South Dakota; and expand services like peer recovery supports and Care Coordination to individuals addicted to meth. "Opioid addiction can impact anyone, and that's why we need everyone to work together to strengthen families and keep our loved ones healthy and safe," said DSS Cabinet Secretary Laurie Gill. "The Department of Social Services is committed to making sure that the right resources and supports are available to everyone who needs them." DSS will receive $8 million over the next two years from the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration to support opioid prevention, awareness, and treatment services. The grant is a continuation of funding first made to states in 2017. DSS has focused its funding on raising public awareness about opioids through the Avoid Opioid campaign; connecting individuals to resources through the Treatment Resource Hotline and Care Coordination program; partnering with schools and community coalitions on prevention programming; and, assisting opioid use disorder patients with medication-assisted treatment. To help prevent overdose deaths from opioids including prescription pain killers, heroin, and fentanyl, DSS has also issued a standing order at South Dakota pharmacies to make naloxone, also known as Narcan®, more easily available. DSS is working with the South Dakota Board of Pharmacy to educate pharmacists about the new standing order and required steps to dispense naloxone. To learn more about opioid prevention and recovery resources, visit www.AvoidOpioidsSD.com or call the South Dakota Resource Hotline at 1.800.920.4343.

Dispatch

Hoffman recounted a recent message he received from a citizen who had complained that no one seemed to be on duty during a recent weekend when there was a water problem. "That simply isn't true," Hoffman said. "The real problem is people are not following emergency procedure which is to call dispatch. And then dispatch will get a hold of the appropriate people. We just need to remind people to get back to calling dispatch." "I'll second that," said Monte Talkington, Ward 1 Councilman. "It not only happens to public works, it happens to the PD (police department) too and I'm sure other departments. Like Dirk said it's just a matter of re-training the people that they need to go through dispatch with all that stuff. It's the right thing to do and it's a lot faster than going through two or three people to get the phone call to the right person." In other council news approval was given to Public Works to purchase a 2017 Ford F-250 pickup from Northern Car Brokers of Belle Fourche for use at the public landfill. The city had allocated $20,000 for the purchase on Sept. 8th but approved an additional $2,700 at the council meeting on Oct. 18th. Also approved was pay estimate number 9 in the amount of $168,297.19 to Dean Kurtz Construction for work on the Day Street Lift Station. Steve Nafus, Interim City Engineer reports that the new lift station is now online and site work will soon be completed. The council also received a report from the Boost Belle Fourche committee. Dates for the 2021 Sweet Corn Festival were set by the committee for Friday, August 20th, with proposed hours of 6:00 P.M. to 10:00 P.M., and Saturday, August 21st, with proposed hours of 11:00 A.M. to 4:00. Boost Belle's next event will be the Kite and Duck Race Festival on Saturday, May 22nd from 11:00 A.M. to 4:00 P.M. at the Museum and Visitor Center. There will be 500 ducks available for adoption at a cost of $5.00 a duck or $20.00 for five. Souvenir ducks will also be available for $6.00 apiece. Proceeds from duck racing duck sales will go to the local Shriners. Kite kits will also be available to purchase for $5.00. Children will be able to decorate, assemble, and enter them into the kite contest for awards given in several different categories. Also the council approved waiving the Community Hall rental fees for the Festival of Trees on November 30th and December 1st, 2020. The agreement was signed and is on file at City Services. The bank is not available to use for the event this year.

$437,400. Located at Blair pit. 6) Fischer Sand & Gravel. 30K ton/ $8.30-$249,000. Blair pit. The commission had a long discussion about accepting any of the bids, especially since they had an issue with Western Construction not signing a haul agreement from their pit on Wilson Cemetery Road. The group, after a quick confirmation from Auditor Elaine Jensen to confirm the ability to postpone for up to 30days. The commission will revisit the issue at the meeting on November 5. The county has budgeted $100,000 for gravel expenditures for the upcoming budget. In the State's attorney's report, she reported that she had been "escorted from the courtroom in a very hostile situation" recently during the simple assault case against Colton Warrick. "We'll have sentencing in about a month and we'll have to have deputies there for that,"

said State's Attorney Cassie Wendt. She said the case involved a 14-year-old victim. Wendt said there was nothing to report on the Kling Road trial. She expects to hear something by the first of the year. The county heard the second reading and confirmed new policy to combine the offices of County Coroner and Sheriff. They also discussed the progress on the movement of fences by landowners on Haback Road. One landowner had moved her fence by the October 1 deadline but the other had not. It was determined that Assistant State's Attorney LeEllen McCartney would double check the time deadline and the group would make a determination on what to do further based on the deadline. The next commission meeting will be November 5 in the commissioners' room at the courthouse.

Looking Back in Belle

These articles come from newspaper microfilm from the Belle Fourche Public library, using a new microfilm reader and printer. The photographs are from the Tri-State Museum.

The Suffrage Movement
The suffrage movement in the United States is said to have started when more than 300 people met in Seneca Falls, N.Y., in July 1848, to discuss the "social, civil and religious rights of women." Among the resolutions passed was one in favor of woman suffrage. The question of woman suffrage – the legal right of women to vote – was beginning to be discussed throughout South Dakota by 1889, according to the "Womans Realm" column from a suffrage newsletter. This was during the time of Dakota Territory before Dakota Territory became the state of South Dakota.

During these many years between 1848 and 1920, several national women's suffrage or universal suffrage organizations were formed and disbanded. Women slowly learned to work with the other male organizations as the ability to pass the universal suffrage ballot initiation depended on the men's vote. South Dakota and even as a territory permitted women to vote for all school officers. Slowly some western states allowed women to vote; the first state was Wyoming, followed by Utah and Colorado. Many of the original activists never lived long enough to be able to vote.

Equal Suffrage Susan B. Anthony and Rev. Anna Shaw at the Opera House An Immense Audience Cheers These Noted Advocates of Women's Rights

Probably one of the largest audiences that ever came together in Deadwood, gathered at the council chamber of the city hall last night to listen to the two city hall last night to listen to the well known women suffrage advocates, Susan B. Anthony and Rev. Anna Shaw. Every chair in the hall was occupied, every inch of standing room filled and it was almost impossible for late-comers to force their way into the council room. Rev. Anna Shaw opened the meeting with prayer, a rather novel way of inaugurating a political gathering. Miss Anthony began with a short resume of her trip through South Dakota and her high hopes of a successful issue of her efforts in the direction of equal suffrage. She closed her speech by urging the men to do the women justice of election day by scratching out the "No" in regard to the suffrage clause, finishing her remarks by saying, "that the fate of women of South Dakota depended on the amount of scratching done tomorrow."

This speech was given November 1, 1890. The ballot referendum failed, as did efforts in 1898, 1910, 1914 and 1916. An organized anti-suffrage group

by Mary Buchholz

was from Belle Fourche, married to Todd Maro Pettigrew. They had lived in Sundance,

OUR PUBLIC FORUM

Hon. Elihu Root
On 'Woman's Sphere'

The question of Woman Suffrage is an issue before the American people. Twelve states have accepted it, four more states vote upon it this fall and it is strongly urged that it become a platform demand of the national political parties. It is therefore the privilege and the duty of every citizen to study carefully this subject. Hon. Elihu Root, in discussing this question before the constitutional convention of New York, recently said in part:

"I am opposed to the granting of suffrage to women, because I believe that it would be a loss to women, to all women and to every woman; and because I believe it would be an injury to the state, and to every man and every woman in the state. It would be useless to argue this if the right of suffrage were a natural right. If it were a natural right, then women should have it through the heavens' gift. But if there be any one thing set out in the long discussion of this subject, it is that suffrage is not a natural right, but is simply a means of government, and the sole question to be discussed is whether government by the suffrage of men and women will be better government than by the suffrage of men alone.

"Here our judgment, etc, there exists no element of the inferiority of women. It is not that woman is inferior to man, but it is that woman is different from man; that in the distribution of powers, of capacities, of qualities, our Maker has created man adapted to the performance of certain functions in the economy of nature and society, and woman adapted to the performance of other functions.

"Woman rules today by the sweet and noble influence of her character. Put woman into the arena of conflict and she abandons these great weapons which control the world, and she takes into her hands, feeble and servile, the petty weapons with which she is unfamiliar and which she is unable to wield. Woman in strife becomes hard, harsh, unlovable, repulsive, as far removed from that gentle creature to whom we all owe allegiance and to whom we owe our subordination, as the heaven is removed from the earth.

"The whole science of government is the science of protecting life and liberty and the pursuit of happiness. In the divine distribution of powers, the duty and the right of government rests with the male. It is so throughout nature. It is so with men, and I, for one, will never consent to part with the divine right of protecting my wife, my daughter, the women whom I love, and the women whom I respect, according to the lights of man, and place that high duty in the weak and servile hands of those designed by God to be protected rather than to engage in the storm warfare of government. In my judgment, this whole movement arises from a false conception of the duty and of the right of both men and women.

"The time will never come when the line of demarcation between the functions of the two sexes will be broken down. I believe it to be false philosophy. I believe that it is an attempt to turn backward upon the line of progress, and that if the step ever be taken, we go centuries back."

existed during these many years as this ad which ran into local newspapers in November, 1914.

"At Deadwood, the schedule for "suffrage day" on August 7th started with an informal public reception and tea for Jones, Benedict, and DeVoe at the home of Mable Rewman. Jones talked on "the proper way to conduct a campaign," and Pettigrew spoke on fundraising. Those assembled pledged over $100. Mrs. Pettigrew was the first speaker of the evening and in her talk reviewed the progress of the movement in South Dakota and told of what had been accomplished, starting at the beginning or the fight for suffrage in this state and continuing up until the present day." Article from Daily Deadwood Pioneer.

The Rev Nina Pettigrew named as part of the group campaigning for women suffrage

South Dakota Equal Suffrage Association.

Motto--"Under God the People Rule. Women are People."

National leaders, including Susan B Anthony and Rev. Anna Shaw, visited South Dakota to support the pending women suffrage. Miss Anthony actually spent six months in South Dakota during 1890. She visited area towns including Minneapolis on Oct. 29, as is recorded in the Deadwood newspaper.

WY while he was the banker at First National Bank of Sundance. Later Nina became a minister in the Congregational church. She became active with the Black Hills District of the W.C.T.U., attending and speaking at conventions, serving at least one term as district president, and editing a W.C.T.U. column for the Spearfish Register. Todd Pettigrew and family moved to Belle Fourche where he ran the wool warehouse. The family which included son Todd and daughter Gertrude settled in California in the 1930's. Todd Pettigrew's sister was Mrs. Wylie Massie.

The United States' 19th Amendment is celebrating its 100th birthday in 2020, which was finally passed by the US Congress. On May 21, 1919, the House of Representatives passed the amendment, and two weeks later, the Senate followed. When Tennessee became the 36th state to ratify the amendment on August 18, 1920, the amendment was adopted. South Dakota women worked for more than fifty years to achieve women's suffrage. Their first success was school suffrage, using those limited rights to participate in local politics and leadership. With the passage of South Dakota's amendment for full suffrage in November, 1918, women could fulfill their duty to vote.

Deadline to Renew Expired Driver Licenses Is Dec. 30, 2020

PIERRE, S.D. — South Dakotans are reminded that they have only until Dec. 30, 2020 to renew expired driver licenses or ID cards and are encouraged to renew online at Renew2020SD.com.

The state Driver Licensing program has been working since March to address the backlog of expired licenses and ID cards that were given an extension due to COVID-19. That extension ends on Dec. 30, 2020.

A reminder is being mailed this week to all South Dakotans whose licenses or ID cards are expired or will expire before the end of 2020.

“If you have not yet renewed your expired driver's license or ID card, time is running out,” said Driver Licensing Director Jane Schrank. “We strongly suggest people to renew online if they are eligible to do so. Renewing online allows eligible citizens to renew their driver's license or identification card and skip the trip to a driver license exam station.”

To renew online, by mail or to make an appointment at an exam station, click on Renew2020SD.com. People with questions can call 605-773-6883.

The Driver Licensing Program is part of the South Dakota Department of Public Safety.

Profiles in teaching from the Newell School District.

Called to Teach Kindergarten
COLLEEN BRUNNER
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL – Elana Stalder was born in Spearfish, grew up south of Belle Fourche on a small ranch with her parents, brother and sister, but did not feel the call to a small kindergarten class in the Newell district until 2020.

“I did all my schooling through the Spearfish school district, and graduated high school in 2013,” said Stalder. She attended Black Hills State University after high school, but didn’t follow her heart for her first two years of college.

“I tried majoring in psychology for the first year and then business the second year. Finally, in 2016, I made up my mind to follow my heart and changed my majors for the last time to elementary education and K-12 special education. Best decision ever,” she said with a smile. Stalder said her schooling took a little pause as she became a mom to Jaxon, with her significant other, Justin.

“Being a full-time college student, full-time mom, and working two jobs was a challenge,” she said. “I graduated in December 2019.”

After graduation, she got engaged and the couple plans to marry by the end of 2020. They built a home together four years ago and they hope to raise their children in that home.

Stalder was a substitute teacher for the past four years in Belle Fourche and Spearfish, where she said she was able to work in many different grades with many different children and abilities. She also worked as wait staff for a total of eight years.

Stalder is the kindergarten teacher at Newell and can be found sitting at a very short table surrounded by little people,

Butte County Commissioners Hear Bridge Report

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

BELLE FOURCHE – Four people approached the board to ask questions about Gaver Road and the bridge at the same spot. The questions precipitated the report from Brosz Engineering rep Jason Hanson and two bridge inspector engineers. The questions were presented by Lynn Hammerstram, Rose Kari, Dannica Perceovich, and Thad Buchholz.

Concerns were raised about the condition of the road, the bridge and whether or not the road would be changed to minimum maintenance or even closed.

A concrete barricade has been placed on the bridge to close it, on the recommendation of the bridge inspection team.

Hammerstram said, “All the gravel has been pulled up from ditches and pushed over on the other side. In many parts it’s not crowned and water sets. It’s a problem if I can’t get out to take my wife to the ER.”

Perceovich questioned where the bridge was on the county’s 5-year-plan.

“Apparently that’s (the plan) a moving target,” said Hammerstram. Hanson, who came in a bit late on the conversation which happened early in the meeting said it was on the plan.

Hammerstram also questioned whether there weren’t Covid-related funds that could be used and was told no, and that only as a last resort would the county be able to borrow funds to do repairs.

County Highway Superintendent Dwayne Heidrich said that if the bridge inspector tells the county a bridge must be closed then they must immediately comply.

Bridge Inspectors Bruce Wilsey and Spencer Dockter, presented the rest of the bridge inspection information, going through the current list of bridges.

“While performing routine bridge inspections, significant defects/deficiencies and maintenance items are encountered on various structures,” stated the document presented. “Structures encountered may be considered under-designed for today’s vehicle loads.” The two men presented a Significant Findings Overview, stating conditions and recommendations for each bridge listed.

They barely touched on the Gaver Road bridge as it had already been discussed. Recommendation for this bridge was that it be closed, due to deteriorated condition, until it could be replaced. A bridge on Old Highway 85 had timber beams with severe splits. The bridge railing was also in bad shape. Recommendation was that this a smile on her face.

"I would definitely say, all the support she has received from other staff, parents and people within the community, has been the most encouraging thing I have experienced during the first few weeks of school,"

she said. The most challenging thing she has experienced was learning that it's ok to not have all the answers or have everything figured out.

"The most important thing was to make sure the kids felt safe, loved, and enjoy coming to school," said the kindergarten teacher.

"I want my students to know that I believe in them 100 percent, and that they can do anything they set their mind to. I want to instill in them a love for learning that will last a lifetime. I truly have a class of wonderful, kind, and brilliant children. I see a bright future for every one of them. One of the biggest things that I hope they will remember from me is to be kind, work hard, and dream big."

Bridge Report

bridge be replaced as soon as possible.

A bridge on Snoma Road is a triple box culvert that is washing out on the north side. The bridge has been closed to one lane with reduced weight limits. The structure has received a 2020 BIG Replacement Grant and is currently in the design phase. A bridge on Arpan Road was recommended to have the asphalt overlay removed and box beams evaluated and repaired. A bridge also on Arpan Road 11 miles west of Newell also had an asphalt overlay causing problems. There is also spalling with exposed rebar. Recommendation was for removal of the asphalt, and repairs made.

A bridge on Mail Road, north and west of Nisland, has deteriorated beams, with stability of shim blocks in question. Recommendation was that all timber blocking shims be replaced. The structure should be reposted at a lower weight limit until the repairs can be made. A bridge on Riley Road, west and south of Newell, was deemed in poor condition with the backwall having failed. The north abutment planks are severely decayed. Recommendation was for the west five-foot section be closed until the deteriorated abutment poles and cap could be replaced. The structure should be considered for replacement.

Another bridge on Orman Road has received a 2020 BIG Replacement Grant and is currently in the design phase. Load limits are currently in place. The second bridge on Orman Road is part of an FHWA bundled grant and is currently in the design phase. The structure is currently closed. The bridge on Viken Road that has been temporarily closed is due to be repaired in late October or early November, but should be scheduled for replacement. The concrete deck is deteriorated with exposed rebar, and is a fracture critical bridge. Even if repairs are made it would have a reduced weight limit. A bridge on Kosola Road, which was closed in 2018, and will remain closed until significant repairs are made or the structure is replaced. A bridge on Youngberg Road, south east of Newell is in fair condition but has coped timber beams with decay showing. The southeast wing wall is also bowing and near failure. Recommendation was made to replace all timber beams as well as the wingwall.

The bridge on Old Highway 212 13.5 miles east of Newell has backwall planks that are severely decayed. And need replacement. The structure has been awarded an FHWA replacement grant. Another bridge on Old 212 20 miles east and north of Newell has many split, cracked, or crushed beams. The timber is old and weak and replacement of the timber aps, beams and piling is recommended. It also has been awarded an FHWA replacement grant. The final bridge on the significant findings list was also on Old 212, 12.8 miles east and 8.5 miles north. The structure has decayed piles and a rotated abutment on one piling. Planks are split and several beams are check cracked/split as well. Recommendation was for the decayed piles to be replaced, the timber bearing caps at both abutments and the bent should be replaced. Erosion and scour should be filled.

County commissioners have the task of determining how much they can do in any given year with limited funds available. The county has received several Bridge Improvement Grants in the past couple years, but they have a portion of each grant that the county has to fund. Their concerns include trying to educate the public on why bridges cannot be replaced quickly and easily with the requirements from the state and federal entities needing to be met.

They encourage all concerned to stop in the Highway Department office and become better informed on the condition of the bridges and what requirements need to be met to repair or replace.

White Serves as Para While Gaining Degree

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL — Jessica White grew up in Oklahoma and Texas and her son has been attending the Newell district for the past five years. Because she is working toward her bachelor's degree in psychology, with a specialty in Children's Psychology, she jumped at the opportunity to become a part of the district as a paraprofessional.

"It has been a wonderful experience (being involved in Newell) and when given the opportunity to become part of this spectacular team," said White. "I could not pass it up." White is married and has two children, age 15 and 3.

White believes Covid has complicated the environment that the kids find themselves in, and that social distancing in some classes is nearly impossible due to the number of students.

"The technological side of this all is that we have come together to advance the learning process and open our minds to new things to make an impossible situation, possible," said White.

"My perspective of my part (as a paraprofessional) in the teaching process, is helping the student better understand what is being asked of them," she said. "I help them problem solve to become self-sufficient as an adult; preparing them all for the real world after school."

After finishing her first few weeks as a para at the Newell school, White said, "I am loving the diversity of our kids, (Special Needs and others, as well) and seeing them interact in person, has been wonderful. I look forward to a great year."

Grand River Roundup

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

Fall was sure nice for the couple weeks it lasted, but I sure wasn’t ready for winter this soon. The snow we got last Monday was just the start of the huge buildup of that white stuff that fell Thursday, Friday and Saturday. We had a temperature of minus 11 below Monday morning with lots of cold weather all week. My chickens aren’t liking the cold weather either and have almost stopped laying eggs. Several of the hens are molting and are almost bare, which would be pretty miserable in this kind of weather.

Casey and Taz finished chores and went up to help RonE and Jace Jenson wean their calves Monday afternoon while Reub fed the cows. I ran to Hettinger to get supplies after lunch.

Casey took the semi to Reeder on Tuesday to get a part he needed for it so he could haul the steer calves to the sale barn in Faith on Wednesday. It was pretty chilly when I started to harvest my beets that afternoon and I had to quit with only half of them picked because my hands got too cold.

Jeremy Stadheim, Doug Doll, and Luke Rice came to help Casey and Taz load the calves Wednesday morning so Peder Tenold and Casey could haul them to Faith. Taz took Missy, Reub and me to the sale to watch the calves sell. Bill Holt and Tommy Fabris also sold their steer calves in Faith that day and we got to visit with a lot of old friends. Sale day is always fun. I harvested the rest of the beets and all of the carrots when we got home that afternoon when it was really cold and my hands were frozen by the time I finished. Brrrrrr.

There was heavy snow on the ground Thursday morning when Dr. Beck came to preg test the cows at our east place. Doug and Clint Doll, RonE and Jace Jenson, and Bill Holt came to help the guys. Taz had cooked up some delicious smoked beef ribs for the crew for dinner and Missy and I fed the guys in the shop after they finished the preg testing.

The snow and the minus 1 degree temperature Friday morning made the highway really icy when I went to Hettinger to get my oil changed that morning so I had to put the pickup in 4-wheel drive all the way to town. They didn’t have as much snow in Hettinger as we had here and when I talked to Tom Brockel while I was eating lunch he said they had a lot more at his place west of Bison too. The roads weren’t too bad on the way home.

There was a snow storm all day on Saturday with the wind making it feel even colder than the high of 21 degrees. The mail didn’t come again because of the storm, the water was froze in the chicken coop and we burned a lot of wood in the wood stove. I canned seven jars of beet pickles that afternoon that helped to warm the house up and sure made it smell good in here.

There wasn’t a very big crowd in church Sunday morning with the bad weather and the roads were icy going to church. There were two wrecks on Highway 85 south of Buffalo that day that were probably caused by the icy roads, so be careful out there. Next Sunday will be “Bible character Sunday” in Sunday School at Slim Buttes Lutheran.

Tyler Mickelson got out of the hospital this week and is at home with his family recovering from the surgeries he had after breaking both legs when he fell 30 feet off a barn roof. He is supposed to have a checkup this Monday so please keep him in your prayers and remember to pray for all the people that are dealing with the China virus in our state and our nation.

Added contributions and payments of pledges can put Butte County over the top in its goal for benefit of the West River Crippled Children’s Hospital and Polio Center at Hot Springs; it was announced by John Frey, Butte County Chairman. Ground has been broken, the basement has been dug and footings poured by the contractors, the Henry Carlson Construction Company. Suggested as a memorial for Butte County the Hydro-Therapy Department of the new institution at a cost of $25,000. Today $20,372 has been reached toward that goal. Local Committee Treasurer, C.O. ## Grant Provides Education and Training in High-Demand, High-Wage Careers

Black Hills Special Services Cooperative (BHSSC) was recently awarded a three-year grant from the John T. Vucurevich Foundation. The grant funding provides assistance and support to adult education students so that they can enter into and succeed in post-secondary programs that ultimately lead to wages for families to be self-sufficient, while creating a pipeline to meet high-demand, high-wage jobs in the Rapid City area. The project, entitled “Workforce Connections,” will be implemented through BHSSC’s Career Learning Center of the Black Hills, located on Wattertown Street in North Rapid City.

The grant will support those students who are pursuing a GED® as well as those who have a high school diploma or GED®, but who need to brush up on their academic skills before entering post-secondary education such as an apprenticeship, technical college or university. Support from the grant may include intensive career counseling, workforce soft skill training, resume development, financial literacy, financial support for a college course and/or an industry credential, and support for other student needs to help them be successful while pursuing their GED® or post-secondary education. BHSSC received several statements of support from entities that will collaborate on this project. These include Elevate Rapid City, SD Departments of Labor and Human Services, SD Statewide Family Engagement Center, Western Dakota Tech, Black Hills State University, SD School of Mines and Technology, Consumer Credit Counseling of the Black Hills, Love INC, OneHeart, and Great Plains Tribal Chairmen’s Health Board.

Gloria Pluimer, BHSSC Director of Education and Workforce Development shared, “The education and training services and supports that will be provided through the Workforce Connections project funded by the John T. Vucurevich Foundation will have a positive, lasting impact on the students we serve and their families for generations to come. Career counseling, advocacy and guidance, along with financial assistance, will support students’ interests, strengths, and aspirations leading them to making informed decisions about their post-secondary subject choices and career pathways. We are elated to be honored with this funding and to partner with the staff from the John T. Vucurevich Foundation.”

The Workforce Connections project is currently in the planning stages with implementation scheduled to begin November 2020.

The Outdoors are Open and so is Pheasant Season

PIERRE, S.D. – Last weekend, the traditional South Dakota pheasant hunting season opener welcomed over 13,000 nonresident licensed hunters and nearly 7,000 resident licensed hunters to the fields.

“We have heard reports from across the state that individuals and families from South Dakota and many other states were here enjoying cooler fall weather and chasing those roosters,” said Kelly Hepler, Secretary of South Dakota Game, Fish and Parks. “It’s incredible to know that this tradition is alive and well. We love to see people taking advantage of this historic outdoor opportunity safely while sharing it with others to ensure the next generation is able to carry on our state’s outdoor legacy.”

Reports from the field were positive, indicating higher bird populations than previous years. However, it was the South Dakota hospitality that took center stage, with hotels filling up as the opener approached.

“Hotels and lodges saw bookings increase in the last few weeks,” said Karen Kern, executive director at South Dakota Missouri River Tourism. “Guests were so happy to be back in South Dakota again – they love the wide open spaces and fresh air. Tom Steinhouser with Platte Creek Lodge said the hunters love South Dakota and our great people so much that hunting is sometimes second! Having an unbelievable time with friends old and new is truly at the heart of pheasant hunting in our state.”

“Pheasant hunting is all about tradition for so many families and friends who have become family,” said Casey Weismantel, executive director of the Aberdeen Area Convention & Visitors Bureau. “We love hearing stories of traditions and hunts that are more like family reunions. We never know what Mother Nature has in store for opening weekend, but we always know there will be thousands of families enjoying a tremendous tradition around pheasant hunting!”

With crop harvest well ahead of the 15-year average, hunters continue to see opportunities to bag birds throughout the season, especially with the season extended to Jan. 31 and increased public land opportunities.

The Walk-in Area program, which is private ground leased by GFP for public hunting opportunities, added 35,102 new acres in 2019. So far in 2020, over 8,000 new acres have been added.
