The Black Hills Curio Company

Meg English

news@bellefourchebeacon.com

The building at 517 State Street in Belle Fourche has a story to tell.

Built in 1905, the structure is typical of the style of small town department stores in the western region. In fact, the one and a half story building housed an early J.C. Penney's department store.

The structure is welcoming with its center entry flanked by two plate glass windows. The building with its various original features also provides a glimpse of what life might have been like at the beginning of the twentieth century in Belle Fourche.

Although not on the historic register, it seems fitting that the building, a historic artifact itself, should be home to The Black Hills Curio Company.

According to the store's proprietor, Thomas Coronato, the store offers distinctive high-quality memorabilia, antiques and antiquities.

Antique Navajo jewelry, Native American beadwork, western collectibles, fossils, rocks, and vintage western wear are among a few of the treasures that visitors to the store are likely to discover.

Fine art, boutique and other gift items are also available.

Coranato comes from a family of collectors and experts in western antiques and memorabilia.

He came to the business as a child and demonstrates an appreciation for both art and history.

He is easy to meet and enjoys conversation especially as it pertains to the significance of antiques.

The store is open from 9 to 5, Tuesday to Saturday and on Mondays by appointment only. The store is closed on Sundays.

Pastor's Perspective

"What is our only Hope in life & death?"

When we look around at our world today, it is obvious that things are broken and people are hurting. In recent years, we all know about the widespread effect of Covid-19 around the world. There seems to be an uptick in natural disasters in recent years. Currently there are wars in places like Israel, Ukraine, Myanmar, Niger, and in other nations around the world as well. Global economies are suffering. Prices are high. Inflation is soaring. In our own community and in the church that I have the privilege of leading, there have been so many tragedies here lately! And in times like these it is easy to become despondent and afraid. And so, we ask the question, is there hope? And if so, what is our hope and where can it be found.

There is a book that was written several years back called "The New City Catechism." Some of the content of the book is adoptions from older catechisms that were written throughout the years.

But in this book, one of the questions is the following: "What is our only hope in life and death?" And the answer is this: "That we are not our own but belong, body and soul, both in life and death, to God and to our Savior Jesus Christ."

Simply put, our ONLY hope in life and in death is Jesus! In Ephesians 1:18-22 the apostle Paul wrote, "I pray that the eyes of your heart may be enlightened, so that you will know what is the hope of His calling, what are the riches of the glory of His inheritance in the saints, 19 and what is the surpassing greatness of His power toward us who believe. These are in accordance with the working of the strength of His might 20 which He brought about in Christ, when He raised Him from the dead and seated Him at His right hand in the heavenly places, 21 far above all rule and authority and power and dominion, and every name that is named, not only in this age but also in the one to come. 22 And He put all things in subjection under His feet."

My friends, those verses tell us where hope is found! However, I'm not going to make many comments on those verses. I simply invite you to read them again slowly and prayerfully. And as you do, ask God to help you believe them.

Ask God to give you hope through Jesus Christ. Ask God to give you calm and peace in the midst of the seeming chaos of our world right now. Our God is not small, nor is He weak. He is not constrained by world leaders and world events. He is not unaware of what is happening in the world. No, He is sovereignly and providentially working in ways that we cannot possibly fathom.

Now is not the time for a weak theology that makes God small and man big. No, now is the time for Christians to believe what the bible teaches, fully and completely! Now is the time for Christians to wholeheartedly trust in our Lord. And now is the time for the unbeliever, with an open heart, to call on the name of the Lord. Where is our hope in life? Our hope in life is only found in Jesus! Where is our hope in death? Our hope in death is only found in Jesus! I pray that you know Him and that you trust Him, for He alone is worthy of our trust and of our lives.

Bronc Volleyball Shows Heart in Final Games of the Season

Fehrin Brindley
Special to the Beacon

The Bronc Volleyball season has come to an end in the second round of Region playoffs. Here's a recap of the final three games for the purple and white.

The Broncs took on Hill City on the Ranger's senior night losing 3 sets to 1 for their final regular season match up. Scores were 26-24, 22-25, 25-11, and 25-15. Sloan Young had a double double with 10 kills and 12 digs. Reese Larson dished out 24 assists and Avery Cherveney had 15 digs. Denali Larson added in 3 blocks. Ward led the offensive charge with 18 kills.

Number 3 seeded Belle Fourche then took on the playoff part of the season. They hosted number 6, St Thomas More, for a first-round match up.

The Cavaliers went point for point with the Broncs before gathering a few small runs to take the first set 25-21. The home team in white didn't hesitate, though, and came back with a vengeance to win set 2 with a score of 25-14. Set three went into volleyball overtime but after a long back and forth battle, Belle Fourche again came out two points ahead at 28-26. Set three saw a much more settled herd of Broncs as they secured set 4 with a score of 25-16 and the match 3-1. Reese Larson was 24/25 with 6 aces from the serving line and also set up for 51 assists. Cherveney had 19 digs. The power outside dual of Ward and Young each had double-double nights. Young with 18 kills and 17 digs, and Ward contributing 30 kills and 23 digs.

The Belle Fourche Volleyball team then headed up to Hill City, a team they lost in 4 to just the week before. The winner of the match advanced to Sodak 16 playoffs for a chance to play in the Class A State Championship. After a tough first set loss 14-25, the Broncs came back to secure the win of set two 25-20. They however fell short in sets three and four with scores of 25-20 and 25-21.

The Rangers were at a score of 24-17 when Sarah Juelfs took the serving line. They played errorless for 4 points in a row before the team in yellow and green had to take a time out. They finally finished out the match. The heart shown by the Broncs in not only those final

Pre-Hab is Your Game Changer for Best Surgical Outcomes

Many people think of physical therapy only for after an injury or surgery. But did you know prehabilitation (pre-hab), or physical therapy before a planned surgery, will help you recover faster and in some cases, delay or avoid surgery altogether?

Both orthopedic surgeries (e.g., foot, knee, spine) and other surgical procedures can benefit from pre and post-surgical rehab. A physical therapist can create personalized plans for individuals preparing for surgery, yielding significant advantage.

Benefits of Pre-hab

- Faster Recovery– Learning the exercises you'll need to do before surgery trains your muscles in advance. This will make post-surgical rehab easier and more effective. Research shows that even a few sessions of physical therapy prior to surgery can reduce the amount of post operative care for some patients.
- Fewer Complications– The weaker and more frail an individual is, the more likely it is that the person will experience complications such as infection after a surgical procedure. Prehab can increase strength and immunity prior to surgery.
- Less Anxiety– Patients that have undergone some sort of pre-hab are often less prone to anxiety or stress prior to the surgery. Starting a process of physical activity that improves strength, endurance, and flexibility can improve overall confidence that the procedure will be successful. Benefits of Post-Surgical Rehab It's important to start a post-surgical rehabilitation plan as soon as your doctor states that you're ready. The following are a few of the benefits of post-surgical rehab.

- Improve Circulation– Improved circulation not only facilitates faster healing but reduces the chance of a blood clot forming. The exercises and movements prescribed by your physical therapist can promote increased blood circulation.
- Reduce Pain and Swelling– The right type of post-surgical treatment can help reduce the amount of pain and swelling you experience after your surgery. Your physical therapy many decide to use several interventions to help reduce your post- surgical pain
- Regain Lost Strength– The more quickly you regain strength and stamina, the more quickly you'll get back to your daily routine. A physical therapy program can be designed to target the specific areas in your body that need to be strengthened.

The experienced Doctors of Physical Therapy at Pain & Movement Solutions specialize in creating personalized care plans for those in either the pre-hab or post –surgical phase. If you or someone you know is considering surgery, call Pain & Movement Solutions to set up a consultation to see if physical therapy is the right option for you.

Minot, N.D. (October 30, 2023)
– The Badlands Circuit has awarded its Horses of the Year Award in each rodeo event.

In the steer wrestling, the Steer Wrestling Horse of the Year was won by Woody, owned by River Voigt, Killdeer, N.D. The Haze Horse of the Year is Junior, owned by Kody Woodward, Dupree, S.D.

The Tie-Down Horse of the Year went to Sheer Can Do "Jewels" owned by Jason Schaffer, Broadus, Montana.

In the team roping, the Head Horse of the Year was won by Bodie Mattson's Let R Buck Pendleton, "Pendleton," and the Heel Horse of the Year went to Ill Be A Peanut "Jag" owned by Riley Curuchet, Kaycee, Wyo.

For the WPRA, the Barrel Horse of the Year was won by Jessica Routier's Fiery Miss

West, "Missy," and the Rising Star Horse went to Stone Cold Stinson "Rocky," owned by Molly Otto, Grand Forks, N.D. The Breakaway Roping Horse of the Year is Lavaca Sting "Rollo" owned by Rickie Fanning, Spearfish, S.D.

Jason Schaffer's tie-down horse Jewels carried Schaffer "to a lot of wins this summer," he said. "It was fun."

Schaffer and his wife Shauna got the five-year-old gray two years ago, and said she was easy to train. "She wanted to do it from the get-go." And her size works to her benefit. "She's bigger than most calf horses, not fine-boned. She's a well-built horse."

But her strongest trait is her heart. "She has heart and grit. She's got a lot of heart, and that's the biggest thing."

Woody, the Steer Wrestling Horse of the Year, started his career as a hazing horse but Joe Nelson, who owned him before Voigt bought him, switched him to the steer wrestling.

"He liked it better," the Watford City, N.D. cowboy said. "He always wanted to run. If you went to pull on him, he just hated it. We figured if we switched him over, he would really do well, and he has."

Nelson's horse was injured in June, and in July, a knee injury took Voigt out of competition, so Nelson asked to ride Woody.

Nelson estimates that over $50,000 was won on Woody at PRCA rodeos this year, among the five cowboys who rode him: Nelson and Tyler Thorson (who both made the circuit finals), plus Landon Sivertsen, Parker Sandstrom and Rope Smith.

"He's just a really neat horse," he said. "He's super easy to get along with, he's super good in the box, he runs hard, and he's easy to catch at the back end. He's the kind you want to ride."

Bodie Mattson's Pendleton, an eleven-year-old sorrel gelding "is a one of a kind freak athlete," he said.

The Head Horse of the Year is out of a mare owned by Mattson and his dad, Jay. Jay broke him and both men trained and seasoned him.

"He's one of the toughest horses I've ever ridden," the Sturgis, S.D. man said. "He has a lot of heart, he scores exceptionally well, and he has an unbelievable amount of run. His speed is in control, so you don't feel like you're running past the steer. He's really smooth."

Mattson said the horse's emotions are "dry. He's a horse that doesn't show much emotion. He's buddied up to my calf roping horse and they're pretty good friends, but other than that, he sticks to his job."

Horses of the Year Awards are voted on by the contestants in their respective events.

This year's Badlands Circuit Finals took place in Minot Oct. 13-15 with champions determined in each event.

Anything Left in the Barrel?

 It has been a difficult week for many in our local community who have lost friends and relatives.

You need but read this week's obituaries on pages 2 and 3 to understand what we mean.

Our sorrows are comforted with the knowledge that they have gone on to a better place, but when in the middle of it, it doesn't become any less difficult or painful.

Regardless of circumstances when we lose a loved one it creates a hole in our lives, and, like as I write this now, never quite sure entirely how I feel or how to express it.

When Covid first struck our world a few short years ago, myself and a small group of friends formed what we affectionately (or disinfectantly) called a Social Distance, or SD Club.

We would meet multiple times a week and sat a recommended 6 feet apart and refrained from sneezing or coughing Covid germs on each other. (Masked or unmasked we all at some point had Covid)

The conversation was a calliope mixture of group news and opinions about family, sports, business, and generally any topic that cropped up.

Concern for the state of our world, politics, our families, and each others lives as a whole nurtured and grew a strong lasting bond of friendship.

We, as a group, along with our community, lost way to soon, a member.

Our friend, Dr. Jim Trimble went home to be with his Lord and Savior on October 27th.

We were blessed with the great honor of being a pall bearer at his funeral.

His children individually thanked myself and others for being his friend.

* * *
During that time of sorrow and mourning a song titled: Thank you for being a friend kept bouncing around in my head. The lyrics are as follows:
* * *

Thank you for being a friend
Traveled down a road and back again
Your heart is true, you're a pal
and a confidant

I'm not ashamed to say
I hope it always will stay this way
My hat is off, won't you stand up and take a bow

And if you threw a party
Invited everyone you knew Well, you would see the biggest gift would be from me
And the card attached would say

Thank you for being a friend
Thank you for being a friend
Thank you for being a friend
Thank you for being a friend

If it's a car you lack
I'd surely buy you a Cadillac Whatever you need, any time of the day or night

I'm not ashamed to say
I hope it always will stay this way
My hat is off, won't you stand up
and take a bow

And when we both get older With walking canes and hair of gray
Have no fear, even though it's hard to hear
I will stand real close and say

Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)
Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)
Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)
Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)

Let me tell you 'bout a friend (I
wanna thank you)
Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)
Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)
Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)

And when we die and float away
Into the night, the Milky Way
You'll hear me call as we ascend
I'll see you there, then once again

Thank you for being a
Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)
Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)
Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)
Thank you for being a friend
People, let me tell you 'bout a friend (I wanna thank you)
Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)

COWBOYS TOO!

ROPES

Thank you for being a friend (I
wanna thank you)
Thank you for being a friend

Whoa, tell you 'bout a friend (let me thank you right now for being a friend)
Thank you for being a friend (I wanna tell you 'bout a pal and I'll tell you again)
Thank you for being a friend (I wanna thank you, thank you)
Thank you for being a friend
* * *

I passed on my sentiments that the reason it came to mind is that it was I, as a friend, who should have "Thanked him for being a friend to me."
* * *

Jim Thompson, friend and author of "The Good Stuff" sent me the following note:
* * *

"I was blessed to announce Jim Trimble's basketball playing prowess during his time at Pierre Riggs high school. Upon his graduation, my radio station, KCCR, awarded him a scholarship.

As a result, when he moved to Belle Fourche, I had opportunity to spend time with him. He was always a deserving individual, and we were fortunate to have Jim Trimble in our city."
* * *

And I along with many others were fortunate to have known him and had him as a friend.

From A1 Pumpkinfest castle, train rides, visits to the “Haunted Spaulding Cabin,” ghost crafts, mummy bowling, pumpkin pong, face painting, slime making, and Crazy Witch experiments. Four children were selected out of 97 entrants to win a free Halloween book. Over 300 treat bags were given out to Pumpkinfest attendees.

A combined 110 guests gathered to watch two performances by the Tri-State Performers of The Ghosts of Minnesela, a short fictional play about ghosts of the cemetery of the real local ghost town cemetery of Minnesela.

Following the play, a kids’ costume contest was held with prizes awarded for funniest, scariest, and most original costumes.

“We were delighted with the turnout,” says Museum Director Kristi Thielen, “and have already begun planning for Pumpkinfest 2024!”

What kind of Pumpkinfest would it be without a scary witch especially one who can make super slime?

“Me! Me! Me!

Have we always been so starved for attention that we always said these words in some form or another? Is it something we learned as little children to get our share of the attention? Is this a new or old phenomena?

We especially see it now with cellphones and social media. Maybe some of you older ones, or even some younger, don't partake of this much. But I do a lot on the internet. With my home computer or my handheld device which I still ignorantly call a “phone”. Yes, I am on Facebook, Instagram and TikTok. And most of what I see on Tik Tok especially are younger people saying, in essence, Look at me! Listen to me!

I tell myself I am on there to watch entertaining and interesting videos. And to spread a message of what I do, as advertising of sorts for our Airbnb and my leather work. And it works. We get quite a few visitors who found us in that way. I try to keep it entertaining and hopefully someone can learn something from some of the lessons I have learned in life.

But I wonder, how much of it is just me saying, Look at me! Aren't I interesting? Ain't I cool?

Not sure where any of this thought process is going. But I also am doing it with this column, I guess. People once in awhile tell me they enjoy my thoughts. And for those of us who watch movies and TV shows and read books, are we all just looking to be entertained? Yes, we can sometimes learn things. We can get info and then spread it among our friends and family. And mostly it's enjoyable.

We were taught to read as small children. My Mom taught me by reading the Sunday comics and then when I could do it, she would no longer do it. My Mom and Dad both read to me. It opened my mind and I went on lots of adventures by being able to read another persons thoughts put down on paper. When I got to schooled read things that were assigned to me I would get praise from my teachers. Words on paper taught me many things and much of it interested me to where I had to go and try and do similar things to see what it was like.

And now so many, especially of the younger set, get much of their information from the internet. Like most things in life, I think there is good and bad in it.

Information is always useful, it seems. But can also get us into trouble if we don't have the right foundation to use it. Think of those people who watch a few videos and then think they know how to do certain things. Like work with animals. Problem is, so much of the times, they either misunderstand or didn't get enough info and they get themselves and the animals into trouble.

Ask said before, I am not sure why any of this matters. But, you read it! And if you are one who uses Facebook or Instagram or Tok Tok, look me up and let me know you read this, please. Might be interesting and I like interesting things!

Keep reading. And remember the old adage, only believe half of what you see and not much of what you hear! And be sure to look and listen to Me! Me! Me!

The Good Stuff

by Jim Thompson

Veterans Day is Nov 11..let me share with you from my friend Dustin Mills.

November 11this is Veterans Day and the Military that we thank
For all of our men and woman of all service and of rank
Who put their lives on the line each and every day
Who fight the fight and sacrifice to keep the enemy away

Every day and every night it is our Country that they serve
No matter what race or ethnic group and even those who don't deserve
For months on end in foreign lands to bring the World to peace
To stop all Wars and Terrorism from sea to shining sea
all of the Services- Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines, National and Coast Guard
Away from their friends and family from a normal life they're barred Gone from their Home, Country, Kids, Husband, or Wife

To save and protect and give us all a better life
The Army with their tanks, on their equipment a big white star
On the front line to defend our lives is how “Army strong” they are Out of our Country and in the Desert sands

Not only for our freedom, but others in foreign lands
The Navy on the ocean and their massive boats
Hundred million pounds of steel and guns on the water afloat
Offering protection to her troops on air, sea, and land
Just off the shore with rockets and air support, lending a helping hand

Marines on the front line yelling “SEMPER FI”
Guns in hand, charging in, not afraid to die
Camouflaged they hide, Snipers in high places
Through their scopes taking out all the hateful faces

From the air with it's planes comes the Air Force behind enemy lines, missile's incoming, still they keep their course Offering support to ground troops while under duress or fire

Swooping in. rockets launched, never will they tire

The National Guard serves abroad and also here at home
Through natural catastrophes and hostile demonstrations we're never left alone
Here to protect our States and communities
Our homes, business, friends, and loving families

The Coast Guard is here just off our coast
Protecting our Country from harm and drugs they catch the most Plucking people from sea, gone overboard, or from boats that sank
Risking soaring seas and high force winds to save our lives we thank

Thank you to all the Veterans for my freedom you protect
From desert sands, foreign lands, up in the air, and on ship decks
Away from your families putting your life on the line
So I can be safe and breath this freedom from you for this life of mine

Thankful that I served with many ordinary soldiers who helped defend our freedom, I'm Jim Thompson

Central Meade County News

By Sandy Rhoden

We enjoyed a weekend up into the 60s this past weekend after a cold Halloween day. The forecast looks good for the rest of the week.

This is the time of year when we hear mama cows belling for their calves after weaning or separation for fall calf sales. Calf prices have been kind to our ranchers this year. For that those in our community are thankful.

SDPB's Dakota Life entitled 'Greetings from Union Center' premieres on SDPB on Thursday, November 9th at 7:00 pm

MT. It can also be seen online at SDPB.org/watch. Some folks attended the in person premiere in Union Center at the Central Meade County Community Center.

Liz and Cody Rhoden spent some time at the Rhoden family ranch this past weekend. Larry, Cody and Reggie Rhoden hunted pheasants near Pierre. Sandy got in some 'grandma time' as well as baking apple pies with Liz Rhoden. They enjoyed taking them to pot luck dinner after church on Sunday in Union Center. Lorie and Gary Hausmann dropped by afterward to unload some firewood for the winter and they enjoyed a Sunday afternoon

Kassi Barry was home for a bit after spending 2 weeks on the road between Texas and Las Vegas for both work as well as 'rodeo mom'. Kason and Kyra went along and spend their Halloween in Las Vegas. Life has changed quite a bit for the Barry family this year. Kason and Kyra are now students at Wall.

Larry Rhoden headed to Pierre this week as they begin work on this year's budget for the legislative session. He has been able to spend some time both in Pierre and in the shop catching up with some welding this last week.

Capitol News

By KAREN ODELL

Winter moved in at Capitol and Tie Creek, this week, with snow. Monday was a nice day for working outside. Tuesday was a day of rain, and Karen Odell had three-fourths of an inch, before the snow began, that evening, bringing four or five inches.

Erma Albert was glad that she could go to her chiropractor appointment right in Buffalo, on Wednesday. By Friday, there was enough snow that the Senior Citizen Dinner was cancelled for the week. They have scheduled the chicken dinner for next week, instead. Dick and Erma did get out to church on Sunday, and then they went to Saloon Number Three for lunch. Next week the Catholic Church will have their church dinner and bazaar on Sunday. Mass will be at eight in the morning, and their dinner will begin at noon at the Buffalo Community Center.

A couple of archery hunters came to Alvin and Marlee Cordell's, this week. Ryan and Tawni and their family had a group help trail cattle from the Horton place to the Loken place, on Saturday. They had some a-horseback and a few four-wheelers. Jay Cordell and Rod Bisgaard came out from Belle Fourche to help. Wade Pearson and Ryan will move cattle from the Loken place to home, on Sunday or Monday. Alvin saw the thermometer down to two degrees, on Friday, and he had about four inches of snow.

Lynn Gustafson and Jane Teigen went to Buffalo, on Monday, to visit Elmore Energetics. Laurie Elmore has started a business of Vitaflex oil therapy. The therapy was very refreshing. On Sunday, the roads were snowy, when Bruce and Lynn Gustafson went to the

All-Parish Service at Ladner Lutheran Church. The Little Missouri Ethnic Dinner will be on November 12th at the Camp Crook Community Center.

Doug and Julia Davis had about six inches of snow this week. Julia helped Doug lay pipeline, on Monday. Things went well until afternoon, until Julia's skidder broke down. Then Doug's machinery broke down, too, but they got a lot of work done. On Tuesday morning, Doug went over to Clark Blake's to help him ship calves. That afternoon, he went in to Belle Fourche for a dentist appointment. They got to go to Belle Fourche and stay with the kids on Saturday night. The adults were having a Halloween party, so Jake and Callie brought home lots of pictures of the adults in their creative costumes. The whole family went to church at Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Spearfish, on Sunday. It was a special day and Kellan and Keaton had their first communion. Julia also got to visit with Tammy Silvernagle, who had been a bridesmaid for her wedding.

Junior and Shirley Melum had about five inches of snow. They had a little short blizzard on Sunday morning, but then things settled down again. Ernie and Tommy have been busy with weaning calves.

Dell Dague came to Ronda Cordell's, last Sunday, to haul a load of heifer calves home from the Desert. Gene Secrest also came that day, to help with weaning. It had been a beautiful day. Time quickly goes by and weather soon to changes, so it's best to take advantage of all the good days.

Diane Wear came after work, that evening, to stay over, and on Monday, she and Ronda went to Buffalo. Diane treated Ronda to lunch at Blossoms 'n' Brew, before heading back to Ekalaka. Ronda got the sprinkler going in the corral where the calves were stirring up the dust. October twenty-third was Abby Zolnoski's fifth birthday, and Terry Cordell's fifty-seventh. Ronda joined them at the Corner Bar for a little birthday get-together, before going to the O'Toole's fish 'n' pork barbecue. They spent much of the week making sure all the cows and calves were out of the Forest. With several days of dense fog, and then the moisture, those mamas were glad to hear their call to the 'treat wagon'. They literally came running from the pines. There was freezing mist on the first day of the weather change. The pine needles and tall grasses were coated to look like glass. The second day of the change brought five to six inches of unadulterated whiteness, making the scenery in the Long Pines a 'winter wonder land'. Ronda likes to see the first snow; then hopes it melts before more comes. It was time to winterize everything from water tanks to vehicles, and the sudden drop in temperature came on Thursday night. Tuesday morning was forty-one degrees. Friday was nine degrees at Ronda's, and lower in other areas.

As the week ended, the cattle were mostly home for shipping and the winter. Ronda thanks Gene and Kim Secrest, Denise, Darby and Abby Zolnoski for giving some extra help to her and Clint. Darby had a snow-day from school, on Thursday, because of icy roads, and Harding County schools don't have school on Fridays (unless it's a makeup day). Ronda did go to Camp Crook to mail letters, on Sunday, and she ate dinner at the Over The Edge.

Karen Odell got some outside work done on Monday, before the snow began. She has been assembling three glider seats that will be put at the cemetery. There was a half inch of rain in her rain gauge on Tuesday; then another quarter-inch on Wednesday. After that it was snow, so she is not sure, but the moisture was really needed. She made a trip to Camp Crook on Wednesday, but Thursday and Friday were snow days, and she stayed home to visit with family, by texting birthday greetings to Mollie Smith, Jeff and Cody Odell. They all had birthdays this week. Karen had thought of going to Camp Crook on Saturday night, but the added snow changed her mind. On Sunday, Karen went to the Methodist Church in Camp Crook. Yvonne Yoder conducted the service, Karen played piano for the hymns, and Lynette Wolfe conducted the children's sermon. There had been Sunday school for the children and a meeting to discuss a new pastor after church. Karen went to church again in the afternoon on YouTube, and enjoyed the service from Marietta, Georgia. Then she spent the afternoon with lots of music. She had talked to her kids and to Chancey Odell, this week. Karen also talked to her cousin, Ralph Anderson, on Saturday. Ralph was preparing to head south to Florida for the winter. Karen tried to call her brothers, Jim and Ron Evans in Ohio, but didn't find them home.

When the feud got too serious, Mason told Dixon, "We've got to draw the line somewhere."

Being a veteran is a paramount part of my life. As a combat medic, I knew that there were going to be a lot of people that didn't make it home to be honored. Veterans Day honors people like me, my brothers, my family and my friends. It's a day that we stand proud for serving our country.

Gunnar Swanson ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

I joined the National Guard because I wanted to protect people. I wanted to fight for the right cause. Veterans Day is a day of remembrance, a day to give thanks to all those who have served and their families who sacrificed as much as we did, if not more.

Peg Seljeskog UNITED STATES NAVY

On Veterans Day I look back at the people I served with and the memories I have. I look back at what I learned and how it made me stronger as a woman and as a person. It made me who I am. Being a veteran, there's just a bond there that I don't think you get anywhere else.

Lance Huber ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

Veterans Day means a lot to me. It's a reminder that people are willing to do something, to put someone and something ahead of themselves, to make a sacrifice, possibly the ultimate sacrifice to protect and fight for what they believe in. It makes me very proud of the people that put the uniform on.

Strider Jacobson ARMY NATIONAL GUARD

I chose the guard because it allows me to serve in my community. I get to have an impact in South Dakota. Veterans Day is a day to thank those that have made a sacrifice for our country, put on a uniform and laid their lives on the line to make this country what it is today.

Does Your Community Have a Poverty Mindset?

Jim Rohn once said, "Your life does not get better by chance, it gets better by change." Most agree there are several potential pathways a community, downtown district, or business might take as they embark on a successful transformation or revitalization effort. It certainly isn't a one-size fits all journey. Every community or downtown district has their unique obstacles to overcome and their own mountains to climb. They must identify those issues and mountains, tackling them in such a way that fits their unique abilities, capabilities, and expertise. One of the largest mountains to climb for many communities or downtown districts is the term I have coined referred to as the "Poverty-Mindset". Yes, many communities, and downtowns need to overcome the economic issues of social or demographic poverty, but that is not what the 'poverty-mindset' refers to in this context. Poverty-mindset as it relates to this column refers to the mindset of those who are actually in a position to make transformation and revitalization happen. Despite being in this position, they are stuck in a poverty-mindset brought on through their long-term battle and association with poverty experienced through community decay.

by John Newby

I recently worked with a business that wouldn't accept credit cards because it cost a few percentage points on each transaction. When convinced to give it a try, they were thrilled when their business increased nearly 30%. Trying to save those few pennies was costing them hundreds or even thousands in potential business. These same problems and mindsets exist on an even greater and more devastating scale in city governments, and civic leaders who control the future and financial destiny of the community and downtown. They have been taught that the safest route is to do little, especially when it can go wrong in some way. Make no mistake; this poverty-mindset is an easy mindset to have. As one watches the decay of their community, downtown, or businesses accelerate around them, it is easy to believe decay is normal and to be expected. After all, they have numerous examples of decay happening in hundreds or even thousands of towns across the country. How does a community, downtown or business overcome a poverty-mindset and begin transforming? What is the common ingredient successful communities and downtown districts have adopted that flows through all their transformation and revitalization efforts? The answer is very simple. I believe the common ingredient is found by simply looking at what might be the opposite of a poverty-mindset. That common ingredient is something we all seek and are drawn towards, that is a positive "can-do" and "will-do" attitude. The first step in any transformation and revitalization of a community or downtown district is a strong vision coupled with a very healthy of dose of optimism. When you couple a strong vision with genuine optimism, many communities and downtown obstacles can be overcome. The poverty-mindset crowd must be converted, or rendered irrelevant if not converted, and this must be done quickly. Vision and a positive can-do attitude is infectious. Everyone wants to be associated with a winner; few want to claim to be a member of the losing team. Yes, the vision must be realistic. Yes, the optimism must be based on that realistic vision. Far too many communities or downtowns fail to understand just how much ability they already have to succeed. Never underestimate the ability of the residents of a community and business owners to do outstanding things. Many communities and downtowns are wallowing in self-pity while others across the country are undergoing incredible and sustainable transformation. Oftentimes, those biggest obstacles are our own citizens and those in a position to enact the greatest change. The greatest task is converting them to the vision and the dream. Of course, you have quite a bit to lose. No change usually just means more of the same decay and demise of your downtown and community. As you might have determined, this column is short on actual specifics and long on mindsets and attitudes. That is by design, without vision, you perish. It is a vision and positive attitude that must be present to win. I have seen few if any communities or downtown districts succeed without having this strong will to win and succeed.

Preparing to Learn CPR

Betty Bruner
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

NEWELL-Sherry Hocking has received a grant from the South Dakota Department of Health to present Heart Saver classes to as many as 250 people in the surrounding Newell area. The Health Disparity Grant is to be used to help rural communities. Hocking said that so many people of the community live out in the middle of nowhere and need information on how to recognize if something is wrong and what to do with that information. “It takes time for us [the ambulance crew] to reach outlying areas,” she said. “I want to make them comfortable, to know what to do.” For several days, Hocking was at the Newell School teaching Newell ninth graders how to do compressions, along with information on life-saving methods. Teacher Scott Wince had made his Health Class students available for the live-saving sessions. She plans to hold more classes for students in grades 9-12, but is also planning to open CPR classes to anyone in the area. Although no times have been set yet, Hocking would like to be contacted to know when times are suitable for as many as possible. Instruction will take approximately three hours and is open to everyone. Contact Sherry at 605-210-0703 for more info.

NEWELL—Every first Saturday of the month, the NVN Senior Citizen Center in Newell comes alive with a vibrant and bustling market – the Whistle Stop Market. This is the second year that the Whistle Stop Market has been running. Patty Karas runs the event, alongside Tina Bertolotto. The highlight of the Whistle Stop Market is the wide range of local vendors that take part in the event. Handcrafted Christmas ornaments, wreaths, jams, jellies, T-shirts, fabrics, baskets, magnets, woodwork, and embroidery are just some of the goods offered at the market. Vendors also supply door prizes throughout the day. Aside from the shopping experience, the Whistle Stop Market offers a delicious lunch prepared by the ladies of the Senior Center. The funds raised from the lunch fee go towards ensuring that the facilities remain up-to-date for those who use the center. “It’s a giant effort,” said Lynnette Culver, adding that different ladies prepare the meal during different months. This month, Dorothy Pitts, Mildred Brunner, Joan Palo, and Lynnette Culver were in charge of lunch, and they provided sloppy joes, a variety of bars, and several other treats. The NVN Senior Citizen Center began in 1973 and has since remained a vital part of the community, as it functions both as a senior citizen center and an informal community center. “Newell doesn’t have a community center, but this is the closest thing we have,” said Culver. The facility serves not only Newell, but also the surrounding areas of Vale and Nisland. The Lion’s Club uses the center for pancake suppers and meetings. The building is also rented out for funerals, weddings, bingo nights, pie sales, and everything in between. The Whistle Stop Market will continue to be held at the Senior Center on Third Street in Newell every first Saturday of the month until April. Stop by, grab some lunch, and enjoy the company of friends and neighbors while supporting the local community!

Harvest Fest Transforms City Hall

Ryder Heitz
news@bellefourchebeacon.com
NEWELL-On the evening of Halloween, the Newell City Hall was transformed into a haven of spooky fun and joyful laughter. The annual Halloween Harvest Festival and Trunk-or-Treat event brought together families and community members for a great night of Halloween celebration. Sponsored by the local Ministerial Association and the W.I.T. Coalition, the event aimed to create a safe and enjoyable environment for children and families to enjoy Halloween festivities. The night featured a wide range of activities and attractions. Candy and treat handouts were a highlight of the event, with generous volunteers spreading joy through food. From chocolate bars to caramel corn, there was no shortage of sweet surprises for the little ones. Outside the City Hall, locals parked up and down the street to hand out candy for the trunk-or-treat. In addition to candy, various game stations were set up to entertain the kids. Classic games such as corn-hole and mini-bowling were available, offering a chance for friendly competition and excitement.

Sabrina Harmon, of the W.I.T. Coalition, explained that while the Harvest Festival has been a tradition in Newell for decades, the trunk-or-treat portion of the event is a recent development. “The trunk-or-treat started when COVID hit,” she said. “We want to hand out all positive things for the kids.” Harmon highlighted that the event is a community effort. The W.I.T. Coalition donated the food for the night, which included a free meal of hot dogs, chips, and drinks. Keep an eye out for the Harvest Festival next year!

Grand River Roundup

Betty Olson
news@bellefourchebeacon.com

Looks like winter is here. It rained a little Wednesday, just enough to put ice on everything when it snowed all day on Thursday with a low temperature of 6 degrees Thursday night!

The guys sold the steer calves at Faith Livestock in Faith on Monday and Copper, Knox and River Lu went along to supervise and they sold pretty well.

We lost an old friend this week:

Margaret B. “McGee” Vansickel, age 96, of Spearfish, formerly of Opal, passed away Monday, October 23, at Spearfish Canyon Healthcare. Visitation for Margaret will be 4-6 p.m. on Tuesday, November 7, with a rosary at 6 p.m. at Kinkade Funeral Chapel in Sturgis. Mass of Christian Burial will be at 11 a.m. on Wednesday, November 8, at Immaculate Conception Catholic Church in Rapid City. Interment will follow at Black Hills National Cemetery.

Missy went down to Rapid City on Tuesday to take care of her grandson Argus Hesper because Bryce is really busy with her teaching job on Tuesdays. Our daughter-in-law, Lorri Olson, called to have me put Zander Oliver on the prayer chain at the church. Zander is eleven years old and he was badly hurt in a car wreck a couple weeks ago in Belle Fourche that broke his skull and caused a terrible brain bleed. He was flown to a hospital in Fargo, North Dakota, where doctors did emergency surgery to stop the bleeding. He had a set back before Lorri called to put him on the prayer chain, but he’s doing better now, although he will be hospitalized for quite a while so please keep praying for him.

Taz and a whole bunch of friends and neighbors went to the Bar H on Wednesday to help Thybos ship calves. I harvested the last of my beets before the frost hit and made some more beet pickles. Reub and I went to Hettinger that afternoon and we met Dennis Nash up there. Dennis came to get everything he needs to make those delicious popcorn balls for Halloween. We stopped in Reeder on the way home to have coffee with the Prairie Pioneers. Leroy Olson has five apple trees in his yard and he sent another big box of apples home with us. I don’t know what kind of apples they are, but they are really delicious. Thanks Leroy and Donna!

It snowed some Wednesday night and the ice on the ground made my trip to the chicken coop up by the barn really slippery, so Casey came over Thursday morning to catch my young hens and help move them down to the chicken coop in the yard where I keep my old hens. This chicken coop is a lot warmer than the other one and it’s not such a long trip for me to gather eggs each day. The hens are sure letting up on laying eggs with the cold weather and most of them are molting. I fired up our wood stove that evening and it sure made it nice and warm in the house.

We had several family birthdays this week. Our great grandson Olly Klug turned 2 on Monday, our grandson Cass Olson turned 15 on Tuesday, and our daughter Dr. Teri McNelis had a birthday on Thursday. I called Cass to wish him a belated birthday Thursday night after he got home from football practice in Gillette and then called Teri Dee to wish her happy birthday too.

With the war against Israel raging on this week, one morning after devotions Reub suggested I look up Psalm 83. I keep the old Bible I got from the Sunday school superintendent Isabel Matson at Homme Lutheran Church in Prairie City when I was in the first grade for three months of perfect attendance and I looked the Psalm up in it. The enemies of Jews and Christians have been fighting against us for thousands of years and I suggest that you read Psalm 83 to see just how it applies to the war today.

The guys went up to help Bill Holt ship his steer calves on Friday. Reub shoveled off the deck for me so I could put up the flag without slogging through all that snow. Copper, Knox and River Lu got all dressed up in costumes to go down to the Halloween party at the Reva Hall that day and then went up to Ralph to trick or treat several relatives and friends.

The guys have been emptying all the water tanks this week after it got freezing cold and they went over to Cow Camp by Lodgepole to empty the last one on Saturday.

Sunday was Reformation Sunday and it was Bible Character day where a lot of people in Sunday school dressed up as a character in the Bible and everyone had to guess who they were, which was really fun. The Grace Bible Fellowship church in Bison hosted the community Hymn Sing Sunday evening and a large crowd of wonderful singers and musicians came to worship God and entertain us. The ladies served lunch afterwards and there were a lot of nice people to visit with.

I’ll leave you with these Halloween jokes:

*Why wouldn’t the ghost dance at the party?†He had no body to dance with him.

*Why did the ghost starch his sheet?†He wanted everyone scared stiff.

*Know why skeletons are so calm?†Because nothing gets under their skin.

*What’s it like to be kissed by a vampire?†It’s a pain in the neck.

“Looking Forward to our Past”

October 23, 1913

Word comes to Newell that Miss Alice Tyler of the Lead High School corps has been spending sometime on her claim on Alkali and while there showed her superior marksmanship by bringing down a coyote and took the hides of 5 rattlesnakes, that would make any ordinary young woman run screaming to safety or fall into a faint with fright. Miss Tyler is also a clever horsewoman and rides to her claim from the Cruickshank ranch daily and is as enthusiastic about her owning a large orchard in California.

The Model Bakery, 3 doors west of the Post Office is again up and running and serving first class meals. You pay for only what you order. Everything in baked goods is also now available.

Gardner & Chambers finished their government contract on the North Side Lateral last Friday. They started on Tuesday on a 300 yard contract enlarging the dams on the Joe Winkler place, 12 miles northwest of town. All field work for the Reclamation Service on this project will close October 31.

William Bowman, arrested for illegally poaching and transporting game fish taken from a local lake to another, was given 30 days in jail and $100 fine, the largest penalty allowed by law and first time the extreme has been applied under the Act.

The agriculture classes have been doing mostly shop work the past week. Made several milking stools, remodeled work benches and built a locker for football togs are the result of the first year classes’ effort in shop. Members of the second year class are putting in a concrete approach to the school garage and fitting up the tool room for additional tools and supplies.

The neighborhood folks must not forget the community-wide hard-luck party at the Webb School this Saturday evening, October 25. If anyone attends in “good” clothes they will pay the penalty, otherwise there will be no charge for the affair. The ladies will see that there is enough to eat even if they are hard up.

Four cases of disobedience to the compulsory education laws were brought, before Butte County Judge T. G. Brown at Belle Fourche on Monday. Isaac Jeremiason of Fruitdale, Henry R. Pister and Jacob Strand of Belle Fourche and Valentine Hermanson of Arpan entered pleas of guilty and were each fined $10. The School Law of South Dakota requires all children between the ages 8 and 17 to be enrolled and to attend school regularly unless excuses are obtained before the time of an absence. A number of other arrests are being contemplated at the present time, in an effort to bring to the attention of parents and guardians the need of better attendance in school and compliance with the law. The majority of student failures are due to non-attendance, the parents must be held responsible.

Thursday morning juniors and seniors of Newell High School voted for 3 cheerleaders for this year. Nominations were: Mary Brodsky, Enid Franklin, John Richards, Donald Hafner, Bob Price and Ernest Wilson. The results of the vote were: Mary Brodsky, Bob Price and Donald Hafner. To prove their ability as cheerleaders, they had a “pep” meeting on Friday to get up some spirit for the Lead game.

Funeral Services were held Thursday afternoon for Charles W. Yoder, long time resident of the Newell vicinity, died at a Rapid City Hospital. Charles Yoder came to Butte County in 1908 and homesteaded about 6 miles northwest of Newell.

Kendrick Sorenson drove into the car belonging to George Meyer, which had stopped suddenly on the Highway east of Nisland toward Newell. The front of the Sorenson car was taken off and a tire was blown out. Marius Sorenson in the other accident reported the loss of a front wheel from his car, going into the ditch as he was driving towards his home the same evening.

Sheriff Elmer Hill has received authority with necessary forms and instructions, regarding acceptance of “Dogs for Defense” and is prepared to assist anyone who wishes to donate a dog to the War Department. Eligible dogs must be at least 20 inches high at the shoulders, weigh at least 50 pounds and be 1 to 4 years old. No chows, deer hounds or setters wanted. The bigger they are the better. No “blue blood” is required, just dogs, if they have the size. See Sheriff or write him for further particulars. Let’s send in a hundred or two from this part of the county.

At the short meeting of the regular noon meeting of the Newell Community Club at the Stockmen’s Café, Vern Hafner, Newell City Commissioner advised the group the State highway Department is now making a survey for construction of the dangerous Highway 79-212 Junction south of town. The plan is to convert it to a “Y”-type Junction. No dirt work would be done on the project this fall. Also, the school crossing areas are to be painted on the highway near the school as a safety zone.

Members of the Newell High School Student Council attended a meeting of West River Student Councils in Rapid City Monday to hear Dr. John B. Beginning at 6:30 PM a dinner for all veterans of the World War will be held at the Sweet Shop. The meeting will be a get-together affair and matters of importance to all service men exclusively; all ex-service-men are urged to attend. The American Legion will hold an Armistice dance in the Newell Garage building. Arthur Kelly and His Harmony Kings of Rapid City have been engaged to furnish the music. The Castle Rock Township Board held a meeting Tuesday

Anyone having alfalfa baled hay and can load on cars at once, should notify Agent Jorgensen and the price F.O.B. There are parties desiring hay who have made application to the Northwestern. C. W. Reed of Upton, Wyoming, while in this vicinity purchased one of William Holst's 300 candle power gas lamps. The fire at Vale, Wednesday night devastated Capt. Gaskill's office and room, where he made his home. Most everything was taken out but some important papers.

The stockmen are slowly digging their way back home. John Lee, Pete Hansen and Bill Marty heaved a sigh of relief when they reached the end of the gumbo at Hoover. G. J. Jorgenson, Toni Janes Jr and Fred Fuller bought chains and plenty of rope at Hoover and started on their way across "no man's land" to Newell. Mr. Noble from Belle Fourche came over Tuesday to connect the old school building up with the heating plant in the main building. The past few weeks it has been too cold for class work in the old building. The agriculture classes have been meeting in the science room of the main building. It is hoped that the radiators in the old building will be sizzling by Friday night. The students and teachers of the Horse Creek School have just received the good news from the High School Inspector, Mr. Fred E. Smith that their school will be on the 3-year accreditation list. Two qualified teachers will be gotten next year which will advance them to the 3-year accredited High School.

to decide on work on the terrible Township roads. Of other area news, the pupils of the Castle Rock School are giving a special Halloween program on Friday and invite everyone to attend.

There will be no coupon rationing of coal during the coming winter, according to O.P.A. Deliveries are being curtailed so as to spread supplies as evenly as possible. The coal shortage is primarily anthracite, the sold-fuels administration for war reports. The Congregational Church this week shipped 4 large boxes of clothing to Greece for relief in the war-torn land; the garments were all in first class repair. Further shipments will be made, so if you have a contribution, leave it with Mrs. F. C. Youngblutt or Rev VanVactor. Also remind everyone, the Congregational Church Bazaar, in the basement of the Odd Fellows Hall on Saturday November 6th. Lunches and meals will be served beginning at 11:00

NEWELL-Four of Newell School's unobtrusive benefactors have been brought forward to receive the Irrigator Pride Award for November. The Newell bus drivers work in all kinds of weather with all types of passengers. Monte Richards, John Heisler, Sandy Miller, and Laura Fox are regular faces for many of the students at Newell School. They also transport the athletes to out-of-town games and students to events in the area. The Irrigator Pride Award is given to outstanding staff each month that exemplify the distinction of being an Irrigator.

Judge Frank Gladstone, the presiding judge, pronounced a heavy find of $100 and costs amounting to $20.50. Hart was arrested in September near Clough by Deputy Game Warden Dave Harris. Besides the fine and costs, Hart's gun was confiscated by the state.

Earl Alexander and son Glen, Vale, attended the Annual Futurity Sale at Hettinger, Monday at which place they purchased the champion Duroc Jersey boar. The animal was also reserve champion of all entries in the show. Plans for entering a Newell team in the area independent basketball league were made at an informal meeting of those interested in such play here Tuesday evening. First practice sessions were set to be held at 7:30 PM at the High School gymnasium next Tuesday and Thursday evening, and all interested in playing are urged to report for same. You need not be Newell High School alumni to play. Newell Implement Co still has a few 1,000-bushel Butler Steel Grain Bins on hand. Buy now for grain and range feed winter storage. They also still have Appreciation Day Certified sweep teeth, under a special purchase which allowed Newell Implement to offer these teeth at $1. each below their regular price.

BLACK HILLS HONEY FARM

Black Hills Honey Farm has been beekeeping and manufacturing natural products "From The Hive" since 2001. Black Hills Honey Farm's apiculture standards are developed with the primary focus on the health of honey bees and the sustainability of beekeeping.

From Farm to Fork We seek to define the best practices for natural beekeeping with these priorities as guides, and with a secondary focus on the agricultural products of apicultural products of apiculture (honey, pollen, and propolis).

The guiding principle at Black Hills Honey Farm is that quality is built into our natural products, and not just tested into a finished product. Therefore, the assurance is that the product not only meets the final specifications, but that it has been made by the same procedures under the same conditions each and every time it is made.

Black Hills Honey Farm specializes in producing raw, varietal honey, and each varietal honey is as unique as its floral source. Black Hills Honey Farm harvests this distinction and quality, and hand bottles in glass jars to preserve its purity and taste, at the time of extraction.

The strategy behind Black Hills Honey Farm wax processing is to limit the source of reusable beeswax. We only use wax removed from the upper half of the honey cell during extraction. Once the honey is removed from these cells, the bees have a clean new foundation. Clean foundations help control bee diseases naturally.

Black Hills Honey Farm is a fully integrated Beekeeping operation!
